When a question is under consideration, a motion shall not be received, except to lay it upon the table, to postpone to a certain time, to postpone it indefinitely, to commit it, to divide it or amend it, and motions for any of these purposes shall have precedence in the order herein named. If a motion to lay an amendment on the table be carried, the matter before the House shall be proceeded with as if no such amendment has been offered. The motions to lay upon the table and to adjourn shall be decided without debate. The motion to adjourn shall always be in order. No motion shall be considered before it is seconded.

- 13. Debate shall not be allowed upon a motion to refer any motion or resolution to a committee, or upon a motion to recommit any motion or resolution to a committee, or upon a motion to recall any motion or resolution from a committee, or upon a motion to suspend the rules of order, but the member who offers an undebatable motion may speak five minutes for the purpose of explaining its object.
- 14. All amendments may be considered in the order in which they are moved. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made. An after-amendment to such second amendment shall be in order; but when an amendment to an amendment is under consideration, a substitute to the whole matter may be received. A proposition different from the one under consideration shall not be received under color of an amendment or substitute.
- 15. Every member who may be in the House when any question is put shall, in division, be counted unless he be excused by the Convention.
- 16. All questions for order shall be decided in the first instance by the Chair, without debate; an appeal, however, may be made from his decision to the Convention by any member of the same.
- 17. The Secretary may employ one or more pages, not exceeding three, to act as messengers during the sessions of the Convention.
- 18. The reports of all Committees shall be in writing, and shall be received, of course, without motion for acceptance, unless recommitted by a vote of the House. All reports recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the House shall be accompanied by a resolution for the action of the House thereon. All annual reports shall be received and filed by the Secretary as presented before or during the Convention, and may be called upon motion to be read and considered at any time during the Convention.
- 19. The names of movers of resolutions shall appear in the minutes of the Convention.
- 20. All motions and resolutions requiring reference shall be referred as far as possible, to the Standing Committees.
- 21. Except in cases where majority vote is required by the Constitution, all elections provided for by Canon shall be by plurality of all votes cast. When more than one is to be elected for a particular office, the number required by Canon receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared duly elected.
- 22. In the case of an election by ballot requiring a concurrent majority of both Orders, the balloting shall be conducted in the following manner: the Tellers appointed to receive the votes of each Order shall take their stand at stations indicated by the Chairman, the Tellers for the Laity in one area, and the Tellers for the Clergy in a place apart from them. Those casting their ballot shall pass by the Tellers as they deposit their ballots in the proper receptable they speak out their names to the Teller with the list of names of Delegates to Convention. No persons whose names do not appear in their role shall be allowed to vote. Whenever more than the canonical number to be elected by either Order are found to have received such majority of votes, the number required by Canon having the highest number of votes shall be declared duly elected.

Mr. Stribling reported for the Committee on Resolutions with three resolutions that had been submitted. They found all three in proper form and recommended there adoption.

Resolution No. 2:

WHEREAS the Primates of the Anglican Communion have presented to the member Churches gathered at Toronto during the Anglican Congress a "declaration of mutual responsibility and interdependence in the Body of Christ," in order to call to our attention the absolute importance of establishing an even broader understanding of the meaning of Mission, and to encourage among us a new set of priorities for international action; and

WHEREAS the House of Bishops of our Church has endorsed the idea of Mutual Responsibility, calling upon our Presiding Bishop and the National Council to "press forward" with plans to implement this statement; and

WHEREAS a committee of the national Church is now studying this declaration with an eye to relating it to the life of the American Church; be it therefore

RESOLVED that this Convention of the Diocese of Missouri respectfully request that the Bishop of our Diocese appoint a commission of laymen and presbyters to make recommendations to the Diocese which will guide us in the examination of the priorities of our own plans and work, and which will enable us to respond and implement the recommendations of the National Committee, and to meet the challenge of a new vision of our oneness in Jesus Christ; and be it further

RESOLVED that such a commission be requested to make its first report and recommendations within six months, and in such a way that it will be morally incumbent upon every Parish and Mission and Department of the Diocese to review its life and work in the light of such recommendations.

The Resolution was moved by the Rev. Mr. Ash and was duly seconded. Discussion followed.

The Rev. Dr. Nicholson moved that the Resolution be tabled until such time as its language could be clarified and made more easily understood. Following a second the motion was lost by a voice vote.

WHEREAS there are congregations within the Diocese which are suffering financial stress due to circumstances of history beyond their control, and yet continue to serve their neighborhoods in new and creative ways; and there is reason to believe that other congregations may in the future find themselves in similar situations; and

WHEREAS the Council of the Diocese, meeting on September 19, 1963, did on motion of the Rev. William Laird resolve to recommend to this 125th Convention that "adjustments be made in apportionments in a realistic manner" for such congregations; and

WHEREAS, the leaders of the eighteen Churches of the Anglican Communion assembled in Toronto, Canada, in August, 1963, at the Anglican Congress did draw up a proposal of "Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence within the Body of Christ," which document has been commended by our Bishop, for our consideration and discussion and which speaks directly to the above-described circumstances; Therefore be it

RESOLVED that this 125th Convention of the Diocese of Missouri now meeting direct the Council of the Diocese and the Department of Christian Stewardship to reexamine the present system of apportioning costs for the Mission of the Church in this Diocese with recommendations for a realistic strategy and system for providing the means for doing the work of the Church in this Diocese.

The Resolution was moved by the Rev. Mr. Washburn and was seconded by the Rev. Dr. Laird. Following a second the Resolution was adopted. Resolution No. 4:

WHEREAS the proposed Becker Amendment to the Constitution of the United States is now before the House Judiciary Committee for public hearings; and

WHEREAS this amendment, if adopted, will permit any teacher, principal or government official to offer prayers, read passages from the Bible, or otherwise engage in any religious proceeding, activity or ceremony in any governmental or public school, institution or place; and

WHEREAS this amendment, if adopted, will open a Pandora's Box of religious self-seeking and denominational strife by legalizing the efforts of any teacher, principal or governmental official to promote his personal religious beliefs by the choice of Bible passages to be read, or the wording of prayers to be offered; and

WHEREAS this amendment, if adopted, could make it possible for any religious group in control of a local school board or teaching staff to structure the religious proceedings, activities, and ceremonies in such a way as to promote sectarian preferences or beliefs; and

WHEREAS this amendment, if adopted, could in time of crisis make it possible for a state-sponsored activity to compete with those churches who choose to proclaim the Gospel as they understand it, such as has happened in other countries in our generation; and

WHEREAS we believe that worship and religious education are the responsibility of the church and home, and not the responsibility of our public schools or governmental institutions; now therefore be it

RESOLVED that we, the Delegates to the 125th annual Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, go on record as opposed to the Becker Amendment; and be it further

RESOLVED that the President of this Convention send a copy of this Resolution to the Missouri delegation in Congress and to the Honorable Emmanuel Cellar, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, Washington, D. C.; and be it further

RESOLVED that this Convention respectfully petitions the House Judiciary Committee to reject the Becker Amendment.

The Resolution was moved by the Rev. Mr. Vair and received a second. Following discussion the Resolution was adopted.

Judge Weiss reported for the Committee on Election Procedure. The Rev. Messrs. Steidemann and Chapman and Messrs. Sonnenfeld and Conrad were declared elected to the Council of the Diocese. The Rev. Mr. Chapman and Mr. Dorn were declared elected to the Department of Mission and Strategy. Mr. Shriber and Mrs. Spotts were declared elected to the Department of Christian Social Relations; and Messrs. Price, Jackson and Brauner were declared elected to the Department of Christian Stewardship. Mr. Swearengen was declared elected to the Chapter of Christ Church Cathedral.

A third ballot was cast for two Lay members of the Standing Committee.

Mr. Harlo Dunn, of Poplar Bluff, was introduced. He repeated the invitation of Holy Cross Church which had been made in 1963; that the 1965 Diocesan Convention meet in that city

The invitation was accepted by a rising vote.

A special order of business was declared. The Rev. Mr. Morley, chairman of the Pilot Diocese Committee, discussed the origin of the term "pilot diocese" and its concept, as well as the Mission of the Church to metropolitan life today. He then introduced Mrs. James Bugg who told of one project, the pilot prekindergarten school at the Church of the Ascension, St. Louis; Mr. Nathaniel Ober who told of the purpose of the pilot school and of the need to train volunteers for this purpose; Dr. James Bugg, chairman of the Department of College Work, who discussed the situation in the metropolitan area as concerns the greater number of college and university students that may be expected in the next ten years and of the pilot project among these students to be started in the next year; the Rev. Mr. Donovan who discussed the team ministry to start in July among the 40,000 persons living on the near North Side of St. Louis; and the Rev. Mr. Washburn who spoke of the "face" of the Parish of the Ascension and of the summer service project involving college students and the "playcorps" program involving teenagers. Mr. Washburn pointed out that the Church of the Ascension was not looking for aid from the Diocese to enable it to do its job, but rather that the parish should be looked upon as doing the work of the whole Diocese in the particular neighborhood in which the parish is located.

Mission and Strategy

We've been told by them which knows that "Church is mission"-so, like the Vatican, we're in the process of "aggiornamento... (up-to-dateness) and have dropped the "s". Mission means "to be sent" and the word brings to me a picture of advance, adventure and movement. We're certainly had been a follow meetings and by Green we have some formers. lots of long meetings and by Grace we hope some fruitful doings. Is it Jack Pierson? who reminds us of the tyranny or dictatorship or absolutism of the discipline; i.e., every job or committee or movement tends to reach out and claim all of life. Certainly we of Mission & Strategy have been aggressive, and constantly seek to influence Bishop, Council and Convention and manipulate them into our ways. (Dr. Penniman often said honest (Christian) manipulation is good—but dangerous!) However, as a qahal of ambitious mavericks, we make big noises and hopefully are helping the church rediscover its essence which is mission.

At least on the surface, 1963 has for us been a big one. A) We've come of age! We do not have to scramble so much for status. Everybody (including His Grace) now treats us with utmost respect and deference. Few "end runs" or quick dashes to the Thompson Gold are made without checking signals with us.

B) Last year we listed 4 urban areas which needed extra help: Ascension, Trinity, Grace Church and The Near North Side. Here we've batted almost 1.000%. 1) Grace Church has a fulltime Vicar and our work at settlement house-agency-clinic and church seem to be going strong. 2) The Bishop & Chairman met with Ascension's vestry and reassured them of full diocesan and departmental support and enthusiasm. The 1965 budget calls for continued support of a fulltime assistant. 3) Both Trinity and Ascension seem to be engaged in committment to their natural neighborhoods. Due to Pilot Diocese (we call it "Tony's Empire"), the National Church has made available to Trinity Church two staff additions—or is it 3?

4) We kicked around the "Ministry to 40,000" Near North Side but due to the National Church's interest and grant of $10,000, we hope to begin this detached oecumenical team ministry in the near future. What is a detached ministry? Who knows? Maybe like detached social workers in N.Y. City? However, the department sees this as a radical experiment in the discovery of new ministries.

Kraem Bonhoeffer world and Cadigan so classical a Grace, may Diocese, W In addition to the above, the Bishop placed a new man in Moberly and due to the largesse of Grace Church, Kirkwood, we hope advance in the Kennett area. Grace Church also will give $15,000 for the new church building at Sullivan. (The Department encourages such works of supererogation.)

But our department does not rest content with projects usually connected with Mission & Strategy. We're stirrer-uppers—goads for the Kingdom, if you will. For instance, some urban and metropolitan clergy meet 2 hours every Wednesday morning to discuss the problems of the church and metropolitan St. Louis. As we originated "Mission in Mo," we particifor a bigger and better one in 1965 or 1966. Despite our ill luck in only getting 3 missioners, and some misunderstanding over "retiring collections", Mr. Willand's committee did a fine job and Mr. McCowan's "recap" is in the main positive.

We tackled other problems. We feel the structure of the diocese and lines of communication (wheels within wheels) needs overhauling and unclogging. Oh, for the fairy wand of an efficiency expert! A committee with our Bishop will try to effect a grease and oil job here. Some of us feel like a politician nursing a bill through umpteen committees and levels. Ah! the pains of democracy!

Gospel from the Boondocks! The South Convocation, always a gadfly to The Gadfly, presented us with a radical proposal: one of the supported churches is becoming self-supporting and hence the Convocation is requesting authority to use and dispense funds in the interest of evangelism in the south area. Under His Grace's direction, our department blessed and granted this dispensation. At the risk of becoming Presbyterian, we shall encourage more and more regional planning and autonomy. We have directed the Convocation, along with the Bishop and a group from Kennett, to dispose "decently and in order" the Grace Church, Kirkwood grant.

As a department we do not live unto ourselves nor only for the moment. The "Pilot Diocese" project which is concerned with all of megalopolis and which operates under our wing, raises all kinds of questions about Mission & Strategy. With professional help and money from New York and elsewhere, the future ought to be most exciting and stimulating. Perhaps in anticipation, we have made an analysis of our strategy and investment (men, money and program) over the last 7 years and have requested that a new committee, called "Strategy (long term)", be created (another while and C.F.R. tells us we had one years ago and it died.)

As we live out our mission we shall continue to live in the bind of the old vs the new; i.e., History and Tradition say mission, yes! in terms of a pilot of ground, a man, 3 buildings and we hope, pay dirt in 10 years. Almost all literature of a prophetic nature one reads (you name the authors: H. Kraemer, P. Burger, M. Marty, G. Winter, M. Warren, E. Southcott, D. Bonhoeffeur, etc. etc.) suggests that the mission of the church is to the world and we need new forms, new concepts of ministries. But as Bishop Cadigan so often asks, "What are they? What can we put in place of a classical approach with all the impedementa?" We do not know but by Grace, maybe through experimentation like the Near North Side and Pilot Diocese, we shall discover new ways of communicating old truths.

Mission in Missouri

Mission in Missouri had its inception in the Department of Mission and Strategy of the Diocese. The committee charged with the operation of Mission in Missouri worked within the framework transmitted to it by the Department. The members of the Committee were: Mrs. Ruth Jacobson, Mrs. Richard M. Hoffman, Mr. Herbert Lucke, Mr. Walter Swearengen, and the Rev. Messrs. Richard Bamforth, Anthony Morley, James Evans and Pitt Willand, Chairman. Throughout the planning for the Mission the Committee was assisted by the Bishop, the Archdeacon, and the Deans of Convocation.

The Bishop of Natal, the Rt. Rev. T. G. Vernon Inman, came to the Diocese in May, 1963, for a period of preparation. Bishop Inman preached the Convention Sermon in Columbia, and then visited parishes and missions throughout the Diocese.

The participants in the Mission proper were: the Bishop in Iran, the Rt. Rev. Hassan B. Dehqani-Tafti; the Bishop of Chota Nagpur, the Rt. Rev. S.A.B. Dilbar Hans; the Bishop of Bhagalpur, the Rt. Rev. Philip B. Parmar. Upon the arrival of the participants, the Mission began on Sunday, September 22, in the North (Bishop Dilbar Hans), the West (Bishop Dehqani-Tafti), and the South (Bishop Parmar) Convocations. On Saturday, September 28, the Bishops returned to the metropolitan area, where the second week of the Mission took place. It concluded with a service of witness in Christ Church Cathedral in the afternoon of Sunday, October 6. Bishops Dilbar Hans and Parma preached.

Although the participants preached in various parishes and missions during their stay and although they addressed large meetings, the emphasis throughout was on small group discussion. It was left to each parish or mission to make use of the participant's time as seemed best in the local situation.

Department of Christian Education

The Department of Christian Education has continued its activities in the past year with a concerned membership, clerical and lay, who have been involved in many aspects of educational efforts in the Diocese. Active planning and programs have been concentrated in four Divisions: Teacher Training; Adult Education; Youth Activities; Camps and Conferences. Members of the Department have also served on other committees, boards, departments and in advisory capacities. This Department expects to expand its services and assistance to all parishes and missions during the coming year.

Department of Christian Social Relations

People continue to discover, often to their great disappointment, that it is impossible to "measure" the success or failure of Christianity, as one measures the success of a movie, a television production, or the advertising pitch of a new product. Which standards shall be used for measurement? No one can really say. Thus, I find it difficult to assess the success or failure of the Department of Christian Social Relations. Whatever we attempt to do, we are bound to be inaccurate. And perhaps, it is not our judgment to make.

We look at this work, in the belief that the Christian faith has to do with life—all of life. Such a basic belief must sound rather trite, as if everyone knows this without having it said. But, there are many—perhaps even a majority who would take serious issue with such a statement. We believe, when you have made such a statement, that you have committed yourself to the conviction that I, as a Christian person, am therefore involved in all of life—in political issues; in social issues; in internatonal issues. You are, in short, involved in life. You are a person, created by Almighty God, seeking to understand your relationship to all human beings, and all of life. It is a dangerous, difficult business—the business of living But it is that to which we are called.

Therefore, this Department feels charged with the responsibility to study and examine certain aspects of our culture and our life, and to work for the establishment of a more just, free, and equitable society. This task seems to mean seeking to make people more aware of the life they live; more aware of the world around them, since most of us live a very sheltered, narrow-set-apart existence. But, it is in the area of encouraging awareness, concern, and action that accurate measurements are at best, misleading, "What have you specifically done to help the Negro?", or "what have you done to make people aware of live political issues?" We do seek to work in these areas. Perhaps we do have some effect. But, we do not dare base our enthusiasm, or our reason for existence on measurable accomplishments.

If this Department is effective, we know it is not because of occasional "resolutions" which carry little weight in the world, or in the city or county of St. Louis. We do hope that our various divisions and commissions, manned by so very competent and concerned people, are doing a great and evident, nor measurable. Any one of these divisions or commission chairman could easily become discouraged or disillusioned, seeing how their efforts seem to go unnoticed, and that any progress (as in the whole civil rights area) is so very slow, often painful, often accomplished in the wake of hard feelings and severed relationships.

Still, we believe this Department has an increasingly vital and significant role to play in this Diocese, as we seek to be the leaven, to be, hopefully, one of the many agents of change, in a world which seems often unable to recognize its Lord.

Report of World Relief Chairman

We have worked closely with the very efficient Christian Social Relations Chairman of the Women of the Diocese, Mrs. Edward Knott — My chief responsibility has been to promote publicity of drives for support of the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, and for collections of clothing carried on in cooperation with World Relief. Some of the fine collection centers in the United States is located in St. Louis at 4165 Duncan St. Members of the churches have taken much clothing to this center, but no comprehensive report of the amount taken is available. Groups from two churches help in the processing of the clothing.

For 1963, $4300.34 was given to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, in 1962 $4267.87 was given.

A concerted effort was put into the Episcopal God Parents' Plan — but only five children were placed as God children — and the plan has now been discontinued.

WINIFRED BRYAN World Relief Chairman

Episcopal Churchwomen C.S.R. Report

Christian Social Relations is "translating living into loving"; doing for others.

Several Episcopal Churchwomen are "Women of Achievement" many others have been honored by St. Lukes, State Hospital, Children's Hospital, Jayce wive's, B.R.O., others for their devotion to the people of the community and some women for their dedication to their parishes.

The E.C.W. are informed by the excellent Diocesean newsletter "Focus" and "Now" also through literature from National Council of the Episcopal Church. And—they act upon such information. Ecumenically they help support women in many fields, foreign colleges, foreign students, race, migrants and with the aged.

In money making projects (bazaars, card parties, etc.) they combine many factors, the need for social, fun and fellowship in the joy of earning funds necessary for others. Last year E.C.W. Diocese of Missouri spent $21,000.

All E.C.W. are women of achievement, whenever a service is needed they do the job.

Department of Promotion

The mission of the Department of Promotion is one of communications. It is to help members of the Diocese better understand the work, concerns and needs of the Episcopal Church wherever it is or should be and to assist the Diocese in communicating with non-Episcopalians.

At the request of the Bishop, the Department during the spring and summer explored whether and on what basis a part-time paid staff member might strengthen the Diocese's communications activities, particularly in providing information to the press and other mass media. After its study, the Department recommended to the Council of the Diocese that the Department be authorized to hire someone with experience in this field to work one day a week.

Such a prson was employed in the fall, and the results were gratifying. A number of stories were made available to newspapers throughout the Diocese—stories which otherwise would have been given on a limited basis if at all. Stories also were prepared for NOW, providing more comprehensive reporting than would have been possible without this additional help.

NOW continue to be the principal responsibility of the Department. A new nameplate was designed, which has made possible an improved appearance.

Circulation averaged 9,591.6 an issue for each of the 10 issues. The average cost was 6.563 cents a copy. NOW is not published in July and August.

The Department continued to assist in encouraging parishes to subscribe to "The Episcopalian" magazine through the Every Family Plan. "The Episcopalian", officially sponsored by the General Convention but independently edited, is one of America's outstanding religious periodicals.

Ten parishes and missions now participate in the Every Family Plan. They are Good Shepherd, St. Louis County; Holy Cross, Poplar Bluff; Prince of Peace, St. Louis; St. Francis, St. Louis County; St. Matthew's, Mexico; St. Michael and St. George, Clayton; St. Paul's, Overland; St. Paul's, Palmyra; St. Peter's, Ladue, and St. Timothy's, St. Louis County. Circulation of "The Episcopalian" in the Diocese now totals 1,752.

Two activities were undertaken in connection with the 1963 Diocesan Convention. The Department prepared a folder describing the proposed Diocesan Budget for 1964, which was distributed to all vestries, delegates and alternates prior to the convention. The Department also helped prepare a presentation given at the Convention on the proposed expansion of work in the underprivileged sections of St. Louis.

Department of Lay Ministry

THE DEPARTMENT OF LAY MINISTRY, established at the 124th Convention of the Diocese of Missouri in Columbia in 1963, had the following Executive Committee appointed by the Bishop:

Forrest F. Crane, Chairman
The Rev. Arthur R. Steideman
The Rev. Frank Butler
The Rev. William F. Kemper, III
Mr. Larry Dorn
Mr. Howard Hinkley
Mr. Charles K. Baker
Mrs. Emily Jane Etherton
Mrs. Betty Hyde
Mrs. Joseph Summers

Your committee has met twice and activated a Parish and Mission orientated liaison through an organization of Key Men appointed by Rectors. There are now 38 Parishes and Missions represented by Key Men. Three training sessions have been held for these Key Men, a newsletter established for purposes of communication, and each Key Man provided with material helps and sources of other helps.

The first responsibility of the Christian is to "be" Christ's faithful soldier and servant unto his life's end. This Department has set about to open the eyes of laymen as to who they are and the roles for which they are destined with an attempt to provide the ways and means. It is hoped that through our Key Men, cooperating with their respective Parish priests, we can correct the misconception of many laymen that he has successfully completed his function when he comes to the church building for Sunday worship. We must come to Christ, become the Church as Jesus Christ taught, and then go out into the world BEING the Church.

We seek and plead for a new kind of lay response in each Parish and Mission. Inasmuch as each of us have received different and varied gifts, and we are of different talents while involved primarily "in the worldly life" which is also as varied as we are very members, no "pat" answers are offered. We urge each Key Man to first try and understand who he is (a child of God and joint heir with Christ) before he starts "doing". We explain the Church must find out what it is (the body of Christ) before it can act effectively in the world. With the help of the Holy Spirit, we find out who we are by learning, teaching, witnessing, ministering; through worship and prayer; and through cooperation with each other and Christians of other traditions in seeking reunion and Grace.

When we are better organized (though we strain against meetings and organization), the purpose and goal of this Department will be to help strengthen and extend the work presently going on in the different Parishes, Diocese, and in the world by giving assistance, communications, and understanding to and from the individual member who is often not aware of the true purpose and nature of the Church. Every individual member of every Parish and Mission is a member of this Department and consequently is welcome, and in fact urged to contact their Rector or Key Man for information on how they can become involved more in "being" the Church.

In evaluating the work, the growth of a year, in looking back to the months just past, months filled to the brim with activity, one cannot help but at first question—"Is this necessary?". But once into the task, with the compiling of facts and figures, it is then we gain a clear view of what has been accomplished, or lays plainly before one the question—"Is this our Direction and have our endeavors fulfilled the need in our world of today?".

In Julia Emery's book, "A Century of Endeavor", it clearly states that growth of a belief or a task can only take place if one is concerned enough to lay their heart to the task ahead, and that the growth of our Christian Faith has been the mission of concerned people. As this report shows, the women in the Diocese of Missouri, through their concern, have furthered their work and their mission in many ways.

To clarify the relative position of the Executive Board of the Women of the Church, from which this report is made, may I point out that this is not a report of what the Board has accomplished, but an accounting of the combined efforts of all of the parishes and missions in the Diocese, and that the Board's sole purpose is to help guide and supply the information of the needs of people, perhaps a neighbor, a parish, a community, and on into the world around us. Because of limited space, we can only report the trend of services given, and can not present a complete picture.

In order that the Diocesan Board might be of more service in the ministry of the clergy, Bishop Cadigan invited representatives to participate in a panel discussion at the Clergy Conference held in October on the duties and function of a diocesan board in relation to parish activity. Through the findings at this meeting, it was evident that more conferences should be held for both lay persons, board members and clergy to meet together in order to enable all to realize their common goal.

Four members of the Board attended the Seventh Province Synod in Albuquerque, New Mexico from October 7-10. It was an informative and valuable meeting for those that attended, for in a positive way of thinking it made each delegate aware of the need for more study for individuals in Christian leadership. Training Institutes were scheduled for April 19-25, in Amarillo, Texas, and another to be held in June 21-27, in Lubbock, Texas. These training sessions are primarily for diocesan board chairmen, clergy and lay leaders, and they in turn would take information into the parishes. We in Missouri hope to participate whenever possible when these programs are provided.

Without the need for Christian Education, interpreted to mean just what it says—to educate the world to Christianity, conferences might not be necessary The Christian Education Chairman attended Synod in Albuquerque, feeling that a better understanding of her role in the Church might be strengthened. Evaluations of the Synod have provided a fine study program for some parishes. The Rt. Rev. Fred Putnam, Suffragan Bishop of Oklahoma, addressed the Synod. Members that attended this program asked that his address be shared by others in Missouri. Through this request, we have the honor of Bishop Putnam's presence at the Annual Meeting of the women of the Diocese.

To help reach out into all areas of concern, the Church Periodical Club has found year after year a growing vital need to share ideas through books and magazines. Missouri has been one of the leaders in our Church in fulfilling this mission. 45,000 pieces of literature, used magazines, Bibles and Prayer Books have been redistributed. Just for illustration: St. Paul's, Sikeston, and St. Paul's, Ironton, were so impressed with the work of Bishop Philip B. Parmer in India, and feeling the evident need there, Sikeston sent over 175 books, requiring $50 for postage. From Ironton, 44 pounds were sent — over 152 books. The coin cards have proved a simple, effective way of furnishing funds for purchasing new books for parish libraries, at home and overseas. C.P.C. Chairman are alerting the members of their parish to the value of a good library. As this is edited, $300 has been sent to the National Books Fund, which amount is one-third larger than last year. Through the Mission in Missouri, interest and concern has been aroused, stimulating participation in C.P.C. beyond any expectation. Is there any doubt that the knowing of one personally does not stimulate a feeling of brotherhood and the desire to share God's blessings?

The Department of Supply, through the efforts of National Council and the cooperation of parishes, has grown to a tremendous out-going of garments and funds. The following list is but a sample of the needs met this year:

1. Supply Secretary Gift Fund, $20.

2. Inter-Church Medical Assistance, $10.

3. St. Vincent's School for Handicapped Children in Haiti, $200.

4. St. Luke's Hospital in the Philippines, $100.

- 5. Corn Creek District of Pine Ridge Mission, Wanblee, S. D.—The Rev. Sidney U. Martin, 1,133 people in the mission and 95 others look to the mission for clothing.
- 6. St. Christopher's Mission, Bluff, Utah—The Rev. Wyne Pontious Vicar, 10 chapels in which he supplies missionaries with completed garments—409 men, women and children in one mission, and approximately 3,712 others who look to the mission for clothing.

Christian Ministries (Personnel) may seem to over-lap the Department of Christian Social Relations, as both departments do respond to needs of our youth and in working with social problems. But primarily C. M. is the guiding hand for lay persons of all ages to become interested in the Church's responsibilities as a vocation. Through the Fair Share and special gifts these services were provided:

- 4 complete nursing scholarships to St. Luke's Hospital, funds also coming from individual parishes such as Emmanuel, Grace Church, Kirkwood, and St. Peters.
  - a. Sikeston.
  - c. St Barnabas
  - c. 2 who graduated in September from Overland—provided scholarships under 12 months period.
- 2. $300 for books and fees for Kieko Matsumoto at Monmouth College for 3rd year has been given the same amount each year.
- 3. $200 for scholarship to Josephine Tucker Memorial House in Uganda.
- 4. $100 in aid for two Mexican girls in 7th Province going to G.F.S. International at Oberlin, Ohio.
- 5. $40 for G.F.S. art camp.

The Christian Ministries Chairman has aided the Rev. Anthony Morley, Trinity, St. Louis, and Rev. Francis Washburn, Ascension, on summer projects at the two parishes in furnishing funds for projects and personnel. The coming summer of 1964, this department will work closely with the two parishes in a pilot study in summer youth work, sponsored by National Council. G.F.S. have had several benefits to raise money for summer eamp and for weekends at Thompson House. New youth leaders are doing excellent work. Foreign Student Committee from United Church Women are concentrating their efforts in helping foreign doctors and their families. Help has been given in this area in escorting families on tours to acquaint them with the city of St. Louis.

The Christian Socal Relations Chairman has coordinated work of the Diocese with the Service Association in assisting parolees find homes, jobs, clothing and self-respect—for both men and women. Many parishes are continuing the Kitchen Clubs started at Grace Church, St. Louis. Property owners have been contacted to encourage needed repairs on rental property around Grace Church. C.S.R chairmen have helped with summer youth projects at St. Stephen's, St. Louis, Grace Church and Grace Hill House, in under-privileged neighborhoods such as Meacham Park, Kinloch, in areas in many parts of Missouri and on into far reaching parts of the United States and Mexico. This is a department in our Christian Faith that more and more people realize that here is a loosing battle unless more sincere effort, study and time is applied, before any sense of solution of our social problems may be met.

The Convocation Chairmen have been of great assistance in bringing the work of the whole Diocese into close cooperation with all parishes. Each chairman has taken the responsibility of recruitment for Gen. Conv. and Triennial within their convocation. Programs shared with the Diocesan Board Chairmen in the fall and spring have been a clearing house for ideas and suggestions, both for work in the parishes and for Gen. Conv. planning.

The Representative-at-Large has been the liaison with the United Church Women, attending meetings on the 4th Monday of each month. Episcopal women have served in this ecumenical group as President, Secretary, Hospitality Chairman, Nominating Committee, Spiritual Life, Christian World Missions, International Students Committee, Christian Social Relations, Volunteer Services, and committee on special departments. All Episcopal women are asked to attend four special days observed by U.C.W.-World Day of Prayer in February, May Fellowship Day, Mission Institute in September and World Community Day in November.

Where do funds come from for the far reaching demands in today's world? One source is from United Thank Offering grants, wherein a fund growths through thankfulness of many small blessings into a great tide for many missions unto the Church. To keep before the women a true picture of what a united effort can mean to the world at large, another production has been written by Mrs. Edward Kice of Emmanuel Church, Webster Groves. It is delightful puppet show, produced and performed by the U.T.O. Chairman, Mrs. William Austin and Mrs. John Forry. This show has been presented in many parishes, and we sincerely hope this may be shown at Kiel Auditorium for Triennial Exhibits. Since this report will go to press before the Spring Ingathering, we do not have a complete record for U.T.O. From the Fall Ingathering alone, $6,788.16, has been sent to National, with 2,371 women participating. Will the total ingathering, representing a token of women's faith in our world and the realization of the blessings that abound flow over the sum of $4,339,190.18 presented at Triennial in 1961?

Uganda. to G.F.S. The Diocesan Board is working closely with all phases of planning for General Convention and Triennial here in October. The member's willingness to take on more responsibility has been heartfelt. In order to bring the history, meaning and aims of convention to the Diocese, to help recruit and enlighten, Mrs. James Shirley, Jr., and Mrs. Harry House wrote a skit on Triennial, with past and present members of the Board helping to compile all facts accurately.

FOCUS, our newsletter, is an excellent medium in which to share plans for General Convention and Triennial at very little expense. This is the third year of publication, and about 600 copies are sent out each month to the clergy, officers, and interested women. Circulation could be increased at no extra cest, so show and use your FOCUS, to bring others to appreciate its value as a strong tie in our Diocese.

The Fair Share Plan, by which all women in the parishes and missions share, is a vital, contributing part of the whole program of the Church throughout the world. In 1962-63, 50 parishes and missions paid $6930 (5 overpaid). In 5 parishes and missions where there is no organized women's groups, there was no participation. Special Gif's for '62-63 totaled $13,671.28 (only those going through the Treasurer's books can be counted). Offerings from the Convocation meetings came to $419, these went to Presiding Bishop's Fund, Chapel Fund at Columb'a, Church in Sullivan, and Christian Social Relations Fund for Cuban girl. Through the Budget of the Episcopal Churchwomen, $7509.37 went to the World and Nation, and $9726.40 went to the Diocese in the form of gifts; Grace Hill House, St. Stephen's House, City Missions, Trinity Parish, Ascension Parish, Youth Counseling, College Work, Bishop Cadigan's Discretionary Fund, Scholarships for St. Luke's Hospital and Christian Ministries.

From the FACTS AND FIGURES taken from the Annual Reports of the ECW in the parishes and missions, $27,784.66 was expended within the parishes by the women; $6381 in the community; $6642.47 in the Diocese; $7365.02 in the World and Nation. (Not all parishes and missions sent in reports.)

The Budget for 1964-65 has been carefully examined and has been approved by the Finance Committee and the Diocesan Board. It will be subject to approval by ballot (mailed before the Annual Meeting) by the parishes and missions. The bulk of the items under Diocese goes to the Inner-City Mission Work again because the women know about the great need here. United Church Women has been added this year as a budget item for $50, toward the State U.C.W. Administration expenses are diligently watched and held down.

The final figures can not be given at this time for '63-'64 as our year ends May 31, 1964. However, as of February 1, 1964, 42 parishes and missions have accepted and paid $4917.69 toward their Fair Shares and over $8000 has been received in Special Gifts.

The members of the Diocesan Board, the chairmen for the various departments in the parishes, all the women of our Diocese express their deep gratitude and appreciation for the concern for the work of women in their parish expressed by the Clergy in our Diocese of Missouri, and for the gracious, ever-understanding Bishop, The Right Reverend George Leslie Cadigan.

The DIT continues to most adequately serve the needs of the Diocese in the investment of permanent funds. During the last twelve months, there have been two additional Participants in the DIT as well as added investment on the part of 5 others.

The total market value of the DIT at January 15, 1964 was $2,260,245, an increase of $200,148 or 9.72% over January 15, 1963. For the same period, book value (which is the total amount the Participants have invested) was $1,971,736, an increase of $77,836 or 4.11%.

In the last 4 quarters, income produced by the DIT was about 24% greater than the previous four; the principal reason being dividend increases on the stocks which represent approximately 55% of the total investments. Since most of these dividend increases occurred in the last 3 months, future income production should be greater than indicated above. The DIT presently holds 45 stocks of which 25 (or 55½%) increased their dividends—two of them twice— against one reduction. Income produced in the last 4 quarters was almost 18% greater than that in the first four (period ending July 15, 1960).

Particularly because of higher stock prices, the unit price reached its all time high at the January 15, 1964 valuation. Production of income did not increase correspondingly so that the yield at market was 3.69% vs 3.92% twelve months ago. However, the yield on average unit cost is 4.24% against 4.28% a year ago.

The Annual Report for January 15, 1964 is currently in process and will be mailed to all Participants when completed. Any others may obtain a copy on request.

The Registrar

The Registrar of a Diocese holds an office provided for in the Constitution, and he is charged with doing certain things—the recording of official acts (ordinations, receptions and dismissals of clergy, consecrations of bishops, consecrations of church buildings, etc.), and the safekeeping of books, documents and archives belonging to the Diocese. In this modern age the list now includes some audiovisual records, microfilms and tapes. All these are now deposited in some steel cabinets on the fifth and sixth floors of Bishop Tuttle Memorial.

All of this work I have endeavored to perform faithfully and I trust future registrars will not find me lacking.

During the year we acquired a number of documents of interest: a microfilm of letters of Missouri's Bishops which are in the Library of General Theological Seminary; the Minute Books of the Vestry of Christ Church, St. Louis, from 1843 to 1888; the Minute Books of Christ Church

This particular Diocesan Registrar is also Historiographer and as such writes some history and provides resources for others who write history. For instance: Section Six of my projected History of the Diocese of Missouri is being published in April. This concerns the episcopate of Bishop Scarlett, 1930-1952. I am grateful to the Editor of the Bulletin of Missouri Historical Society for publishing the sections as I finish them.

Also, with the forthcoming Bicentennial celebration of the settlement of St. Louis there is renewed interest in things historical. I am asked about the details of the construction of Christ Church, St. Louis, between 1857 and 1867. I am asked what missionary efforts the Episcopal Church may have carried on among the German immigrants from about 1835. Someone wants to know what concern the Episcopal Church indicated for the growing depressed areas of St. Louis sixty years ago. Or, does the history of a particular inner-city parish portend the same sort of history for a parish in a now-fashionable suburb in another generation.

I find this portion of my job fascinating. I hope there are others who do, too.

Episcopal City Mission

The Episcopal City Mission conducts two services. Our Chaplaincy Service and our Youth Counseling Service, both under our Executive Director the Rev. Billy D. Sharp.

Chaplaincy Service—The Rev. William Finlaw is in charge of this program and work starts with the Juvenile Courts in the City and County and then he follows the young people in his charge to Missouri Hills, Meramec Hills, and the city House of Detention, the County Children's Building and Lakeside Center. Mr. Finlaw is helped by an Eden Seminary Fieldwork Student who does most of our work in the County.

Mr. Finlaw works with and counsels boys and girls from the time they come in contact with the Juvenile Courts until their release and in some cases continues to minister to them during their period of readjustment to living in the community. He also counsels with the parents, conducts services at the institutions, supervises the Sunday Schools and performs other helpful services. Our Chaplaincy is part of the Episcopal Church's participation in the work of the Metropolitan Church Federation. Dr. Sharp and Mr. Stevens are always ready to co-operate with Mr. Finlaw when he encounters youngsters who need long term counseling.

Youth Counseling Service—This is in the direct charge of Dr. Sharp who has a most valuable helper in the Rev. Edward Stevens. Together this team has given 1938 hours of counseling to a total of 140 intakes during the past year. This service was established to be of help to boys and girls with emotional problems, and situational difficulties and a most helpful service is being rendered. The members of the Board of Directors greatly appreciate the help given generously by the people of this Diocese and we hope that this will be an increasing interest so we will be able to increase our help to these young unfortunates, who come to us for guidance.

Grace Hill House

The year 1964 is Grace Hill Settlement House's 61st year of service to the people of a troubled inner-city area of St. Louis. Established by the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri in 1903, the settlement is a United Fund agency offering professional social work service to children, teenagers, adults and the aged.

The Medical Clinic is an additional service on the same grounds. This important service was separated from Grace Hill House September 30, 1963, when the United Fund withdrew its support to the Clinic. The Clinic's Medical staff handles more than 6,000 patient visits per year from persons who either cannot afford private medical care or are not eligible for care at the public clinics and hospitals. Also in 1963, the Clinic changed its affiliation from St. Luke's Hospital to Deaconess Hospital.

The fate of the clinic is undecided. The Board of Directors of Grace Hill House recognize that the service is vital to the neighborhood, a fact that has been documented in a recent study by the Metropolitan Division of Health and Hospitals. It is not known at this point what will happen to the Clinic when the present funds from private contributions are depleted.

A number of new programs were added to the agency activities including: the very successful Summer Service Project in which eight college students served as volunteer workers; the new Family Management Course and Housing Program; the Weekend Work Camps for Church teenage groups; the increased use of volunteers.

There are presently 10 regular staff members working in the Grace Hill House neighborhood, as well as 30 volunteers. Program is conducted through two departments: Neighborhood Services and Family Services

Grace Hill House also continues to meet requests from urban churches to extend its social work services to other neighborhoods. The settlement house is presently conducting programs for the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Curby Presbyterian, St. Andrews and Ebeneezer E & R Churches and the Garfield and Fremont Public Schools.

EXPANDED FACILITIES BRING NEW PEAKS IN VOLUME

HARRY M. PIPER, Administrator

The completion of the Fowler Wing in June of 1962 meant that 1963 was to be the first full year during which St. Luke's would experience a 350-bed operation. Statistical comparisons with any previous year would not, therefore, be of significant value.

The real significance seems to lie in the fact that the additional bed capacity was so fully utilized and that services throughout for both inpatients and out-patients were even greater in volume than had been anticipated. With in-patient, adult admissions approaching 12,000, St. Luke's was a far busier place than during any previous period. Not to be out-done, the baby department, without any increase in accommodations, also set a new high with 1,769 newborn; more births than ever before recorded at St. Luke's in a like period. The response of personnel to the more intensive pace of things was gratifying, as was the fact that service facilities in general proved adequate to assume the added load. It became very evident, however, that the new and expanded X-ray department now under construction as a part of the North Wing addition will not come too soon. The same situation applies in the case of the extension of our laboratories which will become available with the opening of the office building. Another area put to a severe test was our out-patient section indicating a need for consideration of its ultimate enlargement. It is in these three areas, in particular, that we should see an ever-increasing growth in volume of service during the years ahead with or without any further additions to our bed capacity

Fiscal data, detailed elsewhere in this report, reflects the expanded operation. Expense approached the $5,000,000 mark, but, happily, were some $45,000 less than net income. This becomes doubly satisfying when we consider that the cost of free care was also at a new peak, over $450,000; an important assist toward which, $82,000 was supplied by the United Fund, More than 1,100 in-patients were treated under this charitable program which involved, in addition, nearly 18,000 visits to our out-patient clinics.

Closely allied was the continued success of St. Luke's program for the training of interns and residents under the direction of the Chiefs of Service and with the participation of other members of the Medical Staff. It was during the past year that the recently established affiliation between St. Luke's and the Missouri University School of Medicine for training in Neuro-Surgery became effective. Other residency programs include those in Internal Medicine, General Surgery, OB-GYN and Pathology. In the School of Nursing, we saw the further strengthening of the three-year student nurse curriculum. In September, a class of 73 freshmen was admitted to bring total enrollment to 192.

From a cost standpoint, St. Luke's experience in 1963 was somewhat unique. The cost per patient per day showed a decline from $40.20 in 1962 to $39.24. Much as I would like to credit operational efficiency for this, the real explanation lies in the greater numbers of patients served and their total days of hospitalization. Costs at St Luke's and elsewhere continued to rise in 1963. It would appear that we can look for more of the same in 1964 and in the years to follow. Salaries to personnel constitute by far and way the largest single element of the cost picture, accounting for nearly 60 per cent of the total bill. This is explained by the very nature of hospital service, and proud as we are of our new buildings and modern equipment, a hospital is, in the last analysis, people. The recruitment, selection and training of personnel, adequate in number and in competence to render service, is and probably always will be our number one job on a day-to-day basis. With the ever-growing requirements of modern medicine and the tools available to it, the need for persons of special skills continues to grow. This is not to say that cerain automatic processes are not applicable in a hospital situation. Many can be and are being used, prticularly in service areas. In the direct care of the patient, however, even the most highly developed electronic monitoring devices have been found to be no substitute for personalized attention.

at 1963 was e a 350-bed not, there Although 1963 was one of the few years in the recent past during which we did not experience a major addition to our physical plant, it was, nevertheless, a period of solid progress from an operating standpoint. It provided, in addition, an extremely valuable opportunity to prepare for events to come. Completion of the new North Wing and Office Building projects should combine with other factors to make 1964 a year of exceptional interest and challenge—and pave the way for the further enlargement of St. Luke's services to the St. Louis community.

COORDINATED EFFORTS PROMOTE GROWTH AND PROGRESS

BEN F. JACKSON, President Board of Directors

With a matter of a few months, I will have served two full years as President of the Board of Directors of St. Luke's Hospital. It has been a rewarding experience to have had the opportunity of observing so closely such an outstanding example of coordinated effort in the promotion of institutional growth and progress

The individual and collective dedication to the advancement of St. Luke's and its services to the community has been a source of genuine gratification. The members of the Auxiliary, through a multitude of special projects and the volunteer program are unsurpassed in their devotion. The contribution of the Medical Staff in the maintenance of high professional standards, and their participation in the Hospital's educational programs at all levels is of the utmost significance. The performance of Hospital personnel of all categories is impressive. The value of time and talent so generously given by members of the Board is beyond measure.

Perhaps of even greater significance is the fact that this devotion to St. Luke's and the work it is doing goes far beyond the confines of the Hospital and the ranks of those involved directly in its operations. Our sponsoring Episcopal and Presbyterian Church groups represent a vital source of interest and support. There are many other individuals and organizations, far too numerous to mention, who contribute importantly. Gifts to the Building Fund reflect in part the good will which St. Luke's enjoys and we are deeply grateful. Such gifts in 1963 totalled $373,131.06, making a grand total of $4,715,995.23 since the development program was undertaken 13 years ago.

It is by virtue of these funds, in combination with others available to us, that we see the Hospital as it is today—significantly enlarged and modernized in structure, and vastly broadened in the scope of its services. We shall, as a matter of fact, before the end of 1964, see the completion and utilization of all the major elements embodied in the development plan at the start of the program in 1951. This will come with the occupancy of the North Wing and Office buildings now under construction and scheduled for completion by later summer of the coming year.

At that point, all that will remain of the old Hospital untouched by modernization will be the southern-most half of the original west wing, at the second, third, and fourth floor levels. At a meeting late in the year, the Board of Directors authorized that preliminary plans be drawn for the remodeling and re-utilization of these areas. Authorization was also given for plans to exend, to the maximum degree that ground available will allow, the employees' parking lot on Enright Avenue and for preliminary studies with a view to future enlargement of the out-patient-emergency room area of the Hospital.

We saw in 1963 ,along with the razing of the old School of Nursing to permit the start of office building construction, the wrecking of seven apartment buildings immediately to the east on Belt Avenue, and the development on that site of a major parking area designed ultimately to serve patients of office building occupants. This is a splendid facility and represents a substantial improvement in the Hospital's surroundings.

A logical question in this stage of St. Luke's physical development might very well be, "Where do we go from here?" The aswer would be that no major buildings or additions not now underway are presently contemplated, although a variety of lesser work, some of which has been mentioned, lies immediately ahead of us. However, it should be pointed out that the need for continuity in the Hospital's program of development has required that loan funds be used to supplement gifts for building purposes and that these represent obligations still to be met for work already completed or under contract. Of one thing, at least, we can be sure as well—there will be additional needs major in character in the years to come.

It becomes increasingly evident, as a matter of fact, that there is little likelihood of a let-up in additional demands upon us by the complexities of modern medicine and the constantly increasing utilization of hospital services by the public. We at St. Luke's must never lose sight of the fact that our primary objectives is to provide the facilities with which to meet these demands acceptably. We may, therefore, congratulate ourselves on accomplishments of the past, but our attention must remain focused on the future. Most assuredly, it will bring a variety of new requirements and present new and challenging problems. If we are to meet them successfully, and I am confident that we shall, we must first of all be ever alert, not only to technological and scientific change, but to trends and developments in a wide range of social and economic forces as well. Certainly we must also have available to us in both kind and quantity the same resources that have made our progress to date possible.

It is this point that I would emphasize to all of the many who have contributed so much in the years now behind us. The job is far from done. We shall have need in the future, perhaps to an even greater degree than in the past, for the same coordination and dedication of effort which permits us to look back on the record of 1963 with satisfaction and ahead to 1964 with confidence.

GFS Society for Girls

The GFS, Society for Girls is a recognized organization for girls within the Protestant Episcopal Church which has the tradition of service to the Church and to the Community.

In the past year in the Diocese of Missouri there have been over 175 girls and adults actively envolved in the GFS program whose theme this year was Creative Adventures in Christian Living. There are several branches in each of the following parishes: St. Paul's, Overland; St. Barnabus; St. Stephen's, St. Louis; and St. Paul's, Carondelet. Our goal for the next year is to expand and introduce the GFS program into other parishes. There is a Sponsors GFS Group that meets weekly and these women have been a part of the GFS for many years and maintain their interest. The Diocesan affairs of the GFS are conducted by a Board which this past year had women participating from a number of parishes; St. Michael and St. George; St. Stephen's, St. Louis; Grace Church, Kirkwood, Epiphany; St Barnabus; St. Paul's, Overland, St. Augustines; St. Paul's, Carondelet; Church of the Ascension and St. Peter's, Ladue.

Girls Friendly Society exists to serve girls and in doing so attempts to build Christian relationships within the group between girls and leader, girls and church and girls and girl. Both in the local branches and in the diocesan activities we attempt a well rounded program of group activities in worship, study, service, and recreation and to relate such activities to the total program of the church. This past year found girls in the branches doing various craft projects such as making hospital tray favors, constructing Advent Houses, studying the Mission Object, Taiwan, serving teas, suppers, breakfasts, attending Corporate Communions, giving holiday parties, studying "things of interest to Teenagers", sewing, having bake sales, doing altar work, singing in choirs, conducting worship services, playing games, studying the Bible, cooking and numberous other activities. As for over all Diocesan activities many were envolved in the GFS world day of prayer held at St. Paul's, Overland, the Mission Object Party held at St. Barnabas, a picnic at Thompson House, UNICEF Trick or Treating and inter parish visits. A G-3 Leadership Training Weekend was held at St. Stephen's in the Hills. The G-3 program is for teenage girls who wish to devote three years of service to the church. Two persons represented our Diocese at the National GFS Assembly held last summer at Oberlin, Ohio. Peggy Bowens from St. Stephen's, St. Louis represented the teenagers and other girls and Mrs. Virginia Moll represented the Leaders and the Board.

Participating in the Summer Opportunities Program of the GFS, Caroline Alberty of St Paul's, Overland was selected from our Diocese and she had a rewarding experience among the Sioux Indians on Standing Rock Indian Reservation in South Dakota, last summer.

The Episcopal 🖾 Presbyterian Foundation, Inc.

The Episcopal-Presbyterian Foundation for the Aging, Incorporated, which was formed in 1962 to provide facilities for and to be concerned with and to care for older people, is making progress. The Foundation bought the Gatesworth Hotel as its first project. The indebtedness has been reduced to $400,000. This we propose to finance over a period of years. We have spent a great deal of money in renovating the apartments, converting the hotel into a Manor operation, providing a lounge and hobby area. We have put a new roof on the building. We have 165 residents living inthe Manor at this date. The number of people living here will, of necessity, fluctuate from month to month. If we had a sufficient number of couples, we could take care of about 200 people. Our Board of Directors is satisfied with the progress that we have made to date in this project. We feel that the church and the community can be justly proud of this operation, which is sponsored by the Episcopal and Presbyterian Churches.

We are studying the need of "Medium Cost Housing." A survey is being made among the clergy of both Communions and in a few pilot churches. We have tried to feel the pulse of the community through some

They can never be met completely. It is our hope that in the name of our two Churches, we can provide several types of services for the elderly at different economic levels.

The funds which we receive as gifts from the Diocese, churches, or from individuals will be placed in an endowment fund and be used to assist people who are in need. Out of our monthly operation at the Manor, we are making a contribution of $355 per month to assist some people who live here. We have given some $11,000 in grants on the life residence fee. We hope to do more of this type of service as the funds become available.

The medical doctors who work so faithfully with us are making a tremendous contribution to the health and welfare of our residents.

The success of this Foundation is due to the men that the Diocese and the Presbytery have given us for our Board of Directors. They are some of the outstanding business and professional men in this community. They are devoted to the care of the elderly and their wholehearted interest has made this Foundation possible. I cannot speak too highly of the vision, concern and censecration of the individuals who make up our Board of Directors.

Report of the Diocesan Trustees of the University of the South

In February, Dr. Edward McCrady, Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South, made the following statement:

"There are few occasions which can rightfully be termed "historic." Sewanee has just reached one such milestone. Duing the last few days, the University has passed the half-way mark in its Ten Million Dollar Campaign. By raising more than $3,750,000 in cash and pledges, Sewanee qualifies for $1,250,000 in Ford Foundation matching funds. We are now concerned with raising the second portion of funds needed for primary development objectives The first $5,000,000 of our total needs has now been pledgede, and the first phase of fund-raising has passed into history."

While the capital funds campaign, the most ambitious effort of its kind in the South ever to be started by a small institution, is receiving first priority, the annual program for Sewanee-in-the-Budget must continue.

As the members of the Church progressively learn more about Sewanee, the fifty million dollar corporation in which they are shareholders, they tend progressively to support it more generously.

Not since the pre-Civil War days of the University's early organizational effort has there been such an exciting outlook. The principle of expanding by college units of approximately five hundred students each is not the most economical way to offer an educational opportunity, but many feel it to be the best. By this means at Sewanee, Vice-Chancellor Edward McCrady feels that the intimate relationships between professor and student which have characterized the first century of Sewanee's educational pattern can be maintained. Mere intellectual attainment is not the limit of Sewanee's ambition. Teaching men what to do with what they know elevates the learning process to the realm of the philosophical and religious. Every alumnus of the University of the South may not be an enlightened and informed Christian, but the only way the University can measure its success will be by the number who are.

The special attention of every Episcopalian is called to the free booklets available at his convention. For those who want to have their personal and individual part in Sewanee's forward movement, pledge forms may be obtained from your Trustees.

We have reached a time when success is near, when great plans are close to coming true. We ask everyone who knows and loves Sewanee, and those who know and love the high standards it represents, to support the University in this generation in accordance with his faith and his means. Visit Sewanee when you can. Recommend it to outstanding young men, and remember it in your prayers.

The Pastoral Counseling Institute Report for 1963

(Formerly called the Cathedral Counseling Center)

OBJECTIVES

The Pastoral Counseling Institute is an inter-denominational center for the development of new and varied programs of service, education and research, designed to help the community's religious leaders and members of their congregations meet the complex challenges of living in today's world.

The Institute's clinical services are provided by clinically-trained ministers who work under psychiatric supervision. Referrals are made to the Institute primarily by attorneys representing clients with family problems and by clergy dealing with troubled members of their congregations. The Institute provides both mental health resources and a way for the client to mobilize his religious resources in solving his problems. To further these objectives, the Pastoral Institute engages in a number of programs of education and research in fields allied to its work.

HISTORY

During the past twenty years there has been a growing desire to find ways to coordinate the pastoral task of religion with the healing arts in the care of troubled people. As a result of this need, the Dean and Chapter of Christ Church Cathedral, in January, 1958, provided for the establishment of a Church-related counseling center to serve the needs of people who turn to the Church with various kinds of personal problems.

The Pastoral Institute at Christ Church Cathedral was patterned after the best established centers in Washington, D. C., and New York, and has become with them one of the leading institutes in this rapidly developing field.

ADMINISTRATION

The Pastoral Counseling Institute is a non-profit corporation with all corporate powers vested in the Board of Directors and its Executive Committee.

From the beginning, the Institute has been extremely fortunate in attracting to its Board of Directors and Advisory Committee outstanding leaders from the clergy, psychiatry, the legal profession and community service. These exceptional individuals have not only lent their prestige and the respect they command in support of the Institute's efforts, but they have been more than generous in the giving of their time and thoughtfulness to a "working" Board. Without the benefit of their experience, guidance, and enthusiastic encouragement, the Institute could well not have been realized.

The Pastoral Counseling Institute maintains clase relations with Christ Church Cathedral, the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, Eden Seminary and other religious institutions in the St. Louis area. The Institute reports frequently on its activities and receives considerable financial support from these sponsoring groups.

During the past year the Executive Director and the staff of the Pastoral Counseling Institute have provided educational and consultative A partial list of these activities includes the following:

SERVICE TO CLERGY AND CHURCHES: The Institute provides consultant services to clergy who request help with the management of difficult pastoral cases. The Institute provides training opportunities for clergy to increase their diagnostic and treatment skills. The Institute also receives referrals from churches where the problems presented are beyond the resources of time or training of the clergymen. During 1963 the Director has:

- —served as a consultant to Eden Theological Seminary in the establishment of a professional degree in Pastoral Counseling;
- —been consulted by an extensive list of churches and church federations desiring to establish or improve their counseling centers;
- —served on the founding board of the American Association of Pastoral Counselors which held its second annual meeting at Christ Church Cathedral in April, 1964;
- served as an associate of the Joint Family Life Committeee of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church;
- -spoken on marriage and family problems to numerous church groups, on the radio and television;
- —lectured on Pastoral Counseling at Eden Seminary and published several articles on Pastoral Counseling including:
- "The Use of Psychodrama in Pastoral Therapy," GROUP PSYCHO-THERAPY JOURNAL, September-December, 1961.
- "Marriage and Divorce," THE WITNESS, June 15, 1962.

"The Church and Group Psychotherapy," Presented at the Third International Congress of Group Psychotherapy in Milan, Italy, July, 1963.

SERVICE TO LAWYERS AND COURTS: The Pastoral Counseling Institute has encouraged attorneys and courts to refer divorce clients to appropriate counseling and mental health resources. This has been done through personal contact with lawyers, participation in Bar Committees, articles in Law Journals and talks to legal groups. In 1963 the Executive Director:

- has been appointed Chairman of the Missouri Bar Committee on Marriage Counseling;
- —has served as member of the professional committee advising the St. Louis County Circuit Court which just established a marriage counseling service in the Domestic Relations court, and served as a member of the St. Louis Circuit Court Lawyers Committee on Marriage Counseling;
- —has served as a member of the Family Law Committee of the American Bar Association and as chairman of the sub-committee on Marriage Counseling;
- -is a Fellow of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers;
- —has written "The Professional Responsibility of the Lawyer in Divorce," Published in the June issue of MISSOURI LAW REVIEW. Recently this article has been reproduced by the U. S. DEPART-MENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION AND WELFARE, Social Security Administration, Children's Bureau for nation-wide distribution to lawyers and judges.

RELATIONS WITH OTHER MENTAL HEALTH RESOURCES

Coordination of the work of the Pastoral Institute with other medical and social agencies is a high priority goal. It is important, in order to meet the needs of people, that the resources of medicine, religion, social science and psychology be coordinated. In an effort to further this goal, a variety of professional training is present on the staff of the Institute, the members of the staff are engaged in a wide variety of relations with other professional groups and agencies, and make referrals to many other mental health resources. For example in 1963, the director:

- —has participated in a panel presented to the community by Family and Children's Service of Greater St. Louis;
- —has participated in a panel at the Shaare Emeth Religion and Mental Health Work Shop;
- —is president-elect of the St. Louis Forum for the study of Group Process;
- —has read a paper at the first meeting of the Mid-Western Chapter of Group Psychotherapy and Psychodrama;
- —has consulted with the Psychoanalytic Foundation of St. Louis about a seminar for clergymen.

FINANCES

The Pastoral Counseling Institute has been supported in part by contributions paid by individuals receiving service, in part by sponsoring denominational groups and in part by substantial gifts from a few interested individuals. Five years of service have demonstrated the need for and the value of the services rendered. As the Institute moves to expand its progress, it is necessary to build a broader base of continuing financial support through the interest of alumni and the development of further organizational and individual interest.

THE EDUCATIONAL CENTER (The Episcopal Home for Children) Director's Report – May, 1964

"I (do) not rest on the broad upland of a system that includes a series of sure statements about the absolute, but on a narrow, rocky ridge between the gulfs where there is no sureness of expressible knowledge but (only) the certainty of meeting what remains, undisclosed." So wrote Martin Buber, a seer of our Menta time. Therein is contained a hint of the revolution in religious education going on in churches today. The movement is exactly that of enabling teachers to develop t Grow a process by which people may seek to live into the fullness of their lives on that "narrow ridge." Hopefully we may move away from a process which at its worst has been a callous and demonic setting up of apparent absolutes which distort life and destroy persons, and which at its best often seemed only banal and irrelevant.

Training has always been of chief concern to the Center, and its prime focus hroughout twenty years of work with consultants and teachers around the country las been the training that goes on in consultation. However, it has become more by cor ind more evident that direct training of teachers, outside of consultation sessions, ring de s desirable both as resource and support for beginning and developing in the tereste ask. In the past few years, Center staff has designed and led special training and the essions for teachers and leaders in over fifty parishes in various parts of the ountry. This was first begun as an attempt to counteract obvious weaknesses, furthe out more recently we have been trying to identify the ingredients which must be icluded in a training program that is to help teachers become effectively involved 1 their task. We shall herein look at this from the point of view of the various vpes of training operations that have been offered in Center parishes. But first t us try to describe the kind of understandings that the teacher needs—the four asic ingredients of training. Then as we consider the different types of training perations, we can see which ingredients may be primarily or secondarily involved each one.

I. If the teacher is to be effective, he will need to gain an intellectual grasp the theological, philosophical, and educational presuppositions upon which this proach to religious education rests. While we certainly hope to move beyond e intellectual, our minds must be able to grasp and say "yes" to these presupsitions before we can move into the task with much reality. The teacher may able to grasp some of these at the outset simply from reading and listening. any will be more clearly grasped in process. Thus while our teachers do have start with only a partial grasp of the whole, there is no part of the discipline hich is deliberately kept esoteric. It has become evident that teachers do move ore deeply into a grasp of the presuppositions as they are increasingly involved the task. Further it is from the teachers themselves that the Center gathers its w insights and continues its own development in dynamic rather than static shion. Thus we hope to remain a gathering and distributing center rather than autocratic Olympus.

There are many who would agree with us entirely in the content of statistics with the content of statistics. first ingredient of training but who fail because of inability to operate function we or the on these presuppositions. Rather they drift back in actual life situations to s and former predispositions of which they may not even be fully conscious. Thus need further an intellectual grasp of the specific mechanics of carrying out 1 mis of the purposes in an educational process. Some of these mechanics may seem ted and troublesome. However, if one needs to remember forty-seven things in c market to swing a club at a golf ball with some effectiveness, no less do some importingening details need to be borne in mind by the teacher if he is to provide some m as an iob, whereby his class may move more deeply into the reality of life.

Thus far we have been talking about intellectual equipment. Kno adopted to the forty-seven things about how to swing a golf club and the many physical 1 day focus ciples involved (inertia, gravity, trajectory, resiliency), as well as the rules of permy two game, do not make a golfer. This knowledge must become functional—the abs must become concrete. The ball must be hit with a club. The teacher must mental ur a functional knowing of that which he knows abstractly regarding the theolog discuss philosophical and educational presuppositions and the actual mechanics.

IV. Finally there is the all-important fourth ingredient. It is not en for the teacher simply to know intellectually and to operate efficiently. He r an inner knowledge—a wisdom more akin to the Hebrew hokmah (that whi atoms tak know in my heart and my reins) than to the Greek sophia (that truth whi "out there.") Here rather than grasping, perhaps we can say he needs to memore the grasped—convinced (conquered) existentially—by the realities with which is dealing.

All four of these ingredients are requisite for the teacher. None can be said. Let us look at how these are contained in some different types of tra liments operations. For purposes of design, most of these are concerned primarily one or two ingredients, but as is obvious, in use, the other ingredients are us present in varying degrees.

Types of Training Operations

1. ORIENTATION—This type of training, as its name suggests, is smally e signed to get some people onto particular tracks headed in the right direct male to Because there seem to have been so many distorted presuppositions lying ar ingredien as to the nature of the task, it is often helpful to look closely at some of t present, both in order to get free of them and to differentiate more sharply the new t Much of what the Center staff has found useful in orientation can be four the em previous Annual Reports. Orientation sessions are most often largely a n of presentation and discussion and can be done with the entire teaching sta taken well as other parish people concerned in the educational program. (It is important through the concerned that the concerned in the educational program. that any teacher missing such a general session receive an orientation, individ if necessary. Great has been the frustration and dismay of many a teacher sta out without this kind of help.) Included in the session would be a description that the nature of the task and a hint of how it may be performed. While prove the proventing the pro the first ingredient is the essential purpose, II is also identified, and unless refle of life as they know it (IV) is present, there will be little enthusiasm for me and ing in on with the task.

WORKSHOPS—As in the case of orientation, workshops involved in order entire teaching staff, and the design centers around some particular facet of u standing and gives teachers a chance to test their comprehension outside actual class situation. In such a session teachers might, for instance, be give transcript of class session and asked to write the issues they see emergin content to identify which of the five levels various responses from the class seem to indite function cate. Or they might be given part of a class plan (the issue and the launching ations to device) and asked to work out possible turning points through which the class us. Thus might move. Thus they may begin to achieve facility in some of the more technical ying out aspects of their job. While workshops are designed primarily around the second seem to two ingredients, something of the first and fourth may also come through. It has hings in been found in actual practice that workshops have also had the beneficial effect ome import of broadening the teacher's perspective as he works with other adults engaged in e some the same job, with the same struggles and the same joys.

3. CONSULTATION—That for which the Center is best known is the ent. Kn development of a design for bi-weekly meetings of teachers with a consultant, the physical primary focus of which is the data (lesson plan, transcript, and evaluation) of the previous two sessions. Here the consultant can help the teachers deepen their the at awareness of the task as he looks over with them what is actually happening against cher mus theoretical understandings. As theological categories are explored, technical the theole aspects discussed, the teachers' orientation is expanded and their functioning apacities increased. Consultation is the type of training where all four ingrediis not e ats seem most fully to be combined, and it alone might carry the load of teacher ntly. He taining were it not for the costliness in time and energy. Other types of training (that w perations take care of the general, but consultation takes care of the specific. truth wi Vithin consultation, a true "ministry of the laity" may be responsibly expanded and e needs ecome more than an empty idealism.

4. ADULT EDUCATION—If the educational task of the parish is taken eriously, the process certainly does not stop with high school or Confirmation. ne can be ideed, more often, it seems as though it must start with adults. Recent Center pes of trevelopments based on experience suggest a series of short-term intensive courses primaril ir adults which provide five or six session of two hours each. People are asked ents are is commit themselves for a full course to prevent casual turnover and to allow msistent movement in depth. These courses, based on the same understandings those for children and young people, are offered to the whole parish. Teachers e especially encouraged to participate in order that they might have an experiright din urth ingredient is the forms of the participate in order that they might have an experiurth ingredient is the focus of these courses, but some other ingredients may 30 be present.

All the emphasis on training which this report contains is an acknowledgean be fol int of the fact that the Church's educational role is a most important one and argely a solid be taken at least as seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the solid between the seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the solid between the seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the solid between the seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the solid between the seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the solid between the seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the seriously as its liturgical role. It has become abundance of the seriously as its liturgical role. (It is introduced by cause some well-intentioned people offer or are drafted to teach. If this part the Church's task is to be at all effectively fulfilled, no less comprehensive an dertaking than we have suggested above is adequate. While the extent of this d of enterprise is challenging, it is challenging us to get at the Church's real siness—that of enabling people within the context of the world around to dis-'er meaning in their lives.

To return to our beginning, we might say that if we attempt to lessen the nands in order to broaden the ridge, we become caught in innocuity at the besthe demonic absolutization of the partial at the worst. No, the ridge is narrow facet of outcome unknown—the basic issue always lies between sin and faith, and we
