Minutes of the 163rd Meeting of the Diocese of Missouri

Plenary Session I

Friday, November 22, 2002

1:30 p.m.

Drury Lodge, Cape Girardeau

The Rt. Rev. George Wayne Smith, bishop of the Diocese of Missouri, informed by the Secretary of Convention that a quorum was present, declared that the 163rd Meeting of Convention of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Missouri was in session.

Opening Prayers were by the Rev. Robert Towner, rector of Christ Church, Cape Girardeau.

The Rev. Nathaniel Pyron, rector of St. Matthew's, Warson Woods, was appointed by Bishop Smith as Secretary to the Convention.

Harold R. "Hal" Burroughs, chancellor of the Diocese, was appointed by Bishop Smith as Parliamentary Advisor to the Chair.

The report of the Committee on Lay Credentials and Admissions of New Parishes was made by Pyron. As of Nov. 21, 2002, St. Stephen's, Ferguson, had not paid its 2001 Diocesan assessment. Its lay delegates, therefore, can be seated with voice, but not vote. A motion was made and seconded to give lay delegates from St. Stephen's vote notwithstanding their nonpayment of the 2001 Diocesan assessment. After brief discussion, the question was called. The motion requiring a two-third vote of Convention failed.

The Secretary then proposed that the Rules of Order be adopted. The motion was seconded and there was no discussion. The motion passed unanimously.

163rd Appointments

Bishop Smith announced those appointed to 163rd Convention Committees as follows:

Lay Credentials and Admission of New Parishes: The Rev. Nathaniel Pyron, chair; Harold R. Burroughs.

Dispatch of Business: Harold R. Burroughs, chair; Robert Brown, and the Rev. Nathaniel Pyron.

Constitution and Canons: The Hon. Jean C. Hamilton, chair; Harold R. Burroughs, Terri Denicke, the Rev. Dr. Richard B. Tudor, Ronald Jones, the Rev. James Purdy, Virginia Russell, Jamieson Spencer, John Lemkemeier, and the Rev. Dr. Peter Van Horne.

Resolutions: The Rev. Dr. Warren Crews, chair; Carolyn Daniels, the Rev. C. Gregory Hein, Kathy Dyer, the Rev. Dr. Lydia Agnew Speller, and Jane Williamson.

Nominations and Election Procedure: The Rev. Fred Thayer, chair; the Rev. Canon Susan Nanny, Margaret "Peg" Cooper, Miriam Jenkins, Randall Johnston, the Rev. Tamsen Whistler.

Nominees

The Rev. Fred Thayer, rector of Calvary in Columbia and chair of the Committee on Nominations and Election Procedures gave the report of the Committee and introduced nominees for Standing Committee, Diocesan Council, and Cathedral Chapter as follows:

Diocesan Council (two lay persons to be elected to three-year terms): Titus Olajide, Rita Mauchenheimer, Vicki Myers, Henry Setser, and M. Katherine Jahnige.

Standing Committee (one clergyperson to be elected to a four-year term): The Rev. Greg Hein, the Rev. Dr. Darlene Tittle, and the Rev. Seamus Doyle.

Standing Committee (two laypersons to be elected to four-year terms): Joan D' Ambrose, Ida Early, Jim McGahey, Janet Thompson, Scott Thompson, and Margie Bowman.

Cathedral (one clergyperson and one layperson from within St. Louis City/County to be elected): The Rev. Jack Fleming, the Rev. Llew Heigham, Ron Jones, and Lissa Johnson.

There were no nominations by petition and nominations were closed.

Trustee for University of the South

The Chair entertained a motion from the floor to nominate John Solomon, Grace Church, Kirkwood, to serve as a trustee for the University of the South. The motion was moved and seconded. There were no other nominees. John Solomon was elected by unanimous vote.

continued

Report of Diocesan Council

The Chair asked Nicholas Clifford, St. Michael & St. George, Clayton, and vice chairman of Diocesan Council, for the report of Council.

He reported the work of the Diocese in 2002 has continued through the five Mission Groups that define the objectives of the Diocese.

He also cited the successful Diocesan Capital Campaign, a shift from a survival mentality to one of growth and renewal, ministry to meet the needs of small urban and rural congregations and their communities, and the strong leadership example of the Rt. Rev. Hays Rockwell, and our new Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Dr. George Wayne Smith.

Clifford said that to 'continue the momentum that has built up' in the future we will need to work for new models for ministry to small urban and rural congregations, give more attention to ministry opportunities for congregations, and find ways to provide support to small urban and rural congregations from 'time, talent and treasure' of other congregations, Diocesan staff, and Diocesan support groups. Momentum will continue as we plant new church and initiate new programs to support Campus Ministry and Ministry to the least. Bishop Smith thanked Nick Clifford for his report.

Report of Standing Committee

The Chair recognized the Rev. Fred Thayer, vice president of Standing Committee and rector of Calvary, Columbia, who gave the report on behalf of President Marian Clifford, who could not be present.

The report cited consents to the elections of nine bishops and consents to calls for elections in five dioceses. Also, Standing Committee consented to the ordinations of Judith Proctor and Robert Price to the priesthood. Candidates for Holy Orders were approved as follows: Robert Rhodes, Marion Rectenwald, Irene Jones, Carol Wesley, and John Kilgore. Standing Committee members participated in ordination interviews with members of the Commission on Ministry in order to better get to know people whom the Standing Committee must approve for Candidacy and Ordination.

By-Laws of the Cathedral Chapter of Christ Church were approved and revisions of by laws of St. Luke's Episcopal-Presbyterian Hospital were approved.

Four loans were granted to four congregations in the Diocese for capital improvements from the Kelton White Fund — to the Transfiguration, Lake St. Louis; Holy Communion, University City; St. Timothy's, Creve Coeur, and St. Matthew's, Warson Woods.

Trustees of COEDMO approved of $41,600 from the Church Endowment Assistance Fund as grants to congregations for brick-and mortar-needs.

Consent was given for St. Timothy's, Creve Coeur, to sell property in Florida left to St. Timothy's in a will; permission was granted to St. Martin's, Ellisville, to alienate specific property to the Missouri Department of Transportation for the widening of Clayton Road; permission was granted to the City of St. Clair to adjust a sewer head hook-up so that the septic system on the property of St. James', St. Clair, could be replaced; and consent was given for the Bishop to purchase property for St. Francis', Wildwood.

The report noted Bishop-transition matters, the ordination of Bishop Smith, and the cohesive group of clergy and laity of our Diocese. It cited Bishop Smith's decision to close Thompson Center and sell the property.

Puerto Rican visitors

The Chair recognized Margie Bowman of St. Mark's, St. Louis, to introduce visitors from the Companion Diocese of Puerto Rico and to make the report for the Companion Diocese Committee. The four visitors were Hector Adorno, Kathy Iacono, Ivette Linares, and Luis Negrow.

Episcopal City Mission

The Chair recognized the Rev. Susan Skinner, executive director of Episcopal City Mission, who was asked to present the report of that Commission.

Skinner reported the very name ECM is a challenge and a barrier in seeking and obtaining funds from secular organizations and foundations. The name embraces a long 100-year heritage. A name change must be considered carefully.

A continuing challenging is funding. ECM is grateful for the $25,000 from the Diocesan Program and Budget. This will fund a portion of the stipend of one chaplain. Much funding comes from secular foundations.

Episcopal School for Ministry

The Chair recognized the Rev. Dr. Warren Crews, dean of the Episcopal School for Ministry and priest assistant at Emmanuel, Webster Groves, for the Episcopal School for Ministry report.

Seven students graduated on Sept. 14. Crews is on the Board of the Lutheran School of Theology and works closely with this organization. He also works with the Continuing Education Department and the Academic Dean of Eden Seminary to offer wider interest courses and a Program of Anglican Studies for Episcopal students at Eden.

Courtesy Resolutions

The Rev. Dr. Warren Crews, chair of the Committee on Resolutions, gave the first report of the Resolutions Committee. Courtesy Resolutions were all moved, seconded, and approved by applause. They are cited as follows:

- Presiding Bishop Frank Griswold.
- The Rt. Rev. Rev. Hays and Mrs. (Linda) Hays H. Rockwell.
- The Rt. Rev. William and Mrs. (Maggie) Jones.
- The Rt. Rev. George Cadigan, Seventh Bishop of Missouri.
- The Rt. Rev. David Alvarez, bishop of our Companion Diocese of Puerto Rico and our guests from Puerto Rico.
- Recognizing and thanking Dr. James Hood for his ministry as Interim Canon to the Ordinary and Interim Deputy for Ministry.
- Thanking the Diocesan Staff for their ministry to us and in our name.

The Chair recognized the Rev. Dan Smith from St. Timothy's, West Des Moines, and his wife, Evelyn. Smith will be the new canon to the ordinary.

Plenary Session IISaturday, November 23, 2002*9:15 a.m.

Bishop Smith reconvened the 163rd Meeting of Convention of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Missouri at 9:15 a.m.

The Rev. Catherine “Kitty” Hillquist, vicar of St. Paul’s, Ironton, began with prayers and singing.

New clergy in the Diocese were introduced by Bishop Smith. Changes in clergy deployment were also announced by Bishop Smith. Special mention was made of the Very Rev. Michael P.G.G. Randolph, who completed his term as interim dean at Christ Church Cathedral and then underwent lung transplant surgery during the time of the Easter Vigil. We are grateful that Michael is back among us and well.

Bishop Smith announced the retirements of the Rev. Canon John C. Danforth as an associate at Holy Communion, University City; the Rev. Emery Washington as rector of All Saints, St. Louis; and the Rev. Patricia Williams as deputy for Ministry and Pastoral Care and a member of Diocesan Staff.

Bishop Smith reported on the deaths of three priests and offered prayers for them.

- The Rev. Frank Duran;
- The Rev. Helen McClenahan;
- The Rev. Bill Donovan.

New clergy to the Diocese were greeted by applause.

Elections

The Rev. Fred Thayer, rector of Calvary, Columbia, and chair of the Committee on Nominations and Election Procedures was called upon to explain voting procedures and to conduct the balloting for elections for Standing Committee, Diocesan Council, and the Chapter of Christ Church Cathedral.

Treasurer’s Report

The Chair recognized and called upon Richard Clark, treasurer of the Diocese and member of Emmanuel Church, Webster Groves, to present the 2003 Program and Budget of the Diocese.

After brief comments about the Budget and Rationale, a motion to approve the budget was moved and seconded. The motion was approved by a voice vote, with one negative vote made.

Faith, Health, and Justice

The chair recognized and called upon Dr. Katherine Jahnige, chair of the Commission on Faith, Health, and Justice and a member of St. Michael & St. George, Clayton, for a report.

The charge to the Commission on Faith, Health, and Justice is to develop a program which will encourage the education, study, and eventual reform of our medical care system with the goal of creating an affordable, suitable, and just health care system. A pilot curriculum was used at St. Mark’s, St. Louis, and at Christ Church, Cape Girardeau, this past year and this curriculum has been sent to all congregations.

Dr. Jahnige also cited Community of Hope, a training program for lay care givers modeled on Benedictine Spirituality, which prepares laity for a “ministry of presence.” She also noted that Episcopal-Presbyterian Charitable Medical Trust focused on health care issues in communities of poverty in the city of St. Louis.

20/20 Committee

The Rev. Jason Samuel was called upon by the chair to give the report of the “20/20: A Clear Vision Committee.” He cited the 20/20 brochure which is being sent to congregations. He also cited convocation and metro workshops which have been and are being scheduled and noted members of the 20/20 Task Force of the Diocese.

St. Luke’s Hospital

The Chair recognized and called upon the Rev. Dr. Edwin Heathcock, director of Pastoral Care, to give the report on St. Luke’s Episcopal–Presbyterian Hospital. This past year marked the 136th year of service to the metropolitan area by the hospital and the 27th year of service in Chesterfield. For the first time since 1994, the hospital operated as an independent hospital.

St. Luke’s Hospital continues to identify regional health needs and to expand services appropriately. During the past year, St. Luke’s opened an Urgent Care Center in St. Charles County; provided pediatric care at St. Luke’s Pediatric Care Center in north St. Louis County; established a partnership with the Lincoln County Medical Center in Troy; and began construction on a 70,000-square-foot outpatient services building scheduled to open in late fall of this year.

The Clinical Pastoral Education Program served 41 students this year in various pastoral education programs.

During the year 2002, St. Luke’s dedication to providing exceptional health care was nationally recognized by the American Association of Retired Persons, U.S. News and World Report, and Modern Healthcare.

Urban Mission Commission

The Chair recognized and called upon the Rev. Susan Nanny, canon of Christ Church Cathedral and chair of the Urban Mission Commission to present the report of that commission.

At Diocesan Convention two years ago, we followed up with the General Convention mandate and resolved to establish the Urban Mission Commission in the Diocese of Missouri. The UMC has been in existence about 14 months.

The challenge has been to think together about what it would mean for a strong Episcopal presence to be part of the St. Louis urban scape. What would that look like? Who would be our partners? There are no easy answers to these questions. Some of our ideas centering on this work of urban ministry are cited as follows:

- Invest in continuing education that focuses on urban ministry for the diocese.
- Cultivate partnerships among parishes and between other faith traditions.
- Explore how the Committee for Congregational Development can be involved in shoring up some of our urban congregations with program development.

We would welcome a part-time Urban Missioner, and we do hope for a full-time position.

It will be important for us to pay attention to Ascension in near north St. Louis City. Its collaboration with West Presbyterian Church provides outreach to a neighborhood where ministries would be profoundly missed if they were no longer there. One idea might be to establish a Diocesan Outreach Ministries Center in the Ascension neighborhood, a place where Ascension could continue its outreach ministries and a place where a Diocesan Urban Missioner could be housed. Such a center could be a place where the students from the Episcopal School for Ministry might serve the needs of the neighborhood and lead worship; and a place where other parishes could collaborate and expand their ministries.

In the next year, the Urban Mission Commission hopes to talk with congregations in Jefferson City, Columbia, Cape Girardeau, and elsewhere to explore what their urban scape looks like and how we can be a resource to them.

Resolutions

The full texts of the Resolutions begin on page 17.

The Chair recognized the Rev. Dr. Warren Crews for a continuing report of the Committee on Resolutions.

Resolution A-163 concerning 2003 Standard Compensation for Clergy submitted by Diocesan Council was approved.

Resolution B-163 concerning opposition to War against Iraq and submitted by Robert Brown of Trinity, St. Charles; Sarah Bryan Miller, Grace Church, Kirkwood; the rector and Vestry of St. Mark's, St. Louis; the Reverends Michael Kinman and Emery Washington, was presented. After discussion a motion to revise the original resolution was moved, seconded, and the revised resolution was passed.

Resolution C-163 concerning the location of Diocesan Convention submitted by Metro III was presented. After discussion the motion carried by majority vote.

Resolution D-163 concerning an Urban Missioner was submitted by the Urban Mission Commission. The resolution was received after the canonical deadline of Oct. 3, 2002. In that the Resolutions Committee asked the Urban Commission to write the resolution after the deadline, the Honorable Jean Hamilton indicated that the resolution can be considered without Convention consent. In discussion, an amendment to add to the language of the resolution was proposed. The amendment was moved, seconded, and passed with a majority vote. After further discussion, amended Resolution D-163 passed by majority vote.

The Resolutions Committee asked for consent of Convention to present Resolution E-163 to provide for a technical adjustment to a resolution passed at the 162nd Convention of the Diocese of Missouri. The motion passed unanimously to consider Resolution E-163.

Resolution E-163 concerns the Report deadline as noted in Resolution D-162. The original resolution called for convocations to review policies relating to the number of lay delegates allocated to each parish or mission and to report their recommendations to Diocesan Council no later than March 1, 2003. Resolution E-163 proposed changing the March 1, 2003, reporting date to April 2003 due to Convocation meeting dates already scheduled in April, with a non-binding suggestion of April 15, 2003, for reporting to Council. Resolution E-163 passed by unanimous vote.

Plenary Session III

Saturday, November 23, 2002

12:30 p.m.

Bishop Smith called the Convention to order at 12:30 p.m. and invited guests from Puerto Rico to come to the podium and address the Convention.

United Thank Offering

The Chair recognized and called upon Edythe Pangle, the new Diocesan UTO coordinator; Peg Cooper, the former UTO coordinator, and the Rev. Susan Skinner, director of Episcopal City Mission. Pangle reported that Episcopal City Mission had received a 2002 grant of $4,200 to help expand a project at a residential juvenile treatment center where youths receive group grief counseling for dealing with issues of loss.

Thompson Center

The Chair called upon the Rev. Robert Franken, deacon and interim director of Thompson Center, to make a report on Thompson Center.

He reported that on April 11, Bishop Smith announced to the Thompson Center Board his intent not to renew the lease that expired on July 1. Bishop Smith asked Franken's company, Strataventure, LLC, to take over close-down procedures. On April 24 the Thompson Center Board turned over all fixed assets to the Trust and the Diocese; and in late June, Thompson Center ceased to exist.

In July, Franken's firm, in consultation with the Chancellor of the Diocese, worked to find potential and interested buyers for the property. One offer has been accepted to date.

Since August all furniture and fixtures have been disposed of through estate sales and other sales. Financial records and other papers of an historic nature are in the archives of the Diocese. In August, Bishop Smith presided at a service of deconsecration. Books were closed on Nov. 30.

By agreement with Hank and Jackie Johnson of All Saints, Farmington, and St. Peter's, Ladue, and with approval of the Bishop, Standing Committee and COEDMO, the Chapel on Thompson Center Properties will be re-created at Chaumette Vineyard and Winery Properties in St. Genevieve County.

The two and two-thirds acres on which the Care & Counseling building is located can be retained. Negotiations with Care & Counseling for a long-term lease is being explored, as are other possibilities. Care & Counseling will expand its role and move into pilot ministries in rural Missouri.

Reports by Title

The Chair accepted the following reports by title: Companion Diocese Committee, St. Andrew's Resources for Seniors, University of the South, Council Mission Group on Congregational Development, Diocesan Archives, Presence Among the Poor, and the Commission for Dismantling Racism.

The texts of these reports begin on page 23.

Ecclesiastical Court

The membership of the Ecclesiastical Court remains the same as last year and members are as follows: Carl Muench, Harry Richter, Virginia Russell, the Rev. Jack Fleming, the Rev. Dr. Lydia Agnew Speller, the Rev. Harvel Sanders, the Rev. Steve Weissman.

164th Convention Committees

The Chair entertained a motion to set Nov. 21-22, 2003, as the date and site for the 164th Convention in the City of St. Louis, at Christ Church Cathedral, as guests of the Metro Convocations II, III, and IV.

Bishop Smith announced his appointments to committees for the 164th Convention as follows:

More Courtesy Resolutions

The Chair recognized the Rev. Dr. Peter E. Van Horne, who presented a courtesy resolution honoring the Rev. Canon James Friedel.

The Chair recognized the Rev. Dr. Warren Crews of the Resolutions Committee who presented other courtesy resolutions for approval as follows:

- A resolution to the Bishop and people of Kaduna in Northern Nigeria.

These resolutions were moved, seconded, and approved with applause. The resolution to Bishop Smith was moved, seconded and approved by a standing ovation.

Adjournment

B-163

CONCERNING: Opposition to war against Iraq

SUBMITTED BY: The revised resolution was submitted by the Resolutions Committee

1 BE IT RESOLVED that the 163rd Convention of the Diocese voices its gratitude to the President of the United States for working with the United Nations for a peaceful resolution with our conflict with Iraq; and be it further

2 RESOLVED that we affirm the House of Bishops’ statement that “we do not support a decision to go to war without clear and convincing evidence of the need to defend ourselves against imminent attack. Our faith requires us to strive always for justice and peace. We believe that restraint and ongoing commitment to international cooperation are means toward peace that we all desire;” and be it

3 RESOLVED if war be chosen, the people of this Diocese give their full support to our armed forces and its leaders by their prayers, encouragement, and solace; and

4 BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Convention directs the Secretary of Convention to convey this message to the President of the United States and our Congressional delegation.

RATIONALE

The United States has a proud heritage of defending liberty and freedom. The administration has failed to present evidence that Iraq is a threat to the people of the United States. An attack will provoke additional and unnecessary hostility toward the United States. Our Lord Jesus Christ asked us to go in peace to love and serve Him and as His Church we would forsake Christ by failing to speak out for the cause of peace and against war;

While it is agreed upon that Iraq’s leader, Saddam Hussein, has demonstrated a willingness to manufacture and deploy weapons of mass destruction and has supplied terrorists with both weapons and financial support; this reality has existed for some time and we are puzzled why it is now so imperative we act against Iraq and Hussein.

We are puzzled because the President and his administration have not presented a convincing argument or evidence to justify waging a war against another nation and its peoples. We believe it is telling that the United States has failed to gain the support of its allies or the United Nations as a whole and we are alarmed that the Bush administration is willing to act unilaterally, even in the face of renewed efforts by the United Nations to get Hussein to comply with past resolutions dealing with weapons inspections.

We are alarmed that the President seems unwilling to exhaust all peaceable means to resolve this crisis. We are also concerned that the administration has presented no clear plan for a post-Hussein Iraq nor demonstrated any consideration for the effects of a war and possible "regime change" on the peoples of Iraq and what the consequences might be for the United States of an unstable environment in Iraq.

We are further concerned that the administration refuses to heed the warning of its Arab allies and the neighbors of Iraq about the backlash against the United States from Arab peoples who increasingly see us as the true enemy of their right to basic freedoms and self-determination, not only by our aggression toward them, but by our support of repressive regimes in other Arab states, notably Saudi Arabia.

C-163

CONCERNING: Location of Diocesan Convention
SUBMITTED BY: Metro III

1 BE IT RESOLVED THAT THE 163rd CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF MISSOURI is committed to the rebirth and renewal of urban areas, not least the St. Louis metropolitan area; and be it further

2 RESOLVED, that the Annual Meeting of Convention in 2003 or 2005 be held within the city limits of the city of St. Louis.

RATIONALE

More than 400 people attend our annual diocesan convention. We fill hotels, we run out for forgotten items, we shop and tour during our break times. If we are committed to the renewal of urban areas we should, when we meet in the St. Louis area, exercise our spending power downtown. Metro III would be happy to host and organize such a Convention.

D-163

CONCERNING: Urban Missioner
SUBMITTED BY: Urban Mission Commission

This Resolution was received after the canonical deadline of Oct. 3, 2002, and was considered by the Convention only after consent of two-thirds of Convention.

1 BE IT RESOLVED THAT THE 163rd CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF MISSOURI reaffirm its commitment to respond to God's call in Christ by encouraging visionary leaders, both lay and ordained, to represent Christ Jesus in the world, to proclaim the Gospel of Christ, and to work for justice, reconciliation, and the renewal of our cities especially but not exclusively in neighborhoods of persistent poverty; and be if further

2 RESOLVED, that this Convention is grateful for Bishop Smith's proposal to include Urban Mission among the priorities of the diocesan staff; and be it further

3 RESOLVED, that this Convention calls upon the Office of the Bishop, the Standing Committee, Diocesan Council and the Urban Mission Commission to make it an urgent priority to identify sources of funding during the first half of 2003 to make it possible for the bishop to hire a half-time Urban Missioner and a half-time Deputy for Ministry in 2003 and a full-time Urban Missioner no later than January 1, 2004.

RATIONALE

The Urban Mission Commission has spent the past year beginning to identify the call of the Episcopal Church in our urban areas of St. Louis and to explore that call as it relates to our urban congregations and their neighborhoods. We observe that not all people who are poor and live in the city live in neighborhoods of concentrated and persistent poverty and not all people who live in the inner city have incomes below the poverty line. We believe that the Church as the "Body of Christ" is called to offer a "new creation," God's new city, filled with reconciliation, inclusion and people from all walks of life who are in need of justice and mercy. We are aware that St. Louis is not the only city in the diocese nor the only place where issues of injustice and privation exist.

E-163

Submitted from the floor with two-thirds consent

CONCERNING: Report Deadline as Noted in Resolution D-162
SUBMITTED BY: Metro IV

1 WHEREAS the last session of the Convention of the Diocese approved the following Resolution:

Be it resolved by the 162nd Convention of the Diocese of Missouri that the Diocesan Convocations each review policies relating to representation by Lay Delegates to the Convention, including but not limited to the minimum and maximum number of Lay Delegates allocated to each Parish or Mission, and report their conclusions and recommendations no later than March 31, 2003, to the Diocesan Council, in order that Diocesan Council may recommend any amendment to the Constitution of the Diocese and such other actions as may be appropriate to address such concerns not later than the 164th Convention.

2 WHEREAS the next recommended date for Convocations to meet has been scheduled as April 5, 2003, which falls after the March 31, 2003, date provided for in Resolution D-162, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED that the deadline for each Convocation's report on their conclusions and recommendations on the policies and methodology of determining the number of Lay Delegates to Convention be moved until AFTER the April Convocation meetings, with a non-binding suggestion of April 15, 2003.

RATIONALE

Since Metro IV began considering Resolution D-162 at its June meeting and discussed it without decision at the September meeting, a committee was tasked to review possibilities. However, the results were not ready in time for the November Convocation meeting at which the most important topic was the business of the Upcoming Convention.

In order to receive information from all of the Metro IV Convocation Lay Delegates and Clergy, either a special meeting will have to be held before March 31, 2003, or the first meeting will be held a scheduled in April and the report to Council will violate the requirement of Resolution D-162.

The Metro IV Convocation does not believe that it is the only one with this scheduling conflict. This important issue deserves the serious review and consideration of all Convocations.

Thus the Metro IV Convocation recommends that the Report date be moved to after the suggested April 5 Convocation meeting date.

Bishop's Address

Now the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. When they saw him, they worshiped him; but some doubted. And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything that I have commanded you. And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age." — Matthew 28:16-20

There are those closing words from Matthew's gospel again. What are we going to do about those words?

Brothers and Sisters in Christ Jesus, I stand before you today with the intent of sketching out a missional focus for our life together. I hope to put some substance to the Great Commission, so it can become real in the life we share.

I stand before you on the twenty-first day in the ninth month of my consecration having learned a thing or two already. I have learned that neither I nor we can do everything we want to-nor even everything that is worth doing.

There is not enough of a bishop-or of a holy people-to go around. Omnipotence belongs to God, not to us.

I am learning that we can do some things, must do some things. Which means, dear friends, that we choose, that we must find a focus, we must pray our way toward finding God's passion and intent for us.

The good news is that the Episcopal Church and this Diocese have already named one focus in that thing called 20/20: The intent to double the worshiping numbers in our churches by the year 2020.

Note that I say worshiping numbers and not members. Jesus calls us to discipleship, not affiliation. Joining in the worshiping life of a community is the bare-bones minimum of what it means to follow Jesus.

But I assume that we have decided on this as a focus already. So I will not put the issue before you with a question mark at the end. My intent is to move ahead, and not keep asking you, "Have we really decided this? Are you sure? Really really sure?"

Friends, it is decided. Let us act on that decision and take up the practices that will allow us to get there from here.

Our purpose is to revitalize existing congregations and start new ones. That's it. Simple as that.

I hope that within two years we will have in place a process to identify congregations ready for new vitality-and to provide the support for them to find the new life.

We have the money to start two new congregations. That will happen. It is my intent that these not be the last two that we start during my episcopate.

We cannot do everything, and we can't do it all at once. Let's please be realistic. But we can identify three, four, or five congregations ready for the radical newness of life in Christ that goes beyond mere survival. We can start two new congregations in the immediate future-and we can take whatever we learn from that into new beginnings.

I need to tell you that I see many good things in the congregations of the diocese, every where I go. Big places, little places, city places, town places, suburban places.

Wouldn't it be interesting to find places for revitalization in every one of the locales? Wouldn't it be interesting to start new churches, in every sort of locale I have described.

I know that in the communities of faith I see all around the eastern half of Missouri, and with few exceptions, survival is not a problem. Churches know how to survive. We know how to get by. The question is about the choice to thrive.

A worshiping community of thirty can merely survive. Or it can thrive. A worshiping community of a thousand can merely survive. Or it can thrive.

For any congregation, thirty or a thousand, I will go the mat, if you are committed to mission and ministry, and if your town or your neighborhood, the place where you live would miss you if you were gone. If not, then we will need to have another kind of conversation.

I want to underscore: My resources of time and energy will go to the building up of the Church, communities of faith that the world would miss.

New occasions do teach new duties, and the vital life of our smaller congregations require a new set of practices.

Finances make it almost impossible for many small congregations to have a resident, seminary trained priest.

And even if they have the finances, smaller congregations in the middle of the country-or in the middle of the city- may have a very difficult time attracting a seminary trained priest to come live among them. The first wave of a clergy shortage is hitting little congregations, and it is hitting all congregations in the middle of the country. The statistics I have seen say that it will get worse.

I have said in little congregations and I will say it again here in the presence of this Diocesan assembly: The long-term solution is for many of our faith communities to become more serious about growing their own ordained ministries.

Priests, yes. Deacons, yes. The canons of the Episcopal Church are flexible enough for us to identify ordained ministries from the congregations themselves and train the folks for these ministry, right here in Missouri. These folks will likely keep their day jobs.

And they will provide the necessary, sacramental leadership in their communities.

Mind you: I am not much interested in local ordinations as a strategy for survival. I am very much interested in local ordinations as a means for mission and ministry. I say: Let's do it. We have to have resources of money, and my time, and trained staff for the revitalization of congregations and the starting of new ones.

Which brings me to the topic of the Thompson Fund, an income source for the Diocese of Missouri that will increase substantially, pending the sale of the Thompson Center.

Let me say a few words about that piece of property in West Saint Louis County.

The Bishop of Missouri, as you probably know, is the sole trustee for the Thompson Trust, a significant legacy given to this Diocese from the estate of Frank and Maddie Thompson in 1941. That legacy included the Thompson House in Webster Groves.

In 1962, Bishop Cadigan exchanged the Thompson House in Webster for a large parcel of land in Creve Coeur, subsequently named the Thompson Center.

For some 40 years, the Thompson Center was home to an interfaith organization devoted to conferences and retreats. It had some years of vitality.

Problems, however, accumulated. The property suffered a backlog of deferred maintenance. The Thompson Center board never adequately developed the property for the changing demands of the conference market-place. And the Center gradually lost its paying clientele—dramatically lost clients in the past five years.

The interfaith program board never developed a base of faithful givers to the capital needs of the center. The Diocese of Missouri gradually lost a sense of ownership in the property, though pockets of devotion to it remained.

The Bishop, by legal definition and practice, was the sole trustee, so the Diocese, reasonably enough, felt removed from owning the property. The program board of the center included Episcopalians—but it also included lots of other folks. Methodists, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Jews, Disciples of Christ, to name the most evident players in the mix.

It was ours—but it was not ours. And eventually usage by Episcopalians dropped off to nearly nothing.

A task force formed in 1995 recommended to Bishop Rockwell that he sell the property. He rejected the recommendation, choosing to pursue some other possibilities for the land. None of which ever came to fruition.

When the Diocese of Missouri engaged the capital campaign Making All Things New in 1999, the question was put to the consultant: Would it be feasible to raise significant capital for the Thompson Center? The answer was, No.

When I became Bishop Coadjutor in March, the center was losing money, and a lot of it. The likelihood of raising the hundreds of thousands of dollars necessary to cover deferred maintenance and the additional millions to make it a viable conference center was nonexistent.

The table was set when I arrived. I merely stepped up to the table and did what had to be done.

The only realistic alternative for me, once I became the trustee of the Thompson property, was to sell it.

Now I have taken some time to tell this story, because I want to remove some of the mystery that surrounds the name Thompson, in this Diocese.

My intent, over time, is to remove all the mystery around the Thompson Trust, and its funds.

The Bishop of Missouri is sole trustee of the Fund. On your behalf.

The trust gives the Bishop sole discretion in spending the income of the fund. It prohibits spending any of the principle. So the proceeds from the sale of the Thompson property will not be available to spend. The proceeds go into the Thompson Fund.

The sizeable increase in the fund will generate a sizeable increase in income.

My intent is to make that fund as transparent to you as possible. I want you to know the income, and I want you to know how I, by law the sole trustee, choose for it to be spent, on your behalf.

Here's the punch-line: My desire is to spend it on our best dreams.

I hope to spend the large bulk of this new income stream toward the revitalization of existing congregations and the starting of new ones. The staff for this to happen. The training that all of us desperately need. The education of the entrepreneurial seminarians so crucial for the work we say we want to do. The internships to get some of these entrepreneurs back in this diocese, where we need them. And other similar projects, for the building up of the Church.

I want you to know how this money gets spent.

At the same time that I remain sole trustee of the Fund on your behalf, I want to pop the balloon of mystery surrounding these finances.

In my travels around the Diocese, I have identified a missing piece in the puzzle of renewed mission and ministry:

Folks know intuitively, in their gut, that we have a very good thing going in our congregations.

But we hardly know how to tell others about it. We can't quite put it into words.

We are not entirely sure about our identify as Anglicans, as people of the Episcopal Church in the eastern half of Missouri, as active worshippers in our congregations.

I want to do something about this. So I intend to form a working group with the charge of bringing back to the next convention a greater clarity about our identity as Anglican Christians in the Diocese of Missouri.

Trained theologians, people in public relations and the media, people trained in process: I want to ask them to bring back to us three formats —

- A simple one-sentence description of who we are. No commas. If at all possible. (That is a tough challenge.)

- A tri-fold leaflet describing who we are.

- And a booklet. They can gather the data from you in any way they see fit; they can pour into the tradition, in any way they see fit.

But I want us to have clarity for our own sake—and for the sake of telling our story and the Jesus story to the world. A great tool in the initiatives toward reinvigorated mission and growing the church.

Finally, finally, finally. It is my hope as your bishop to exercise spiritual leadership, most of all, to engage in the ministry of episcopate, the Greek word that means, literally, scoping over.

Episcopate is the view from the balcony.

I find that the institutional pressures of this job make it difficult for me to find the way to the balcony and to exercise spiritual leadership.

The Church, I believe, needs someone dedicated to that view, and I think I am that someone.

I ask you for the support I will need to get that view. I ask your support for choices I hope to make in the near future—such as (for example) gathering with clergy regularly for the spiritual practices of Bible study and prayer. To support their spiritual leadership in the communities they serve.

And to engage in the practices and disciplines of a theologically informed leadership.

So our congregations will indeed have a there, there, into which to welcome the stranger, who for the sake of Jesus is to be transformed into a friend.

I love this ministry. You need to know that. And I am falling in love with the land and most of all with the people of this Diocese. What great work I get to do among you! I am glad—very glad—to be your bishop.

This year will be an exciting one in the Diocesan Archives. After several years of having the majority of our archival collection and library in storage, the Diocese has leased space for the collection in a building owned by St. Louis University. Over the next couple of months, I will be packing, moving, and setting up, but I hope by spring to begin to have the Diocesan Archives available to congregations and individuals for research. We are grateful to the Mercantile Library for providing secure storage for our collection for the past several years.

During the last two years, the registers, records, memorials, and artifacts from Church of the Epiphany in Des Peres and St. Andrew's Church in Northwoods have been placed in the Archives. In the next few months, the records and part of the library from the Thompson Center will be moved to the Archives. In packing the Thompson Center library, I discovered that part of it had originally belonged to Bishop William Scarlett, and other volumes belonged to the original Diocesan Library that had been established in the late 1800s.

The Bishop and Chancellor have just approved a Policy and procedure for lending service related items from the Archives and for placing major architectural elements from closed churches with active congregations. I hope congregations in need of these things will consider helping to place them, many of them memorials, back into service where they belong.

This past summer we received a large collection of photographs of St. Stephen's in the Hills, the summer camp that belonged to St. Stephen's in St. Louis, from Virginia Kiefer, daughter of the Rev. Charles Washburn, longtime rector of St. Stephen's. She also sent a few photographs of the church when it was located at Ninth and Rutger. These are welcome additions to the Archives.

A large number of requests that I receive are genealogical in nature and I am happy to provide the information from the registers in the Archives. Requests for information from records of open churches are referred to the church offices.

If your congregation does not have an archivist or historian, I hope you will consider appointing one. Preserving records and history is not just something for long-established congregations. Even if your congregation is young, preserving the past is important, and it is a job that can be very rewarding. I am happy to provide guidance whether you already have your parish or mission archives set up or if you would like to get started.

Presence Among the Poor

The report to the 2001 Diocesan Convention listed the following assumptions:

- The Read to Succeed programs are a ministry of the local parish with support from the Diocese through funding and support of the Program Coordinator.
- The New Hope Recovery Center is a program of the Diocese through the Presence Among the Poor Mission Group.
- The 12-step Addiction to Violence program is uniquely linked to Episcopal City Mission with support from the Diocese.

The 2002 mission group used these assumptions as the basis for meeting with each service provider to assess the effectiveness of the respective programs achieving their objectives. In addition to assessing performance, the resources needed (financial and administrative support) to achieve programmatic success were also examined.

Each program director was asked to provide information about their operations to assist the mission group in the decision-making process. In addition to this information, members of the mission group visited two program sites to assess the effectiveness of the programs. The following was gleaned from this activity:

- The Read to Succeed program may be a ministry of the local parish (Ascension), but it appears to be primarily a program funded by the Diocese. The current structure of the program will not enable it to achieve its objectives. The program must be modified to achieve the ministry envisioned by the Diocese. A consultant was hired to evaluate the program and to provide the Mission Group with a report on the assessment by December 2002.

- The New Hope Recovery Program is addressing the needs of its community but the program administration needs to be improved. The effective utilization of resources, including better utilization of the physical plant, is needed. The linkage between the New Hope Recovery program and Urban Ministry is not evident;

- The 12-Step Addiction to Violence program at Episcopal City Mission is providing a much-needed service. The objectivity of the Program Director, in assessing the effectiveness of the 12-step Addiction to Violence program, was questioned because the Episcopal Church Ministry is partially funded by the Presence Among the Poor mission group.

These observations resulted in some programmatic changes that are reflected in the 2003 Presence Among the Poor budget. The Read to Succeed program will be evaluated to effect change to enable the program to achieve its objective of reducing illiteracy and a diocesan staff liaison will be assigned to the program. The New Hope Recovery Program will also have a diocesan staff report to enable it to more effectively deliver the services needed in the community it serves. Funding of the 12-Step Addiction to Violence at Episcopal City Mission will not be funded by the Presence of the Church Among the Poor.

Financial Matters

The Read to Succeed director will be paid from the Diocesan Office through 2002. Supplies for the program are purchased by the site director and paid by the Diocese.

The New Hope Recovery Center director is paid from the Diocesan Office. Supplies for the program are purchased by the site director from cash collected from the 12-step groups or fundraising or requests to the diocesan financial officer.

Conclusion

The Presence Among the Poor Mission Group has limited resources to fund requests for proposals (RFP) during the 2002 fiscal year. Information on applications for these funds was never publicized and as a result, 50 percent of the resources were not used.

continued

One unsolicited request for funding was submitted by Trinity in Hannibal, titled "Kids in Motion — Habitat for Humanity," in June and this request was funded to meet part of its programmatic needs. Since information on the availability of funds had not been disseminated earlier in the year, I decided as committee chair, to not request proposals in mid-year because they would not have been evaluated until September. This situation has been rectified as RFPs are available and can be obtained at the 2002 Diocesan Convention or from the Diocesan Office.

St. Luke's Episcopal–Presbyterian Hospital

Introduction

The past year marked St. Luke's Hospital's 136th year of service to the metropolitan area and its 27th year of service in Chesterfield. We are pleased to highlight some of St. Luke's most significant activities and accomplishments in what has been a year of growth and opportunity.

Operating as an independent hospital again for the first time since 1994, we witnessed a renewed spirit in the culture and tradition that is unique to St. Luke's. Our independence has given us the opportunity to remain flexible and competitive in the marketplace, while focusing on the mission and principles that have guided St. Luke's for more than a century.

True to our mission and dedication to improve the health of the community, St. Luke's continues to identify regional health needs and expand our services appropriately.

Over the past year, St. Luke's opened an Urgent Care Center in St. Charles County; provided pediatric care at St. Luke's Pediatric Care Center in north St. Louis County; established a partnership with the Lincoln County Medical Center in Troy; and began construction on a 70-thousand square-foot outpatient services building scheduled to open late fall. In addition to expanding our facilities, we continue to improve upon our current services by incorporating the latest technologies to better meet the needs of our patients.

During 2002, our dedication to providing exceptional health care was nationally recognized by the American Association of Retired Persons, U.S. News & World Report and Modern Healthcare. These accomplishments are as much a source of pride for us as our community outreach initiatives, which touched the lives of thousands of people over this past year.

Amidst this exciting time of growth and opportunity, we remember the heart of our organization — our dedicated board of directors, medical staff, employees, Auxiliary and volunteers, whose combined talents make St. Luke's a regional health care leader.

Thank you for your support of St. Luke's Hospital as we continue to achieve our mission of superior patient care and ongoing service to the community.

Awards and Recognition

The American Association of Retired Persons and Modern Maturity magazine named St. Luke's Hospital as one of Ten Leading Hospitals in the nation for cardiac, pulmonary, renal and infectious care. U.S. News & World Report listed St. Luke's Hospital among America's Best Hospitals for respiratory care and geriatrics.

Modern Healthcare recognized St. Luke's Hospital as one of 100 Top Hospitals overall, and identified St. Luke's orthopedic programs and cardiovascular services among the 100 Top programs nationwide. In addition to recognition for its medical excellence, St. Luke's received Honorable Mention in the St. Louis Business Journal's "Best Places to Work."

Culture of Service

Treating patients and guests with the high-quality care they expect begins by giving employees the respect and recognition they deserve. It is no secret: when employee morale is high the ability to deliver exceptional customer service soars. Through frequent communications, quarterly employee celebrations, and personalized recognition, St. Luke's philosophy of treating employees like family is brought to life.

Over the past year, St. Luke's employees attended Even Exchange and "Thank You" luncheons with hospital President Gary Olson; contributed to the employee newsletter, Around St. Luke's; participated in employee meetings; volunteered time and expertise at community outreach events; and nominated co-workers for Star awards and the 100 Club, St. Luke's employee recognition programs.

A testament to St. Luke's culture of service is the Customer Relations Team. Formed by a dedicated group of employees, and encouraged by hospital leadership, this team helps to ensure that employees, patients and guests are welcomed, informed, appreciated and recognized.

Operating Results

The hospital continues to generate cash from operations and remains in a strong financial position to ensure a solid foundation for the future. Continued positive results provide resources necessary for recruitment and retention of quality staff through a comprehensive market-based compensation and benefit program, growth and expansion of new services, investment in strategic capital expenditures and new technology, and retirement of long-term debt. St. Luke's provided $6.8 million in charity care to the community in fiscal year 2002.

St. Luke's gain from operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002 was $11,207,000 compared to $10,526,000 for the prior year. This represents operating margins of 4.5 percent and 4.8 percent respectively. Based on the hospital activity, total operating revenue grew to $248 million, a 14 percent increase over the prior fiscal year.

Building & Expansion

St. Luke's is dedicated to identifying communities' unique health needs in order to offer a wide range of services. In December, St. Luke's opened an Urgent Care Center at Highway 94 and Wolfrum Road in St. Charles County.

In November 2002, St. Luke's fifth Urgent Care Center will be opened in Fenton. St. Luke's continues to explore additional opportunities to meet the demands of St. Charles County and surrounding communities.

A major growth activity on St. Luke's campus is the construction of a four-level outpatient services building, adjacent to the hospital. This new building and adjoining parking facility will provide area residents with enhanced accessibility to a comprehensive multidisciplinary cancer center and expanded outpatient services.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Diocese of Missouri –
The Episcopal Church
St. Louis, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial position of the Diocese of Missouri - The Episcopal Church (the "Diocese") as of December 31, 2002 and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets and of cash flows for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Diocese's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. The prior year summarized comparative information has been derived from the Diocese's 2001 financial statements and, in our report dated April 23, 2002, we expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Diocese at December 31, 2002 and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The additional information listed in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. This additional information is the responsibility of the Diocese's management. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects when considered in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

DIOCESE OF MISSOURI - THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Financial Statement Presentation

The Diocese reports its information regarding financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets depending upon the existence or nature of any donor-imposed restriction. The following is a description of these classes of net assets:

Unrestricted – Those resources over which the Diocese has discretionary control. Designated amounts represent those resources that the Diocese has set aside for a particular purpose.

Temporarily Restricted – Those resources subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be satisfied by actions of the Diocese or the passage of time.

Permanently Restricted – Those resources subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be maintained permanently by the Diocese. The donors of these resources permit the Diocese to use all or part of the income earned, including capital appreciation, on related investments for unrestricted or temporarily restricted purposes.

Investments

Investments, which include those that belong to the Diocese as well as those held on behalf of others (see Note 3), are stated at year-end market values. The realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments have been reflected in the statement of activities, except for those held on behalf of others (see Note 3).

Pledges Receivable

Pledges receivable are recorded at net realizable value over a five-year period from the date of the pledges. An allowance for uncollectible pledges has been provided.

Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior year amounts to make them consistent with the 2002 presentation.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)Property

It is the policy of the Diocese not to capitalize purchases of personal property but to include these as expenses in the Statement of Activities. The value of personal property owned by the Diocese is deemed to be immaterial in relation to the total assets of the Diocese.

The Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri (COEDMO), a separate corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Missouri, holds title to certain real properties used by the Diocese. The accounts of COEDMO are not included in the accompanying financial statements.

Income Taxes

The Diocese is exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Kelton E. White and Alma Mayland White Memorial Trust (“White Memorial Trust”) - In December 1994, the Diocese was named the recipient of income earned by this trust, beginning in 1995. Income received from this trust is restricted as to use for fixed asset additions and repairs and as such will be recorded as temporarily restricted.

Shank Memorial Trust - The Diocese is to receive 5% of the net income of this trust as long as the Diocese remains tax-exempt. The income received from this trust is recorded in the Diocesan Program Support Fund.

Realized and unrealized gains and losses on the underlying investments remain in the trusts pursuant to the terms of the trusts and as such are reflected as permanently restricted within the financial statements.

These permanently restricted assets represent funds held in trust by outside fiscal agents for the benefit of the Diocese. The Diocese is not permitted access to the funds held under the terms of the memorial trusts.

NOTE 3 – CUSTODIAL ASSETS

The Diocese acts as custodian of investments for several of its mission congregations and various organizations within the Diocese. As such, the Diocese records the investments and a corresponding liability. These balances are adjusted each year to reflect the current market value associated with the custodial investments. The investments included in the unrestricted balances were $1,557,496 and $1,937,507 as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, respectively.

NOTE 4 – NET ASSETS

Total net assets	$ 29,456,653	$ 33,056,038

NOTE 5 – CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT AND MARKET RISK

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Diocese to concentrations of credit and market risk consist principally of cash and investments. The Diocese places its temporary cash investments with major financial institutions and attempts to limit the amount of credit exposure.

The Diocese has a significant amount of investments that are subject to market risk. Market risk is the possibility that future changes in market price may make a financial instrument less valuable.

NOTE 6 – RETIREMENT PLANS

The Diocese has adopted a 403(b) defined contribution plan and a defined contribution church pension fund for its non-clergy employees. The non-clergy employee may elect to participate in either of the two defined contribution plans. The Diocese contributes 10% of an employee's salary to the employee's elected plan for an employee who has at least one year of service and is 21 years of age or older. During 2002 and 2001, the total amounts contributed to these plans were $25,458 and $23,155, respectively.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Trustees of the Bond Fund and the Equity Fund of the Diocesan Investment Trust of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of the Bond Fund and the Equity Fund of the Diocesan Investment Trust (the "Trust"), as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, including the schedule of investments as of December 31, 2002 and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Trust's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Trust as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, the results of its activities and changes in net assets for the years then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION OF TRUST

The Diocesan Investment Trust of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri was organized on April 15, 1959, under the laws of the State of Missouri by a trust agreement. The Trust was established to invest funds in various marketable securities for the Diocese of Missouri - The Episcopal Church (the "Diocese") and its parishes, missions, and other organizations formed under the Diocese. The Trust is held in two common Funds, determined by the Trustees. "Shares" are purchased and/or redeemed by such number as the stockholders, in their discretion, may determine.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Investments

Marketable securities are purchased and maintained in two separate funds as applicable. Investments are carried at market value which is the last reported closing bid price on the last day of the year. The difference between cost and market value is reflected as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) of investments. The Trust records investment transactions on the settlement date.

Realized gains (losses) from such transactions are determined for financial reporting purposes on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recognized on the accrual basis. Premiums and discounts, if any, on debt instruments purchased are amortized over the life of the respective securities.

Income Taxes

Pursuant to the terms of the Trust documents and the requisite qualifications of its participants, the Trust is covered by the group exemption from federal income taxes under section 501(c)(3) provided to the Diocese of Missouri - The Episcopal Church by the Internal Revenue Service on February 24, 1971. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts disclosed in the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

NOTE 3 – DISTRIBUTIONS OF INCOME AND REDEMPTION OF UNITS

The trust agreement requires that the net operating income and net realized capital gains (if any) of the Trust, as well as proceeds from the sale, redemption, or maturity of securities (to the extent that the proceeds are not used to redeem units) be distributed to unit holders monthly. The agreement also requires the Trust to redeem units tendered for redemption on the fifth day following the end of the month at a price determined to be the net asset value of each unit as of the last day of the month. The net asset value of each unit shall be determined by ascertaining the market value of the fund on the last day of the month, plus any accrued income and less any accrued expenses, divided by the total number of units outstanding on the date of determination.

NOTE 5 – FEES AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

The Trust pays three fees for the custodian services of Commerce Bank: a net principal fee, an activity fee and an issue maintenance fee. The Trust also pays a quarterly fee to the investment managers for the Bond and Equity funds, Loomis, Sayles, and Company and Alliance Capital, respectively. The accrued fees charged to the Equity Fund are reflected as a reduction of market value.

NOTE 6 – CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT AND MARKET RISK

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Trust to concentrations of credit and market risk consist principally of cash and investments. The Trust has significant amounts of investments that are subject to market risk. Market risk is the possibility that future changes in market price may make a financial instrument less valuable.
