Rules of Order of the Convention

1. The daily sessions of the Convention shall be opened with Divine Service.
2. When the President takes the chair, no member shall continue standing or shall afterwards stand up, unless to address the chair.
3. When the President shall have taken the chair, the Minutes of the preceding day shall be read.
4. During the Convention the following named Committees shall be appointed by the Bishop:
 - I. On Admission of New Parishes and Lay Credentials.
 - II. On Constitution and Canons.
 - III. On Dispatch of Business.
 - IV. On the Bishop's Address.
5. All Committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered.
6. All resolutions shall be reduced to writing, presented to the Secretary, and read by him. A resolution that is not a part of a committee report may be introduced only at the time indicated in the Order of Business. All resolutions, except those forming a part of a committee report, shall be referred immediately after introduction without debate to a special or standing committee.
7. When any member is about to speak, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall, with due respect, address himself to the President, confining himself to the point in debate.
8. Any member shall not absent himself from the service of the House unless he have leave or be unable to attend.
9. A member, other than the Chairman of the committee whose report is under consideration, shall not speak more than twice in the same debate, nor longer than ten minutes at a time, without leave of the House.
10. Any member of the House may call for a vote by Ayes or Nays.
11. When a question has once been determined it shall stand as the judgment of the House, and shall not again be drawn into debate except on motion of reconsideration, which must be made by a member who had previously voted in the majority, and all motions to reconsider must be made on the day the vote is taken, or on the next succeeding day.
12. When a question is under consideration, a motion shall not be received, except to lay it upon the table, to postpone to a certain time, to postpone it indefinitely, to commit it, to divide it or amend it, and motions for any of these purposes shall have precedence in the order herein named. If a motion to lay an amendment on the table be carried, the matter before the House shall be proceeded with as if no such amendment has been offered. The motions to lay upon the table and to adjourn shall be decided without debate. The motion to adjourn shall always be in order. No motion shall be considered before it is seconded.

13. Debate shall not be allowed upon a motion to refer any motion or resolution to a committee, or upon a motion to recommit any motion or resolution to a committee, or upon a motion to recall any motion or resolution from a committee, or upon a motion to suspend the rules of order, but the member who offers an undebatable motion may speak five minutes for the purpose of explaining its object.

14. All amendments may be considered in the order in which they are moved. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made. An after-amendment to such second amendment shall not be in order; but when an amendment to an amendment is under consideration, a substitute to the whole matter may be received. A proposition different from the one under consideration shall not be received under color of an amendment or substitute.

15. Every member who may be in the House when any question is put shall, in division, be counted unless he be excused by the Convention.

16. All questions of order shall be decided in the first instance by the Chair, without debate; an appeal, however, may be made from his decision to the Convention by any member of the same.

17. The Secretary may employ one or more pages, not exceeding three, to act as messengers during the sessions of the Convention.

18. The reports of all Committees shall be in writing, and shall be received, of course, without motion for acceptance, unless recommitted by a vote of the House. All reports recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the House shall be accompanied by a resolution for the action of the House thereon. All annual reports shall be received and filed by the Secretary as presented before or during the Convention, and may be called upon motion to be read and considered at any time during the Convention.

19. The names of the movers of resolution shall appear in the minutes of the Convention.

20. All motions and resolutions requiring reference shall be referred as far as possible, to the Standing Committees.

21. Except in cases where majority vote is required by the Constitution, all elections provided for by Canon shall be by plurality of all votes cast. When more than one is to be elected for a particular office, the number required by Canon receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared duly elected.

22. In the case of an election by ballot requiring a concurrent majority of both Orders, the balloting shall be conducted in the following manner: the Tellers appointed to receive the votes of each Order shall take their stand at stations indicated by the Chairman, the Tellers for the Laity in one area, and the Tellers for the Clergy in a place apart from them. Those casting their ballot shall pass by the Tellers as they deposit their ballots in the proper receptacle they speak out their names to the Teller with the list of names of Delegates to Convention. Minutes of the Adjourned Session of the 122nd Convention of the Diocese of Missouri

October 19, 1961

At 2:06 P. M., C.D.T., Thursday, October 19, 1961, the members of the 122nd annual Convention of the Diocese of Missouri assembled in St. Peter's Church, Ladue, in accordance with the resolution adopted May 3.

The Rt. Rev. George L. Cadigan, Bishop, called the Convention to order after the singing of Hymn 551, "Ein Feste Burg", readings from Ephesians 6 and I. John 4, and prayers.

Clergy new to the Diocese since May were introduced.

Mr. Harry Giessow, Chairman of the Department of Christian Stewardship, speaking for the Department of Finance, presented the Diocesan Expense Fund Budget for 1962, in the amount of $61,407, and the Assessment Schedule in the amount of $45,001. These had been introduced on May 3 and ordered printed in the Journal and commended for study. Upon motion, by Mr. Giessow, duly seconded, the budget and Assessment schedule were approved.

Mr. Giessow then presented the following revised Budget for the Church Program Fund for 1962:

Department of Missions and Strategy.....	$ 69,880
Department of Christian Education.....	3,000
Department of Christian Social Relations.....	950
Department of Promotion (inc. NOW).....	6,341
Department of Finance.....	50
Department of Christian Stewardship.....	200
Department of College Work.....	11,870
Laymen's League.....	500
National Council.....	79,465
Institutions:
Chaplaincy to Juvenile Courts.....	13,500
Thompson House Program.....	7,000
University of the South.....	250
Missouri School of Religion.....	600
Diocesan Music Commission.....	600
Missouri Council of Churches.....	1,600
	$195,806
Arrears on Apportionments.....	11,940
(Average of 1959, 1960, 1961)
Total Budget.....	$207,746

Discussion was had concerning this Budget. It was noted that this differs from that printed in the journal, the difference being caused by General Convention action and attention being paid to the Special Projects Committee Report (Item K) as adopted in May. The latter directed that Arrears on Apportionment payments be added to succeeding Budgets.

Upon motion by Mr. Giessow, duly seconded, the Budget was adopted as presented, and the Treasurer's office ordered to prepare the Apportionment Schedule to meet this Budget: $206,346 will be needed for this purpose.

The Rev. Mr. Maurer called attention to another portion of the Report of the Special Projects Committee, that of recommending regional or convocational meetings for discussion of the Budgets before final action.

Resolution No. 12 was called from the table. The Rev. Mr. Crawford, mover of this resolution, asked permission of the Convention to withdraw this resolution from consideration in favor of one prepared by the Department of Christian Social Relations. This was granted, and the Rev. Mr. Langlitz presented the substitute, and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, since the ratification of the Constitution of the United States the basic law of the land has established the doctrine that there shall be a separation of Church and State; and

WHEREAS, the various public schools, including colleges and universities who are supported in part or in their entirety by public funds, have afforded to the youth of our country an excellent system of public education; and

WHEREAS, proposals for Federal Aid to Education have been and will continue to be presented to the Congress of the United States; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED that the 122nd annual Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, in meeting duly assembled in St. Louis County, on the 19th day of October, 1961, does hereby endorse the principles that public educational funds be used only for public schools and that sectarian schools be supported from private sources or from a church, and that this Convention stands unalterably opposed to the use of Federal or State funds for the support of private, parochial or sectarian schools.

Following a second and discussion, the Resolution was adopted.

Resolution No. 13 was called from the table. The mover, the Rev. Mr. Chapman, asked permission to withdraw this resolution from consideration and to offer a substitute. Permission being granted the following resolution was introduced by Mr. Chapman who moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, there is increasingly poor conversation and understanding between members of white and Negro communities in the Diocese; and

WHEREAS complex economic and political issues underlying racial tension continue to be obscured by emotionally charged accusations and counter-accusations, steadily estranging, in mind and spirit, fellow members of our Diocese; be it therefore

RESOLVED that this Convention request the Council of the Diocese to take immediate action to promote needed conversation among lay-men and clergy, so that our people may identify and begin to deal with some of these underlying issues in a spirit of reconciliation and hope.

Dean Cole suggested there is a lack of communication between and among groups on bases other than color. The Rev. Mr. D'Wolf called attention to the lack of communication between some portions of the Diocese itself. The Rev. Mr. Kenney proposed certain amendments that would have exchanged the idea of "inter-racial" for "intergroup". These were not acceptable to Mr. Chapman.

The Resolution was seconded and adopted as presented.

Resolution No. 15 was taken from the table. The Rev. Mr. Carmichael, the mover, asked permission to withdraw this and to offer a substitute. Permission being granted he moved the following Resolution:

WHEREAS the admissions policies of the University of the South have been both reviewed and revised by recent actions of her board of Trustees; and

WHEREAS the University of the South has officially declared her readiness to accept as students duly qualified applicants, without distinction as to racial origin; and

WHEREAS still more recent declarations of intention offered by the Vice Chancellor of the University of the South suggest that specific efforts may be undertaken by the University community in its totality to assure an environment in which a non-Caucasian student might live and work without unnecessary embarrassment and undue loss of personal dignity; be it

RESOLVED that this adjourned session of the 122nd Convention of the Diocese of Missouri acknowledges these developments with such appreciation and commendation as they deserve in full understanding of the cost and meaning of such decisions to those who have made them, and to all those who will be affected by them.

Following a second the Resolution was adopted.

The Bishop then read a letter from the Rev. George Alexander, dean of the Seminary at the University of the South, commenting upon the influence which this Diocese has had on policies of the University.

The Rev. Mr. Bamforth spoke briefly concerning a concern expressed by the Vestry of Holy Cross Church, Poplar Bluff, that the Diocese give earnest consideration to increasing its contributions to the University.

Dean Cole asked that all resolutions be introduced in writing and that in the future copies be provided for clergy and delegates.

The Rev. Mr. Mattes reintroduced Resolution No. 14, relative to increased deputation to the General Convention. Following a second the resolution failed of adoption.

The Bishop spoke informally of the General Convention which is to meet in St. Louis October 11-23, 1964. Ethan A. H. Shepley has agreed to act as Honorary Chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

The gratitude of the Convention was expressed to St. Peter's Church for its hospitality in providing the meeting place of this session.

Following prayer and benediction by the Rev. Mr. Jackson the Convention adjourned sine die at 4:20 P. M.

Journal of the One Hundred Twenty-third Convention of the Diocese of Missouri

MINUTES

Christ Church Cathedral
St. Louis, Missouri
April 27, 1962

The Clergy and Lay Delegates to the One Hundred Twenty-third Convention of the Diocese of Missouri, Protestant Episcopal Church, assembled in the Nave of Christ Church Cathedral, St. Louis, at 4:30 P. M., on Friday, April 27, 1962. Earlier, Clergy, Lay Delegates, and Delegates to the 81st annual meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Diocese had attended Study Committees on twelve of the Diocesan Departments, Activities, Institutions and Agencies.

The Rt. Rev. George L. Cadigan, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese, presided and opened the session with prayer following the singing of Hymn 347 "Hyfrydol".

The Secretary of the Diocese called the roll of Clergy. Of the 68 entitled to seats and votes 45 responded.

The Secretary then called the roll of Parishes and Missions. Of the 55 entitled to representation delegates from 52 responded.

A quorum being presented in both Orders the Bishop declared the Convention duly convened.

The Secretary introduced Resolution No. 1:

RESOLVED that the Rules of Order of the 122nd Convention be adopted for this Convention and that Rule No. 23 which sets forth the Order of Business may be suspended by the Bishop at any time; and be it further

RESOLVED that the following Order of Business be substantially followed in this Convention: (See page 26 of the Journal)
Following a second the Resolution was adopted.

The Venerable Charles F. Rehkopf was re-elected Secretary of the Convention and of the Diocese by acclamation.

The Bishop announced the appointment of the following Committees to serve during this Convention:

Lay Credentials and Admission of New Parishes: The Rev. Arthur R. Steidemann, The Hon. Rodney A. Weiss, Mrs. Kenneth Hudson

Constitution and Canons: The Rev. Joseph T. Swift, The Hon. William R. Bascom, Mr. G. Carroll Stribling

Dispatch of Business: The Ven. the Archdeacon

Resolutions: The Rev. Pitt S. Willand, The Rev. W. H. Laird, Mr. John D'Arcy, Mr. H. Waters

Election Procedure: The Very Rev. Ned Cole, the Deans of Convocation, the Rev. Joseph T. Swift, the Rev. W. D. Stickney, Frank Myers, Keith Smith, G. Carroll Stickney

The Bishop called for the Report of the Committee on Lay Credentials and Admission of New Parishes. The Rev. Mr. Steidemann reported that all Parishes and Missions in the Diocese had completed their payments of 1961 Assessments and are entitled to representation in this Convention; and that no Missions had petitioned for Parish status.

The Report was accepted.

The Rev. Mr. Swift reported for the Committee on Constitution and Canons. In doing this he introduced Resolution No. 2 and moved its adoption:

RESOLVED that Article VIII, Section 3, of the Constitution of the Diocese be amended (first reading) by striking out all the words following the first comma in line two to make Section 3 to read in its entirety as follows:

Sec. 3. The Bishop shall be entitled to one vote on all subjects which may be considered by the Convention.

Following a second the Resolution was discussed. Upon a vote it was declared defeated.

The Rev. Mr. Swift then introduced Resolution No. 3 and moved its adoption:

RESOLVED that Article XI of the Constitution of the Diocese be amended (first reading) so that it will read as follows:
Article XI—Of the Chancellor of the Diocese.

Section 1. The annual Convention shall, on nomination of the Bishop, elect a Chancellor of the Diocese, who shall be the legal advisor of the Bishop and Standing Committee. He shall be a Communicant of this Church and a member in good standing of the Missouri Bar. He shall be entitled, ex-officio, to a seat in the Convention, with all the privileges of membership, except the right to vote. He shall hold his office for the term of three years, and if a vacancy shall occur, the annual Convention next ensuing shall on nomination of the Bishop, elect a Chancellor for the full term of three years; provided, however, in the event of such vacancy, the Bishop may make an interim appointment, subject to confirmation by the Diocesan Council, such appointee to serve until the next regular annual Convention of the Diocese.

Following a second the Resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Swift then introduced Resolution No. 4 and moved its adoption:

RESOLVED that Canon 15 be amended by striking out the present Section 6 and substituting the following:

Sec. 6. The Rector, or Minister in Charge, shall annually appoint from the Vestry a Senior Warden, and the Vestry shall elect from its members a Junior Warden, both of whom shall be Communicants. Where the members of the Vestry have been divided into classes as provided for in Section 2 of this Canon, a Senior Warden may be reappointed, at the discretion of the Rector or Minister in Charge, for not exceeding three successive years. In the event that a Senior Warden is reappointed, under the provisions of this Canon, beyond the time of expiration of his elected term of office to the Vestry, his term as a Vestryman shall be extended automatically for the duration of his reappointment as Senior Warden, and the limitation of office for an elected member to the Vestry shall not apply to the Senior Warden during the term of such appointment; provided that, in such case, the election of one Vestryman shall be suspended until the expiration of the Senior Warden's appointment. In no case, shall the reappointment of a Senior Warden serve to increase the membership of the Vestry beyond the number provided for in Section 2 of this Canon and the Parish By-Laws. Should the Rector, or Minister in Charge, desire at any time to commit the appointment of the Senior Warden to the Vestry, he may do so.

*In the absence of the Rector or other Minister in Charge, the Senior Warden shall be the presiding officer of the Vestry and of the Parish. In case of a vacancy in the office of the Rector, or of his inability to act for any cause, save absence, or in case of a failure on the part of the Rector or Minister in Charge to appoint a Senior Warden, or in case of the absence or inability or failure of the Senior Warden to act, then the Junior Warden shall be the presiding officer of the Vestry and of the Parish. If there be no Wardens present, then the Vestry or Parish shall elect its own presiding officers.

The Vestry shall also elect a Secretary and Treasurer, who need not be members of the Vestry, provided, however, that when the Secretary and Treasurer are not elected members of the Vestry, they shall not have the right to vote. The Vestry shall elect such other officers as may be provided for by the By-Laws adopted for the government of the Parish in accordance with Canon 16.

Following a second discussion was had. The Rev. Mr. Swift pointed out that the starred paragraph had formerly been included in the proposed Articles of Association prior to 1958. The 1958 edition of the Canons should have included it and that it was being included here to correct a deficiency.

Upon a vote the Resolution was declared defeated.

The Very Rev. Dean Cole presented the Report of the Committee on Election Procedure. He introduced Resolution No. 5:

RESOLVED that Resolution No. 2 of the 122nd Convention be adopted for this Convention with the following Amendment to paragraph No. 1 of "Balloting Procedure:

"In cases where election requires a majority of each Order voting separately notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, any candidate who shall be among the number to be voted upon, by either Order under the foregoing procedure, shall likewise be deemed a Candidate to be voted on by the other Order." and the following Amendment to paragraph 2 of "Balloting Procedure" so that it shall read in its entirety:

"On any subsequent ballot, the Convention will proceed to a ballot upon a number of candidates equal to twice the number of the offices not yet filled by a majority vote of the Convention, less one, or a minimum of two candidates, as the case may be, which candidates, in required amount, will be those receiving the greatest number of votes, but not elected, on the first ballot. Each delegate will cast ballots for the full number of the offices yet to be filled." The Resolution was adopted.

There being no further nominations Dean Cole was authorized to have ballots prepared for the above list of nominees.

The Rev. Mr. Tyte presented the following Report of the Committee on Church Pension Fund:

Since the of the Church Pension Fund in 1916, no delinquencies in payments of Assessments have been recorded for which the Diocese of Missouri or any parish is responsible, with one exception:

A clergyman, not canonically connected with this Diocese, was in charge of a city congregation, and assessments were not paid for a portion of that time. The congregation was disbanded, and the man dropped all visible connection with the Episcopal Church. The assessment in arrears was cancelled about two years ago. This man died during the past year, after having been employed for several years in a secular occupation. His widow and children are receiving a small pension because of his activity in the ministry over thirty years ago.

There are two clergymen in the Diocese whose assessments have not been paid in full. For a time these men were both non-parochial, and the unpaid assessments during that time have been charged against their pensions. We recommend that they be encouraged to meet these deficiencies.

The Committee recommends that Parish and Mission treasurers be attentive to the payment of Assessments on time, since failure to pay within the two months' period results in interest charges. It should be remembered that the immediate $1,000 lump sum grant to the widow at the death of the active clergyman, or of the pensioned clergyman who was active at the time of pensioning, is payable only if the assessment schedule is complete.

The Report was accepted and ordered printed in the Journal.

No nomination for Treasurer of the Diocese having been made, Mr. George A. Newton was elected unanimously by acclamation.

Mr. Nagel made an oral report for the Commission on Architecture and Allied Arts, saying that the Commission had counseled a number of building committees on plans for churches and/or parish houses and is pleased that its advice is being sought earlier.

All Reports of Departments, Agencies, Institutions and Committees were either in print in the pre-Convention Journal or in mimeograph form and were received and ordered printed in the Journal. These included:

The Rev. Barney Ellis Maclean, D.D., was introduced. He is Executive Director of the Episcopal-Presbyterian Foundation which recently purchased the Gatesworth Hotel, St. Louis, and has opened it as Gatesworth Manor, a home for elderly well persons. Dean Cole called attention to the renovation of the Cathedral and expressed appreciation of the Chapter for the funds for this purpose from the Episcopal Advance Fund.

Upon nomination of the Board of Directors of St. Luke's Episcopal-Presbyterian Hospital the following were elected to terms of three years on the Board: Jefferson L. Miller, George A. Newton and William B. McMillan, Jr.

Upon nomination of the Bishop the following were elected to serve as Examining Chaplains: The Rev. Messrs. J. F. Sant, J. W. Nicholson, H. P. Donovan, R. H. Ash, H. W. Tyte, A. J. Morley, P. S. Willand and C. F. Rehkopf.

Upon nomination of the Bishop the following were elected to serve terms of three years on the Board of Managers of Thompson Retreat and Conference Center: Mr. George R. Hays and Mrs. John B. Latzer.

Adjournment was taken for dinner at 6 p. m.

During the dinner in Schuyler Memorial Dining Room the Bishop introduced a number of clergy new to the Diocese since the last Convention with their wives. He then presented citations to a number of lay persons in the Diocese for their work in behalf of the Church and presented each with an inscribed Book of Common Prayer. So honored were: Mr. and Mrs. John M. Wolff, Mr. and Mrs. John D'Arcy, Dr. John Skinner, Mrs. George L. Russell and Forrest Crane. He introduced also Chancellor and Mrs. William R. Bascom.

At 8 p. m. the members of the Convention and several hundred others assembled in the Cathedral. Evening Prayer was read and sung by the Dean of the Cathedral, the Very Rev. Ned Cole, and a choir composed of children who had attended the Junior Choir Camp in June, 1961, under the direction of Mr. Ronald Arnatt. The Lessons were read by the President of the Standing Committee, the Rev. J. Maver Feehan. The Bishop delivered his Address to the Diocese during the service. (Appendix No. 1, 2, 3)

An offering amounting to $373.55 was received for the erection of the new Student Center in Columbia. Ushers were chosen from among members of the Convention.

Following the Service the Convention recessed until Saturday morning.
Saturday, April 28, 1962

At 8 a. m. in the Cathedral on Saturday, April 28, 1962, the Holy Communion was celebrated in the Cathedral by the Bishop assisted by Dean Cole, Archdeacon Rehkopf and the Rev. William Kemper. The offering in the amount of $17.00 was added to the fund for the Student Center in Columbia.

At 9:30 a. m. the Convention reconvened in the Schuyler Memorial Dining Room of Bishop Tuttle Memorial. The Bishop presided and opened the meeting with prayer.

Mr. Guy W. Oliver, Jr., made an oral report of the Episcopal Advance Fund, its receipts and expenditures at the end of its second year. He read a number of comments from clergy and others whose Missions had been the recipients of grants and loans from the Fund.

The Rev. Mr. Maurer presented the Report of the Diocese Trustees of the University of the South. (Appendix No. 26)

Mr. Boswell spoke informally of the Diocesan Investment Trust, expanding somewhat on the printed Report.

Mr. Newton presented the proposed Budgets for 1963. He outlined the process by which these had been prepared and had been approved by the Council. After having been submitted for discussion to the various Vestries and Executive Committees and after five open meetings in the Diocese the Budgets had been put into final form by the Council.

Mr. Newton moved the adoption of the Budgets. After a second a small amount of discussion ensued. The Rev. Mr. Donovan said he noted the total had been called "Recommended Minimum Needs of the Church Program in 1963" and that he did not consider the total to be minimum. Rather, he felt, it is below the minimum, that the Urban Division alone has requested some $40,000 for work in the City of St. Louis.

Upon being put to a vote the Budgets for 1963 were adopted.

(Appendix No. 27A-E)

(Appendix No. 28)

The Rev. Mr. Willand reported for the Committee on Resolutions. He presented Resolution No. 6, which had been submitted by the Study Committee on Missions and Strategy:

RESOLVED that the Bishop in consultation with the Archdeacon, the Council and the Department of Missions and Strategy consider the possibility of employing a Diocesan Canon Missioner primarily for work in the counties outside the metropolitan area.

Mr. Willand moved the resolution. Following a second the Resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Willand then presented Resolution No. 7, which likewise had been submitted by the Study Committee on Missions and Strategy:

RESOLVED that this Convention recommended that the Bishop in consultation with the Archdeacon, the Council and the Department of Missions and Strategy set up a program by which men "right out" of a seminary be placed only in those missions or parishes where direct and continuous supervision is possible.

The Committee did not recommend passage of this Resolution but was in sympathy with the point of view. It is the feeling of the Committee that this action is the Bishop's responsibility alone.

The Resolution was then moved by the Rev. Mr. Kenney. Following a second discussion was had. The Rev. Dr. Nicholson suggested that the Convention "request" the Bishop, et al to set up such a program. This was accepted by the Rev. Mr. Kenney and his seconder. The Resolution was then adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Willand then presented Resolution No. 8 which had been submitted by the Study Committee on Christian Social Relations:

RESOLVED that it be recommended to the clergy of the Diocese that they explore the possibility of establishing better means of communication between the members of their congregations and the Division of Christian Citizenship.

The Committee recommended passage of this Resolution and it was moved by the Rev. Mr. Willand. In answer to a question from the floor Canon Zacher, Chairman of the Department of Christian Social Relations said he felt the intent of the Resolution was to develop more effective means of communication between the Division and people of the Diocese and that he endorsed the Resolution.

Following a second the Resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Willand then presented Resolution No. 9, proposed by the Department of Christian Social Relations:

INASMUCH as the individual life is of infinite worth in the sight of Almighty God; and

WHEREAS the taking of this human life falls within the providence of Almighty God and not within the right of man; therefore be it.

RESOLVED that the 123rd annual Convention of the Diocese of Missouri go on record as opposed to Capital Punishment.

This was moved by the Rev. Mr. Kenney. Following a second it was noted that the form is that of the Resolution adopted by the 1958 General Convention. The Resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Willand then presented Resolution No. 10, which had also been proposed by the Department of Christian Social Relations:

WHEREAS the Division of Human Relations of the Department of Christian Social Relations has continually studied methods of eliminating discriminatory practices in areas of public employment, public accommodations, education and housing; and

WHEREAS evidence of progress in eliminating discrimination has been noted in the passage of the Missouri Fair Employment Practices Act by the General Assembly, in the enactment of ordinances in St. Louis and Kansas City providing for non-discrimination with reference to public accommodations, in the approval of the Kansas City public accommodations ordinance by the Missouri Supreme Court, in the continued vigilance of Federal courts and many State courts and other public agencies in enforcing non-discrimination in public education, and in beginning cooperative action to remove barriers of racial discrimination in apprenticeship training programs; and

WHEREAS much still remains to be accomplished in achieving quality of opportunity for all persons in the foregoing areas; and

WHEREAS progress in the field of equal opportunity for all citizens to have adequate housing on a non-discriminatory basis because of race has been painfully slow, with a resultant drain upon the resources upon the community in terms of the denial and refusal of the social contribution to be made by all segments of the community in terms of excessive cost and spiritual degradation occasioned by crime, juvenile delinquency, moral impairment and loss of incentive and initiative due to sub-standard housing resulting solely from discriminatory customs and practices that perpetuate slum dwellings and blighted areas; and

WHEREAS the next session of the Missouri General Assembly will convene in regular session in January, 1963, prior to the next annual Convention of this Diocese; now therefore be it

RESOLVED that this Convention hereby endorses and approves the following course of action:

1. The Convention expresses its support and appreciation of the efforts of those who participated in the enactment of the Missouri Fair Employment Practices Act and the non-discriminatory public accommodations ordinances of St. Louis and Kansas City and of all those who sought to advance the principle of non-discrimination because of race in all areas of employment, apprenticeship training, public accommodations, education and housing.

2. The Convention urges each member of a parish or mission in this Diocese and particularly urges each delegate to this Convention to study the facts relating to discriminatory practices in the foregoing areas, to consider effective methods by which he might personally participate in the elimination of such practices and to exert his best efforts to bring about the elimination of such discrimination.

3. The Convention directs the Department of Christian Social Relations of this Diocese to consider ways and means of recommending and supporting improved legislation including any necessary appropriations that will tend to the elimination in this State of racial discrimination in the fields of employment, education, public accommodations and particularly in the field of housing. Following a second the Resolution was adopted.

The Rev. Mr. Willand then presented Resolution No. 11, proposed by the Rector and the Lay Delegation from Calvary Church, Columbia:

WHEREAS the Lay and Clerical members of this Convention from Calvary Parish of Columbia have deep personal convictions regarding the value of the work of the Missouri Council of Churches; and

WHEREAS we have much work going undone in the Diocese because of lack of funds; and

WHEREAS we have not met our stewardship responsibilities as one of the owners of the University of the South; now therefore be it

RESOLVED that the Budget for 1963 be so changed as to cancel the $1,600 allotted to the Missouri Council of Churches; and be it further

RESOLVED that $800 of this amount be allocated to the Department of Missions and Strategy.

The Committee had no recommendation to make on the Resolution. Upon request the Chancellor said in his opinion it was out of order in that it sought to reopen the matter of the Budget which had already been adopted. The Bishop then ruled the Resolution out of order.

The Rev. Mr. Willand then presented Resolution No. 12, proposed by the Study Committee on the Department of Promotion;

WHEREAS the Department of Promotion has been doing a commendable piece of work in our Diocese with the aid of exceptional lay leadership in the editing and publishing of NOW; and

WHEREAS this Department is operating on a meager budget; and

WHEREAS the distribution of NOW is to every family of the Diocese and is widely read; therefore be it

RESOLVED that each parish of the Diocese be requested to raise $1 per family for the publication of NOW; and be it further

RESOLVED that the method of raising this sum be at the discretion of each Parish, but that the need be presented to the Vestry and appropriate parish organizations for action.

The Resolution was moved by the Rev. Mr. Willand and seconded. Mr. Robert Black proposed an amendment that would require all moneys so raised to be used to reduce the Budget. This was accepted by the proposer of the Resolution.

Upon being put to a vote the Resolution was defeated.

As a special order of business Messrs. George Eberle, Robertson Clark and Robert Downing presented an illustrated report of the work and program of Grace Hill House, St. Louis, and of its need for greater support. Following the presentation Mr. John W. Smith of Moberly, convener of the Study Committee on the agency, recommended a greater degree of support on the part of the Diocese.

The Secretary was authorized to convey the greetings of the Convention to Bishop Scarlett and Bishop Lichtenberger.

Mr. John Hamm, convenor of the Study Committee on Thompson Retreat and Conference Center, recommended a better liaison between the institution and the parishes and people of the Diocese.

The Secretary, at the request of the Chairman of the Department of Promotion, spoke of the magazine THE EPISCOPALIAN, and its program of every-member-a-subscriber.

The Rev. Jack Schweizer spoke of the new Cathedral Book Store and introduced Mrs. Louise Birenbaum, its manager.

The Rev. Russell Murphy spoke of the Child Welfare Commission of St. Louis and of the need for foster homes for children.

Mr. Marvin Horstman, headmaster of St. James School, Faribault, Minnesota, was introduced. He spoke of the four schools in Faribault operated by the Diocese of Minnesota.

The Secretary read the amendments proposed to Article X of the Constitution of General Convention as required by that Constitution.

Adjournment was taken for lunch at 12:30 p.m. During lunch the members of Convention cast their ballots for the various persons nominated for office.

Following lunch the Tellers returned with the results of the first ballot. There was no election to the Standing Committee, Cathedral Chapter, Department of Missions and Strategy, and the Lay Order on the Council. The Rev. Mr. Ostenson was declared elected to the Council, Mrs. Snedden and Mr. Gilleland to the Department of Christian Social Relations and the Rev. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Lewis to the Department of Christian Stewardship.

Before a second ballot was cast upon motion by Mr. Ralph Grassmuck, duly seconded, the tabulation of the balloting was ordered revealed.

A second ballot was then cast.

While awaiting for the result of this ballot a number of items of business and announcements were considered.

The Rev. Mr. Crawford suggested that any Resolutions which might affect the Budget be considered before the Budget is adopted.

A request was heard for copies of the Order of Business to be sent to members of Convention in advance of the date.

A request was voiced for copies of proposed Resolution to be distributed to all members of the Convention.

Dean Cole suggested that a first ballot be cast at the time of adjournment of the first day's session, thus enabling a tally overnight.

Upon motion by Mr. Stribling, duly seconded, it was ordered that any candidate receiving the lowest number of votes on the second ballot be allowed to withdraw his name and thus allow the election of any receiving a higher number.

Dean Cole announced the dedication of the Cathedral Chapel on May 13 at 5:30 p. m.

A recess was taken until 3:10 p. m.

The Tellers returned with the result of the second ballot. The Rev. Mr. Willand, Mr. Leach and Mr. Green were declared elected to the Council; the Rev. Mr. Washburn and Mr. Christopher to the Department of Missions and Strategy; Mr. Schriber to the Department of Christian Stewardship; Mr. Guernsey and Mr. Hyde to the Standing Committee; and the Rev. Mr. Steidemann and Mr. James to the Cathedral Chapter.

A third ballot was cast for the clerical member of the Standing Committee and one member of the Department of Christian Social Relations.

The Rev. F. Washburn and others called for the presence of a quorum. Twenty-four clergy and representatives of 40 congregations answered the roll call. A quorum was thus present.

Tellers returned with the result of the third Ballot. Miss Jennings was declared elected to the Department of Christian Social Relations. A fourth ballot was cast for the clerical member of the Standing Committee.

The Very Rev. Richard Coombs, dean of the Cathedral in Spokane, Washington, was introduced. A product of this Diocese, he was announced as the preacher of the "Flower" Sermon on Sunday, April 29, in the Cathedral.

The Tellers returned with the result of the ballot. The Rev. Mr. Kenney was declared elected to the Standing Committee.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the Bishop was authorized to certify to the correctness of the Minutes of this Convention.

Deputies to the 1961 General Convention formally announced that the invitation to meet in St. Louis in 1964 had been accepted. The Bishop said he had appointed Mr. Ethan A. H. Shepley as Honorary Chairman, Mr. Hiram Neuwoehner, Jr., as General Chairman, and the Rev. J. Maver Feehan as Manager.

The Convention adjourned sine die at 3:45 p. m. following benediction by the Bishop.

The Bishop's Address
to
The 123rd Annual Convention of the Diocese of Missouri

St. Louis — April 27, 1962

The official acts of the Bishop have been reported by title and in the near future may be discovered in the Journal of the Convention. There are many areas about which I should like to speak this evening, but of necessity I must deal with the financial problems of the Diocese. In this current year we have a program deficit of about $8,000, due to the inability of four parishes to meet their appointment. This statement is not meant as a judgment on any one of them; each has a real problem, but we trust that such will have been resolved in the very near future. This deficit is being met by curtailing program, limiting the travel of the mission clergy and eliminating the special grants to those clergy whose salaries are inadequate. This last item was a grant from the Thompson Fund. This kind of cutting back, which hurts program and, even more importantly, hurts persons, is not a happy picture.

Tomorrow morning, the budget for 1963 will be presented for your action. This budget has previously been presented in all the Convocations and all the delegates should be familiar with it. Great gratitude is owed the Archdeacon, the Reverend Murray Kenney, Mr. George Newton and others, too, for the altogether responsible and thoughtful manner in which these presentations have been made. Your comments and criticisms and suggestions have been taken seriously. It must be understood that the proposed budget is a minimum one and does not permit the possibility of exciting and necessary new work. It must also be understood that there is no margin or contingency aspect to it. If any parish or mission defaults, to that extent the budget will again be cut. You will agree that this is not sound financing. I know now that this Diocese has the capacity to give generously and I believe that each parish will desire to meet not just the apportioned figure, but beyond. Persons, parishes and diocese, too, clutch too tightly what they deem their own, but which in reality is Almighty God's. I look forward to that near time when parishes will share half of their wealth with diocese and diocese half of its receipts with the mission of the whole Church.

It is my own conviction that the clergy have much responsibility in the Stewardship Program of their respective parishes. It cannot be expected that parishioners will experience excitement about giving if the clergy are not concerned. For years I served as chairman of a diocesan department of Stewardship. My observation was that the degree of enthusiasm manifested by the clergy for the canvass marked its success or failure. It is no use saying that money has nothing to do with Christianity. In a precise theological sense, it has everything to do with the meaning of the faith. Every parish and mission should now be structured for the autumn canvass. Every parish and mission should now have a canvass chairman. I am aware that there are some places where a canvass is not held. I cannot see that there is justice in helping missions and aided parishes unless they are willing to help themselves. I think it would be fair and probably wise to remove diocesan aid from any such churches. Nor can I feel much sympathy for those canvasses conducted by correspondence. There is no substitute for personal confrontation; not just about the canvass, but about the whole life of the faith.

The Department of Stewardship will be asked to arrange Convocational meetings in the autumn wherein the story of the Church can be told. I believe in the interest and concern of the laity and, when they understand, they will respond.

On a different, but not irrelevant vein, a special committee is being appointed to study diocesan charities. It is not my intention to lead such a committee to a conclusion, but it might prove fortuitous if there were one drive, rather than several, for the many worthwhile things to which we are invited to subscribe during the year. Psychologically, it is hampering to have repetitious requests, however important the cause might be. Grace Hill, the Episcopal City Mission Society, St. Luke's Hospital, Theological School Offerings, the University of the South, marital counseling service, and other causes, also, supported by a kind of Church United Fund might be the resolution to the problem. Or if the Diocese were willing to respond, all of those items could be included in the apportionment.

May I confess to the anxiety and frustration, too, occasioned by the many, many demands made upon myself as bishop to raise money. All of these cries for help are valid. Only a partial listing includes the following: the Episcopal Church Foundation. Theological Schools, the Church Society for College Work, the University of the South, the new building for the Episcopal Church headquarters, and the care of all the churches in the Diocese. Sometimes I feel like a contemporary painting pulled grotesquely in all directions. Sometimes I feel like that lizard called a chameleon, whose color changes according to the object on which he rests. If he is on green grass, he is green. If he rests on a tree trunk, he is brown. If he climbs on a daffodil, he is yellow. But if he happens to fall on a patchwork quilt, he explodes!

We are all aware that in October, 1964, this Diocese will be host to the General Convention. This is a very serious undertaking and, ever since last October, we have been making preparations for it. Mr. Ethan Shepley is the Honorary Chairman; Mr. Hiram Neuwoehner is the General Chairman; and the Reverend Mayer Feehan is the Convention Manager. St. John's Church has generously consented to free its rector one year before the Convention so that he can give almost full time to the fundamental preparations that must be made. October, 1964, offers a date line that I should like to submit as a challenge to the Diocese. When the General Convention comes here, it is my hope that the pecuniary problems of the Diocese will have been resolved. By then, I should like to see the Diocese a grown child, walking by itself and free of dependence upon the Thompson Trust Fund. Every time we find ourselves in trouble, we call frantically upon this generous bequest of Mr. Frank Thompson. In some ways, the Diocese is like a spoiled, rich child, who has never been offered the privilege of making his own way and being free in his own right. The Thompson Trust should be used exclusively for new fields of service throughout the Diocese. By October, 1964, I would hope that several of our aided parishes and missions would free themselves of diocesan support, so that we may begin new work in other areas. It is my intention to invite personally each mission and parish to project for itself a realistic date, when it may proudly carry its full responsibility in the work of Christ's Church.

Here are some other goals for the General Convention date in 1964:

- a. Completed and dedicated, the student chapel in Columbia.
- b. Completed, a new church in Sullivan, the land for which has already been purchased.
- c. Purchase of land; a full-time clergyman; a congregation; and plans for a church in Lemay-Mehlville area.

- d. Purchase of land and the beginning of a work in the Hazelwood-Florissant area.
- e. The beginnings of a work in the Clarkson Road area.
- f. A full-time clergyman for Kennett.
- g. A shared strategy for the Urban Churches of St. Louis. This is almost our most sensitive problem. We cannot lose here by default. We must have an aggressive plan of action to meet the opportunities of the depressed areas where these urban churches serve. From the Urban Division of Missions and Strategy, there is already a request for $42,000. Perhaps this figure seems overwhelming, but it is realistic. This petition is for the need of Grace Hill, Grace Church, the Church of the Ascension, St. Stephen's House and a near-northside team ministry for an area practically devoid of any effective Church work. Here are the challenges and the opportunities. What are we going to do about them?

It is gratifying and exciting to see what three parishes have done and are doing over and above their quota in the establishment of missions and in the help rendered to missions. But on the whole, too few of us grasp the significance of a diocese or of the Body of Christ's Church. Persons can see and do respond to a parish unit. Too few people and too few parishes see beyond their own noses. I would that more of us would make gifts and requests directly to the Diocese. Apart from the Episcopal Advance Fund, I have made very few personal appeals, but it is my intention to do this when the payments on that fund have been completed. But I pray that there would be not a few who would take the initiative in direct giving to the Diocese, provided that such is done without curtailment of parochial giving.

I know of no new solutions to the problems of Church financing. For many years I have believed in and tried to practice the principle of proportionate giving. Most of us, clergy and laity, understand what is meant by the modern tithe. Very simply, it is that five per cent of one's income, after the deduction of taxes, is given to the Church. The other five per cent of the modern tithe goes for United Fund and other charitable causes. I offer this, not as a technique to raise dollars, but rather because it is Christian Stewardship and must be understood in the full light of Christian theology.

"How much should I give to the Church?" "Give what you can" is no answer. A high standard must be held before all our people. As we live for God, He becomes more real to us and imparts to us His strength. We learn to love God as we live for Him, as we learn to give ourselves to Him. Is it not one of the problems of the Church that we have not asked really serious things of men? Tithing, to be sure, is only a part of the whole picture of faith, but its full seriousness should be welcomed by all of us, who sometimes, often, only play with Christianity. If our gift to God is a mite box gift, after all comforts, luxuries, vacations have been taken care of — this is not gratitude. Two of the greatest problems for Americans are being overweight and where to park the car. The point is — do we give to God after we have given to ourselves or do we give to God before we have given to ourselves? Reality in giving adds reality to our whole life with God. Here, very directly, may I sum up why I believe in modern tithing:

1. It serves as a guide by providing us with a method of intelligent giving.
2. It frees clergy and Church leaders from a preoccupation with money for the more important task of ministering to people.
3. It places us all, rich or poor, on an equal footing before God. It is democratic.

4. It enables the Church to speak about money, not in a begging attitude, but about responsibility, in a dignified manner.

5. It shows us in a concrete manner the everyday meaning of real gratitude to God for the many things He has given to us.

6. By making us responsible with a fixed per cent of our income, it teaches us responsibility in the handling of all our possessions.

7. Like all truly Christian living, it brings to us the joy of an honest and important participation in God's work in this world.

8. It places us within a mighty tradition because it has scriptural authority.

9. It helps us to see that all of living, even the making of a personal budget and the spending of money, can be done to God's glory.

Listen to these words of a scientist, a one-time Dean of Yale University's Scientific School (I quote rather freely and with some interpolations), and then let me put a question:

"Man leads a double life. To be whole, all his parts must be cultivated. The intellect is important in ethics and aesthetics, but there is yet something which rises from within and is not subject to reason or logic. Unless these inner forces can be tamed and cultivated until they will help guide our course, we shall destroy ourselves."

And now the question: Do we know any other Name or Power under heaven that can tame the passions of men and make us whole but the power which is in Christ Jesus? I am not wishing to be exclusive, or to limit that power, or to say that it is not found in part in other religions, or in other movements. But, impartially, honestly, where else is to be found the power to heal unbridled passions and to make men whole? I know of no other place. What the world needs now is not charity. It needs the power that makes men charitable, and that power is in Him, and it is to release that power in the world that we are asked to give. What God wants of us, each of us — is not merely the gift. He wants the giver, in a new way and a great way — for His work.

We have examined the statements of cash receipts and disbursements of funds of the Diocese of Missouri, as listed below, for the year ended December 31, 1961; have reviewed the accounting procedures of the Diocese and tested the records maintained by the treasurer.

OPERATING FUNDS:

FUND
DIOCESAN EXTENSION AND MAINTENANCE FUND
(JAMES THEODORE WALKER TRUSTS)
DIOCESAN MISSIONS AND CHURCH EXTENSION FUND

The Frank C. and Mattie H. Thompson Memorial Trust Fund was indebted to the Thompson Reserve Fund in the amount of $27,350.00 at December 31, 1961.

At December 31, 1961, The Diocese of Missouri was indebted to the Mercantile Trust Company in the aggregate amount of $139,900.00, and to Manufacturers Bank and Trust Company in the aggregate amount of $6,500.00. The income from the Frank C. and Mattie H. Thompson Memorial Trust Fund is pledged as security for the indebtedness to the Mercantile Trust Company. The property at Fourteenth and Park Avenues, St. Louis, Missouri, has been mortgaged under a First Deed of Trust as security for the indebtedness to the Manufacturers Bank and Trust Company.

Income from interest and dividends, proceeds from sales of securities, and income from certain trusts indicated in the following paragraphs were accounted for, but we made no verification of income derived from other sources.

Income from interest and dividends received by the trustee of the following trusts during the year ended December 31, 1961, was accounted for in the trustee's records, and income payments to the Diocese were traced to the records of the Diocese. These trusts were established in prior years and the entire income therefrom accrues to the benefit of the Diocese.

Department of Missions and Strategy

If you are looking for great and wondrous works you will not find them in Missions & Strategy. Despite our feelings of uneasiness, we are still supporting and under the demand of the old fashioned approach to "bringing in the sheaves." This means that our strategy (using the term loosely) is the result of acute cases and ancient history. "History" said Visser't Hooft, "does not postpone its pressures at our request." Neither does the Holy Spirit." Yet our department sees its task as something more than approving the purchase of a site, a man and 3 buildings for pressure point A, B or C.

Hopefully, but somewhat frustratingly, the department still sees as its call "The Mission to and for Missouri, A Strategy." But rapid social change, the seething metropolis, booming suburbia, urban renewal, the persistent problem of several "out of St. Louis places" deny us the opportunity to do much creative and/or radical thinking (let alone experimentation and action). We are bombarded by statistics and enthusiastic requests totalling hundreds of thousands of dollars and scores of professional workers. Obviously with such a mission, the strategy must include everything from old age homes to circuit riders.

Our accomplishments, if any, lie in the field of structure and chain of command rather than new approaches or changes in direction. We are re-organized into 3 major divisions—Suburban, Urban, and Town & Country. The latter has been re-re-organized into Deans and Convocations. Distances, the small out-state city, etc. have occasioned this. In the good old days, it was rather simple when an emergency arose. The concerned people, with long faces or the enthusiasm of a sales manager (depending upon the circumstances) knocked at the Episcopal Palace. Decisions were made and then approved by Council. The Thompson Fund in countless cases directly or indirectly proved our salvation (in some cases we skipped Good Friday and celebrated a "cheap" Easter. If you do not understand the theology, my apologies and press on). Today (after a year of travail) at least the petitioners are aware that a procedure exists! One of the first and few decisions of our department is that we are not prepared to handle any emergencies. These must be presented directly to the Cathedra and Council. This of course is faulty theology and philosophy because neither the Gospel nor History bides our time. In addition we are aware that existentially all situations view themselves as emergencies and hence justify their demands for immediate action (see Visser't Hoof above).

But perhaps the picture is not all one of futility. At one meeting, inundated and oppressed by requests, I was revived by Episcopal stimulant when George Missouri exclaimed "What a thrilling time for our ministry"! Increasingly the Department is recognized. Attempts are made here and there to work through our suggested procedure. Certainly in terms of the M & S budget, which makes up a big piece of the Diocesan Pie, we have been consulted in every detail. (However we must say here that much of the M & S budget is a matter of history and personnel and hence a column of fixed expenses or, as one says, part of The Givenness of our existence. Theology again!).

In terms of our division work (and here I speak only as the Vice Chairman of the Department and not as The Lord, see I Cor. 7:12):

1) Urban

Great and wondrous soul searchings are being done here under Brother H. Donovan's direction. All of us are impatient for news and new strategy but the task is Herculean — imagine one request for $90,000! to lead in neighborhood rehabilitation (more than our whole budget) — and what about the future of Grace Church and the inter-relationship of the Cathedral, Grace Church and St. Stephen's, now complicated (or the picture brightened) by the proposed riverfront ecumenical chapel? Also, Dr. David Cox of the Metropolitan Church Federation has presented to us the gargantuan task of the near north side. At the moment we don't even know where or how many Episcopalians live in St. Louis. Apart from problem neighborhoods (aren't they all?), where should we begin new work in the city? The Urban Division may appear to be treading water (at times we feel we're floundering but to beat a figure of speech, at least we're in the swim). We have in process a parish survey. We keep close relationship with Dr. Cox's office. We are aware that whatever strategy erupts, the present Urban churches and Diocese must cooperate with one another or we face retreat and/or extinction.

2) Suburban

Here the need is great — five more churches in the county in the next 8 - 10 years! The problems are not as complicated. We do get carried away and often the Department and Council approve plans without adequate future financing. Simply to invest large sums in buildings and personnel does not mean the church will be jammed with tithers. Nothing can depress the Christian community so quickly as an obsession with finance.

3) In the "out-of-St. Louis" Convocations, the major problems seem to be the same as Bishop Goodwin's survey in 1925: distance, smallness, isolation, people leaving for the fleshpots of urbia; constant shift in Rectorships, rivalry over sharing a parson, the P. E. Church not indigenous to the community, not enough work for one man, rural versus "the Diocese of St. Louis."

Two suggestions have come out of a convocation clericus: a) Could we have a Canon Missioner? He would supervise new and existing work. He would act as a liaison between St. Louis and the "outback", etc. He might even stimulate "outbreak" Mission and Strategy. b) Merger of various missions and parishes into an area or County Parish. There would be many benefits from this, such as: continuity of leadership, area strategy, strength through unity, etc. Note: (1) We did recommend the purchase of a new site for the church in Sullivan; (2) We listed as one of our priorities a new man for Kennett.

In summary, your Department of M & S feels it's in the swim and takes its call seriously "Mission to Missouri." It does feel caught, besieged and somewhat trapped by the pressures of history past and present. Yet these pressures are not a mirage but more real than we think. Maybe we've been guilty about the wrong things. We worry too much about how to do rather than, why? Should we divorce ourselves from concern with priorities and correct procedures? Perhaps the Bishop and Archdeacon, with approval of the Council, should make all decisions of How and What. Maybe the Department should think more creatively and freely about the whyness of Mission and Strategy and leave the How-do-you-do-it? to other leaders of the Diocese. I realize the two are inter-related. Take an illustration. We have had a church in town A for 100 years. We spend thousands of dollars in it with little or no hope of the congregation growing. Apart from history and sentiment, why do we keep it up? Can't we admit failure? If the image of our church is a negative one in a small town or in a big city, what are we doing to change it? If our past operation hasn't worked and/or we've pulled out, are we going to continue or go back, in the traditional pattern, in which we conceive of ministry in terms of professionals and buildings? I don't think anybody seriously believes the Kingdom of God is going to be ushered into Missouri by the Episcopal Church having 5 more church buildings and ten more men from the "right" Seminaries. If it takes more people per given area to support an Episcopal Church, let's face it. If our image, due to our liturgy, history, architecture and social make-up is such and such, can we face it? Is it possible to see our mission motivated other than by sentiment and false optimism? What are we saying if we believe every town and every congregation (be it 20 or 200) must have its own resident priest? (England can't do this and sees little hope of so doing.) If we believe this, then we should take Provost Southcott's suggestion and "suddenly lay hands on several men from each parish." Maybe this would bring salvation through a multitude of priests. Then we could all cry "I belong to Paul, I belong to Appolos, or I belong to Cephas."

But waxing more deeply. The needs are far beyond our resources. Yet we must be good stewards over what we have. Any strategy we formulate will originate in part from what we've been and what we are (history and images are powerful potents), but details aside, some of us in the Department are crying for new ways, new methods, new concepts. For me, we have not yet begun to understand the Christian ministry, especially the Ministry of the Laicos, the called people of God, and the relationship of this ministry to Mission. I would hope any mission to Missouri would have this question: What is the Mission and Ministry of the People of God to Missouri?."

Appendix No. 10

The Department of Christian Social Relations

The Department of Christian Social Relations understands its function in the Diocese to include the following tasks:

I. We are the elected and appointed representatives of the Church, charged with the responsibility to study certain aspects of our culture and life, and to work for the establishment of a more just, free and equitable society.

The Department meets as a whole once a month to consider various aspects of community life and to take appropriate action. However, most of the work of the Department is carried out in six divisions and several commissions. Much of the balance of this report outlines the decision and action which the Department has undertaken in the past year. In this task our National Church has been of great help in supplying us with conference leaders and consultants who have helped us with special problems and concerns.

II. Of much greater importance, the Department is undertaking the task of helping individual parishes evaluate the needs and problems of their particular communities, to appraise their strengths and to address themselves to their local problems. In large measure a parish is the organization which alone can meet the local need. (See the report of the Division of Parish Education.).

III. Finally, and of greatest importance, the Department has a responsibility to assist the Church to train Church people in their vocations and individual situations, to function more effectively as Christians in the establishment of a more Christian Society. We have undertaken this year to publish a monthly report in NOW; have maintained close liaison with the work of Canon Carmichael, a member of our Department, in the area of vocations; and have begun conversations with the Department of Christian Education about ways in which we could be more effective in this area. Other members of the Department have also taken the lead in encouraging and participating in vocational conferences and meetings, and have tried to encourage Christian lay men and women to make use of their Christian Faith to solve the pressing problems of their jobs, homes, neighborhoods and government. (See the report of the Division of Public Relations.)

ALLAN N. ZACHER
Chairman of the Department

DIVISION ON COMMUNITY WELFARE
Commission on Alcoholism

The energies of the Commission in 1961 beginning in April, were focused mainly on calling together interested persons in the greater St. Louis area, with the idea of eventually forming a Council on Alcoholism for the area.

This was being done with the Diocesan Commission as the Convening body in the hope of interesting social workers and other agencies as well as industrial people in the formation of such a Council on Alcoholism. If such a Council is to be formed, it will be under the general direction of the National Council on Alcoholism in New York, but will operate in its own way. As this is written, after about a year of meetings, there seems to be good hope that such a Council will be formed. A permanent Chairman has been secured and while members of the Commission will still be involved in this work, it is now possible to turn it over to another group who will go ahead with organization and financing. Mr. John Elder of the Commission has been particularly helpful in this area, and will continue to maintain an interest in this Council.

In the late summer, your chairman was asked to be the Secretary of a non-profit corporation known as Sobriety, Inc. This corporation was formed to take over the operation of a Half-way House for alcoholic men which was operating on Park Avenue. However, under the leadership of the Corporation, property was purchased at 4153 McPherson Avenue, and the House, known as Sobriety House, was moved to that location. It is now operating and has a capacity for serving 18 men. During the approximate year of operation, it has served 240 men, some of whom contributed to their support and some of whom did not.

Your chairman is also on a Clergy Committee of Family and Children's Service, a United Fund Agency. While this committee does not deal entirely with alcoholism, it is interested in family education and so through this agency, we are able, from time to time, to speak of the subject of alcohol education.

Early in November, your chairman went to Jefferson City to speak to the women of Grace Church, on the matter of Alcoholism and found this to be as usual a good experience. The session was well attended and the questions were numerous and varied.

Also during the year, The Rev. William Finlaw, a member of the Division, attended the North Conway Conference on Alcoholism, under the auspices of the North Conway Foundation.

Interest in the area of Alcoholism continues to run high in the Diocese, and members of the Division plan to attend conferences dealing with this problem again this coming year.

Also during the year, the Commission established a working rapport with Christian Civic Foundation which also has an interest in alcohol education. Our materials on alcohol education have been furnished to the people of the Foundation, and we expect that in the future we will have further conversations with them and hopefully, some cooperative action.

Respectfully submitted,
J. MAVER FEEHAN (THE REV.)
Chairman

Commission on Agency Relationships

Work has progressed in making the programs of Episcopal agencies increasingly known and available to parishes in the Diocese. The staff of Grace Hill House has been made available to parishes in the Diocese:

1. To help them explore their sociological parish conditions and their sociological environment.
2. To help them make more adequate response to the needs which their community presents.

This work has continued at Ascension Church, St. Louis; Grace Church, Kirkwood; and Grace Church, St. Louis. Canon Zacher and Mr. Eberle attended the National Conference on the Churches and Social Welfare in Cleveland, Ohio, designed to explore ways that the Church could more effectively meet community needs. The Commission on Agency Relationships feels that a study of this area should be continued by the Council of the Diocese, and has recommended this to the Council.

Episcopal Agencies include:

- Grace Hill House*
- Youth Counseling Service*
- City Mission's Chaplaincy*
- St. Luke's Hospital*
- Cathedral Counseling Center*

*See report elsewhere in the Journal.

DIVISION OF PARISH EDUCATION

Following the week-end training conference held at Thompson House a year ago for Christian Social Relations groups from eight representative parishes in the Diocese, the Division of Parish Education established a procedure for meeting with individual parish Christian Social Relations committees under the direction of professional staff personnel from Grace Hill House. This procedure proved to be very satisfactory at the pilot conference set up at Grace Church, Kirkwood, last November. Parish C.S.R. committees or their equivalents are invited to request assistance in developing their program from the Division of Parish Education.

Respectfully submitted,
ARTHUR R. STEIDEMANN (THE REV.)
Co-Chairman

DIVISION OF CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

The Christian Citizenship Division works through a committee chosen from the whole diocese and representing 18 different parishes. All members have been active in civil organizations and have come to this Committee with considerable knowledge about social issues and legislative processes.

Our Committee has accomplished or assumed responsibility for the following activities:

1. Investigation of sources of information about legislation on local, state and national levels. This is particularly important during sessions of the State Legislature when the time is short between the introduction of a bill and the hearings on the bill.
2. Circulation directly to CSR groups in parishes of pending legislation and voter information. This is also done on a local level, like St. Louis, when a particular social question, such as race relations, is involved.

3. The Division studies current state and national bills and recommends to the Department action on the bills as they reflect our Christian concern. We have been particularly interested in the whole problem of mental health in Missouri; Public Accommodations; family counseling; and public educational facilities. Individuals assume responsibility in these areas.

4. Members of the committee have spoken to parish groups and CSR Department workshops.

5. Encouragement of individual church members to write to legislators about specific legislation. During 1961 members of the Division also appeared in Jefferson City to support the Department's stand on Mental Health and Family Counseling.

6. A new area was added in 1961 when members of the Division participated in a special State Department Foreign Policy Briefing in Kansas City. This was an attempt by the State Department to have the churches, press, radio and television networks made more aware of the problems and opportunities in our relations with other nations.

7. The Chairman of the Department attended the Churchman's Washington Seminar in Washington, D. C., in February of this year. This Conference provided an opportunity for religious leaders to study the operation of the federal government, to understand the complexity of the problems that affect all our citizens, and to help our Representatives in Congress understand our belief that Christianity is relevant to the solution of present day problems. Our concern about education and unemployment was particularly noted.

Respectfully submitted,
E. JOHN LANGLITZ (THE REV.)
Chairman

DIVISION OF NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL WELFARE

The need for clothing for World Relief was publicized in FOCUS, sent by the Board of Diocesan Women to parish presidents and clergy. In NOW publicity was given and an appeal made at the East Convocation of the Women of the Diocese.

As there was a period when there was no Christian Social Relations Chairman on the Women's Diocesan Board, with the approval of that Board's president, 22 parish presidents were telephoned. In this way it was not only possible to ask for donations of clothing, but also to suggest that publicity in the parish paper as well as appeals to the Women's group would be very effective. The factual number of pounds of clothing taken by Episcopal Churches to the clothing center is not available. Each church chairman receives a report, but no comprehensive report is available. Three groups of women have helped process the clothing: a daytime and evening group from St. John's, and a daytime group from Emmanuel.

A Colored film Strip—"The Church and Human Need"—with a sound recording is available from the Diocese Office.

Mr. Jurisson reported that contributions to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief in 1961 amounted to $2,654.94, an increase of $679.76 over 1960 contributions.

Nine church groups donated $443.67 for the 1961 Hallowe'en collection for UNICEF.

Respectfully submitted
WINIFRED BRYAN (Mrs. Walter E.)

DIVISION OF ADMINISTRATION AND PUBLICITY

The Division of Administration and Publicity has during the past year endeavored to bring before the people of the Diocese information and news on issues of importance in the area of Christian Social Relations. It has done this primarily through periodic newsletters to parish representatives, and through regular articles in NOW.

Issues such as integration in housing, etc., legislation on public accommodations in St. Louis, bond elections, and mental health in the State have been spotlighted through this publicity program. More people have responded to these approaches and shown deeper interest as a result of this publicity. The Division of Publicity hopes to continue its present program as well as to develop additional effective methods of communicating with the people and congregations of the Diocese.

THE REV. WILLIAM T. THOMAS
H. H. ELBERT

Appendix No. 11

Department of Christian Education

This Department of the Diocese is composed of both Clerical and Lay persons, some of whom are elected by Convention upon nomination by the Bishop, some of whom are appointed by the Bishop and some of whom are members ex-officio by reason of their being professionally involved in Christian education. The chairman is appointed for a two year term by the Bishop.

Innumerable meetings in past years have been spent in discussing the nature and task of Christian Education and the relationship of the Department to the parishes and missions in the Diocese. While these discussions have filled some individual needs in the Department membership, they have done little to help the Diocese as a whole to develop an underlying philosophy for Christian Education nor have they helped the Parishes and Missions in practical matters of Church School operation.

Two years ago the Department was reorganized into "functional" committees based on the kinds of requests received by the Department. These committees have met to take stock of their available resources and to determine how they best lead and serve the Diocese. Services were made available in some areas, leadership was provided for various functions, some existing programs and functions were abandoned because of lack of interest on the part of the Diocese or of the Department.

A committee to determine the need for and possibility of a church related secondary school in this area died for lack of interest and leadership. A committee on Teacher Training has failed to function until now but is presently engaged in making plans to provide curriculum preview sessions for teachers. This will be done in connection with the Cathedral Book Store. The committee on Adult Work has seen its task as supporting the Thompson House Program. This committee has also provided leadership for conferences and retreats for various groups. The Parish Strategy Committee has been in consultation with several parishes and missions, helping them to analyze their educational program. The committee on Confirmation Curriculum has gathered a sizable body of information but has not yet done anything with it. The committee to deal with requests from the National Council has disseminated the information it has received. The Youth Committee has done an excellent job in cranking up the program of the Summer Youth Conferences but not without difficulty in procuring enough interested and capable staff persons.

The Department is without a professional consultant and suddenly lost its budget for such a person when the previous consultant resigned. There is some feeling that there is need for such a professional person on the payroll of the Diocese who would have the time, experience and skill to work directly with the parishes and missions throughout the Diocese to aid them in their educational task in a way in which an appointed and volunteer group is unable to do.

The present chairman of the Department completes his appointed two year term with this report. In these past two years, the Department has not distinguished itself by any dramatic new work but it has passed through some difficult days and has effectively carried out the work that it was able to do.

The Department of Christian Stewardship

The activities of this department during the past year have consisted of various services rendered, different in nature, described as follows:

1. Study and dissemination of materials and ideas relating to Every Member Convasses of Parishes and Missions within the Diocese. In this regard, requests were made by five Parishes, and materials on Stewardship were sent to each of them. A request from one Parish for a Speaker for their Annual Family Meeting, combining this occasion with a kick-off dinner for their Every Member Convass, was duly filled.

2. Requests from the Diocesan Council to perform special tasks where machinery for this work had not previously been set up. In this connection, members of this Department made calls on the Vestries of four Parishes, each of whose financial condition was such that it was not meeting the payment of its Diocesan Appropriation, to render such assistance as they could give to correct this condition.

3. To act as liaison between the Diocesan Council and any Parish or Mission, where a particular Parish or Mission was experiencing unusual difficulties in its operation.

4. This Department met, for the second successive year, at a three-day meeting held in St. Louis County, attended by Stewardship leaders from other Dioceses and the National Church. Sixteen separate Dioceses were represented at these meetings, the purpose of which is to discuss and improve upon techniques to expound and further the work and doctrine of Christian Stewardship in all Dioceses of the Church. Half of these men are clergy and half lay, but each of them spends full time in his own Diocese in this work. Another meeting is to be held in St. Louis June 26, 27, 28, 1962.

5. The Department works in close relationship with the Department of Finance and with the Treasurer to render such services as are requested of it.

The Department of College Work

The Department of College Work recognizes six major concerns as the scope of its activity. (1) It is the department's responsibility to examine the college work needs of the diocese, to plan strategy for the future and to establish priorities for emergency needs. (2) The department acts as a board of counsel, advice and review for those now employed in college work. (3) It is a function of the department to seek the necessary funds with which to do college work and to administer those funds. (4) The department is charged with promoting the interests of college work within the diocese. (5) It is a function of the department to assist in the training of men and women new to college work. (6) The department is responsible for certain program activities for the diocese such as the Faculty and Student Conferences.

In the light of these responsibilities it seemed best to reconstitute the membership of the department so that lay persons may equally share and direct the work of the department. Accordingly, the Department voted to ask the Diocesan Convention to elect six lay persons and the Bishop to appoint three persons to serve for terms of three years, along with those men and women who have college work responsibilities. The Department also recommended that the Bishop appoint a lay person from the Department to serve as chairman, the appointment being made on an annual basis. Two regular meetings are held: one on the day before Diocesan Convention; the other on the second weekend following Thanksgiving.

The Department heard reports on each of the college work situations and reviewed the work. Two areas of concern, Washington University and the work at Columbia, occupied much of the department's energies. The National Council Survey of college work in our diocese indicated that it might be well to expand our work at Washington University. The Reverend Roy Ostenson was asked to undertake for the department negotiations with parishes interested in Washington University to discover if there were interest in having a full time chaplain and possible relationships with these parishes. This project did not meet with much success, partly because the department did not understand what was presently being done at Washington University, and partly because the need was not as pressing as it first appeared. The Reverend Jack Schweizer has an expanding ministry to the campus which the department endorsed. Mr. Schweizer reported that the Church of St. Michael and St. George was increasingly concerned about its mission to the campus. The Department deferred action on enlarging this work, pending further conversations with the Department of Missions and Strategy and with the Church of St. Michael and St. George.

Expansion of the work at the University of Missouri was planned, and a strategy was mapped out to meet future needs. The Diocesan Council approved the purchase of property in the student living area for a chapel and a joint Protestant ministry. Six chaplains representing the Episcopal, Presbyterian, Disciples of Christ, United Church of Christ, Methodist, and United Council of Lutheran Churches are engaging in a program of small group work aimed at the unchurched. To implement this program the chaplains are involved in common Bible study and prayer and a mutual strategy which will cover major areas of campus life. The chapel is primarily for use of Episcopalians, but other denominations will be encouraged to use it as the necessity arises.

The department is watching with concern the growth of the schools at Kirksville and Cape Girardeau, and will endeavour to whatever is necessary to meet these needs. The Reverend Harry Maurer reported the establishment of a Day Nursery at the church which functions so successfully that it is able to provide free care for children of students.

At Fulton College Work is being launched from a recently purchased house that has now been converted into a chapel and lounges. The student response to the Reverend Mr. Weeks' ministry has been heartening. There is an excellent potential for an active ministry to students at Westminster and William Woods Colleges. At Rolla and at St. Charles new patterns of college work are emerging as the Reverend Joseph Carlo and the Reverend Wilbur Tyte begin a ministry to college students.

The department lays strong emphasis on student participation in the National Study Conference and to that end has provided scholarships for each college work situations. The Reverend James Lerret is now serving as one of three clergymen who guide the National Canterbury Association, sponsors of this conference.

The Diocesan Faculty Conference was postponed from November to February in order to obtain the services of Denis Baly as conference leader. These annual conferences and a small program of book lending are the only faculty work which the department is doing.

The present department members look forward to more lay involvement in the department's work and to an increasingly effective work on the campuses within our diocese.

Department of Promotion

During the 12 months since last year's Diocesan Convention, the activities of this department have taken 3 different forms — each fairly representative of the capacities of such a department.

In the first group are the two continuing activities most of us take for granted, yet are vital to the work of the Diocese. One is the newspaper NOW — distributed at no cost to some 9755 homes 10 times a year. In September the regular 4 pages were expanded to 8 for the purpose of explaining the General Convention to Missouri Episcopalians, and inviting the General Convention to St. Louis in 1964. Since each copy of NOW costs less than your daily newspaper, the Diocese is getting a real value for a very modest investment. Editor Bill Matthews and Business Manager Charles Rehkopf deserve full credit for their regular month-in, month-out efforts to bring us this fine publication.

The other continuous activity is local coordination and support of the National Council's very fine program of radio and TV promotion. Their efforts — with a minimum of help from this department — resulted in obtaining more than $15,000 worth of radio and TV time at no cost.

Stations in Cape Girardeau, Columbia, Flat River, Jefferson City, Kennett, Kirksville, Portageville, St. Charles and St. Louis ran various length programs throughout the year.

The second group of departmental activities includes all types of special projects — the most important of which was a 4 hour Seminar on Communications conducted for the clergy of the diocese at their annual conference last October. Professional newsmen, public relations and advertising men — all outstanding in their fields — offered enlightenment in the communications area and furthered the clergy's understanding of mass media opportunity and problems. The enthusiastic participation of the clergy was most encouraging. (Several other diocese are interested in duplicating this event).

As a follow-up on this seminar, a lay workshop on communications at the parish level has been planned but twice delayed. This will probably take place in the near future and may include interested Presbyterians who have indicated a desire to learn more about our promotional activities.

In March of this year, the Archdeacon, Mr. Elzey Roberts (Provincial Promotion Chairman), Mr. Gary Ferguson (our new Promotion Chairman) and this writer joined 15 other diocesan promotion men in Dallas to share our problems and solutions. Highlight of the meeting was the presentation of an outstanding new manual for diocesan promotion departments which has been prepared by the National Council. It will be of great help to this department in the future.

The third group of departmental activities includes those projects which involve us as a resource. Included herein were "Jazz at Vespers" (early in 1961), 2 Thompson House events, meetings with Presbyterian promotion personnel to share our experiences, and talks before parish groups.

For the future there is a great need for additional funds with which to expand the work of this department. Certainly NOW should be enlarged and constantly improved; possibly a diocesan advertising program could be initiated; possibly a part or full time professional could be employed to give this department the available man hours it could use so profitably; and the preliminary publicity and promotional opportunities of the 1964 General Convention (St. Louis) will begin to demand action during the coming year. All of this requires time, skill and much money, none of which are available in suitable quantities at this time. The skilled professionals who volunteer their abilities do the best they can with limited supplies of both time and funds.

It is the sincere hope of the retiring chairman that your support will enable this department to fulfill its dreams of a truly complete promotional program in the service of this diocese and the Church.

Diocesan Investment Trust

As is now well known, the assets of the Diocesan Investment Trust are priced quarterly, the latest being as of January 15, 1962. On any of these quarterly dates, churches or institutions connected with the Diocese may enter or withdraw from the DIT.

On January 15, 1962, the DIT had a total market value of $2,052,807.94 and a value per unit of $10.9499. On the basis of income estimates, the Fund yielded 3.28%. On the average cost to the various participants, the yield is 4.01%.

Your trustees feel that this is a most satisfactory turn, in view of present conditions, albeit there is a constant endeavor to improve this yield within the bounds of sound investment policy. Your trustees are mindful of the fact that all those who are participants in this trust need more income, and it is our desire and intention to try to meet these needs.

Your trustees are well aware of the fact that in many cases today the single investment will produce as much, or more, as the current yield on the DIT. Nevertheless, it should be pointed out that the very virtue of this trust lies in the pooling of the funds of the various institutions participating. Thus, it would be virtually impossible for any institution with a small endowment fund to achieve the stability and diversification, the staggered bond maturities and diversity of common stocks obtainable in the DIT.

The trust at the present time is approximately 55% in common stocks, and it is the intention of the trustees to increase this to approximately 60% at a propitious time, because only principally by this means do we, as the case with other investors, seem to be able to achieve the increased income needed. For quite a few months now, we have witnessed the anomaly of the yield on stocks being exceeded by the yield on bonds. At such time as this condition appears to be reversing itself, we hope to be in a position to take advantage of it. In the meantime, the common stocks held in the trust have shown numerous increases of dividend which, of course, is the result of improved earnings and which, for the most part, is reflected in the market prices of these stocks.

No report of the DIT should be made without pointing out that it is a vehicle by which the individuals may make a permanent gift to his church, and the trustees are always happy to respond to any inquiries in this respect.

Episcopal Churchwomen

This year the Episcopal Churchwomen have found a new way to improve their communications within the Diocese. In these days of serious urgency as our Church confronts the enormous task of her missionary obligation, responsible and informed participation by all the women becomes increasingly important. Each parish is a vital part of our diocesan structure. We are interested in every phase of the work in all parishes. For this reason the Diocesan Board is publishing FOCUS, a monthly newsletter. FOCUS carries all our women's news throughout the Diocese. Originally intended to be one sheet the response has been so great that it has been running to three. From what we hear FOCUS has met a real need.

The HANDBOOK OF INFORMATION which replaces the old YEAR BOOK has been written and compiled and is now in the hands of the printer as this report is submitted. It is our hope that it will prove indispensable to all officers and chairmen.

Five delegates attended the Triennial Meeting in Detroit and to date have reported in twenty parishes. The UTO Custodian presented $44,376.97 from the women of this Diocese, $5000 more than at the previous Triennial. The impressive list of grants to missions, schools, churches, etc. around the world is steadily growing as a result of our UTO offerings. This past Fall's Ingathering is $6740. A new note at Triennial was the inclusion of the Altar Guild as a regular Department of the General Division of Women's Work of the National Council. The Altar Guild Chairman in our Diocese has been a member of the Board for several years.

In an effort to cut down on travel time the Board experimented with a two-day meeting at Thompson House in October. We were pleased to learn that our Bishop had expressed a desire to meet with us and we have also had a request from the National Council for an invitation for one of their members to attend a meeting. An invitation to the March meeting was gladly extended.

We are helping to further the work of the United Church Women whose president this year and next is one of our past diocesan presidents. Our Denominational Chairman also serves on their CSR Committee and is actively engaged in work with parolees from Tipton Prison. Your President is a member of their Board and your Chairman of Devotions is a Vice-President of the Southeast District of UCW.

Under the leadership of the Personnel Chairman another Vocational Day was held at Thompson House for Junior and Senior High School pupils to discuss their futures and responsibilities as Church Christians. A Summer Work Project, involving some 42 people, both Presbyterians and Episcopalians was held there. A Japanese clergyman's daughter attending Monmouth College was provided with all fees and books through the Personnel Dep't. and the interest of one of our parishes. Assurances was given to three girls who wished to do summer work at a Conference Camp in Lake Geneva, a Migrant Workers' Camp in N. Y. and to assist in a Church School in Alaska. Six nursing scholarships were given including one full one to an honor student recommended by the South Convocation.

Through the action of the Board the James D'Wolf Youth Fund was set up to assist his work with needy boys and the Personnel Dep't. was able to start this fund with $75. The Board also voted money for a Special Overseas Project which provides badly needed materials for schools in Haiti. These were in addition to the items in our '61-'62 Budget. Special Gifts from the women of the Diocese went to the Episcopal City Mission, Youth Counseling Service, Chapel Kneeling Pads, National Cathedral Association, Seamen's Institute, St. Francis Boys' Home, St. Michael's Farm for Boys, SAVE, Good Shepherd Mission in Arizona, Sewanee Theological School, Seminary of the Southwest, St. Vincent School for Handicapped Children in Haiti, (this came from Supply Work) the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief, United Church Women, Grace Hill House, SOS, Salvation Army, St. Louis Peregrine Society, Cuttington College in Liberia, Metropolitan Service Association for Women, St. Stephen's in St. Louis, St. Stephen's-in-the-Hills, Poor Clares in N. Y., C.P.C. for State Hospital Library, Personnel Work in Alaska, St. Luke's Auxiliary Scholarship Fund, James D'Wolf's Discretionary Fund, Henry St. George Tucker Memorial, Signor Tullio Vinay, Italy. Fall offerings went to the James D'Wolf Youth Fund, Bishop Mize in Africa, National Council for Foreign Bishop in Japan, Episcopal Parochial Trust Fund.

The Chairman of the National Cathedral Association reports a tripled membership in our Diocese. The work of the Cathedral Tapesters is proceeding with enthusiasm.

A special gift of $2000 requested by the Bishop for St. Stephen's Building Fund has been made. This was made possible through Churchwomen's efforts in securing names of men, women, children and in memoriam at $1.00 apiece to be embroidered on a banquet tablecloth for parish use. This project is being continued for all wishing to use it, the money to be used or special diocesan needs.

Board members are continuing to serve in corresponding Departments of the Diocese, one has been re-elected as Secretary-Treasurer of the 7th Province, all are serving on many committees and in many capacities as are Churchwomen everywhere in the Diocese.

Laymen's League of the Diocese of Missouri

The Laymen's League of the Diocese was organized in 1953 with Mr. John H. Leach, Chairman, and the appointment of 72 Keymen representing 39 of the 46 Parishes at that time. A Constitution was established to set forth the Purposes and Organization. As set forth at that time in Section 1, Article III, it was established "The membership of this organization shall include all Episcopal laymen of the Diocese of Missouri." And the Purposes, in brief, were (1) to help bring men to a personal commitment to Jesus Christ and his Church (2) coordinate and strengthen existing men's organization, (3) encourage men's work in parishes and missions on an organized basis, (4) act as a clearing house of programs and ideas, and (5) to bring laymen together in retreats to share experiences and strengthen commitments and insights.

Mr. William J. Van Nice took over as Chairman in 1956, relieved by Mr. John Sonnenfeld in 1959. In spite of the fine leadership of these Chairmen since 1953, the men of the Diocese did not respond to the opportunities offered on a Diocesan level. There has always been limited attendance and interest at Diocesan conferences, even when great leaders in our Church have been obtained from far distances. No real program, meaningful continued purpose, or response has been developed among the Laymen.

Mr. Forrest F. Crane was appointed Chairman in 1961, to be assisted by Mr. Lawrence J. Dorn and the Rev. Roy Ostenson as co-chairmen. These three men attended a Laity Training Conference of the 7th Province in Amarillo, Texas, on May 26th, 27th, and 28th of 1961, and have met with the Bishop to study the possibilities for reviving and creating a meaningful program for the men of our Diocese. Additional conferences of this small committee are scheduled, and it is hoped that a way can be found whereby the men of our Diocese can be energized into a powerful force in the service of Jesus Christ. Laymen and Clergy are invited to offer their prayers, suggestions, and personal God given talents to the strengthening of our Diocese through a renewed dedication to Jesus Christ and the unlimited opportunities we might experience together.

Respectfully submitted

Chairman

Thompson Retreat and Conference Center

January 1, 1961 through December 31, 1961

Dear Fathers and Brethren—Greetings!

Thompson Retreat and Conference Center has been in its new location for about a year at this writing. It is most significant that our two communions should work together in this venture of common concern. It is of utmost importance that we as Christians with traditions different, and yet in so many ways similar, should be working together. The greatest value of this center is the "rapport" between us. The more we know "who we are and why we are what we are" the greater is Christ's Kingdom among us.

The funds for expenses provided by the Diocese and the Presbytery have made it possible for us to:

- (1) Build a self-service lodge (Holiday House) that will sleep 24 people,
- (2) A caretaker's cottage,
- (3) Pave the parking area,
- (4) Make a connection with the Metropolitan Sewer District and with the county water department. We hope to tie in with the natural gas main sometime in 1962.

One of the greatest events last year was the giving of a small but beautiful chapel by two members of the Episcopal Church. Another is the invitation which we extended to the Presbytery of Saint Louis, Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern) to join us in the operation of the center. They accepted the invitation, and this will broaden our ecumenical influence in this area. This presbytery has about 15 Churches and some 6,000 members. They will name two people to serve on the Board of Managers and will contribute $4,000 annually for operations and $5,000 as a gift for improvements.

You will find below the report of our Warden and all financial reports for 1961.

We assure the Diocese and the Presbytery that it is a privilege to serve our two communions in this area of cooperation and concern.

WARDEN'S REPORT

There is encouraging indication that the development of the additional facilities on the grounds of Thompson House will make for more flexible usage of this center in the future, and will allow for the enlargement of the services which the center would offer the church in this metropolitan area. Thompson House is well on the way toward becoming one of the best-equipped, year-around retreat and conference centers in the nation.

There is evidence that the summer months, formerly blank in terms of usage, were and will be increasingly filled with training and conference programs. The Work Days, coordinated under the leadership of Mrs. Delna Fort of St. Michael's Church (Episcopal), made it possible for high school volunteers of both Presbytery and Diocese to contribute significantly to the rehabilitation of the barn as a recreational center. In 1962, the previously week-long Institute on Religion and Culture for graduating high school seniors will be expanded to ten days. The experimental Creative Arts Conference, developed by the Warden in cooperation with the national Girls' Friendly Society of the Episcopal Church, staged on a two-week schedule, will be expanded to three such conferences during the months of July and August and made available to high school girls and boys of both Presbyterian and Episcopal churches in the nation.

Of special significance is a Retreat being planned for the clergy of the Council of Churches of St. Charles, Missouri. Initiated jointly by the Reverend Thomas Cannon, Pastor of St. John Presbyterian Church, and the Reverend Wilbur Tyte, Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, this common meeting of the ordained leaders of major Protestant Communions around the common theme shared in common concern will represent a landmark in the brief but important history of Thompson House as an ecumenical center. This Retreat could well set a precedent which could be followed creatively by other councils of churches and ministerial alliances in the area. The Warden will serve as the retreat leader, which will proceed along classical lines characterized by a self-regulated discipline of silence on the part of the retreatants.

Under the sponsorship of the Metropolitan Church Federation, the Warden writes and moderates a weekly television program on KMOX-TV (Channel 4), St. Louis, each Sunday morning at 9:30 A.M. CROSSCURRENT provides occasion and opportunity for men and women of the Church to discuss thoughtfully the religious implications and significance of the work in which they are engaged in the midst of the world. As an extension of the primary program function of Thompson House, CROSSCURRENTS makes it possible for the primary concerns of this center to be aired each week before an indeterminate number of thousands of viewers. The Church exists for the world, and it is the evangelical task of the Church to establish pertinent dialogue with the world in regard to those matters and issues which lie at the heart of the world's distress and the church's concern.

It is not altogether clear that the people of the Presbytery and Diocese yet understand in what kind of business Thompson House is engaged. There is evidence that this center may be regarded by some as a precious and sentimental ornamentation of the Church — ecclesiastical window-dressing — rather than as a sleeves-rolled-up, face-turned-toward-the world workshop for both older and younger members of the Church.

Thompson House is not merely a place. It is a teaching program; a training for mission in the midst of the world; an orientation to the beckoning task of the American Church in the midst of the 20th Century. A living is provided a Warden-Program Director in order that the program-training-orientation functions may be undertaken with definition, shape, and direction. In scope and concern, the teaching and lay-training functions of the center often stand in marked contrast to those which the parish churches, of their very nature and constitution, are able to perform. This does not mean that they are better, necessarily; only different and, in most instances, more specifically defined and responsibly considered by the people who come here to learn and to be trained for the performance of their ministry as Christians in the world for which the Church exists. The fact that there is a significant lack of participation in both teaching and lay-training programs deserves to be pondered seriously.

Our God is a God who moves. The people of the Church can move with Him in response to the servant vocation which He reveals to them in the midst of the present day world. On the other hand, they can hole up in oases of relatively trivial reassurance which tend to protect them from the claims of loyalty and obedience which God, who is more concerned about the conditions of His world than the placating of the people of institutional Church, makes upon those who would identify themselves as His people. Thompson House, in program and training functions, exists to assist the People of God in identifying and acting responsibly upon the mission of the Church in the world. Such is not necessarily a crowd-pleasing job, but it is one which must be begun somewhere in the Church in order that the Church may become the servant Church of the God who moves . . . if the Church so dares.

The Board of Managers of
Thompson House Retreat and Conference Center
Creve Coeur, Missouri

I have examined the statement of cash receipts and disbursements of Thompson House Retreat and Conference Center for the year ended December 31, 1961, have reviewed the accounting procedures and tested the records maintained by the Thompson House Manager.

In my opinion, the accompanying statement of cash receipts and disbursements presents fairly the recorded cash transactions of the Thompson House Retreat and Conference Center for the year ended December 31, 1961.

The Cathedral Counseling Center

Since the beginning of its operation in 1958, the Counseling Center has shown steady growth in the number of persons coming for help in the solution of their problems. These people come from a wide variety of religious backgrounds and are referred to the Center by the St. Louis County Domestic Relations Courts, lawyers representing parties in a divorce suit, psychiatrists, clergy and by individuals who have been helped by the Center. After the initial interview, each case is carefully reviewed by Canon Zacher and a psychiatric supervisor and a decision is made to work with the individual or to refer him to other psychiatric resources in the community.

Most people coming to the Center are aware of the several professional groups trained to handle emotional problems—psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers—but some choose the Center because they prefer to discuss their problems with a clergyman. In some cases this reflects the belief that the clergyman will be more sympathetic. Other individuals may believe that religion can be a quick cure for their emotional problems. Some are not really looking for a solution to their problems but want a sympathetic hearing of their difficulties. People may only be aware that they are dissatisfied with their lives, but skillful and sympathetic listening will often lead them into description of their problems and some insight into the truth that the difficulty is not just in the other person—the employer, the child, the spouse—but is a problem that resides within themselves. After a person is able to understand the nature of his difficulty the next step is to plan a realistic therapeutic process. This involves a decision about whether the person will work with the Center or be referred to a private psychiatrist, psychoanalyst, psychiatric out-patient clinic or perhaps, with some family problems, to a case work agency.

One of the tasks of the Counseling Center is to help clergymen prepare for the task of diagnosis and referral by providing consultant services for clergy. Another responsibility is to receive referrals from clergymen of individuals who seem to have problems beyond the clergyman's ability to diagnosis or motivate to indicated resources.

Canon Zacher has encouraged lawyers to refer divorce clients to counseling; this has been done through personal contact with lawyers, participation in the Family Law Committee of the St. Louis Bar Association and by published articles and talks to legal groups.

The Center is providing an educational service by encouraging inter-professional discussion of emotional problems between clergy, lawyers and psychiatrists. The director has also lectured at Eden Seminary and aided a number of Seminary students and their families with personal problems.

Following is a statistical report of the work of the Cathedral Counseling Center:

Period of Center's Operation	Average No. of Interviews per Month
9-1-58 to 8-30-59	20
9-1-59 to 4-30-61	54
5-1-61 to 2-28-62	83*

During a 12 month period, Canon Zacher has:

- served as Consultant to the St. Louis and St. Louis County Domestic Relations Courts in the Establishment of marriage counseling services within the Courts in the Area;
- Written a paper for the Missouri Law Review;
- Lobbied for changes in the divorce law by speaking to the Missouri

- Council of churches and by testifying before Missouri Senate Committee;
- been partially responsible for the reactivation of the St. Louis Bar Family Law Committee and attended several meetings of this Committee;
 - had 30 conferences with 9 clergy concerning persons that come to the Cathedral Counseling Center for counseling;
 - lectured to pastoral theology classes at Eden Seminary;
 - participated in panel on "The Community Works Together for Children" at the national conference of the National Association for Nursery Education, report of which is to appear in their journal;
 - published an article in GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY, Vol. XIV, Nos. 3-4, Sept.-Dec., 1961;
 - been in communication with 8 other counseling centers from New York to California;
 - discussed "Marriage and Divorce" with parish groups, clergy, lawyers, and on radio.

Girls Friendly Society

Our official title is the Girls' Friendly Society of the United States of America. It was organized in 1877 in Lowell Massachusetts and is incorporated in the District of Columbia. "The G.F.S. is a week-day group work organization within the Protestant Episcopal Church, whose members accept the Christian faith and seek in fellowship of worship, study, work, and play to serve God and extend His Kingdom." (Purpose, from G.F.S. Constitution)

GFS, U.S.A. is at work in 1060 Parishes:

- in 77 dioceses in the U.S.A.
- in 10 missionary districts overseas
- 331 new branches
- and over 600 new leaders were added in the past three years

New Projects for Girls:

Camping; The GFS operated summer camps in 15 dioceses. Through a recent legacy the GFS has made a special study of its camping programs, developed a Counsellor-in-Training Program for girls and Creative Arts Camps held in summers of 1960-1961

- in Virginia
- in Missouri
- in California

Thompson House will be the home of the Creative Arts Camp.

Summer Opportunities:

The GFS "pre peace corps" has been at work for six summers. One hundred girls of high school and college age have given one hundred summers to working in the Church's mission fields from Mexico to Alaska, from California to Cuba. They have served in hospitals, on Indian Reservations, in rural and urban centers, carrying on vital programs for children and youth, learning about the world's needs and helping to meet them.

Woodward Scholarships:

Have been granted to five girls, to further their education.

G 3 Program:

special leadership program for girls has enlisted 200 girls.

GFS World Council:

The GFS, U.S.A. joins with 30 countries in the GFS World Council. Formed in 1955, the Council has held four meetings. The GFS, U.S.A. sent 3 delegates to the last meeting near Sydney, Australia, in 1959.

GFS Missions:

Mission study and giving are major concern in the GFS. Over the years the GFS has helped in almost every mission field of the Church and has given substantial gifts.

in 1959 to Liberia

in 1960 to Mexico

in 1961 to Central America and also Medicine Operation for Corn Island. "I can assure you that the GFS has been especially helpful to us in Liberia, not only with their contributions to our scholarship purposes, but also to the special project this year to help with our interior schools. For all of this we are most grateful." (B. W. Harris)

There were 33 girls that attended the GFS Conference at Thompson House in October.

Every parish participated in our Mission Object Program at St. Barnabas. Our Advent party was held at St. Stephens with a visit from St. Nicholas. We presented puppets to St. Stevens and Grace Hill House which were made by each parish group.

A gift of 7,014.77 dollars was made to help toward the construction of the Holiday House on Thompson House grounds. A silver tea was held in December to get people acquainted with the new Holiday House.

We have GFS Groups in the following parishes: Church of Ascension, St. Pauls Carondelet, two groups, St. Stephens—3 groups, St. Augustines, St. Barnabas, Florissant—3 groups, St. Pauls Overland, and the Sponsors Group.

St. Luke's Episcopal-Presbyterian Hospital

For a period of almost two years now it has been my pleasure to serve as President of the Board of Directors of St. Luke's. It has been an exciting and genuinely satisfying experience. From this vantage point, I have been able to observe the effective combination of individual and collective effort by members of your Board, the Medical Staff, the Administration, the Auxiliary and the entire Hospital organization through which new heights of service are being attained with each succeeding year.

In 1961, for example, as statistics presented elsewhere in this report reveal, we saw a greater utilization of facilities than ever before. At the same time, with the letting of contracts for a three-floor addition to the Fowler Wing, completion of which is anticipated for the late spring of 1962, we moved ever-closer to the original goals of our development program undertaken some ten years ago. The final phase of this program of a decade is already underway with preparation by architects and engineers of plans for a new three-story structure to connect with the existing building at the second, third and fourth floor levels on the north. To be erected over the Enright parking lot, this new wing will replace a major section of the yet unremodeled west wing of the old Hospital, renovation of which was first contemplated but later abandoned in favor of new construction on the basis of exhaustive architectural and engineering studies. We would hope that financial and other considerations would permit us to proceed with this work immediately upon completion of the Fowler Wing addition.

In this area of financing, it is with deep appreciation that we report gifts in 1961 of $573,206.84 made available to us for development purposes by virtue of the continuing generosity of individuals and organizations throughout the community. This brings gifts to the Development Fund since its establishment in 1951 to a total of $4,154,335.86. It should be recorded here that much of the success of this effort has been due to the efforts of one individual, Mr. Douglas V. Martin, Jr., whose devotion to the development task has been an inspiration to us all. With him in his well-deserved retirement, which became effective at the year's end, go our everlasting gratitude for a job well done and our sincerest wishes for many years of good health and happiness ahead.

Worthy of special mention also is the work of the Medical Staff in the area of fund raising. Generous in their support of this program since its inception, members of the Staff reached a new peak in their efforts in late November when, by virtue of their personal generosity and general solicitation, they presented the Board with additional Building Fund pledges totaling $116,456.00. Significantly, this came on an occasion at which members of the Board were guests of the Staff at a special gathering, a unique and much-appreciated demonstration of the superb Board-Staff relationships which we at St. Luke's enjoy.

Similarly, much could be said for the tremendous contribution of the Hospital's Auxiliary. They, too, not only through their day-to-day services as volunteers throughout the Hospital and in various other service capacities, but also the sponsorship of such special projects as the Antique Show, are rendering personal and financial support of real significance. Their program is an everexpanding one to the Hospital's increasing benefit.

No recount of 1961 highlights would be complete without reference to the near tragedy that occurred in late June when a fire of unknown origin broke out in the area of the new construction atop the Fowler Wing. Prompt, effective action by Hospital personnel prevented what might otherwise have been a holocaust. Happily, however, conditions were such that City firemen, police and their equipment were able to bring things under control quickly after arrival and disaster was avoided. Exhaustive tests revealed no major structural damage and construction proceeded with a minimum of delay. Our gratitude for such good fortune is beyond expression.

Thus the year just past was full indeed, not only with the problems of the moment but also with plans for further progress in the future. It is with considerable satisfaction that we look behind us and with eager confidence that we look ahead.

To all of those who are contributing so importantly in so many ways to the work of St. Luke's, we of the Board are deeply grateful.

W. BOARDMAN JONES, JR.
President, Board of Directors

Experiencing a higher percentage of occupancy, a great number of admissions and a greater demand for service in all departments than in any previous year, St. Luke's in 1961 operated at a faster pace and under greater pressure than ever before. That the Hospital responded successfully to such additional demands for service without any significant increase in facilities is indeed a tribute to the Medical Staff, the personnel, the volunteer organization and others who were directly involved. These developments did, however, serve to emphasize the need for the additional patient accommodations which will become available with the completion of the Fowler Wing expansion in the spring. At that point, we shall achieve a bed capacity of 350, 50 more than at present including a substantial increase in private rooms, the demand for which has long exceeded the supply.

Equally important, however, is our task of gearing other facilities through additional equipment and personnel to meet the greater patient load which will result from the increase in bed capacity, and it is to this end that much of our planning in 1961 has been directed.

Looking at 1961 from a standpoint of dollars and cents, we see here also a reflection of greater service volume. Income for the year, including $38,465.22 as a United Fund allocation, totalled $3,875,998.35. This was $337,861.52 more than the figure for the year before. Expense in the amount of $3,848,214.84 left a favorable balance of $27,183.51. This is a particularly satisfactory outcome in view of the fact that during 1961 we were able to make certain adjustments upwards in salaries of personnel and, at the same time, maintain the long-standing policy of funding our depreciation account without any increase in rates and charges.

Also of great satisfaction as we review the record of the year just past is the volume of service provided by the Hospital for those who could not pay or who could pay only in part. The value of such care exceeded $384,000.00. Nearly 1200 in-patient admissions and more than 15,000 out-patients visits in the free and part-pay category were recorded. Specialty clinics available to these patients included, of course, medicine, surgery and obstetrics and numerous others as well, ranging from allergy to arthritis and from dermatology to diabetes.

Paralleling this growing program of free care was that for the graduate training of physicians at intern and resident levels. Under the direction of our chiefs of service, assisted by members of the attending staff, important progress was made in 1961 to broaden and strengthen the Hospital's efforts in these areas. At the same time, taking advantage of the new academic and dormitory facilities opened in 1960, the program of the School of Nursing was enlarged and its enrollment increased.

As we look to the year ahead we can anticipate many things. First and foremost, of course, will be an enlarged operation as a result of additional bed capacity. We know, too, that we shall be dealing with many of the old and, in all probability, a number of new problems in such areas as cost, utilization, reimbursement and the like. Inevitably, we shall also be required to respond to new and challenging demands brought on by virtue of the continuing advance of medical science.

As developments of whatever nature occur, an organization that is alert to the problems they present and fully capable of meeting them will be essential. It will be our objective at the administrative level, under the leadership and guidance of the Board and with the assistance of the Medical Staff and other segments of the Hospital community, to see that such an organization is provided.

Grace Hill House

1962 is a year of crisis for Grace Hill House. Decisions will be made by the Board of Directors in this regard which have implications reaching beyond the agency.

We have received word from the United Fund that they will not support the clinic beyond September 30, 1962. The Board of Directors have passed the following resolution:

"This Board has considered studies of the Grace Hill House Clinic all of which indicate need for this service in this neighborhood. We have seen no studies to the contrary and have no knowledge of other facilities being available to meet this need. We strongly recommend that this Clinic be continued."

At the present time we are actively working to assure this needed service to North St. Louis.

Our financial crisis is in some ways more grave and results from our not having received any additional income from the United Fund over the past 5 years.

Our current '61-'62 Budget is.....		$88,642
Receipts: United Fund	$63,341
Agency Income	12,985	76,326
Deficit		$12,316

The expenditure of $10,250 designated funds and accumulated reserves will reduce the deficit to $2,066.

While a balanced budget appears to be a possibility in this fiscal year, it is impossible for '62-'63 for the following reasons:

1. Costs will increase total budget.....	$ 3,500
2. Reserves will be depleted.....	3,250
3. Loss of designated gifts.....	2,500
	$ 9,250
Final deficit of '61-'62.....	2,066

Anticipated deficit '62-'63.....	$11,316
----------------------------------	----------

Facing an $11,300 deficit would require drastic curtailment of services by the Board of Directors. Reduction of services to such an extent can only be justified by a closing of all building centered program and a return to the Diocese of all the Hadley and Benton Street properties. The cash saving would be better than $13,000 and the loss of income would be less than $1,000, thus making a balanced budget possible. This is the only reduction that could be made that would not involve a loss of direct service personnel to the neighborhood.

In summary: If Grace Hill House does not receive financial relief in its next fiscal year, October 1962 to September 1963, it will in all probability discontinue both clinic services and all building centered programming at the Hadley Street properties by September 1962. Both are needed community services which have proven to be effective and should not be denied the residents of this area.

Episcopal City Mission

Your City Mission Society conducts the Protestant chaplaincy service of the City and County Juvenile Courts, Missouri Hills, Meramec Hills and the City House of Detention. Our chaplain, the Rev. Arthur England, works with and counsels the children from the time they first come in contact with the court until their final release, and, in many cases, continues to minister to them during their period of readjustment to living in the community. He also counsels with the children's families, conducts Sunday services at the institutions, supervises the Sunday Schools, and performs many other valuable services. This chaplaincy is part of the Episcopal Church's participation in the work of the Metropolitan Church Federation.

The other part of our ministry to young people is the Youth Counseling Service at 4657a Maryland Avenue. The Youth Counseling Service was established by the City Mission Society in 1960 to provide a place to which boys and girls with mild emotional problems could go for help. It brings together the disciplines of pastoral counseling, psychiatry, psychology and social work. The response has been so great that we are operating at our case load capacity and have a waiting list of young people desiring our assistance.

During the past year, your Board of Directors has been considering various ways to improve the effectiveness of our chaplaincy to the courts and institutions and of the Youth Counseling Service. Following an exhaustive study on the part of the Board, a plan has been adopted whereby the two phases of our operation will be more closely coordinated. The principal features of the new plan (which will take effect this summer) are expansion of case load capacity of the Youth Counseling Service, enlargement of the professional staff, direct participation of our full-time counselors in both chaplaincy and youth counseling, and a more integrated operation of both services.

Our expanded service will continue to be under the direction of the Rev. Dr. Billy B. Sharp who became our director last June. He will be assisted by the Rev. William Finlaw and the Rev. Edward Stevens, both of whom will join our staff this summer. The Rev. Mr. Finlaw comes to us from the West Convocation of our Diocese where he has been the rector of St. James Church, Macon, and the vicar of St. Barnabas Church, Moberly. The Rev. Mr. Stevens, a Methodist minister, is currently a member of the staff of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry in New York. Before coming to St. Louis, he will have completed the requirements for qualification as a supervisor under the Council of Clinical Training.

Paul Painter, M.D., and George Benson, M.D., will continue to serve as our psychiatric consultants, and Robert Lefton, Ph.D., as our psychological consultant. We may also continue to employ psychological social workers on a part-time basis. In addition to our professional staff, many people-Episcopalians and others-render valuable volunteer service as Sunday School teachers, pianists, recreation leaders and in various other ways.

The Board of Directors would like to express its appreciation to the people of the Diocese for your continuing interest in the work of the City Mission Society. Your questions, comments, and suggestions are always welcome.

THE EDUCATIONAL CENTER
(The Episcopal Home for Children)*DIRECTOR'S REPORT — MAY, 1962

The hour of Church school has been called "the most wasted hour" of the week. Many an honestly frustrated clergyman or Church school teacher will agree with this designation.

The general frustration in regard to carrying out this task seems to be based upon a no less general lack of clarity as to what on earth the task really is. For years a haphazard attempt was made to familiarize children with certain Bible stories, Christian cultic practices, and what the Church does for the heathen in far-off lands, in the vain hope that in some mystical fashion this would produce a Christian generation. Usually the "moral" or application would be pointed out. For instance the parable of the Good Samaritan would be followed by, "This tells us that we should be kind to people in trouble." Quite aside from the fact that this was not the point of the parable, the result of this kind of application or moralizing from scripture has resulted in driving our children away in droves and in making religion as meaningless as possible for those who remain.

In recent years, the bankruptcy of so much that has been going on in the name of religious education has become more and more apparent, and some genuine efforts have been made to attack the problem. Various denominations have spent millions of dollars putting out new and "modernized" curriculum materials to provide "answers" to the problem, but few have given more than a passing glance at what the problem actually is. Simply to dress up old answers (which even in the past spoke to few questions) has worsened the situation by giving to some a false sense of accomplishment.

Self-criticism being one of the prerogatives of our Protestant heritage, we are in a great and goodly company when we criticize the Church for its pious moralism and its empty symbolism. But simply to criticize the situation without getting at some of the underlying problems is not very helpful. Why is the Church so piously and ineffectively moralistic? Why have its symbols lost their power?

All of this leads to a basic question: What is the Church really in business for? The obvious answer to this question is that the Church must provide the means whereby people may move into that type of wholeness—that fullness of life—of which our Lord spoke. The Church seeks to provide these means through its worship and its education. If these be the chief functions of the Church, we should be inclined to place the blame for our bankruptcy on the latter and not on the former. Both liturgical and free forms of worship are highly developed amongst us. The rites and rituals themselves possess richness of meaning, but the keys to their secrets have never been passed around. We have great respect for the liturgical movement in our time. It is important and should continue. But if it is, in any way, to fulfill its purpose, it must be accompanied by an educative movement directed toward fullness of life rather than the emptiness of a stultifying mold of conformity.

Worship might be described as the symbolic form of man's ultimate response to his Lord. But as Bryan Green once asked poignantly, "What does 'crown him with many crowns' mean to a man who can't even crown him with one crown?" In other words, why do we give so much attention to the symbolic form of an ultimate response when so many of us have yet to grow into the making of preliminary responses? In some ways our almost exclusive emphasis on worship is comparable to talking continually about quanta and relativity to people who haven't yet learned how to count. Education must enable man to move into such an awareness of himself and his responses that he may have the capacity to make his ultimate response, his faithful response to his Lord. Then may man's worship become reflective of that which is truly within him rather than what sometimes appears to be a piously fraudulent sabbatical activity.

Let us stay a moment with the business of responses. Why do I respond as I do? Why do I decide as I decide and act as I act? It takes a great deal of courage to know myself well enough to answer these questions. It takes the "courage to be" as Paul Tillich calls it—the courage to be the person that I was created to be. I must know this person to be this person.

Man makes many of his responses in life autonomously. In autonomy, man attempts to derive the courage to be from himself. He decides, acts, responds on the basis of what he on his own can do for himself. His courage to be comes from his own power. In community, however, man cannot always live autonomously, and he often moves into heteronomy. In heteronomy, one derives the courage to be from the group. We see this reflected sharply in the group rule we live under as teen-agers and often later in life. Group laws do and must prevail, of course. Society as a whole demands and depends upon a collective type of response that may be reliable enough for stability. To a large degree, the Church has rightly appreciated this need and has historically sanctioned the mores of the culture in which it found itself with only occasional dissent. But man can move into heteronomy to such a degree that he finds his only courage to be in the safety of utter conformity. The Church, too, has often misused heteronomy and has attempted to push man into conformity for conformity's sake.

What of the alternative to autonomy or heteronomy? Here we may find ourselves closer to the heart of the Church's real business, the movement into theonomy. In theonomy one finds courage from himself and from the group but only through the grace of God. The real courage to be can come only from the power that created us to be. Theonomy is the business of responding not on the basis of an ego impulse or on the basis of mass pressure, but rather in the light of one's confrontation with his God. Notice particularly that we did not say response on the basis of what one knows about God. If, as Jeremiah points out, God writes his law on men's hearts, this law is not verbalized but springs out of a relationship. Martin Buber puts this succinctly, "Of God's will we know only the eternal; the temporal we must command for ourselves, ourselves imprint his wordless bidding ever anew on the stuff of reality." Here we would have to say that the blind adherence to the Ten Commandments or any other ethical code is not theonomy. This is back to heteronomy. This is copying someone else's response, with no knowledge of who we are or of what our own true responses are.

The story is told in the New Testament Apocrypha of our Lord walking in the fields one Sabbath with his disciples when they came upon a man gathering wheat. The indignation of the disciples at this violation of the group standard was given pause when Jesus said to the man, "If thou knowest what thou doest, thou art blessed; if thou knowest not, thou art accursed and a transgressor of the law." (The law here is theonomous.) As an old Chinese proverb puts it, "The good man keeps the law and when the time comes, disregards it." (A theonomous response can adhere to the group standard [law], but the law written on the heart is greater than this.) Theonomy transcends and reconciles autonomy and heteronomy.

It would seem to be the nature of the educative function to provide a milieu within which people may move toward the theonomous or faithful response. The process, then, is one of so moving toward confronting and being confronted by our Lord that we neither pause on the banks of a thin moralism (heteronomy), nor rush back to the Elysian fields of ego-determinism (autonomy), but plunge into the waters of life—where He is the way—but at the same time He is in us and we in Him.

This is a movement toward wholeness—toward the fulfillment of the potential God created in each individual self. Therefore this is the fulfillment of creation—the bringing of order out of chaos. It is precisely not a business of getting to be like some people who are “good,” even of copying the saints. The “imitatio Christi” is not copying his behavior, but rather imitating his movement into the depths of his own reality by moving into that reality which is ours. Martin Buber speaks of Rabbi Zusya who said a short time before his death, “In the world to come I shall not be asked, ‘Why were you not Moses?’ I shall be asked, ‘Why were you not Zusya?’”

In the fourth century the Church became accepted in the Roman Empire. Inevitably the Church in turn began to accept many of the Greek thought patterns prevalent in that culture, particularly in the area of speculative thought. It has been suggested that the direction of the Church’s movement for many a century thereafter—toward an identification of the nature of God—cued toward abstraction. It is small wonder that a large number of clergy and a still larger number of our lay teachers and leaders have seen the Church’s task in terms of teaching people about God and “about the specifics of how He wanted them to behave.”

All through the Church’s history there were suggestions of another direction. St. Augustine said, “Go not outside; return into thyself. Truth dwells in the inward man.” Two hundred years ago Schleiermacher sharply identified the radical change of direction which points to a revolution going on in our time. The issue is not to make God the object of man’s speculation, but rather as he said for “man to make himself the subject of his own inquiry.” Then if he moves toward the very ground of his own existence, he will be moving toward God. St. Paul’s emphasis on God as the very ground of being is pertinent here.

Further, this type of theological revolution often identified by Tillich in his hue and cry against “teaching people about God” has implications for the religious educational process which has received scant attention.

It is certainly within this setting forth of the problem that the Educational Center’s work is being done. Religious education is seen neither simply as a passing along of information (Bible, Church history, etc.) nor is it seen as a “meeting of needs,” but rather as an identifying and facing into the issues of existence where life is under pressure and one’s responses to life are being shaped. The lore of the Church is largely the story of a folk to whom we have kinship who faced the same kind of things and in whose responses we can see our own reflected.

The Registrar

The Registrar of a Diocese holds a constitutional office and is charged with doing certain things—the recording of official acts (ordinations, receptions and dismissals of clergy, consecrations of bishops and of churches, etc.) and the safe keeping of books, documents and manuscripts belonging to the Diocese. In this modern age the list now includes audio-visual records, recordings and films. All these are now enclosed in some steel cabinets in the Diocesan offices on the fifth floor of Bishop Tuttle Memorial. Having overflowed the new space thus made available, we are now using two rooms on the sixth floor.

Beyond the safe keeping of documents many Diocesan Registrars are also writers of history. Last summer the Historiographer of the University of the South invited us to a two-day conference in Sewanee. I was unable to attend this, but I do have the record of the meeting and am in correspondence with several of those present.

We continue to provide resource material for persons interested in parish and diocese history and have had requests for information as far away as Salisbury, England. Other groups use our files from time to time and our correspondence, while not voluminous, is of interest.

Chapter IV, The Episcopate of Bishop Tuttle, of my projected History of the Diocese, has been published by the Missouri Historical Society, in April, 1962. Chapter V, which will include the Episcopate of Bishop Johnson, is now in the stage of research. I hope to see this published in the coming year.

Again, may I ask that nothing be thrown away which might look of interest or the slightest value historically. President Truman has said that every scrap of paper connected with a President has value. So, may I add, is every item concerned with the Church or its members. Let me have a look at it first. Historians of the future will be immensely grateful.

The Missouri Trustees of the University of the South

The people of the Diocese of Missouri, along with those of twenty other dioceses of the Protestant Episcopal Church, are the owners of one of the finest educational institutions in our country. The University of the South is a Christian institution, with a clearly discerned philosophy of Christian education. It has no religious restrictions but presumes the disposition of all members of its community to live within the spirit of its controlling concepts. Young men of all denominations are enrolled in the student body.

The Domain of the University of the South comprises ten thousand acres of land in the Cumberland Mountains at Sewanee, Tennessee, two thousand feet above sea level. The campus at Sewanee is one of the most beautiful in the world. On it are the three schools which you own.

First, the undergraduate college. It has a student body of 650 men (six from the Diocese of Missouri), and is renowned for its high academic standards and achievements. Practically every state of the union is represented in the student body, as well as several foreign countries. Sewanee accepts 180 freshmen each year, choosing them from approximately 1,500 applicants. Sewanee has produced as many Rhodes Scholars as any school of its size any place.

The University of the South has pioneered in non-subsidized athletics, competing in a well rounded interscholastic program including football, basketball, track, swimming, tennis, golf, wrestling, and baseball. The emphasis of the program is on participation, both in interscholastic and intermural sports. It is interesting to note that the chapel holds more people than does the stadium. Incidentally, the emphasis of the religious life of the students is also that of participation: there are chapel services every day and attendance is required.

The Sewanee Military Academy is an excellent preparatory school with an enrollment of approximately 250 young men. It has the highest rating given by the Defense Department for military schools. Like the college, it has a well rounded athletic program to complement its excellent academic stature.

The third institution on the Domain is St. Luke's Seminary, with an enrollment of about 90 men who are preparing themselves to become the future clergymen of our Church. At the present time, clergymen from the School of Theology are serving in 80% of the dioceses and districts of the Church. In addition to the School of Theology, the University provides an excellent opportunity for the clergy to engage in post-ordination study through the facilities of the Graduate School of Theology which is in session during the latter part of the summer. Last summer 68 men were enrolled in this school.

This past year saw the completion and dedication of the new Guerry Memorial Hall. Among the outstanding features of this fine class room building are the auditorium with seating capacity for more than 1000, rated by critics as one of the finest in the area, and in which have already been presented an impressive array of concerts; and a fine and elaborate language laboratory. Architects' drawings have been prepared for a new library building to accommodate 1500 students, and to cost about $1,500,000. A new forestry building, to cost about $110,000 and already almost completely financed largely through the efforts of private individuals, should be under construction soon. The Forestry Department's move to this building will release their present space in Science Hall and will help ease crowded conditions there. Special consideration has been given by the Board of Regents to the establishment of a school of law or a two-year school of medicine, as well as to increasing the graduate offerings at the Master's level.

The Trustees of the University, made up of two lawymen and one clergyman and the bishops from each owning diocese, at their last meeting passed a resolution making it clear that there are no racial barriers to entrance to any of the schools of the University of the South. This action has also led to efforts on the part of the administration and Board of Regents to open all University owned facilities on the Domain to all students, faculty members, and official guests of the University, regardless of race or color.

Your trustees have been in active and intimate contact with these developments, and feel that much real progress has been achieved. University officials have been most cooperative and sincere in their efforts to assure that the University reflects in its life and posture the attitude and understanding of the Church of which it is a part. This is, in many ways, a difficult process, not susceptible to easy or simple solution. Your trustees pledge to you their sincere and concerned efforts toward affecting the full implications of the action of the Trustees in their resolution.

It is imperative that the Diocese of Missouri continue, and increase, its support of the University of the South in these difficult times. This support must reflect not only sincere Christian action concerning the life and policies of the University, but realistic financial support and the recommendation of this fine University to our young men. The goal of the Trustees of the University of the South is to have each communicant give one dollar per year toward the support of the school. Some owning dioceses have met this ideal, but ours is far, far, short.

We have both a frightening responsibility and a challenging opportunity to exercise a real and vital ministry as owners of this Christian University. Your trustees are always happy to speak with you about the University of the South.

Respectfully submitted,
 THE RIGHT REVEREND GEORGE L. CADIGAN
