Rules of Order of the Convention

1. The daily sessions of the Convention shall be opened with Divine Service.
2. When the President takes the chair, no member shall continue standing or shall afterwards stand up, unless to address the chair.
3. When the President shall have taken the chair, the Minutes of the preceding day shall be read.
4. During the Convention the following named Committees shall be appointed by the Bishop:
 - I. On Admissions of New Parishes and Lay Credentials.
 - II. On Constitution and Canons.
 - III. On Dispatch of Business.
 - IV. On the Bishop's Address.
5. All Committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered.
6. All resolutions shall be reduced to writing, presented to the Secretary, and read by him. A resolution that is not a part of a committee report may be introduced only at the time indicated in the Order of Business. All resolutions, except those forming a part of a committee report, shall be referred immediately after introduction without debate to a special or standing committee.
7. When any member is about to speak, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall, with due respect, address himself to the President, confining himself to the point in debate.
8. Any member shall not absent himself from the service of the House unless he have leave or be unable to attend.
9. A member, other than the Chairman of the committee whose report is under consideration, shall not speak more than twice in the same debate, nor longer than ten minutes at a time, without leave of the House.
10. Any member of the House may call for a vote by Ayes or Nays.
11. When a question has once been determined it shall stand as the judgment of the House, and shall not again be drawn into debate except on motion of reconsideration, which must be made by a member who had previously voted in the majority, and all motions to reconsider must be made on the day the vote is taken, or on the next succeeding day.
12. When a question is under consideration, a motion shall not be received, except to lay it upon the table, to postpone to a certain time, to postpone it indefinitely, to commit it, to divide it or amend it, and motions for any of these purposes shall have precedence in the order herein named. If a motion to lay an amendment on the table be carried, the matter before the House shall be proceeded with as if no such amendment has been offered. The motions to lay upon the table and to adjourn shall be decided without debate. The motion to adjourn shall always be in order. No motion shall be considered before it is seconded.

14. All amendments may be considered in the order in which they are moved. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made. An after-amendment to such second amendment shall be in order; but when an amendment to an amendment is under consideration, a substitute to the whole matter may be received. A proposition different from the one under consideration shall not be received under color of an amendment or substitute.

15. Every member who may be in the House when any question is put shall, in division, be counted unless he be excused by the Convention.

16. All questions for order shall be decided in the first instance by the Chair, without debate; an appeal, however, may be made from his decision to the Convention by any member of the same.

17. The Secretary may employ one or more pages, not exceeding three, to act as messengers during the sessions of the Convention.

18. The reports of all Committees shall be in writing, and shall be received, of course, without motion for acceptance, unless recommended by a vote of the House. All reports recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the House shall be accompanied by a resolution for the action of the House thereon. All annual reports shall be received and filed by the Secretary as presented before or during the Convention, and may be called upon motion to be read and considered at any time during the Convention.

19. The names of movers of resolutions shall appear in the minutes of the Convention.

20. All motions and resolutions requiring reference shall be referred as far as possible, to the Standing Committees.

MINUTES

Calvary Church
Columbia, Missouri
May 3, 1963

The Clergy and Lay Delegates to the One Hundred Twenty-Fourth Convention of the Diocese of Missouri, Protestant Episcopal Church, assembled in the Parish Hall of Calvary Church, Columbia, at 3:00 P.M., on Friday, May 3, 1963.

The Rt. Rev. George L. Cadigan, D.D., Bishop of the Diocese, was in the chair and opened the session with prayer.

The Rev. Richard H. Ash, rector of Calvary Parish, welcomed the Convention to Columbia, noting that this is the first time the Convention has met in Columbia since 1922, and the first time outside St. Louis since that year.

The Secretary of the Diocese called the roll of Clergy. Of the 71 entitled to seats and votes, 47 responded.

The Secretary then called the roll of Parishes and Missions. Of the 53 entitled to representation Delegates from 47 responded.

A quorum being present in both Orders the Bishop declared the Convention duly convened.

The Secretary introduced Resolution no. 1:

RESOLVED that the Rules of Order of the 123rd Convention be adopted for this Convention and that Rule no. 23 which sets forth the Order of Business may be suspended by the Bishop at any time; and be it further

RESOLVED that all Postulants and Candidates for Holy Orders, all active and licensed Lay Readers and full and professional Church Workers be admitted to seats without votes in this Convention; and be it further

RESOLVED that the Order of Business shall be substantially as follows: (See page 26 of the Journal.)

The Venerable Charles F. Rehkopf was re-elected Secretary of the Convention and of the Diocese by acclamation.

The Bishop announced the appointment of Committees to serve through this Convention:

Lay Credentials and Admissions of New Parishes: The Rev. Arthur R. Steidemann, The Hon. Rodney A. Weiss, Mrs. Kenneth Hudson.

Constitution and Canons: The Rev. Joseph T. Swift, the Hon. William R. Bascom, Mr. G. Carroll Stribling, Mr. Jack Allen.

Dispatch of Business: The Secretary of the Convention

Election Procedure: The Very Rev. Ned Cole, Mr. G. Carroll Stribling, the Deans of Convocation.

Resolutions: Mr. Walter Swearngen, Dr. William Clark, The Rev. Daniel E. Weeks.

The Bishop called for the Report of the Committee on Lay Credentials and New Parishes. The Rev. Mr. Steidemann reported that all Parishes and Missions of the Diocese had completed payment of the 1962 Assessment except St. Jude's Church, Monroe City, and Christ Church, Cape Girardeau, and under the Canons of the Diocese all are entitled to representation in the Convention except these two. This report was accepted.

The Rev. Mr. Steidemann then presented a second portion of the report of his Committee: "The Mission known as 'St. Matthew's' located in Warson Woods, having filed its application with the Bishop for admission as a parish into union with the Convention pursuant to Canon 13, and thereafter, the Bishop having referred the application to this committee with his endorsement of approval, this Committee reports as follows: This Committee, after careful consideration of the foregoing application, reports that the Mission known as 'St. Matthew's' has duly complied with all requirements of Canon 13 and therefore recommends to this Convention that 'St. Matthew's', Warson Woods, be admitted as a parish into union with the Convention."

The Rev. Mr. Ostenson and the delegation from St. Matthew's Church, Warson Woods, were present and called to the platform to be introduced. Upon motion, duly seconded, the report of the Committee was adopted, and St. Matthew's Church, Warson Woods, was admitted into the Convention as a Parish. The Senior Warden of the new Parish spoke briefly, expressing gratitude for the never-failing support of the Diocese. The Bishop took note of the incomparable strides the Mission had made. The Doxology was sung to complete the ceremony.

The Bishop then called for the report of the Committee on Election Procedure. The Very Rev. Ned Cole reported for the Committee. He said that the Chancellor had ruled that only one office need be filled by a vote by Orders, that of member of the Standing Committee. He explained the procedure that would be followed in this Convention in casting of ballots.

The Rev. Mr. Langlitz presented a petition signed by himself and the Rev. Messrs. Hohenschild, Maurer, Washburn and McCowan petitioning for a vote by Orders in the election of Deputies to General Convention. This petition being proper under provisions of Article XV of the Constitution the Chair ruled that election of Deputies would be by Orders.

Upon motion by Dean Cole, seconded, it was voted that after the completion of the election of Deputies to General Convention candidates for Provisional Deputy be nominated from the floor and that a simple majority of both Orders voting together be sufficient for election.

Dean Cole then proposed for the Committee that since ample opportunity had been given for nominations by mail no further nominations for any office be received unless accompanied by a petition signed by any five Clergymen or five Lay Delegates representing at least three parishes or Missions. No objections being heard, it was so ordered by the Chair.

Dean Cole then presented the following nominations which had been received by mail:

Appendix No. 1

The Bishop's Address

We are grateful to be the guests of Calvary Parish. Situated in a setting of academic learning, Christian College, Stephens College and the University of Missouri, we are mindful of the devoted ministries of the Reverend Richard Ash, the Reverend William Tibbett, Miss Ann Luther, and that of our laity in this college community. We are aware of the pressing need to complete the student chapel, and it is my hope that this may be achieved before the end of 1964. The Church's ministry to college men and women is perhaps our greatest responsibility and privilege.

There are more than 1900 colleges and universities in the United States. The Episcopal Church ministers in these institutions with only one worker for each 40,000 students. Most apparent and most challenging are the large tax-supported universities, and the commuter colleges which stand in the main stream of American life.

They are in the "main stream" because these institutions and others like them are the resource of training for the technology, the industrialization, the Social Sciences, City Planning and all of the other technical disciplines on which our modern industrial urban culture has placed its hopes for making orderly the chaos of our contemporary scene. These educational resources either will or will not be informed by the Christian understanding of the nature of God and the nature of man.

Too often, the attitude of the Church toward institutions of higher learning might be termed "operation rescue." The task has been one of defending and protecting the faithful youth from the so-called godlessness of the academic world. The stress has been largely on the traditional, and most campus life has swept past, unconcerned and unimpressed.

This is a very highly personalized problem facing the Church. What forces of insight and of depth will be brought to bear upon your children and my children to shape their attitudes toward the world in which they find themselves and their relationship to and their understanding of it? Because the task is so great, there must be a very realistic application of the ministry of lay persons. The Church must reach out to the people actually in the situation — graduate students, faculty, and administrative personnel, if the ministry of the Church is to be adequately manned. It is those persons serving within the disciplines of mathematics, science, philosophy — who can relate that information about life to the Christian understanding of life. We must have in this mission area of the Church those who are "naive," who "speak the language," who understand the life of the people to be ministered to. A dedicated ministry — clerical and lay — prayer, intelligent concern and financial assistance — must be the response of the whole Diocese to our ministry to those institutions of higher learning in St. Louis, Cape Girardeau, Columbia, Moberly, Jefferson City, Kirksville, Hannibal, Rolla, Fulton and St. Charles.

We turn now briefly to other familiar matters of concern. We are aware of the increasing financial difficulties that are besetting various state and local governmental entities, particularly school districts. The financial needs to support such services, particularly the education of our citizenry, have increased substantially in the past decade, and will continue, by all projections, to do so in the decades immediately ahead. These needs in our present structure of taxation are met to a large extent from taxes levied on property. To the extent that church-owned property is exempt from such taxation, the problem is being aggravated. In the City of St. Louis, for example, a large proportion of the potential tax base is withdrawn from taxation for this reason. It has been estimated that, throughout the nation, although thirty years ago approximately four percent of taxable property was so withdrawn from the tax base — today such percentage is closer to ten percent. The Church and this Diocese are obviously not sufficiently affluent to solve such governmental financial problems; on the other hand, it does appear to be a proper matter for Christian concern and consideration. It may be that, when possible, the Church should make gifts, as symbols of interest to municipal and city governments.

Another grave concern lies in the area of race relations. I speak of this with much reluctance, because so much has been said and so little has been achieved. Conferences, sermons, resolutions and words without surcease have been offered to our colored brethren, who have every right to inquire, "Do you really mean what you say?" For Christ's sake, (I say this reverently), what a sadness, what a tragedy — that in this State of Missouri, where God has placed us — a public accommodations bill has not yet been approved. Have you ever sat in a restaurant, or in a hotel, in the town or city where you live, and seen Negroes refused service? It makes you want to vomit. House Bill No. 182 is now pending before the General Assembly of Missouri. It provides for the prohibition of discrimination on account of race, creed, color or national origin in places of public accommodation. It is our bounden duty, it is our Christian privilege to struggle for the passage of this bill. The Church is under that judgment of Almighty God, from which no Christian can escape. "God gave Noah the rainbow sign. No more water, the fire next time."

A bill to prohibit capital punishment in Missouri is also before the General Assembly. The General Convention of the Episcopal Church and the Diocesan Convention of Missouri have at other times declared against capital punishment. In this area, also, we must again express ourselves, and work for the elimination of a medieval practice, which is neither Christian nor sound preventive medicine.

There are still some who believe that the Church must restrict herself to libations of sentimentalism on Sunday mornings. Chambers of Commerce, the American Bar Association, labor unions, the John Birch Society and Americans for Democratic Action each expresses itself on issues of public concern. Those who would silence the Churches apparently seek to approximate the atrophied Churches of Russia, where worship is permitted, but the gospel cannot be proclaimed because it does not coincide with the ideology of dialectical materialism. If we would remain free from the heresy of Marxist Communism, then the Church must maintain her freedom. As Bishop Sherrill has so well said, "There can be no artificial division between the sacred and the secular. The Churches, if they are the expressions of the purpose and the Will of God, cannot be limited . . . to special fields of worship. The conviction of a Saving Gospel must be extended and applied to every aspect of life. The Gospel has to do with international relations, with peace or war, with the atom bomb, with economic conditions, with family life. For nothing human can be alien to the law of God in Christ. The Church cannot be simply a reflection of the prejudices, opinions and standards of contemporary society. For the Church has the task of being the light of the world and must view life, insofar as this is possible, within the limits of humanity from the point of view of the eternal."

The Church must speak the truth with courage, but also with charity. Righteous indignation is consistent with the ethical teachings of Jesus. Anger and hostility, born out of some Freudian involvement of personal insecurity, are not the proper backgrounds from which the Christian struggles with the evils of this world. Many of us were undoubtedly made angry long before we knew there were issues about which we have a right to be angry for Christ's sake. I sometimes experience great concern for those of us, who labor for high ethical principles in social issues, and yet in terms of personal relationships, personal standards and Christian piety in the best sense, are found wanting. All of us — clergy and laity — need to know more of the doctrine of Grace. There is nothing so important as to grow in Grace. Something of the simplicity of Christ, His selflessness, understanding, mercy, forgiveness and caring — for all sorts and conditions of men — are that background from which the prophetic ministry can speak with power and with love.

Episcopal Churchwomen

The Episcopal Churchwomen have worked hard and well together this past year. The Board has completed all projects, put its affairs in order in readiness for the approaching Triennial. The present Board has been "frozen" to serve as a Steering Committee.

Churchwomen are proud of their new HANDBOOK. It has been recommended to other dioceses by Miss Frances Young, Executive Director of the General Division of women's work as an "especially fine Handbook."

FOCUS, our Newsletter, is popular, improving communications, cutting down on mailings and postage. It now carries a resume of Board business to parishes. 10 copies are sent to each. Private subscriptions are available.

Last May at the instance of our CSR Chairman, the Board voted to support the Cuban Refugee Program of the National Council by sponsoring a Cuban girl, thus spear-heading the Program in this Diocese. Board funds and help from friends in several parishes made this possible. In October the CSR Chairman invited Mrs. Muriel Webb, Associate Director of CSR of the National Council to speak to the East Convocation on "The Church's Mission to the World." A Workshop was held at Grace Hill House with Mr. Eberle and Staff. Many volunteers worked on the new Food Stamp Program. Through the Metropolitan Federation work with prisoners at Tipton has continued, aid given to the families of some. This Diocese was the 5th to adopt the Episcopal Godparent's Plan administered by the CSR Dep't. of the Nat'l Council through its Division of World Relief and Inter-Church Aid. One parish has already adopted 3 children. Through the Diocesan Chairman of World Relief, funds, clothing and blankets have been collected. We are serving on Boards and supporting the work of the United Church Women and the Board of Religious Organizations.

The Personnel Chairman held a Vocational Day at Thompson House, another is planned. 3 nursing scholarships were given; aid to 2 college students, one attending theological seminary; several were sent on summer service projects; one goes to Alaska this summer.

Through the work of the Supply Dep't. St. Christopher's Indian Mission in Utah received much aid.

The National Book Fund received funds from the CPC Chairman. Through use of the Dime Cards more parishes have participated in this work.

The Altar Guild Chairman at the invitation of the Dean has invited women who are interested in the making of Altar linens to meet and sew monthly at the Cathedral.

The Christian Education Chairman compiled and made available to all parishes information on resources available in the Diocese and suggestions for adult study and discussion recommended by the Dep't. of Christian Education of the Nat'l. Council. Evaluation reports have been analyzed, findings submitted to the Diocesan Dep't. of CE for consideration in the planning of adult programs. A speaker's bureau made up of 4 chaplains to Episcopal students in this Diocese who have agreed to speak to church groups on their work has been set up by the CE Chairman and the Board. Each parish was so informed.

The Regional Chairman of the Nat'l. Cathedral Association reports 115 members in this Diocese.

4 delegates attended the Synod of the 7th Province in Mexico in September and since then have spoken in many parishes on the work of our Church in that Missionary Diocese. Board members serve on Departments, committees, vestries, boards. The Personnel Chairman serves on the Youth Work program of the Province; the Devotions Chairman on the corresponding Provincial Committee; the Secretary-Treasurer of the Province serves on our Board; your President is a member of the Provincial Nominating Committee and is also to serve as Panelist on the Role of the Laity at a Provincial Conference for men and women to be held in Texas.

The United Thank Offering speaks for itself.

'61 Fall Ingathering — 2,359 women	$ 6,740.00
'62 Spring Ingathering — 2,121 women	$ 6,170.00
Total UTO for 1 year only	$12,910.00
'62 Fall Ingathering — about 2,000 women	$ 6,541.92
	(incomplete)

The Fair Share Plan which enables all parishes to share in the total Program of our Church everywhere: '61-'62 total collected $6,744.00. 48 parishes paid (5 overpaid), 7 parishes did not pay (these are small missions and parishes where there is no organized women's group). Special Gifts '61-'62 (includes only those which went through the Diocesan Treasurer's books) total amount $12,903.01. These gifts went to the World, Nation, Diocese and Community.

Fair Shares to date (Feb. 4, 1963) — 30 parishes have paid in full, 12 parishes have made 2 payments, only 12 have made no payment to date. (These parishes are places where there is no organized women's group.) Total thus far — $4,758.19. Special Gifts to date (Feb. 4, 1963) — $7,008.70.

The Budget for '63-64 has been carefully reviewed, still held at $6,400.00. Of this $3,075 will go to the work of this Diocese. $1,875 will go to the Nation and World.

See the Financial Statement for detailed list of Special Gifts and itemized Budget.

I am deeply grateful to all officers and chairmen on the Board for their loving and efficient service this past year and to every Churchwoman in every parish who has given generously of herself, her time and talents.

To our Bishop whose support has been unflinching and the clergy who have helped us greatly, I give our sincere thanks and our pledge to support them in whatever way we can.

President

Laymen's League

There was an increased activity in the Laymen's League during the past year with two conferences for Lay Leaders held at Thompson House. The emphasis was upon providing a renewed understanding of the Ministry of the Laity and providing programs which could be used on a Parish level.

Dr. Howard Harper, Executive Director of the National Council's Department of Laymen's Work, attended two meetings in the Diocese.

A Resolution was proposed and presented to the Diocesan Council on March 13th for establishing a Department of Lay Ministry in the Diocese. The Resolution was adopted by the Council and referred to the Department on Constitution and Canons, and is to be presented to the Diocesan Convention for approval or rejection. It was felt that the inadequacy of the present organization lay in its lack of communication facilities, recognition, misunderstanding, and status. The purpose of the proposed Department would be to establish an improved means through which lay people could give expression to and perform their true ministry as Christians in the world. The new Department would concentrate on working with the other departments of the Diocese and with Parish groups to explore and explain the concept of the ministry of the laity; to awaken and motivate lay people regarding their true ministry; and to appraise and improve the means through which lay people could give expression to their opportunities in present Departments and Parish organizations. If this proposed Resolution is passed, the Laymen's League as now known will cease to exist and be replaced by the newly formed Department. The wish of the Council would be for the Episcopal Women's Auxiliary to maintain its present organization, but to become a part of the new Department.

FORREST F. CRANE, Chairman.

Appendix No. 7

The Department of Missions and Strategy, 1962

One looks at a glass and exclaims "It's half full!" Another laments "It's half empty!" So, depending on our mood and what kind of a response we want, we can present a list of doings which look like successes or we can be less optimistic and say we're scratching around, kicking up a lot of loose dust, when we ought to be plowing. Whatever the appraisal, your Diocesan Committee on Missions & Strategy meets frequently; wrestles with big ideas and makes lots of noises. Despite the noise and/or our successes and failures, as a Department we face and will continue to face Brobdingnagian tasks with what seems, to a disinterested observer, Lilluputian efforts. "The harvest truly is plenteous but the laborers are few! Pray ye . . . the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into His harvest." Fortunately our theology both saves and stimulates us at this point. We believe we are a sent as well as a gathered community; that the old cliché, "God calls us not to be successful but faithful!" The point of the parable of the sower is not the different kinds of soil, but that the sower kept sowing — or, what is it? "I planted, Appolos watered, but God gave the growth." Perhaps we should leave the coming and the fullness of the Kingdom to God—but we who have had a foretaste must pass this on to others and enable them to prepare for the dawn of the new day.

But this is too eschatological for the pressures under which a worldly Committee exists, so "leave us give" with the facts.

Last year we began to break out of our old ways and raise questions about the philosophy of our mission and test some of the givennesses of our history, procedures, and use of men and money. Some of us are not sure that salvation comes through the classical manner of expansion: a site, a man and 3 nice buildings. Perhaps God will not wait for this method, or maybe He's sick of this ordinary response to His Evangel. So we saw our task writ large in terms of "The Mission to Missouri, a Strategy." (We're still discussing all its implications, especially as we try to rouse one another and be roused as "The People of God.") In 1961, we worked out procedures in terms of our strategy and budget, which freed us from the "usual emergency requests." These were referred directly to Bishop and Council. That is, at the danger of being both legalistic and irrelevant, we made the Diocese aware of our presence.

Perhaps (and modestly so) in 1962 we began to make explicit our concept of "Mission to Missouri." — (the awakening of each baptized Episcopalian to the fact that he is a priest and evangelist, one of the people of God sent to proclaim the Good News). Hopefully some of the soul searching of the Department and our allies will be spelled out and dramatized in "Mission to Missouri" under the Chairmanship of The Rev. Pitt Willard next fall.

Although we work in 3 major areas, Urban, Suburban, and Town and Country, our greatest pressures and most activity concerned itself with the "inner city." This is a hard term to define and we realize that we live in the day of strip cities or megalopolis. The Bishop has insisted that we strive for both coordinated Episcopal effort and wherever possible, ecumenical cooperation. I suppose the biggest job, completed in the fall, was a survey of all the city parishes. Some frightening evidence of our weaknesses in and withdrawal from the city are set forth. Why did we make such a survey through Mr. Donovan and the Urban Division? Because we felt that we should strengthen existing work and inquire where we might open "new work." We needed the facts. The survey is in the process of being interpreted but one or two quick results may challenge us. Did you know that in 1940 we have 15 churches and today we only have 11 Episcopal churches for 800,000 people! Today we have only 2,500 communicants living within the city. On the positive side, our few churches have well-trained clergy and seemingly adequate facilities.

We did find 4 problem areas where help must be given: Ascension, Trinity, Grace Church and the near north side. Our Urban Committee and a finance committee worked with Church of The Ascension, helping them to assess their situation. Upon recommendation of the Department and others, the Bishop placed a curate in the parish. In addition, we supported their participation in the West End Oecumenical Parish and the use of Grace Hill House as a community resource to help them serve their neighborhood.

Because of many factors: 1) complicated relationship of Grace Hill House to Grace Church, 2) only a part-time priest at Grace Church, 3) radical changes in Grace Hill program, and the relationship of all of this to the Diocese, the situation of Grace Church and Grace Hill House has been confusing and difficult. Several actions were taken by the Department after much committee work: a) a full time man at Grace Church out of our $10,000 "new work" item was given top priority for 1963. Due to cutbacks of $20,000 in the Diocesan budget, this was knocked out. However, the Bishop assures us he will find other funds and place a man there in 1963. b) The Urban Division suggests other parishes call upon Grace Hill for professional help in ministering to their neighborhoods.

Temporarily we are unable to do anything for the near north side, where within a few blocks live 42,000 people (mainly negro), of whom 19,000 are children. The Church Federation has suggested teams of "detached" clergy representing at least 4 denominations, begin work. Although the need is great, we have not discussed "detached teams" enough nor do we have the money for personnel.

In addition, we have approved the Riverfront Mansion House Oecumenical Chapel. The department was clear that whereas it blessed the project, it could not see monies for it coming from current department budget. Extra or new money must be discovered for this Holy Adventure.

At the theoretical and academic level, 4 of our city priests and the director of Grace Hill House attended a Regional Metropolitan Conference sponsored by The National Council, held in Chicago early in 1963.

It is hoped, and plans are under way, that a Conference will be held in St. Louis in 1963 or 1964. In addition, many city clergy attended a Fall Washington U. Seminar on urban problems. The Archdeacon and Vice-Chairman attended the National Council of Churches Home Mission Meeting in St. Louis. The Archdeacon, Dr. Laird and the Vice-Chairman are members of the Church Federation's Department of Research and Planning.

When we move to the Suburban area, our Committee has a much clearer task. We must purchase sites before they get prohibitive in price and as quickly as possible get personnel and build the necessary basic units for the gathered flock. Here we are limited by the lack of a large rotating fund. Dr. Cox of the Church Federation is of inestimable value in helping all denominations plan wisely. During the year, Dr. Laird's division recommended purchase of a lot in Mattese in south county near highways 66 and 67. This was accomplished by Council. They also are looking for land in the Hazelwood-Bridgeton area. In order to unite our urban and suburban work, it is suggested that the suburban churches with a wealth of leadership and talent lend and provide personnel to the more desperate and undermanned city parishes. In some cases this is already being done.

Moving to the "out-of-St. Louis-area", things tend to move more slowly, as 80% of our resources are in the metropolitan area. However, modest and important steps have been made. Purchase of a new site for St. John's, Sullivan, has been recommended and made, as well as a recommendation for a $15,00 grant in 1963. Property for a student center in Columbia was suggested and purchased. Under the Rev. Arnold Mintz's direction, the Committee on a Diocesan Canon Missioner (to work outside the St. Louis area) recommend that we employ such a person. The department accepted the report and passed it on to the Council as a progress report for study.

For many years there have been several places in the "out-of-St. Louis-area" where it would appear that churches should be closed or several missions or aided places combine and become a parish. Little progress has been made here. We are often slaves to our past history and sentiment.

In addition to our Mission to Missouri, your department effected several things which concern the whole diocese. The first was unpleasant but necessary. We were directed by Council early in 1962 to trim our budget $2,000. We could not cut off heads. We felt that gas mileage and automobile expenses were the most logical spot. We felt we needed "controls" on these items. Unfortunately our decree hurt some men and places where salaries were low and parish income low. The department adopted the new policy only after the Archdeacon and our Committee had made an exhaustive study of the situation. One of the principles is that the local parish pay for extra trips and expenses not provided by the Diocese.

Another important Committee report was on "priorities" for 1963 and 1964. The Committee recommended Grace Church for 1963 but made it clear that this was not "new work," and that hopefully the 1964 budget would contain money for really truly "NEW WORK." When we know more about our urban demands, our list of priorities may change and/or grow.

Inasmuch as the Walker Trust Fund was left to be used for new work and not to pay for the expenses of the "front office", the Department has requested the Council to consider moving the Walker Trust money (income $16,000) out of the Diocesan Expense Fund and into the Department of Missions and Strategy. Obviously this will mean an increase in Diocesan assessments but how weak we are as a diocese if we can't afford the cost of our episcopate! As yet the Department has had no word from the Council or Finance Committee about this matter.

A goal of both Council and Department is that aided congregations diminish their subsidy in a planned fashion and if possible become self-supporting. Obviously some places (such as college work or under-privileged areas) never will. However, we have applied certain pressures under the duress of a deficit budget: a) instead of asking for a 10% reduction for the year, we asked the several churches to pay the 15% rector's pension item; b) the Bishop wrote letters asking for plans and progress on self help.

In summary, you can see your Department has worked hard if not always well and victoriously. Kirkegaard says one is always in the "process of becoming a Christian." We, by the Grace of God, are in process of discovering our mission. We have many dark clouds looming up, especially within the city, and our confusions of strategy both in urban and out-of-the-St. Louis area.

We do have our bright spots in the shining work at Warson Woods, Normandy and Ironton. I believe all were self-supporting during 1963.

What is our problem as a diocese? We are beginning to see the extent of our needs, endless though they may be. We lack enthusiasm and fire. We need men of zeal — "fools for Christ's sake!" We need unity within our own church — a concern that St. Stephen's problem or Kennett's problem, or Good Shepherd's situation is my problem. How do we get fired up? How do we rediscover that we are all, each and every one baptized into Christ's ministry? How do we discover "when one suffers, all suffer; when one is honored, all are honored?" I believe that by living some life together, by working together, the possibility of discovering our identity and commonness exists.

Hence I hope two events may help us find ourselves: a) Mission to Missouri in 1963, its preparation, execution and follow through, b) The General Convention in 1964. How well we know great crises, huge tasks which can devastate many, can be the means of grace and strength for others. I pray that by His Grace we may discover more deeply our servanthood and sonship, community and mission, through our labor in His Vineyard in 1963 and 1964.

APPENDIX: To oversee the program of St. Stephen's Church, St. Louis, so far as it is supported by the Diocese the Department of Missions and Strategy has appointed a special Committee known as St. Stephen's Board. Chairman is Mr. Richard Pier, a member of the Church of St. Michael and St. George. This Board has prepared a lengthy report of St. Stephen's Church and has submitted it to the Department. Too long to print here, some of the facts and figures are digested as part of the report of the Department.

1962 was the first full year in the new building at 14th and Park. Toward the end of the year the Rev. Charles Washburn resigned as rector. The Rev. Walter W. Witte, Jr., became rector on February 15, 1963. During the year a small but significant increase in attendance at worship was noticed. Weekday activities saw a larger increase. As Father Washburn left the communicant strength (in figures) took a sharp drop in number (a house-cleaning!). This does not reflect any significant change in active membership.

The immediate neighborhood around St. Stephen's Church is composed principally of public housing. Approximately 10,000 persons live within this neighborhood, 42% of them colored, 30% elderly white, 20% white families and 8% Indians. St. Stephen's is attempting to minister to all these a program of weekday activities and Sunday worship.

The Department of Christian Education

This Department is composed of 21 members, clerical and lay, who are either appointed by the Bishop, elected by the Convention or serve by virtue of their professional activities in Christian education in the Diocese. Five areas of Christian education are presently involved. Each Division has been active this year in offering supplementary aid to parishes and missions, or in preparing future aid.

The YOUTH DIVISION, under the chairmanship of the Rev. Roy Ostenson, has chosen directors and planned for the 1963 Summer Youth Conferences and the Music Camp (in cooperation with the Diocesan Music Commission). They are presently completing staff assignments and planning curriculum. The Music Camp will be held June 17 to 22; the Junior Conference August 13 to 20; and the Senior Conference August 22 to 31. This Division sponsored a reunion of '62 conferees at St. Mark's Church during the Christmas holidays, invited youth groups to the Jan. 6th Festival of Lights at the Church of the Ascension and presented a production of the religious musical revue "For Heaven's Sake" at the Church of St. Michael and St. George February 24 for senior youth groups and college students.

The TEACHER TRAINING DIVISION, the Rev. Jack Schweizer, chairman, presented a one day training session at the Cathedral Sept. 8, open to all Diocesan Church School teachers. A mid-year follow-up was held Jan. 6, with emphasis on the Hymnal, story-telling and audio-visual techniques as aids in teaching, and discussion of the aim of education in the Church schools. A more extensive session is planned for next fall.

The ADULT EDUCATION DIVISION, directed by Mrs. R. L. Christopher, has sent a request for outlines of parish experience to all rectors and is compiling a file of tested and recommended adult programs. These findings, plus outlines from Thompson House, the Education Center, the National Council and the Department of Christian Social Relations will be available to all parishes and missions in the Diocese. This Division includes representatives of the Laymen's League and the Episcopal Churchwomen.

The PARISH STRATEGY DIVISION, under the Rev. William Chapman, is concerned with helping parishes evaluate their educational programs and with making available to the Diocese leaders who will promote and encourage these programs. Particular attention is being given the needs and requests of the North, West and South Convocations.

The CONFIRMATION CURRICULUM DIVISION, has a newly appointed chairman, the Rev. Wilbur Tyte, who is studying and evaluating material gathered in an earlier survey. This Division hopes to assist those teachers, clerical and lay, who are responsible for the pre-Confirmation instruction of young people and adults.

In addition, a small group chaired by the Rev. Richard Bamforth, the NATIONAL COUNCIL LIASON DIVISION, tries to keep Department members aware of activities, programs, conferences and resources stemming from the National Department of Christian Education.

The chairman of this Department feels that any progress made this year is due to the interested participation of the members who found themselves with an inexperienced, untrained chairman who needed support and guidance. She has received it.

Department of Promotion

Since the function of the Department of Promotion is not fully expressed by the departmental name "promotion," it is well to start with a description of our purpose. Briefly the job of the Department is to help carry to members of the Diocese the news of the Holy Spirit's work in the Diocese and in the world, and to help carry to all persons—particularly those within the Diocese—news of the Holy Spirit's work as it is being done through members and institutions of the Diocese.

The Diocesan newspaper, NOW, is the largest single carrier of this news within the Diocese. Its circulation during the year averaged 9,527 copies per issue. Under the editorship of Mr. William L. Matheus, and with continuing assistance from Mr. Roger L. Johnson and Archdeacon Rehkopf, NOW continued to grow in effectiveness during the year. Evidence of the place NOW has gained in the Diocese through the years is found in the increasing frequency of the question "Can't we publish this in NOW?"

The total distribution of the 10 issues of NOW (publication is omitted in July and August) was 95,270 copies. Average cost was 6-8 cents per copy.

The most important medium through which news of the Holy Spirit's work throughout the world is communicated to Episcopalians is "The Episcopalian," magazine. During the year, St. Michael and St. George, Clayton, joined the list of diocesan parishes participating in "The Episcopalian's" Every Family Plan.

Other parishes in which every family receives "The Episcopalian" are Holy Cross, Poplar Bluff; Prince of Peace, St. Louis; St. Barnabas, Moberly; St. Francis, St. Louis County; St. Matthew, Mexico; St. Paul, and St. Timothy, St. Louis County.

During the latter part of the year, the Department began making plans for advance publicity, both local and national, for the 1964 General Convention.

Besides the Department's work, individual members of the Department contributed their communications skills in a number of ways. There are two noteworthy examples. John H. Leach continued to serve as vice president of the board of directors of "The Episcopalian." Mrs. Ruth Jacobson was asked to assist the Diocesan Missioner in his important work, described elsewhere in this Journal.

Appendix No. 10

The Department of Christian Social Relations

The Department of Christian Social Relations understands its function in the Diocese to include the following tasks:

I. We are the elected and appointed representative of the Church charged with the responsibility to study certain aspects of our culture and life, and to work for the establishment of a more just, free and equitable society.

The Department meets as a whole once a month to consider various aspects of community life and to take appropriate action. However, most of the work of the Department is carried out in six divisions and several commissions. Much of the balance of this report outlines the decision and action which the Department has undertaken in the past year. In this task our National Church has been of great help in supplying us with conference leaders and consultants who have helped us with special problems and concerns.

II. Of much greater importance, the Department is undertaking the task of helping individual parishes evaluate the needs and problems of their particular communities, to appraise their strengths and to address themselves to their local problems. In large measure a parish is the organization which alone can meet the local need.

III. Finally, and of greatest importance, the Department has a responsibility to assist the Church to train Church people in their vocations and individual situations, to function more effectively as Christians in the establishment of a more Christian society. To implement this, we publish a monthly report in NOW; work closely with the Episcopal Churchwomen; and have begun conversations with the Department of Christian Education. The members of the Department have taken the lead in encouraging and participating in vocational conferences and meetings, and have tried to encourage lay men and women to make use of their faith to solve the pressing problems of their jobs, homes, neighborhoods and government. (See the report of the Division of Public Relations.)

ALLAN N. ZACHER
Chairman of the Department

DIVISION OF CHAPLAINCY AND MINISTRY TO INSTITUTIONS

The purpose of this Division is to survey chaplaincy needs, organize and implement programs for and cooperate with the Women's Auxiliary, Lay Readers and others in the ministry to institutions; assist in the organization of training programs in various parishes or regions to train Lay callers; liaison with Church-related institutions; and training of clergy in chaplaincy work.

THE REV. JOSEPH T. SWIFT
Chairman of the Division

DIVISION OF COMMUNITY WELFARE

The purpose of this Division is to study community problems, such as those relating to housing, aged, alcohol, and others; pioneer in projects which the community may not be facing and which are of particular Christian concern; and to make Church people aware of community needs and the opportunities for service in and responsibility toward community organizations, such as personnel needs in professional and other services.

Commission on Alcoholism

The Commission on Alcoholism has undergone a change in personnel during the past year. The Reverend J. Maver Feehan, although still a member of this commission, had to resign from the chairmanship because of the press of other work. The Reverend Lee M. Schlothauer, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Palmyra, and St. Jude's Church, Monroe City, is a new member of the commission. Mr. John Elder is the other commission member.

The Reverend Mr. Schlothauer and the Chairman attended the Rutger's Summer School of Alcohol Studies at New Brunswick, N. J., during the month of July, 1962. This fine school enabled both of us to get a better understanding of the entire field of alcoholism. Both Mr. Schlothauer and the Chairman are available as resources for any individual or group that would like to talk about alcoholism. Both men have already spoken about alcoholism to several groups, and are planning more speaking engagements.

The Chairman has been attempting to work through the personnel directors of several large industries in Metropolitan St. Louis in an effort to establish a program of alcohol education for the employees. It is hoped that eventually management will recognize the need for such a program and will underwrite a program that can be furnished by the National Council on Alcoholism. This is still in the discussion stage without too much positive action.

The Commission also hopes to establish a suggested program guide for the churches of this diocese that will enable them to present an educational program about alcohol to the teen-age youth of the parishes.

The commission cooperates with other organizations in this field and hopes to extend this cooperation and endeavor in the field of alcohol education during the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,
 RUSSELL E. MURPHY (The Rev.)
 Chairman

Commission on Aging

The Commission on Aging, organized in the Division of Community Welfare of the Department of Christian Social Relations, held its first meeting in September, 1962. Monthly meetings have been held since that date.

During its first year the commission has been exploring various possibilities in regard to its goals and functions rather than proceeding with any definite projects. The overall purposes, however, are threefold: to determine the total needs, problems and interests of those in the older age group, to identify the services which churches may provide to meet these needs and to utilize the capabilities and experiences of persons of advanced years in serving the elderly as well as those approaching the retirement age.

Since the number of older citizens has been increasing rapidly during the past decade, the churches do have a definite role regarding this group.

A survey of the Episcopal churches of Metropolitan St. Louis was made in order to gain information on existing programs of service to the aging and to learn where there was interest in developing such programs. Thus far, there has been little response.

The commission has given some assistance with the publicizing of the Gatesworth Manor for Retired Persons and plans to do the same for the newly established Activity Center of the Board of Religious Organizations by means of talks to interested groups. It is concerned with legislation pertaining to the aging population.

Future plans include a workshop or conference to be held for representatives of the churches in the diocese in order to discuss the appropriate role of the Church in this field and to assist those interested in developing some type of program. It is hoped that information centers may be established where those in need may be referred to the appropriate community resources for assistance in economic, psychological or social problems.

Mr. Robert C. Linstrom, Project Director on Churches and the Aging of the Health and Welfare Council of Greater St. Louis, has given valuable assistance in determining goals and first steps in the functioning of this commission. Contacts with committees on aging of other denominations has also been especially helpful.

Respectfully submitted,
JANET JENNINGS
Chairman

Commission on Family Life

This is a newly-formed commission with Mrs. Marjorie Davis as Chairman, and the Reverend Messrs. Billy B. Sharp, William J. Moll and Allen N. Zacher as members.

DIVISION OF CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

The purpose of this Division is to stimulate responsible citizenship, encourage activity and membership in voluntary organizations such as ward and precinct organizations, League of Women Voters and others; and to endeavor to prepare such digests and other information as to keep the people of the Church informed on legislative and other issues.

The Division, under the chairmanship of the Reverend Bruce Cooke, since October, has added Mrs. Byron Valier as a member. The members have met twice and expect to have an active spring, with the legislature in session.

The Chairman serves on the legislative steering committee of the Missouri Council of Churches. He will attend an annual churchmen's conference in Washington, D. C., sponsored by our National Council and by the National Council of Churches, the conference being devoted to the general area of Christian citizenship in the world today.

This Division seeks to maintain liaison with similar groups in other churches and in other groups interested in legislative matters; and it will be their constant concern to seek ways to involve parishes and individuals in the affairs of the nation, the state, and their local communities.

Respectfully submitted,
BRUCE H. COOKE (The Rev.)
Chairman

DIVISION OF NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL WELFARE

The purpose of this Division is to keep the people of the diocese informed on drives and projects for international and national welfare, such as SOS, the Presiding Bishop's Fund, the Refugee Program, and others; and to focus attention on national legislation which deeply affects international welfare, the UN and other such programs.

Report of World Relief Secretary

Our work has been carried on in cooperation with Mrs. Edward Knott, Chairman of the Christian Social Relations Department of Diocesan Church Women, also a member of the Diocesan Department. She maintains constant touch with the parish secretaries and my responsibility has been to give publicity to the project we sponsor. In the spring we publicized "One Great Hour of Sharing" to be supported through the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. Announcement was made at the meeting of the women of the East Convocation and the pamphlet "Facts" placed on each table. "Now" and "Focus", a publication of Diocesan Women, gave publicity. Facts were widely distributed.

Two women became "godparents" under the Episcopal Godparents plan. On the basis of that, Mr. Alexander Jurisson of the National Council asked our diocese to be the fifth undertaking this on an intensive plan.

In the fall we aided the Missouri Council of Churches in a drive for used clothing and blankets. Collection centers were set up in towns throughout the state and much clothing was taken to Church World Service Center at 4165 Duncan Street, St. Louis 10. This is one of the five collection stations in the United States. Ten women go once a month in the evening and six in the day from St. John's and ten from Emmanuel to assist in processing the clothing.

Again in the fall, the Presiding Bishop's Fund was stressed. Letters and materials were sent to the clergy and to the Convocation Presidents enclosing pamphlets for each parish president. The amount contributed in 1962 was $4,269.87 only $1,614.93 more than was contributed in 1961.

Respectfully submitted,
WINIFRED K. BRYAN (Mrs. Walter E.)
World Relief Secretary

DIVISION OF PARISH EDUCATION

The purpose of this Division is to work in cooperation with all the other Divisions in making available resource persons particularly qualified to assist parishes; and to help parishes to start Christian Social Relations committees and pilot projects.

The Division has taken the initiative to discover the identity of the laymen in charge of the parish Christian Social Relations committee and to let him know of the resources that are available.

Mrs. Edward Knott has filed with this Department a fourteen-page single-spaced report of the work of the women of the diocese. Episcopal Churchwomen translate their faith into action by gifts of time and money. They cooperate with clergy, with institutions and agencies in the meeting of the needs of various individuals and groups. When money contributions are given, it means the Episcopal Churchwomen have earned the money by some project to make these contributions, which takes time and effort. They are concerned with needs of Community, better government and neighborhood associations and respond accordingly. Many help promote cultural and artistic projects. They participate in Spirit of St. Louis Fund, Symphony Drive and Garden Clubs. The Episcopal Churchwomen work for better Mental Health, better housing and working conditions.

DIVISION OF HUMAN RELATIONS

In 1962-63 the Division on Human Relations began a three-step educational program in cooperation with the Presbytery of St. Louis and the national staffs of both communions. The first step was a 24-hour Race-Relations Conference for the clergy of both denominations which was held at Thompson Retreat and Conference Center, October 26-27, 1962. Outstanding speakers were brought in from the fields of human relations, economics, social psychology, and theology.

Next, the Diocese sent eight Episcopal laymen to the Chicago Conference on Race Relations sponsored by the National Council. Conferences were simultaneously in San Francisco and Philadelphia as well for the purpose of stimulating studies of race relations at the parish level as recommended by the last General Convention.

Th third step has been the joint planning with the Presbytery of St. Louis of a Race Relations Conference for laymen. Every Episcopal and Presbyterian Church has been asked to send a most influential layman to the conference on April 19-20, 1963. Speakers are: the Reverend Cornelius C. Tarplee, Associate Secretary for Intergroup Relations, National Council, Protestant Episcopal Church; Mr. J. Philip Waring, Commissioner of Community Services, St. Louis Department of Welfare; Dr. Mozell C. Hill, Professor of Sociology and Education, Columbia University; Dr. Irvin Sobel, Professor of Economics, Washington University.

The other important projects undertaken by this Division were:

1. Purchase and distribution of the new pamphlet, "Racial Prejudice," published by the National Council for study by Sunday School groups on the high school level.
2. Served as a co-sponsoring organization in support of "Fair Housing Opportunity Week in St. Louis," February 19-27, 1963, as officially proclaimed by Mayor Tucker. The Archdiocese of St. Louis (R.C.), Metropolitan Church Federation, and fifteen other civic and religious organizations participated in the "Fair Housing Proclamation."

Respectfully submitted,
 JULIAN C. HALL,
 Chairman

DIVISION OF ADMINISTRATION AND PUBLICITY

During the past year, the Division of Administration and Publicity has sought to keep the people of the Diocese informed and aware of the issues in the area of Christian Social Relations. It has attempted to do this primarily through a regular column in NOW.

Since we believe that in some way, God is working through us in the world, we feel it vastly important that, as Christians, we be aware and alert, and sympathetic to the issues all around us. Thus, this Division has tried to spell out such relevant issues as integration in housing; important legislation (both on a state and national level) which may effect the lives of people; the work among the aged; the need for concrete assistance to Cuban refugees. The areas of concern are actually so broad that the list is endless.

We hope, at least in part, that we have been successful. We cannot force anyone to act. But we hope to define, sharpen, and broaden the issues of our age, so that once aware, we can be open to God's saving power.

Respectfully submitted,
 WILLIAM T. THOMAS (The Rev.)
 Chairman

The Cathedral Counseling Center

Since the beginning of its operation in 1958, the Counseling Center has shown steady growth in the number of persons coming for help in the solution of their problems. These peoples come from a wide variety of religious backgrounds and are referred to the Center by the St. Louis County Domestic Relations Courts, lawyers representing parties in a divorce suit, psychiatrists, clergy and by individuals who have been helped by the Center. After the initial interview, each case is carefully reviewed by Canon Zacher and a psychiatric supervisor and a decision is made to work with the individual or to refer him to other psychiatric resources in the community.

SERVICE TO CLERGY

The Counseling Center provides consultant services to clergy who request help with the management of difficult Pastoral cases. The Center provides training opportunities for clergy to increase their diagnostic and treatment skills. The Center also receives referrals from churches where the problems presented are beyond the clergyman's resources.

During the year of 1962, inquiries concerning the work of the Center have been received from:

Grace Methodist Church, Denver, Colorado
 McFarlin Memorial Methodist Church, Norman, Oklahoma
 The Methodist Church, Leominster, Massachusetts
 Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Oklahoma
 St. Louis Metropolitan Church Federation
 Mr. William Kennedy, Division of College Work, National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church

A conference of Presbyterian Ministers of the St. Louis area

Catholic Family Service, St. Louis, Missouri

In 1962 the director has:

- served as an Associate of the Joint Family Life Committee of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church;
- been consulted by the Family and Children's Service about the planning of a one-day institute for clergymen and other professionals in the field of mental health;
- in cooperation with the Psychoanalytical Foundation of St. Louis he established a graduate seminar for the clergy of the area on "Pastoral Care".
- worked with members of the Metropolitan Church Federation Counseling Center in the reorganization of this service and since the last of October, 1962 has served as a counselor there one evening each week;
- has continued to appear on radio programs and before church groups to discuss the problems of marriage and divorce;
- lectured on pastoral counseling to classes at Eden Seminary and aided a number of their students and their families with personal problems.

SERVICE TO LAWYERS

Canon Zacher has encouraged lawyers to refer divorce clients to counseling; this has been done through personal contact with lawyers, participation in Bar Committees and by published articles and talks to legal groups.

During the past twelve months, the director has:

- held several conversations with Judge Franklin Ferriss, Judge Noah Weinstein and Judge George W. Cloyd concerning the establishment of marriage counseling through the Domestic Relations Court of St. Louis County and has been appointed to a permanent committee to direct this service;
- served as a member of the Marriage & Divorce Laws Committee of the St. Louis Bar Association, attending eight meetings;
- served as a member of the St. Louis Circuit Court Lawyers' Committee on Marriage Counseling, attending twelve meetings;
- held a meeting for twenty lawyers and judges of St. Louis and St. Louis County concerning the lawyer's responsibility in divorce;
- is a member of the Family Law Committee of the American and Missouri Bar Association and is chairman of the Sub-Committee on Marriage Counseling;
- had an article, "The Professional Responsibility of the Lawyer in Divorce," published in the June issue of MISSOURI LAW REVIEW. Recently this article has been reproduced by the U. S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION AND WELFARE, Social Security Administration, Children's Bureau for nation-wide distribution to lawyers and judges;

SERVICE TO MENTAL HEALTH RESOURCES

The Center is providing an educational service by encouraging clergy, lawyers and psychiatrists to enter into the discussion of the nature and treatment of emotional problems.

Last year, Canon Zacher read a paper to The American Society of Group Psycho-therapy and Psycho-Drama on the use of Psycho-Drama in pastoral therapy. He published an article in the Society Journal and has been asked to read a paper at the Third International Congress of Group Psycho-therapy. Mr. Zacher is a member of the Steering Committee of the St. Louis Group Psycho-therapy forum and works closely with other professionals in the mental health field, psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric social workers.

Following is a statistical report of the work of the Cathedral Counseling Center:

Period of Center's Operation	Avg. No. of Interviews per month
9-1-58 to 8-30-59	20
9-1-59 to 4-30-61	54
5-1-61 to 2-28-62	83*
3-1-62 to 1-1-63	88*

St. Luke's HospitalSIGNIFICANT PROGRESS TOWARD DEVELOPMENT GOALS

It has been my privilege to serve as President of the Board of Directors of St. Luke's Hospital since last May when I succeeded W. Boardman Jones, Jr. under whose capable leadership the Hospital had achieved exceptional progress. I am pleased to report that in 1962 there was no evidence of a break in the momentum. As a matter of fact, the Hospital achieved new and important objectives in areas of both development and operations. Most apparent of these, of course, were the additions to the physical plant as we moved ever closer to the original goals of the building and expansion program undertaken more than ten years ago.

The completion of the three-floor Fowler Wing addition and its opening in June was, of course, the largest single accomplishment of its kind during the year. Within a short period thereafter, however, work began on the construction of a new five-story wing on the north which, when complete, will replace a major portion of the old and unremodeled west wing which will ultimately be razed. Connecting with the main hospital from the first through the fourth floor levels, the new North Wing will include among its accommodations for patients a new maternity division, a new pediatric section and, at the fourth floor level, a new and greatly expanded X-Ray Department.

Important, also, to the Hospital's future was the acquisition of properties on Clemens Avenue which will permit the expansion of the Enright Avenue parking lot early in 1963. On Belt and Enright Avenues, seven apartment buildings were acquired and at the year's end their wrecking was well underway. This site will provide additional parking to serve specifically still another project for which plans are now being drawn.

On the Belt Avenue location of the now vacated old nurses' home we propose to erect a medical office building to accommodate members of the St. Luke's medical staff. Planned after extensive surveys of interest among the doctors and offering a wide range of advantages to the Hospital and physicians alike, this project is one which we believe to be of great significance in the long-term development of St. Luke's. Although to be connected with and a part of the overall hospital operation, the office building must, of course, be self-supporting through doctors' rentals. Its construction will involve none of the Hospital's building funds except for such areas as may house Hospital facilities. Outstanding among these will be the fourth floor of the office structure which will connect with and provide expansion for existing Hospital laboratories. We hope to begin construction in this medical facility in the early spring of 1963.

Statistics presented elsewhere in this report speak for themselves. There is little need, therefore, to re-emphasize the fact that, in addition to its physical growth, St. Luke's in 1962 attained higher levels than ever before in terms of services rendered including the volume of care for those unable to pay and, at the same time, ended the year with a satisfactory balance of income over expense.

Desirable as it would be to do so, an enumeration of all of those who have contributed importantly to these accomplishments is out of the question. Special recognition is due, however, our sponsoring Episcopal and Presbyterian Church groups, the medical staff, the auxiliary organization, the volunteers and the regular personnel of the Hospital for their splendid efforts. To those whose generosity is reflected in gifts to the Building Fund, we are deeply grateful. Significantly, such contributions in 1962 amounted to $188,528.31 to bring the total since the development program began in 1951 to $4,342,864.17. Words are inadequate to express our appreciation for such support.

I would point also to the outstanding work of the Board itself whose members, individually and collectively, are dedicated to the Hospital's advancement. It is a rare privilege to serve such a group as President and to share in their monumental efforts.

BEN. F. JACKSON
President

NEW HEIGHTS IN EVERY SERVICE CATEGORY

With the completion of the Fowler Wing addition in June, St. Luke's attained a capacity of 350 adult beds which had been established as one of the original goals of the building and expansion program. The immediate effect was to step up the pace of things in every phase of the Hospital's operation.

No department escaped the impact of the increased tempo. Immediately, there were more patients to be served, more meals to be prepared, more linen to be laundered, more floors to be buffed, more tests to be done, more beds to be made, more prescriptions to be filled and more accounts to be processed, all of which, of course, was exactly what we had hoped for. As a result, new highs in every category of activity were recorded for the year.

These increases in the volume of work are naturally reflected in the income figure for the period and in the expense figure as well. Income, including an allocation of $56,404.00 from the United Fund for free care, was at a new high, $4,313,592.36, after an allowance of more than $410,000.00 for free and part-free care and other deductions. Expenses, of which $2,423,608.44 represented payroll, totalled $4,271,746.33.

Of particular significance in this statistical picture is the figure reflecting care rendered to those unable to pay or able to pay only in part. Representing as it does a broad range of service through the out-patient clinic and on an in-patient basis as well, it constitutes a contribution to the community in which all of us associated with the Hospital can take considerable pride.

Closely related with this program are the Hospital's endeavors in the fields of education. In the School of Nursing, enrollment was further expanded and the program strengthened by a variety of means. In the area of post-graduate medical education, training at both intern and resident levels was broadened and intensified. Of particular significance was the acceptance by Dr. Robert Paine of an appointment effective January 1, 1963 as Chief of the Department of Medicine on what will be virtually a full-time basis. Dr. Paine will succeed Dr. Paul O. Hagemann who has elected to retire from the post of Chief which he has held part-time for more than ten years. Dr. Paine will also assume responsibility for coordinating the entire program for medical education.

It would be difficult to over-state the contribution which Dr. Hagemann has made to the Hospital during his service as Chief of Medicine. His leadership has been invaluable. At the same time, we are most fortunate in securing Dr. Paine as his successor and in the fact that he will be able to devote himself more fully to the ever-growing scope and demands of intern and residency training.

Also important to the organizational structure was the establishment early in the year of the Office of Community Relations headed by Edmund L. Detering as successor to Douglas V. Martin, Jr. who had retired as Director of Development at the end of 1961.

The year just past has indeed been a busy but fruitful one. One of its most gratifying aspects from the administrative point of view has been the magnificent spirit of cooperation which has prevailed at every level of operation and the unselfish devotion of so many to whatever task.

With this as a background and all the new developments underway and in the planning, the year ahead promises to be equally rewarding in terms of further progress.

Episcopal City Mission

Your City Mission Society is continuing its ministry to young people in trouble in the St. Louis area. This work is sponsored by the Diocese of Missouri and is the area of activity assigned to the Episcopal Church by the Metropolitan Church Federation.

While the carrying out of our Mission takes us into various endeavors, our work is primarily concerned with providing the protestant chaplaincy to juvenile courts and institutions, and the operation of the Youth Counseling Service.

Financing is provided from within our Church by the Diocese, churches, church organizations and individual Episcopalians; and from without by interested persons, organizations and companies.

During 1962 we enlarged our staff to its full complement, and moved our offices to more adequate quarters at 314-A North Euclid Avenue. Our staff consists of the Rev. Billy Sharp, director; the Rev. Edward Stevens, counselor; the Rev. William Finlaw, chaplain; and Mrs. Lucille Grimes, office manager. We are also assisted on a part time basis by Mr. Robert Nuhn, an Eden Seminary student who works under the supervision of Mr. Stevens.

Our chaplaincy program ministers to boys and girls at the City and County juvenile courts and detention buildings, as well as at Missouri Hills, Meramec Hills and Lakeside Center for Boys. This ministry encompasses a wide range of activities, including religious services and instruction, counseling, consultation with families, welfare and recreational work, and community follow-up.

The Youth Counseling Service, which is open to all boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 20, was started in 1960 in response to an urgent community need. It provides counseling for young people who are experiencing either situational tensions, or personal anxiety, or both. In two years of operation our staff has counselled almost 200 young people. We are currently serving 87 counselees.

The demand for our services has been great, but under the leadership of Dr. Sharp our staff has been able to do a reasonably good job of meeting it. Our only major problem at present is a financial one. We are trying to practice every economy consistent with the conscientious performance of the task which has been assigned to us. However, despite our best efforts along these lines, our modest reserves are dwindling to the point where we must increase our financial base within the next several months or be faced with the necessity of reducing our services to the community. In behalf of your Board of Directors I earnestly solicit the attention of our fellow Episcopalians to this problem.

Saturday morning, May 4, at the Diocesan Convention in Columbia, the City Mission Society will present a one-hour report on our work. It will be illustrated with slides and tape recordings, and will attempt to cover why we exist, what we do, and our plans for the future. All delegates and other interested persons are invited to attend this presentation.

Respectfully submitted,
ELZEY M. ROBERTS, JR.
Chairman of the Board.

The Girls' Friendly Society

The GFS is at work in a thousand American communities in 44 states, providing week-day group-work programs for girls.

The GFS with its world outlook and broad experience with program, provides many projects for girls' growth and development. Teen-age conferences on vocations, marriage, religion, United Nations seminars and visits. International youth exchange programs, summer work opportunities at home and overseas, summer camps and holiday houses, creative arts camps. Educational scholarships, participation in local community programs.

The GFS provides leadership education through: National Assemblies, conferences, field visits of national staff; scholarships for camp counselors, essential training for new leaders. In the past three years it has added 331 new branches and over 600 new leaders.

The GFS provides program aids used widely by its membership and other youth groups. It publishes "At Your Service," a monthly program guide for leaders of girls' groups, with new and creative approaches to program.

GFS girls give gifts of money, and gifts of their time in summer to serve in areas of need at home and overseas.

The GFS belongs to a World Council which unites GFS girls of 31 countries in mutual aid and understanding.

The GFS is a member of the United Nations through the Non-Governmental Organizations' Section.

The Creative Arts Camp was attended by 19 girls at Thompson House in June and July, 1962.

GFS camp was held at St. Stephens in the Hills and scholarships were given as requested.

We participated in the Summer Opportunities Program and also donated to Summer Jr. and Sr. Conference Camp held at Lake of the Ozarks.

Last year our 85th Anniversary development program was launched at National Headquarters in New York to further GFS work throughout the world. We sold $872.00 of tulip bulbs plus two memberships of $85.00 each from our diocese.

Our Advent Party was held at St. Augustines where we made dogs that were distributed to St. Stephen House and Grace Hill House at Christmas. We have GFS groups at the following parishes—St. Augustines, St. Pauls Carondelet, Church of Ascension, St. Stephens House, St. Barnabas, St. Pauls Overland, and the Sponsors Group.

Carolyn Alberty was chosen our delegate to attend the National Assembly at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, this summer.

The University of the South

Future historians in the Episcopal church will look back on 1963 as the year in which the Southern dioceses embarked on a campaign for $10,000,000 for their educational center at Sewanee. Our University of the South is moving forward with tremendous momentum. Last year Sewanee became one of twenty-nine undergraduate institutions to receive a major Ford grant. Sewanee was the smallest in terms of enrollment and received the maximum size matching grant — $2,500,000 to be given when Sewanee raises $7,500,000.

What does this mean to the Episcopalian in the Diocese of Missouri?

It means that another honor has come to our University — probably the greatest honor yet — and this accolade is accompanied by a most substantial gift. It means that our Sewanee is the first Episcopal institution to receive a major Ford grant. It means that the total assets of the University will move upward from about $40,000,000 to $50,000,000. It means that we are nearer than ever to our goal of being the sponsor of the very finest small liberal arts institution in America.

Since the last report Sewanee has again led the South in the proportionate production of Rhodes and Fulbright Scholars and Woodrow Wilson Fellows. In the latter we now rank second in the nation, the Quaker institution Haverford being in first place with Harvard, Princeton, and Yale doing very respectably but below Sewanee.

We have added to the cultural offering at Sewanee a much expanded concert and lecture series. In the dedication of the Guerry Hall auditorium a thousand students, faculty and residents of the area heard Alabama-born Nell Rankins of the Metropolitan opera give the first performance. On the ample sized stage symphony orchestras and ballet groups have performed. Sewanee has blossomed into a center for the performing arts. Similarly the encouraging of painting, sculpture, and art appreciation have added to the curriculum. Our Sewanee choir has eighty voices with students "trying-out" for choir and competing for the annual Easter trip just as boys compete for places on the varsity football team.

All of us should take satisfaction in the way Sewanee has achieved and maintained a national leadership in the philosophy of athletics. We have proved to other educators that what they would like to do can be done. We do not professionalize our undergraduate students. Although our eight intercollegiate teams do us great credit, our total physical education program with splendid athletic facilities and sound coaching is probably second to none among colleges of our size. Our intramural sports program involves every student who will allow himself to be involved. What we have done at Sewanee is put into a Christian context the Greek idea of a three-fold development of body, mind, and spirit.

The Sewanee Military Academy has experienced moments of triumph. On New Years Day its Gorgas Guard, its precision drill team, performed before eighty-thousand people at the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. We must remember the excellent work of our preparatory school when we think of pre-college training for our sons.

The summer program at Sewanee has outreached all previous activity. We now have the regular annual conference for families in late June. There is the music center with five weeks of intensive orchestral instruction and concerts. Next-on-the scene is a graduate institute of science and math leading to a master's degree. Most remarkable of all is the twenty-year-old graduate school of theology which allows a clergyman to take his months vacation at Sewanee and while his family enjoys planned recreation, he works toward a master's degree in sacred theology. Let by some of the finest scholars in the country, this graduate program has been called one of Sewanee's most valuable contributions to the life of the Church today.

There are 400,000 Episcopalians who own Sewanee. It is important for them and for us to realize the great potential which lies there for us. There are ways in which all of us can help.

We must tell other people about Sewanee.

We must see that exceptional young men go there.

We must make sure that our parishes and diocese include it in budgets.

We must offer ourselves for active work in the $10,000,000 campaign scheduled to start this spring.

And we must think of what we ourselves plan to give to Sewanee—our educational center which now offers us such great hope for national leadership in the field of Christian education.

The Episcopal Presbyterian Foundation, Inc

This is a brief report to the Diocese on the progress which is being made in the Episcopal-Presbyterian Foundation, Incorporated. Gatesworth Manor was purchased for a million and a half dollars last April. We began our operations on June 1st as Gatesworth Manor, a retirement residence for people 65 years of age and over. There are 149 apartments in this building and as of this date there are only 25 vacant. It looks as if we will be filled to capacity and will have a waiting list by June 1st. The response that we have had is evidence of the need for such service in this community.

The Board of Directors look forward to the beginning of other projects at an early date. We will keep you and the Diocese informed as our plans develop.

Our enthusiasm and thanks to God are boundless and to use the words of the Psalmist, "Our cup runneth over", because of the response we have had to our services thus far. When we get into convalescent-nursing care in another project and the moderate cost housing, which we hope will come later, I am sure that the Diocese and Presbytery will be thankful that they had the foresight to create this joint Foundation for the care of the aging.

After June 1st, which will be the close of our first year of operation, we will make a complete report to you on this Foundation. With kind regards and high esteem, I am

Yours faithfully,

WARDEN'S REPORT

Somewhat over five years ago, the Board of Managers of Thompson House, then comprised entirely of Episcopalians, agreed on clearly articulated definitions of functions which would govern the operation of this center. As it came to be described, in altogether accurate but none the less formidable jargon, Thompson House was to be "an ecumenically oriented, racially unsegregated, lay-training center and post-ordination training center for clergy, whose services and facilities are available to any church, church-related, or other eleemosynary organization." It was further agreed that, in terms of program planning, nothing would be initiated as program at Thompson House which was being done with greater effectiveness by the parish churches. Thompson House was to be in the vanguard in its program development, and the purpose of her program emphases, most succinctly stated, was that of bringing the church and the world into serious and responsible confrontation and dialogue in regard to those concerns which lie at the heart of each.

Time and experience have proven that the people of the church who respond to such program events as have been developed within this perspective have done so with consistent enthusiasm, and with a generally consistent attestation that the resultant experience has been vital, enriching, provocative, and significantly helpful in a redefining of what it means to be a Christian, called to live a life of faith amid the complexities and confusions of the 20th century. By the same token, however, time and experience have proven that this is not a style which has great popular appeal yet to the mass of Churchmen, and the program of Thompson House has enjoyed minimal to negligible support in its center-based operation.

Since mid-1962, with the knowledge and consent of the Board of Managers, the Warden and Program Director of Thompson House, has concentrated his efforts in three areas of program concern:

1.) Whenever possible, he has made himself, his interests and skills available to the churches and the community at large as program resources, seizing every reasonable opportunity offered him to translate the program concerns of Thompson House into specific programs, of shorter and longer duration, which have been presented as "Thompson House style programs in parish churches, gatherings of community organizations, and area convenings of the Church and un-Church, alike—where and as people, themselves, have chosen to meet. The results have been gratifying and encouraging. If the mountain won't come to Mohamet, Mohamet will go to the mountain.

2.) Programs have been developed which represent the distinctive emphases of Thompson House with full integrity, but which are designed and executed on a prior understanding that they will receive popular support and attention because of their intriguing subject matter. Perhaps the most important examples of these types of programs are the "Liturgy and Jazz" presentation (a singularly effective method of attracting a crowd, with whose members the form and function of the liturgy of the Lord's Supper may be examined) or "Religious Issues in Contemporary Literature" seminars, singly or serially offered. In general, attempts to set religion and culture, or religion and the arts, in dialogic confrontation have proven to be compellingly effective modes of communicating the concerns and the claims of the Christian faith. It is worth noting that the mass media of communication are eager to do religious programming of this-sort, and local television and radio stations, as well as the CBS-TV network, have used or will use the Warden's services in presentations of this general kind.

3.) The third area of concentration has been that of program consultation. Each year, dozens of program events are scheduled at Thompson House by Churchmen who, on some basis or the other, feel a responsibility for carrying the witness of the Church into the life of the world. With ever-increasing frequency, the Warden is consulted in regard to how preparation and training for this central task of the people of God may be most effectively accomplished. Not understanding oftentimes that such consultation is available from him, planning committees for groups which plan to use the services and facilities of Thompson House have been hesitant to avail themselves of this service from the Warden. However, there is evidence that the consultative function of the Warden is and will be used much more frequently, and his leadership for programs which the people of the churches structure at Thompson House is being invited in a steadily increasing number of instances.

It is the opinion of the present Warden and Program Director that 1) Thompson House without a clearly articulated definition of task and function is a nice house, in much the same way that the Sheraton-Jefferson is a nice hotel (but are we in the hotel business?), 2) without a program director who is deeply convinced of the value and necessity of the vigorous prosecution of that task and function, both at Thompson House, as an institution, and throughout the community at large, for which the institution exists, the leavening function of this center within the lump of the Church will and can never be accomplished (he must be yeasty, stubborn, and even a little fanatic in the intensity of his convictions) and 3) the presently formulated definition of the task and function of this center should be both retained, reinforced; constantly re-examined, and the Board of Managers should be encouraged to explore new and more effective ways of employing and deploying the resources of this center on emerging frontiers of witness and ministry in the life of this metropolitan community. In other words, Thompson House must stand in the midst of the Church, reminding the Church of what both this center and the Church are called by God to stand for in the midst of the world.

THE EDUCATIONAL CENTER
(The Episcopal Home for Children)
DIRECTOR'S REPORT — MAY, 1963

"I have come that men may have life and may have it in all its fullness." One who has known what this means and can cry out, "Here I have found life—I can never be the same again—it is as if I have become someone new!" has heard good news. What he has found is himself in a new wholeness. And he identifies what has happened with the words, life, be, and become.

Contrast the above with some other fairly typical news hearers. "Today I was told I ought to be less selfish and love other people more." "I've been told I must apply the principles of the Sermon on the Mount to my business." "The preacher said that if only we behave more trustingly in international affairs, there will be less danger of atomic warfare." Here the experience is identified by the words, ought, apply the principles, and if only we behave. This kind of thing, Canon Wedel has identified as coming from those who have heard bad news.

The person who has heard good news has identified something about his inner being. The rest have spoken about things they ought to do. This distinction is important.

Yet the evidence continues to mount indicating how large a portion of what goes on in the name of religious or Christian education is almost solely based upon the concern of teachers to straighten out the behavior of their class members. This is not to put the blame on the teachers' shoulders—their solicitude is certainly genuine. For it is only natural from their experience with education in the Church that this should seem to be their task. Attempting to "make Johnny a good boy" remains the number one ranking concern, and this is seen both in classes and in curriculum material which would certainly claim not to be oriented toward behavior. The quantity of good advice passed out and the amount of moralizing from the parables that goes on remain enormous. Perhaps the Educational Center can best describe its position by attempting to identify the educational task as lying more in the direction of being and becoming than in the direction of doing and behavior.

We may be able to find a hint of the nature of the task simply by looking at what some words mean. The Greek word for sin means literally missing the mark. But what is the mark? This has less to do with my activity than with my very being. My mark is the Imago Dei in me, the God-given potential into which I may have the capacity to move at every moment. The hitting of my mark means that I become faithful—i.e., say yes, to the call to become this particular unique creature in wholeness and fullness of life. Thus faithfulness (saying yes), not virtue, is the opposite of sin (saying no).

"The wages of sin is death,"—that is, the movement away from faith leads to death. But the word death also needs explication. For aside from physical death, (which St. Paul is certainly not talking about here) the word attaches to at least two other quite different human experiences. (Since the Church is in the business of channeling some means of grace whereby some people may move toward life rather than death, we'd best try to identify what the word can mean. Since the Church has never had any success in preventing the heart from stopping, the meaning here must lie elsewhere.)

When St. Paul cried, "Awake thou that sleepest and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light!" he was not talking about the heart stopping and starting again. Rather, wasn't he saying in effect, "Come to! Emerge out of the darkness of unawareness in which you follow blindly the external pressures of society, or follow just as blindly your own inner impulses. Recognize this sleep. Acknowledge this death, and the Christ-given light of awareness will flood your soul." But the light is painful. The hidden things of darkness prefer anonymity.

Another death experience awaits. For in this bright light, the awareness breaks upon me of the death of my sleep. In this sense, waking up is a death. In this bright light I die in terms of my self-assurance, my self-authentication, my self-justification. But this death must be. For unless we be "buried with Christ in his death," we may not be "partakers of his resurrection."

Again we are not talking about behavior but about that from which behavior springs—the very nature of our being. It's not that our activities get raised up but that we get raised up (and our activity emanates from this new being.)

Now an educational operation does not have the power to raise up. (Nor does the Church!) But it may be that in such an operation some of the barriers to the work of the Spirit may be removed, the appropriateness of moving toward one's own mark identified, and the appropriation of the gifts of the spirit made more possible.

How can one move toward that self-awareness which is a necessary part of the process of moving toward one's own mark? Certainly this can develop out of a particular type of relationship where one can find both support and challenge. It occurs within the discipline of seeing one's life as consisting of one's own response to one situation after another in all one's waking hours and of examining the dimensions of those responses.

How do I respond? Why do I respond as I do? Dare I look at my responses in the light of an emerging awareness of my own mark—my own calling? The New English Bible renders I Corinthians 15:22 as follows: "As in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be brought to life; but each in his own proper place." Proper place—another expression for the mark—one's own particular potential.

How do I respond to the situations with which the temporalities confront me? These I cannot avoid or evade. We pray that we may "so pass through (not around) things temporal that we lose not the things eternal." My response can be seen in at least four dimensions. First, how do I perceive—size up—evaluate—a given situation? I have only my own eyes to look with, my own history from which to evaluate. Who am I in this situation? Who and where are other people within it? What light is shed upon it by the normal rules of the game, the way the cookie is likely to crumble, the givenness of things? What is the cost/promise within this for me and for others? And how undistorted is my perception of all this anyhow?

Next, what are now my feelings? How appropriate are they in the circumstances?

How then shall I decide what to do? Upon what basis is my decision really rendered? No matter what, I must decide. Even if I do nothing, I have so decided. Though decide I must, much of my anxiety rests in the fact that I cannot control the outcome of my decision. How much of me is in the decision? Am I aware that this decision affects my being as well as my action?

And finally there is the act—the overt behavior. Surely this is part of my total response—an important part, but still only a part. And it rests upon the previous dimensions which always precede behavior.

What was it our Lord may have been saying in that strange story in Codex Bezae which was omitted from the Canon of scripture but which in that authoritative ancient document appears after Luke 6:4. "On the same day he saw a man performing a work on the Sabbath. Then said he unto him:

"Man! If thou knowest what thou doest, thou art blessed;
If thou knowest not, thou art cursed and a transgressor of the Law'."

As the Center's basic manual indicates at the beginning of its prologue: "It is said that man's four basic questions of life and its meaning are: 1) Who am I? 2) Who are you? 3) Where do I live? 4) What's around the corner?"

- 1) Who is the person who is my self? Why do I respond to life as I do? What is the true shape of my personhood? What is the meaning of me?
- 2) What is the meaning of you? In relation to me? Are our lives inextricably interwoven? Who are my people? What do we mean to each other?
- 3) Where is my place in all this, my true place? Where do I belong? Where is home for me?
- 4) What is life? What is my destiny? In what can I place my faith? Am I tossed around by fate or is there an eternal destiny for me?"

These seem to be the more deeply religious questions to be pursued in the process of religious education, for they move into the area of being and the area of meaning. Only after we have moved here can we make any real sense out of such questions are: What shall I do? How should I act? How can I improve my behavior?

Educators cannot give fullness of life to anyone. Each person must find his own mark. But perhaps religious education, by involving itself with being and becoming rather than with doing and behavior may open some doors that lead to fullness of life.

The Trustees of the Diocesan Investment Trust of the Diocese of Missouri

The Diocesan Investment Trust was started on July 15, 1959 as a means of helping the churches and other institutions allied to the Diocese to invest their permanent funds — however small, July 15, 1963 will see the start of its fifth year and the Trustees have had the reward of seeing it assume a position of increasing value and importance in helping the individual parishes with their endowment problems.

The DIT offers a convenient and profitable method of investing funds by providing in one security a broad diversification and continuous experience management at a minimum of expenses. It obtains a service for the individual church which it could not alone command — certainly on a permanent basis. The investment policy of the Trustees, more fully stated elsewhere in this report, is, as it should be, flexible and moving with the times. However, these policies at all times have been and will continue to be consistent with the responsibilities of trustees.

The report of the DIT'S condition is being made as of January 15, 1963, as the Trustees felt this would make it more timely, particularly with respect to the date of Convention. It is contemplated that reports will be made annually as of the first valuation date of each calendar year even though the preparation and mailing of them will involve a small yearly expense.

Participants may enter or withdraw from the DIT on any of the quarterly dates by advising the Trustee's Agent before the 15th day January, April, July or October. All inquiries with respect to the DIT may be made by communicating with the Agent. No church or institution should feel hesitant about making inquiry particularly if this hesitance results from the small size of the amount involved. The DIT's smallest participant involves an original investment of $1,002.68.

Grace Hill House

This year Grace Hill Settlement House is observing its 60th Anniversary. Since its establishment in 1903 this social work agency has been serving its neighbors in the troubled area on the near northside of St. Louis.

The agency's service programs in this neighborhood are operated under categories of: Neighborhood Development, Group Work, Leadership Training, Family Services and Summer Program.

At present, this work includes 10 program staff members working with 80 groups with a yearly attendance of 24,000. In addition, more than 300 families are served by the special needs work of the individual Family Services Division. Children, Teenagers, Adults and the Aged are served through these program activities.

Medical Care is a vital phase of the agency's service to this neighborhood. The Grace Hill House Clinic offers service through more than 6,000 patient visits per year to persons who either cannot afford private medical care or are not eligible for care at the public clinics and hospitals. Our medical staff administers service in General Medicine, Pediatrics, Gynecology Obstetrics, and Ear-Nose-Throat departments.

The fate of this vital service to the neighborhood is now in question. In January, 1963, Grace Hill House was told by the United Fund that they have made a final decision that the Fund will not support the clinic after September 30, 1963. Although the Board of Directors of Grace Hill House feel morally obligated to see that some form of medical service remains in this neighborhood, it is not known at this point what is going to happen to the clinic.

In 1962, a new approach to distressed families has been developed by Grace Hill House and is receiving national recognition. Professional and volunteer staff are using this new "Kitchen Club" method to reach and help multi-problem families. New research is being built into this program with the assignment of persons from the research staff of George Warren Brown School of Social Work at Washington University.

Another newly developed program at Grace Hill House is the extensive use of volunteers in direct work with individuals and groups of our neighbors. These programs are both on a one-contact and a long-term basis. Several persons are serving as Friendly Visitors to individual families and others are leading groups. Many churchwomen have given time making house calls to neighbors of the agency regarding the new Food Stamp Plan.

Extension work is another rapidly growing service of Grace Hill House, through which the agency takes its professional services to other areas of need at the request of urban churches. Joint projects during the year have been operated in the West End of the city through the Episcopal Church of the Ascension, Pilgrim Congregational Church and Grace Presbyterian Church. In South St. Louis, the agency has a cooperative program for youngsters through Curby Presbyterian, St. Andrew, and Ebenezer E & R Churches and Garfield and Fremont Schools.

These church-agency programs have resulted from conversations through the year between Diocesan representatives, St. Louis Presbytery and Grace Hill House Board and staff. The purpose was to see if there are ways in which mutual efforts could be better coordinated. Through cooperative service and financing, the services of the agency, as a representative of the church can then do better work and the church can be more effective in its neighborhood.

The Registrar

The Registrar of a Diocese holds an office provided for in the Constitution, and is charged with doing certain things—the recording of official acts (ordinations, receptions, and dismissals of clergy, consecrations of bishops and of church buildings, etc.), and the safe keeping of books, documents and manuscripts belonging to the Diocese. In this modern age the list now includes audio-visual records, records and films. All these are now deposited in some steel cabinets on the fifth and sixth floors of Bishop Tuttle Memorial.

Beyond the safe keeping of documents many Diocesan Registrars are also chroniclers of history. Some of us correspond with each other about this.

We continue to provide resource material for persons interested in parish and diocesan history. Hardly a week passes that does not see a request from someone for a baptismal or confirmation record, a record of a marriage, or information about the work of a certain clergyman. Our files are not in the best of condition to provide information quickly, but often we do manage to locate it, given time.

Chapter V, The Episcopate of Bishop Johnson, of my projected History of the Diocese has been published by Missouri Historical Society, in April, 1963. I am now engaged in research for Chapter VI which will deal with one of the most fascinating periods in the Diocese, the episcopate of Bishop Scarlett. I shall be grateful for any items of this period which readers may be able to supply.
