RULES OF ORDER AS ADOPTED BY THE 169TH DIOCESAN CONVENTION

1. The Presiding Officer shall appoint members of Permanent Committees at each Meeting of Convention.
2. All resolutions from the floor shall be reduced to writing, presented to the Secretary, and read to Convention. A resolution from the floor that is not a part of a committee report may be introduced only at the time indicated in the Order of Business. All resolutions from the floor, whether or not a part of a committee report, after receiving a short explanation from the presenter, must receive a 2/3 majority vote of Convention before it may be considered by Convention.
3. When any member speaks to Convention, he shall address himself to the Presiding Officer, state his name and church, and confine himself to the point in debate.
4. A member, other than the Chairman of the Committee whose report is under consideration, shall not speak more than twice in the same debate, nor longer than five minutes at a time, without leave of the House.
5. Any member of the House may call for a vote by hands or standing vote. Every member who may be in the House when such a vote is called shall be counted unless he/she be excused by Convention.
6. When a question has once been determined it shall stand as the judgment of the House, and shall not again be drawn into debate except on motion of reconsideration which must be made by a member who had previously voted in the majority.
7. All questions of parliamentary law not resolved by reference to the Canons or these General Rules shall be decided under Robert's Rules of Order.
8. All questions of order shall be decided in the first instance by the Presiding Officer, without debate; an appeal may be made to Convention by any member.
9. The reports of all Committees shall be in writing, and shall be received without motion for acceptance, unless recommended by a vote of the House. All reports recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the House shall be accompanied by a resolution for the action of the House thereon. All annual reports shall be received and filed by the Secretary as presented before or during Convention, and may be called upon motion to be read and considered at any time during Convention.

10. The names of movers of resolutions shall appear in the minutes of Convention.

11. All motions and resolutions requiring reference shall be referred, so far as possible, to the Permanent Committees of Convention.

12. Except in cases where majority vote is required, all elections shall be by Preferential Aggregate Transfer Ballot:

a) Each elector shall mark his or her ballot by numbering the names of all the candidates for each office in order of preference, with the preferred name being numbered 1. The elector shall not give more than one number to any name, nor shall any name be left unnumbered. Any ballot which does not comply with the directions given in this section will be invalid and will not be counted.

b) The persons appointed by the Presiding Officer to conduct the election shall count each valid ballot by assigning to each candidate that candidate's rank-ordered number on the ballot.

c) The candidates shall then be ranked according to the respective sums of their rank-ordered numbers, beginning with the lowest sum, and the candidate or candidates with the lowest sums shall be elected, according to the number of vacancies to be filled.

d) In case of a tie in which one or more candidates must be selected, that candidate or candidates with the highest number of first-place ballots shall be elected; and if the tied candidates have the same number of first place ballots, then the candidate or candidates having the highest number of second place ballots shall be elected, and so forth; and if the tied candidates have the same number of ballots at every rank, then the candidate or candidates to be elected shall be chosen by the toss of a coin.

13. The Presiding Officer may, having left the chair, enter into the debate on any question, but shall not then resume the chair until the main motion under consideration has been disposed of.

14. Once the Order of Business has been approved it may not be altered except by 2/3 majority vote of Convention, provided that the Presiding Officer may reorder agenda items at any time.

SEC. 2. For the benefit of each Campus Ministry and the care of the properties that may be erected and used for its activities, and for consultation with the Chaplain, the Bishop shall, with the Chaplain’s advice, appoint an Advisory Committee for such Campus Ministry. The Bishop shall determine the size of the Advisory Committee of the Campus Ministry until the Campus Ministry adopts bylaws. These bylaws shall provide for the election of an Advisory Committee consisting of no fewer than three nor more than thirteen members, one of whom shall be the Warden. The terms of the Advisory Committee shall be one-year terms. The members of the Advisory Committee shall continue in office until the Campus Ministry’s next annual meeting. Committee members may stand for re-election.

SEC. 4. At such time of each year as may be set forth in the bylaws of the Campus Ministry, every Campus Ministry shall hold its annual meeting to elect successors to any members of the Advisory Committee and to transact any other business properly brought before the meeting. The Chaplain, or if there be no Chaplain, the Warden, shall preside at the meeting. The polls shall be kept open for at least one-half hour. In the case of a contested election, voting shall be by secret ballot. Every elector of the Campus Ministry who is present shall be entitled to vote; no proxies shall be permitted. A preferential ballot may be used if so specified in the notice provided for below. Whatever election procedures and methods of voting are employed must be fair and democratic.

Notice of the annual meeting shall be given as set forth in the bylaws of the Campus Ministry. The notice shall specify the method of voting and the time and place of the meeting. SEC. 5. All property occupied or used by a Campus Ministry shall be owned by (or, in the case of rented property, leased to) the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, which shall hold such property for the benefit of the Campus Ministry. The Advisory Committee shall act as agent of the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri to take charge of and care for all such property in conformity with good business practices and such regulations as the university or college may require. The Campus Ministry may not incur any indebtedness or obligation nor make any expenditures without the prior express written approval of both the Bishop and the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, who may prescribe property limits for such expenditures.

SEC. 6. All funds of a Campus Ministry, except for checking account and insured certificates of deposit in financial institutions approved by the Bishop and amounting to no more than $7,500, shall be registered in the name of the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri.

SEC. 7. The Advisory Committee shall assist the Chaplain with the proclamation of the Gospel, provide for the public worship, nurture persons of all ages, alleviate human suffering, and promote justice. The Advisory Committee, with the Bishop’s approval, shall determine the duties of the Warden, Secretary, and Treasurer. The Chaplain or, in the Chaplain’s absence, the Warden, shall preside at meetings of the Advisory Committee.

SEC. 8. The Advisory Committee shall determine the time and place of its regular meetings. The Chaplain may call a special meeting. The Bishop or one third of the members of the Advisory Committee may call a special meeting by written notice, delivered to the Chaplain or, if there be no Chaplain, the Warden.

SEC. 9. Salaries for the Chaplains, together with any related obligations to the Church Pension Fund and other employment related expenses for the Chaplains, shall be provided by the Diocesan Council in the operating budget of the Diocese. Each Advisory Committee may provide funds for programming at its Campus Ministry. Each Advisory Committee shall submit a proposed annual budget to the Diocesan Council indicating the Campus Ministry's request for Diocesan funds necessary for the Campus Ministry to carry out a proper and effective ministry (exclusive of salary and benefits for the Chaplain).

SEC. 10. Each Campus Ministry, whenever a Campus Ministry be without a Chaplain, the Warden, shall keep a Register. The Advisory Committee may appoint some other person for that purpose.

SEC. 11. The Register shall include a list of Communicants and shall also contain a record of: the name and date of birth of all persons baptized, with the names of their parents and sponsors; the names of all persons married, their witnesses and the place where each marriage was solemnized; and the names, ages and dates of death of all persons buried. The date when each rite was performed shall also be recorded. Entries shall be made by the Chaplain and shall be preserved as a part of the records of the Campus Ministry. The Chaplain's annual report shall set out the additions, removals and deaths since the last report. The Chaplain shall also keep a list of persons who have been confirmed. Communicants may be transferred to or received from another congregation in the manner prescribed by Canon IV. 1.2 and the applicable Canons of the General Convention. Each Chaplain shall endeavor to transfer any Communicant permanently departing from the college or university community to another congregation in accordance with the applicable Canons of the General Convention.

SEC. 14. The Bishop, in his annual address, shall report to Convention concerning Campus Ministries organized since the last meeting of Convention.

And by amending SECTIONS 1 and 2 of Canon IV.6 of the Canons of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Missouri in their entirety to read as follows:

SECTION. 1. Every Parish shall be a Missouri non profit corporation. Every Mission and every Campus Ministry shall be an unincorporated part of the Diocese. Each Vestry shall adopt articles of incorporation and bylaws, which shall include provisions for the government of its Parish and the management and disposal of Parish property. Each Bishop's Committee shall adopt bylaws for its Mission. Each Advisory Committee shall adopt bylaws for its Campus Ministry. The articles of incorporation of every Parish and the bylaws of every Mission and every Campus Ministry shall contain the provisions set out in Section 5 of Canon IV.4, except that in the case of a Mission or a Campus Ministry, the word(s) "Mission" or "Campus Ministry," as the case may be, shall be substituted for the word "Parish". Articles of incorporation, bylaws, and all amendments thereto shall become effective by following the procedures set out in Sections 2 and 3 below.

SEC. 2. Upon adoption of articles of incorporation, bylaws or amendments thereto, the Vestry, Bishop's Committee or Advisory Committee, as the case may be, shall submit the proposed articles, bylaws or amendments to the Secretary of the Standing Committee for its preliminary review and comment (and for that of the Chancellor or designated Vice-Chancellor). After receiving and acting upon any such comment, the Vestry, Bishop's Committee, or Advisory Committee shall as appropriate submit the articles, bylaws or amendments for approval at the annual Parish, Mission or Campus Ministry meeting or at a special Parish, Mission or Campus Ministry meeting called for that purpose.

Because of a concern as to how the members of the Advisory Committee should rotate membership, Father Benko moved to amend Section 3 by deleting the words "be one year terms" and replacing them with the words "as stipulated in the bylaws." The amendment was approved unanimously, and the amended resolution was approved unanimously.

Following is the text of the amended resolution:

CANON IV. 19 Campus Ministries and Chaplains

SEC. 1. At any university or college in the Diocese, the Diocese may establish a campus ministry (a "Campus Ministry"). A Campus Ministry may be established only by the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of Standing Committee. The Bishop shall appoint a Chaplain and may also appoint lay workers to support the Campus Ministry. Chaplains and other lay workers function on behalf of and under the authority and direction of the Bishop. The Bishop shall select a name for the Campus Ministry.

SEC. 2. For the benefit of each Campus Ministry and the care of the properties that may be erected and used for its activities, and for consultation with the Chaplain, the Bishop shall, with the Chaplain's advice, appoint an Advisory Committee for such

Campus Ministry. The Bishop shall determine the size of the Advisory Committee of the Campus Ministry until the Campus Ministry adopts bylaws. Representation on the Advisory Committees may include full-time students of the related university or college, members of the faculty and staff of the related university or college, as well as non-student Communicants of the Campus Ministry, representatives from Congregations of the Diocese, and such other persons as the Bishop may determine.

SEC. 3. Each Chaplain, with the Bishop's consent, shall appoint from the members of the applicable Advisory Committee a Warden, a Secretary and a Treasurer, and such other officers as the Chaplain deems necessary, each of whom shall be a confirmed Communicant in good standing at the Campus Ministry and at least eighteen years of age. The Campus Ministry's members shall then promptly hold a special meeting to adopt bylaws. These bylaws shall provide for the election of an Advisory Committee consisting of no fewer than three nor more than thirteen members, one of whom shall be the Warden. The terms of the Advisory Committee shall be as stipulated in the bylaws. The members of the Advisory Committee shall continue in office until the Campus Ministry's next annual meeting. Committee members may stand for re-election.

SEC. 4. At such time of each year as may be set forth in the bylaws of the Campus Ministry, every Campus Ministry shall hold its annual meeting to elect successors to any members of the Advisory Committee and to transact any other business properly brought before the meeting. The Chaplain, or if there be no Chaplain, the Warden, shall preside at the meeting. The polls shall be kept open for at least one-half hour. In the case of a contested election, voting shall be by secret ballot. Every elector of the Campus Ministry who is present shall be entitled to vote; no proxies shall be permitted. A preferential ballot may be used if so specified in the notice provided for below. Whatever election procedures and methods of voting are employed must be fair and democratic.

Notice of the annual meeting shall be given as set forth in the bylaws of the Campus Ministry. The notice shall specify the method of voting and the time and place of the meeting. The right of challenge shall be admitted; the Secretary of the Campus Ministry meeting shall make record of any challenge and its cause. Reference may be made to the Bishop, whose decision shall be final.

SEC. 5. All property occupied or used by a Campus Ministry shall be owned by (or, in the case of rented property, leased to) the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, which shall hold such property for the benefit of the Campus Ministry. The Advisory Committee shall act as agent of the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri to take charge of and care for all such property in conformity with good business practices and such regulations as the university or college may require. The Campus Ministry may not incur any indebtedness or obligation nor make any expenditures without the prior express written approval of both the Bishop and the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, who may prescribe property limits for such expenditures.

SEC. 6. All funds of a Campus Ministry, except for checking account and insured certificates of deposit in financial institutions approved by the Bishop and amounting to no more than $7,500, shall be registered in the name of the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri.

SEC. 7. The Advisory Committee shall assist the Chaplain with the proclamation of the Gospel, provide for the public worship, nurture persons of all ages, alleviate human suffering, and promote justice. The Advisory Committee, with the Bishop's approval, shall determine the duties of the Warden, Secretary, and Treasurer. The Chaplain or, in the Chaplain's absence, the Warden, shall preside at meetings of the Advisory Committee.

SEC. 8. The Advisory Committee shall determine the time and place of its regular meetings. The Chaplain may call a special meeting. The Bishop or one third of the members of the Advisory Committee may call a special meeting by written notice, delivered to the Chaplain or, if there be no Chaplain, the Warden.

SEC. 9. Salaries for the Chaplains, together with any related obligations to the Church Pension Fund and other employment related expenses for the Chaplains, shall be provided by the Diocesan Council in the operating budget of the Diocese. Each Advisory Committee may provide funds for programming at its Campus Ministry. Each Advisory Committee shall submit a proposed annual budget to the Diocesan Council indicating the Campus Ministry's request for Diocesan funds necessary for the Campus Ministry to carry out a proper and effective ministry (exclusive of salary and benefits for the Chaplain).

SEC. 10. Each Chaplain or, whenever a Campus Ministry be without a Chaplain, the Warden, shall keep a Register. The Advisory Committee may appoint some other person for that purpose.

SEC. 11. The Register shall include a list of Communicants and shall also contain a record of: the name and date of birth of all persons baptized, with the names of their parents and sponsors; the names of all persons married, their witnesses and the place where each marriage was solemnized; and the names, ages and dates of death of all persons buried. Appendix no. 2: Bishop's Address to Convention

Address to the 169th Convention of the Diocese of Missouri November 22, 2008, Christ Church Cathedral

Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The questions I put before you today are these, and they are urgent:

In a time of economic crisis, what is God asking of us the Church in the Diocese of Missouri?

In a time when the Episcopal Church is in persistent decline, what is God asking of us the Church in the Diocese of Missouri?

The first of these questions requires little explanation for anyone paying attention to the news these days. The second, however, begs some background. So here are some numbers. In 2007, the five-year decline and ten-year decline in average Sunday attendance for the whole Church were at 13 percent and 14 percent, respectively. Those are astounding numbers. The decline is steep, and one lasting this long with such unchanging rates will have become endemic.

Notice that there was the same rate of decline in the years before General Convention 2003 as it was afterward; the controversial decisions of 2003 can hardly be “the cause” of the decline. It is something deeper.

The number-crunchers, in fact, tell us that the roots of this decline go back at least fifty years. In the Diocese of Missouri, our ten-year decline is 6%, and our five-year decline is 2%, and statistically stable in the past few years. These numbers are markedly better than those of the whole Church, but they are hardly sustainable. The fact that these numbers in Missouri give us the fourth best of any diocese in the Church is itself nothing less than sobering. A decline, and still fourth best—that’s embarrassing.

I am saying these things to you, in order simply to tell the truth, for in such truth begins the process of healing. Denial may be the first and reactive stage to such hard numbers, but Jesus did not say that denial will set you free. I want to tell the truth, face it honestly, and go from there.

So, in the face of an economic crisis, and persistent decline: What is God asking from us?

My provisional answer is this: Go deeper. And go outside.

The instinctive answer might be to turn inward, to get our own house in order before engaging in anything beyond ourselves. Wrong.

I believe that the movements to go deeper, and go outside, are but two parts of a single movement, mutually sustaining. The deepening of true prayer, both communal and personal, will result in mission; the work of mission, in turn will convert us, deepen our spiritual awareness. It is that missional spirituality which truly interests me. God’s mission in the world is to reconcile all things and all people, through Jesus Christ. The more anxious the times, the more we need in this Diocese to participate in that mission. This missio Dei—God’s project, as many theologians translate that Latin phrase—is the answer to what ails us.

I have four stories to tell, one from a work of fiction, one from Mark’s gospel, one from my own experience, and one from the history of this Diocese, all to cast different perspectives on the importance of God’s project, this work of mission.

Mary Doria Russell's science fiction novel, The Sparrow, tells a story of the near future, when a voice, an achingly beautiful voice, is heard singing from across the universe. The broadcast signal from some other world comes into the radio telescope at Arecibo in Puerto Rico, where the scientists hear it. The world government at the time cannot get its act together to organize a journey for finding this voice. But the Jesuits can, and they put together a community of explorers and pilgrims to travel across the expanse of space and find the singer with the beautiful voice, and all those creatures like the singer. And why would any part of the Church want to do such an audacious thing? The Jesuit Superior General put it this way, as his explanation: we are simply doing what we have always done; we go to find God's other children.

And so they assemble a strange community of people to travel the distance of four light years, to a place they had never even imagined, in a story that will break your heart and give you hope, all at once.

I believe that God continually calls the people of God to find God's other children. I also believe that God calls us into such places that we have never imagined, into places of adventure and risk. Such places will break us and convert us, and fill us with joy.

Then there was the time in Mark's gospel, when Jesus journeyed into the land of Tyre and Sidon, a creepy, foreign place just next door to his home country, but the kind of place to make a pious Galilean hyper-ventilate. In truth, pious Galileans would not go into Tyre and Sidon at all, there being Gentile people and all their nauseating Gentile stuff.

But look at Jesus, crossing over into another place, a place where he is not at home, a land of risk and adventure and of "the other." There he meets a local woman, that Syrophenician woman. The encounter was transforming for the woman, and not coincidentally, it was transforming for Jesus, who learned some things about himself and his mission that he had not known before. It happened precisely through that movement which took Jesus beyond his comfort zone, and into a place to encounter "the other."

God who called a creation into being, has been trying for thousands of years to call a people into being, a people knit from every family, language, people, and nation. God's mission is that very project, and we are called to participate in it. We will never get it done, if we settle for "our kind of people." It is the encounter with God's other children, those who are the most different from us, which will set us free.

The third story I will share with you is just one moment among many in my life, which took me outside my comfort zone, and became a moment of my continuing conversion. My first trip to Lui Diocese was in the spring of 2005. To get there is not quite a trip across the universe, but the travel is arduous enough.

Two long legs of international air travel, then a final leg into Sudan on a single-engine Cessna Caravan, landing at a dirt airstrip which some of our Sudanese friends, with no little irony, call Mundri International Airport. Suffice it to say that there is no duty-free shopping at Mundri International Airport. The day was hot, dry, and dusty; every day in the long dry season in Sudan is hot, dry, and dusty. We got off the plane, jet-lagged, and there waiting alongside the strip, as if an ad hoc welcoming committee, were twenty or so children and young teens, both boys and girls.

The sight of them took my breath away; I had never seen in the flesh the likes of them. Most were frail and thin, from disease or hunger or both. Some of the little ones had the pot-belly associated with extreme malnutrition. Flies were a buzz all around them. A lot of their clothing was torn or threadbare. Most of them smiled in greeting, and many of them reached out to shake our hands. Seeing these

“God’s other children” broke my heart, and I prayed, “Sweet Jesus, I do not know if I can survive Sudan if this is the anguish you are going to show me.” Then into the truck and across fifteen miles or so to Lui town, where we were met at the main intersection by a parade. Drums and singers were there to greet us, and again a crowd of teens and young children. What a wonderful thing, to be greeted with a parade. And the singing in Lui is beyond description, as achingly beautiful and as surprising as any voices that might come across the universe.

I learned that day that I had come to a place where singing the praise of God happens with joy beyond measure. And it happens in a place not far away from privation. Often enough, it happens among the same people. I relearned what I have known all along, that deprivation and joy are by no means mutually exclusive, whatever distance there might appear between them. Encountering these God’s other children helped drive that knowledge deeper into my awareness, and my life.

Let us be clear that our friendship with the Episcopalians in Lui matters a great deal to them. Through two decades of war they had come to feel isolated from and abandoned by other Christians, especially those in the West. Our willingness to show up to stand alongside them, there in Sudan, matters more than I can tell you. And the material difference that we can make, such as the drilling of deep wells, leverages a huge change for the better in the quality of their lives. But for some dozens of us to go there and be touched by God’s other children makes a difference to the Missouri pilgrims themselves, and to this diocese.

Mission transforms the missionary. That’s the great secret. Missioners then scatter transformation among the communities who sent them in the first place. So mission we must do.

The same thing occurs when mission happens closer to home; take the mission trip to New Orleans, for example. Seventeen missionaries from Missouri spent a hot summer week mudding sheet rock in a house whose owner had no place to turn but the Church. We made a difference to him and to his family. But going there and forming a strange little missionary community did something to us also. And seventeen more people came back to Missouri with the mission bug, for the sake of their communities. The next step, as I see it, is to find a place within the borders of this Diocese for the work of mission together—one close by, one that is where we live. It is not a choice between mission far off and mission close by; one simply builds upon the other, and both are necessary.

As I began to sketch out this address, I knew that I would need to broach the matter of our nation’s financial crisis and how that might touch this diocese. The short answer is that it will touch us somehow, but the extent of that effect is hard to tell—I only know that the prospects look worse almost every day.

So a fourth story, from our own history. I went to our diocesan archives to look for materials from a most difficult era in our nation’s financial history, the Great Depression. Very interesting what I found there. The program fund of the diocese was at $68,000 in 1929. It decreased almost two-thirds by 1935, when the fund receipts were in the amount of $27,000. It increased incrementally to about $31,000 in 1938 and remained at that level until the end of the war years.

The two Bishops of that era, Frederick Johnson and William Scarlett, both noted the sharp decrease in programming, as a result of falling revenues. Well, that’s what will happen, in the wake of steeply falling revenues. The Diocesan Journals got progressively thinner over the course of these years, because there were fewer things to report. But these Bishops noted the drastic shortfall almost in passing, and with no sense of self-pity. They reported at length, however, about responsibilities of the Church to respond to a whole nation in crisis. And more particularly, to their Missouri neighborhoods in crisis. The internal financial fact of funding shortfalls was noted, and the cuts were deep and painful. Whole programs vanished.

As far as I can tell from the Journals, the work of the Church in that era focused almost entirely beyond itself, which was a matter of mission and not program. And it happened by way of personal and corporate sacrifice. New Churches were planted. Deaconesses went into regions of southeast Missouri, to start congregations there and to minister to those in material need, making sacrifices themselves in order to do so. Rural poverty became a pressing concern, as did matters of racial justice, both in St. Louis and beyond. It was a pretty lively and interesting Church. Recruiting clergy, to Missouri, capable clergy, was not difficult during these hard times, because this Diocese was such a fascinating place to be.

Any time the Church remains so focused beyond itself, it will thrive. Whenever it turns in on itself, danger lurks. Mission is the lifeblood of the Church.

I am required by canon to report in this address the official organizing of new missions. This seems a logical point at which to make mention of St. Vincent's in the Vineyard, in Ste Genevieve County, Charles Orme-Rogers their vicar. May God prosper the work that is yours and ours, in that place.

The Lambeth Conference from last summer begs for some of my attention; only I do not want to allow it to take all the oxygen out of the room. Let me say that in balance, the conference was for me very good, a time of renewal. Being around so many other Bishops made available the resources for learning how better to be a Bishop.

Two matters from the Conference touched me deeply. One, the realization that most of the 620 Bishops at the conference had a yearning for God's mission, in their own setting and beyond. Mission was a common thread in much of what we were about. It was very important—just not much of a headline grabber. The conference was about mission.

Second, I was humbled again and again by the cost that discipleship requires from Christian sisters and brothers around the world. Persecution is a word with that comes from current events, not history. Christians face physical violence and threats in more places than I realized. They need our prayers, and our solidarity.

I need to report that the misunderstanding our province had with the Episcopal Church of the Sudan made for the three worst days of my time at Lambeth—and those days drew a sharp line to show the cultural distances between our two Churches.

For the sake of Jesus who calls us all, these differences demand closer attention to our relationship with these our sisters and brothers—not indifference, or reactivity, or abandonment. Closer relationship—if indeed God is making a people from every family, language, people, and nation. And not just “our kind of people.”

Rowan Williams, the Archbishop of Canterbury, leads our communion in the most difficult of times, and his manner of leadership attracts criticism from every quarter. He is too easy a target. As a side note, let me say that almost anyone daring to be a leader in these hard times, both in culture and in Church, becomes too easy a target. I beg you to recognize that fact when it comes to your own priests, who have said yes to a daunting task. Pray for them. Support them. Make them rest and take care of themselves, so they have the wherewithal for the work in front of them. Give them resources and encouragement, so they can be the leaders you need and deserve. They are our treasures.

Back to Archbishop Rowan, let me say that his insistence on a retreat to begin the conference, his steady spiritual calm, his decision to move away from the usual legislative model, and his quick theological wit were just the right gifts for the bishops at Lambeth. I think he proved the leader we needed and deserved.

One blessing of mission is that it tends to build up community. There is something about shared adventure in the name of Christ which strengthens the bonds uniting the Church. That may not be the case when it comes to the Church's consideration of issues, even those issues which the Church must address. These resolutions about human sexuality, before us today, probably fall under the category of those issues which must be addressed. They are issues for this season of the Church's life—probably issues for a long season.

Let me reiterate my position, that the arc of history and the Good News of Jesus Christ will take us, the Church, to a place of full inclusion for the faithful gay men and lesbians among us. Let me reiterate that I believe such movement will probably require a generation to complete. And at the same time, I remain committed to sustaining the highest degree of communion available to us, within the Anglican world. These are, let us admit, the pushes and pulls of our time. Legislation, in and of itself, will not bring to a conclusion these pushes and pulls.

Yet we must vote today. That means the assembly will be divided along the ayes and nays, to use parliamentary language. Understand that there is every heartfelt position you can imagine, around these issues, within the walls of this Cathedral. I know that for a fact. For everyone who says a firm "aye," from a place of clarity and rightness of cause, someone else will say a firm "nay," likewise from a place of clarity and rightness of cause. And, second, the binary nature of voting "yes" or "no" does not easily take into account the gradations of understanding and belief within the walls of this Cathedral.

My appeal is simple: Deal gently with one another, for these are tender issues for so many of us. And the vote today will by no means finish them.

Many of you know that from the Diocesan Planning process, two forums for the people of the Diocese have been built. One venue is a workshop to be held in every Congregation, a workshop that is about making disciples, which is something you actually already know how to do. The materials are based on Matthew's gospel, and as much as anything, they give you a tool for appraising the mission and ministry of your community.

How are we doing as disciples, and at making disciples?

What are the things we are doing now, and what other things need our attention, both far off and near?
The leaders for the workshops are all layfolk. The materials are great. The workshops are not ends in themselves; they are tools for us to use.

The other venue will be in the Convocations, with people from the different parishes in the same general area, no more than twenty at a time, who will be invited to "Conversations with the Bishop." These conversations are a leisurely but purposeful gathering of some two hours with a shared meal in the middle. It will give me an opportunity to let you know more of what is on my heart, and it will give me a chance to hear from you. A scribe will be present at every conversation, to make sure that everything is heard and recorded—which will give me and the other leaders of this Diocese valuable data for our common life. But more to the point, these conversations will be about building relationships. We have not nearly enough time to be together, in this over-caffeinated culture of ours, not nearly enough time for the leisurely dreaming of the Dreams of God. I want to do such a thing among you.

What dreams am I dreaming for this Diocese? Here are some of them, in this season of urgency. I dream of a diocese where teaching the faith and learning the faith is integral to our life together, and sustainable. It is something we do so naturally we don't have to call it a program.

I dream of a diocese where there is no curriculum for teaching and learning the faith, apart from the people of God, the life-giving Eucharist, the Holy Scriptures, the traditions of the ages, and the work of mission. The work of mission—because that Syrophenician woman does have a lot to teach us, you know.

I dream of a diocese where we can say, "It's the mission stupid," and know that such words are our life.

I dream of a diocese that calls itself Eucharistic, and not just because everyone goes to mass. Eucharistic in the sense that we become the bread and wine, gifts taken, blest, broken and poured out, so they might be shared, that notion rooted in the teachings of Richard Hooker. Who taught about our presence with Christ in the bread and wine!

I dream of a diocese in which the word survival is never said out loud, because we realize that our purpose lies in the life of the world. Not simply in keeping our doors open. Survival is not interesting—and is not the same as thing as resurrection. For Christians, living as we do under the sign of the cross, survival is not the agenda.

I dream of a diocese in which the distinction between clergy and the rest of the baptized is a matter of detail, and of designated leadership, not a matter of how-serious-a-disciple-I-intend-to-be: because everyone is serious about discipleship.

I dream of a diocese in which the work of mission is contagious and enlivening, where mission is never a chore but always an adventure.

I dream of a diocese, where the urgencies of this season are never excuses to give up but reasons to persevere. Our brothers and sisters in Lui Diocese rebuilt their bombed-out cathedral while a war was still going on. They lived through a twenty-one-year-long season of urgency called civil war, and even now the peace is fragile. To rebuild a bombed-out Cathedral during time of war is nothing less than wisdom of the cross—but to the world, it is foolishness. None of our urgencies now are as threatening as the ones our Sudanese friends have faced, not a one of them.

I dream of a diocese with their wisdom and foolishness, their audacity and perseverance. I want some of what they have.

I dream of a diocese where we really are about the Life of the World, for the sake of Jesus. That is the reason to become a disciple; that is the reason to make disciples. That is why we need to build congregations, healthy enough, interesting enough, yeasty and salty enough, that they would be missed if not there. Making Disciples. Building Congregations. For the life of the world. This is the sort of thing I am dreaming. I want you to dream with me. For the sake of mission—for the sake of what it is that God is doing in the world.

Report of the Standing Committee

The primary purposes of our Diocesan Standing Committee are to be “a council of advice to the Bishop...” and to “advise the Bishop of its own accord,” as described in our Diocesan Constitution and Canons. The Standing Committee also has some ecclesiastical functions, certifying candidates for Ordination of Priests and Deacons and representing our Diocese in consenting to the Election, Ordination, and Consecration of other Bishops. In addition the group approves property transactions, bylaws, and loans from the Kelton E. White and Alma Mayland White Memorial Fund for Parishes within the Diocese.

Following the 168th Diocesan Convention, the Standing Committee met in December 2007 and in January, February, March, May, June, August, and October 2008. Thanks to the Rev. Joe Chambers, the Rev. Dr. Warren Crews, Cassie Eckardt, the Rev. Kitty Hillquist, Jeannette Huey, Jane Klieve, the Rev. Jake Owensby, Matthew Owings, Marsha Ray, the Rev. Jason Samuel (secretary), and the Rev. Tamsen Whistler (vice president) for their service on the Standing Committee this year. Joe Chambers was appointed to replace the Rev. Sally Weaver, who resigned in March 2008 because of an interim ministry assignment away from the St. Louis area.

During the year the Standing Committee considered requests for nominations or consents for Bishops in the Episcopal Dioceses of Chicago, Dallas, Idaho, Long Island, Maine, Northwest Texas, South Dakota, Southern Virginia, and Texas. We addressed property issues involving the Church of the Advent, Crestwood; Hope Church, Columbia; Holy Communion, University City; St. Martin's, Ellisville; St. Matthew's, Mexico; St. Matthew's, Warson Woods; and Transfiguration, Lake St. Louis. The group discussed the advisability of planning regular Standing Committee visits to Parishes across the Diocese of Missouri.

Our Constitution and Canons also identify a Standing Committee responsibility, with the Bishop, to annually assess and report on the state of the Diocese. While this information generally comes directly from the Office of the Bishop, the committee was informed that the Diocese of Missouri has the fourth best history in the U.S. Episcopal Church of sustaining average Sunday attendance since 2001. Our Diocese experienced a 2% decline in average Sunday attendance during this period; the national church saw a decline of 12%. The Dioceses of South Carolina, Tennessee, and Alabama experienced attendance increases.

Finally, thanks to Bishop Smith and the Rev. Canon

Dan Smith, Canon to the Ordinary, for their constant support of the Standing Committee and its work.

Respectfully submitted,
Clark S. Davis
President

Appendix no. 5: Diocesan Council and COEDMO Report and Official Acts

The responsibilities and duties of Diocesan Council are described in the Canons of the Diocese of Missouri, specifically Canon III.6, and include:

- Preparation of the proposed Diocesan Budget and oversight of the receipts and expenditures under the budget adopted by Convention
- Planning and reviewing the programs of the Diocese and submitting written recommendations concerning these programs to the annual meeting of Convention
- When appropriate or needed, proposing Diocesan policy and the interpretation of Diocesan policy during recesses of Convention
- Acting as Trustees of the Corporation of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri (COEDMO) in actions concerning the property or assets of the Corporation

During each meeting of Council, the Bishop reports on the work of the Diocese and shares insights and observations from his work on the level of the national church and in the Anglican Communion. In addition, the Bishop's staff keeps Council apprised of the work being done in the ministry clusters of Making Disciples, Supporting Congregations, and Administration. Convocations also submit reports, either in writing or through the convocational members of Council who make known concerns, questions, and special activities from throughout the Diocese.

Some of the highlights of the work of Council this year include:

- As in past years a substantial amount of time was spent on budgetary matters. An encouraging trend was seen in the number of congregations who made commitments to pay their full assessments. Even so, a deficit was projected for the end of the year. However, with income made available from the Donaldson Trust, increased interest revenue, and the savings generated by the configuration of the Bishop's staff it was determined that we would end the year with either no deficit or one that was manageable.
- As Council did last year, we worked to present a balanced budget and one that expected all congregations to pay their full assessments. Council believes it is important to encourage all congregations to assume this responsibility and obligation and the budget presented reflects this. Any adjustments that are needed due to a lower than 100% acceptances of assessments will be made after we have heard back from all congregations.
- The distribution of the application forms and active solicitation of grant requests from the New Ventures in Community Ministries Fund of the Making All Things New campaign. Three grants, totaling $52,000 were made to congregations initiating new work in their communities.

- A committee of Council began the study of convocations through a survey and open meeting that gathered information from the Diocese on the role and function of convocations.

The official acts of Council this year were:

- Approved housing resolutions for Bishop Smith, Canons Smith and McMichael, and Revv. Benko, Chambers, and McCain. Passed by voice vote.
- Approved a banking resolutions setting out the authorized signers for the various accounts held by the Diocese. Passed by voice vote.
- Elected Donald Braughton, St. Peter's, Ladue; Jerry Cooper, Emmanuel, Webster Groves; and Kathleen Sherby, St. Michael and St. George, Clayton as trustees of the Diocesan Investment Trust (DIT). Elected by voice vote
- Established a total return policy of 4.5% of a three-year average to receive income from the Donaldson Fund with that income designated for 2008 for Episcopal City Mission, Camp Phoenix, and other youth projects of the Diocese. Passed by voice vote.
- Approved the Bishop's appointment of Norman Moenkhaus to Diocesan Council. Passed by voice vote.
- Approved by voice vote two requests for reimbursement of medical expenses from the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.
- Adopted the Flexible Spending Account Resolution renewing the availability of this benefit for the clergy and eligible employees of churches and diocesan institutions. Passed by voice vote.
- Approved, grants from the Church Assistance Endowment Fund for several congregations. Passed by voice vote.
- Approved $40,000.00 to cover the cost of construction overruns for the construction of the new church building for All Saints', Farmington. Passed by voice vote.
- Approved a request by Camp Phoenix for $3,815.00 from the Donaldson Fund for camping equipment to ease the burden of using rental equipment. Passed by voice vote.

- Accepted the audit report for 2007 from Schmersahl, Treavor and Company.
- Adopted Resolution A-169 concerning standard compensation for full-time clergy for submission to Convention. Unanimous.
- Approved a Diocesan Minimum Liability Resolution by voice vote.
- Approved grants to Ascension, St. Louis; Grace, Jefferson City; and St. John's, St. Louis from the New Ventures in Community Ministries Fund of the Making All Things New program. Unanimous.

Special thanks go to those members of Council whose terms are ending: D'Arcy Elsperman, Hank Johnson, Titus Olajide, the Rev. Beverly Van Horne, and Marc Vanacht. Their commitment and dedication to their service on Diocesan Council and their contributions to our work have been exemplary. I also give thanks to those council members who served on special committees and whose extra efforts have contributed so much to the discharge of our duties and responsibilities.

It has been a privilege and a blessing to serve the Diocese of Missouri in this ministry and I give thanks to God for the common mission to which all of us are called as we seek to be the Church in this part of God's Kingdom.

Respectfully submitted,
The Rev. John B. Musgrave
Vice-Chair, Diocesan Council

APPENDIX NO. 6: OFFICES OF THE BISHOP,
CLUSTER REPORTS

Building Congregations and Administration Cluster

2008 began with significant changes in these two areas in the Offices of the Bishop. Using the budgetary guidelines set in the 2008 Program Budget the Building Congregations Cluster and the Administration Cluster were combined under the supervision of the Rev. Canon Dan Smith, following the reduction in the size of the Bishop's staff.

The work of the Administration Cluster in regard to the affairs of the Diocese falls into the following general categories: Financial and Insurance, Technology, Business and Legal, and the Bishop's staff.

Ms. Desiree Viliocco became the Financial Officer for the Diocese. She has been a part of the Bishop's staff for a number of years. Her handling of the financial concerns of the Diocese continues to be exemplary, as evidenced by the reports of the auditors for the Diocese. We welcomed Ms. Emily McNeil to the Bishop's staff as the Finance Assistant to the Financial Officer. Ms. McNeil also has the Diocesan Office computer systems as a part of her portfolio.

Canon Smith has taken on the primary responsibility for the Business and Legal affairs of the Diocese. The Chancellor, Hal Burroughs, continues to provide much needed counsel in this area. In the area of staff administration, the primary work accomplished in 2008 was the reorganization and the changes in job descriptions made necessary by the reduction in the size of the staff. While there have been some growing pains, particular praise and thanks need to go to the support staff, who often carried the brunt of the changes.

In the area of Building Congregations, 2008 could be called the year of transition. Currently there are active searches in progress at Christ Church Cathedral; Christ Church, Rolla; Grace, Kirkwood; St. Martin's, Ellisville; and St. Barnabas, Florissant. The Cathedral, Grace and St. Martin's are all in the process of reviewing names, profiles and resumes. Christ Church, Rolla and St. Barnabas are developing their Church Deployment Office profiles, which will be placed on the National CDO database. In addition to these active searches, All Saints, St. Louis, has a long-term interim in place.

In clergy transitions, Grace, Jefferson City, called the Rev. Shariya Molegoda, instituted as Rector in January. Calvary, Columbia, called the Rev. Paula Robinson to be their Rector. She arrived in the spring and was instituted as Rector in October. The Rev. Marshall Crossnoe was instituted as Priest-in-Charge of St. Alban's, Fulton and St. Mark's, Portland.

Three particular highlights of the year were: St. Vincent's in the Vineyard, Columbia Hope Church, and All Saints, Farmington. St. Vincent's has petitioned the Bishop to be declared a Mission in the Diocese of Missouri. Worshipping in the Chapel at Chaumette Winery in St. Genevieve County, this congregation has about 25 in Average Sunday Attendance. The Rev. Heather McCain has made steady progress towards the opening of a new mission in Columbia, Columbia Hope Church. A number of events have been accomplished, introducing the people of Columbia to this new venture. Columbia Hope Church will begin worship in a storefront in early February, 2009. All Saints, Farmington has recently celebrated the Dedication and Consecration of a new building. This represents a new beginning for All Saints as they move to a new, highly visible location with a fresh, larger, flexible building for their mission and ministry.

During the course of the year, this cluster sponsored the Leadership Conference in March. This conference presented the Magnetic Church, a two day event giving practical evangelism/newcomer ministry training to the Congregations of the Diocese.

Canon Smith continued, as a part of his work, the regular consultation with peers around the country. Attending Deployment Officer's meetings and the Conference of Diocesan Executives was a part of this regular consultation. In addition, he and Ms. Viliocco attended training by the Church Insurance Corporation of Vermont to be fully versed in the insurance matters facing the congregations of the Diocese. Ms. Viliocco also attended a conference concerning medical insurance. She was accompanied by Ms. McNeil to that conference. Ms. Robin Weisenborn attended Church Deployment Office training in New York, enabling her to provide significant assistance to the Search Committees at work in the Diocese.

Canon Smith continues to provide the primary staff support to the Standing Committee and to the Diocesan Council/COEDMO, assisted by Ms. Weisenborn and Ms. Tracy Grigsby.

Respectfully submitted,
The Rev. E. Daniel Smith
Canon to the Ordinary

Communications Cluster

Beginning the last week of September, Bishop Smith appointed Beth Felice as the new Director of Communications. The offices of the Archivist and Registrar, Sue Rehkopf, as well as Administrative Assistant and Receptionist Tracy Grigsby now belong to the Communications Cluster.

We began an in house audit of external communications, including analysis of all advertising, print, and electronic publications. Our first goal was to remove the inconsistencies from our visual identity guidelines and begin to align all publications to the style. Analysis of survey data and a reassessment of Diocesan communications goals yielded these actions:

- Seek Magazine's publication, with its present format and distribution model, was ceased for the calendar year 2008.
- The Editorial Board and Communications Office will make recommendations to the Canons and Bishop in early December about print strategies for calendar year 2009.
- The emailed weekly newsletter, iSeek, was immediately redesigned, and the current content management system housing the Diocesan website was better integrated with this interim redesign.
- Immediate work began on building the necessary technology to support the current website in a more dynamic fashion. The first phase of this restructure will be implemented after this Convention.
- December has been targeted as the time to make current all online content.
- Early 2009 goals include a dynamic and participatory calendar and newsletter integration, as well as exploring dynamic display of public information housed in ACS, the office database.

Respectfully submitted,
Beth Felice
Director of Communications

Report of the Archivist and Registrar

The Archives is the repository for all the historical records of the Diocese. The collection includes a library, document and photograph collections and a large collection of three-dimensional items, primarily memorials items, from closed churches – plaques, processional and altar crosses, alms basins, chalices, patens, and at present, five stained glass windows.

In 2007, the Archives was moved to the sixth floor of Bishop Tuttle Memorial. One room is designated for the Library and houses our collection of more than 2,000 volumes. This includes bound volumes of "The Church News," the first Diocesan newspaper, boxed collections of succeeding Diocesan publications; journals of Diocesan conventions and copies of Diocesan Constitution and Canons. We have a complete set of "Spirit of Missions," missionary reports of the Episcopal Church, and journals of General Conventions. We are fortunate in having the few remaining volumes of the original Diocesan Library and a small part of Bishop Scarlett's personal library.

One room is designated for the records of congregations, committees, commissions, task forces, organizations and institutions of the Diocese. A separate room houses the document collections of our bishops. The Cathedral shares 6th floor space for their archival collections.

I attended the National Episcopal Historians and Archivists Conference in Memphis, Tennessee in June. Along with a wide variety of presentations, the Conference included services at St. Mary's Cathedral and Calvary Church, and a visit to Elmwood Cemetery to visit the final resting place of the Martyrs of Memphis. Constance and her Companions, along with the Rev. Louis Schuyler (son of our own Dean Schuyler) lost their lives battling the yellow fever epidemic which struck Memphis in 1878, killing more than 8,000 people. It is an experience not to be missed if you are visiting Memphis.

In October, we held our second Archives Workshop at Church of the Holy Communion in University City. Several congregations participated in a morning session on gathering oral history. The afternoon was dedicated to learning the basics of establishing and maintaining Church archives. I hope that this will become an annual event.

I continue to receive requests for letters of transfer from closed churches, and for birth, marriage and burial records as family genealogy becomes a more popular pastime for many. And, of course, I am always happy when I can provide information relating to the history of the Diocese and the many congregations and institutions that have been part of the Diocese during the past 167 years. If your congregation is nearing an anniversary, please remember that your Archivist/Registrar and the Diocesan Archives are available for assistance and research.

Respectfully submitted,
Susan G. Rehkopf
Archivist and Registrar

Making Disciples Cluster

Introduction

Making Disciples Cluster of the Offices of the Bishop includes a variety of ministries that form and equip disciples of Jesus to perform an array of service for the life of the world. These ministries range from dealing with hunger, racism, and juvenile detention to youth, adult learning, and visitations to the sick. The following reports give a glimpse of the vitality of these ministries.

Christian Education

This year all persons serving as full and part-time Christian educators in our congregations have gathered twice to reflect and plan on how best to be a resource for the important work of Christian formation. They are in the process of deciding how best to offer our resources of time, people, and money in a changing financial and technological landscape. One program that will receive renewed attention is Godly Play. There are plans to develop diocesan based training. Also, this past year included a retreat for teachers.

Episcopal School for Ministry

The Episcopal School for Ministry continues its work of making disciples of Jesus for the ministry of the Church. The backbone of this work is the Theological Formation Program that includes all the basic subjects for Christian faith and life. The schedule of the weekend gatherings has been changed to make it easier for people to enroll in one course without registering for the whole program. A course meets on four Saturdays beginning at 9:00am and concluding at 3:00pm. This time includes the Eucharist and lunch. The Spring Term for 2009 offers courses in New Testament, Sacraments, and the Anglican Tradition. Everyone is welcome to take a course and be part of the dynamic formation and fellowship of the Episcopal School for Ministry.

(Commission on) Youth Ministry

The Diocese hosted several events for youth in 2008. Happening #1, a teen led weekend of spiritual renewal occurred in March. It was attended by diocesan youth as well as visiting youth from Western Missouri. The event was a tremendous success thanks to the visionary leadership of adults and the enthusiastic participation of "Happeners". Soon after, the Cathedral hosted a rowdy night of games and fun with the Camp Phoenix reunion in April. In May, Mark Sluss stepped down as Chair of the Diocesan Youth Commission and Bishop Smith appointed the Rev. Becky Ragland. Planning and training brought us to Camp Phoenix in late July. Camp Phoenix was attended to full capacity. Happening #2 did not occur as planned in September, but has been rescheduled for April. There is much enthusiasm for it, but a transition in leadership caused a loss of momentum in getting it organized. Finally, in November the Diocesan Youth Commission hosted Workshop Youth! a gathering for youth leaders for networking and sharing of best practices. Eighteen youth leaders attended.

For 2009 the goals for Diocesan youth are four fold. We will host Happening #2 April 24-26, 2009 (location TBN). We will support the youth presence at Camp Phoenix. In November we hope to have our first annual Diocesan Youth Event. This years will be entitled "The Soundtrack of Your Life" and we plan to have it at a four season camp within an hour's drive of the majority of our youth. The fourth goal is to continue to empower youth leaders for their ministries with biannual or quarterly meetings.

APPENDIX NO. 7: OTHER REPORTS

Report from the Community of Hope

The Community of Hope is a training program for lay pastoral ministry grounded in Benedictine Spirituality. The purpose of the 14 week, 42 hour training is to awaken participants to God's call in their lives and to help them discover their spiritual gifts for ministry. This experience builds community and develops spiritually centered caregivers.

Within the context of Benedictine spirituality, trainees will explore a personal "rule of life". The training consists of 14 modules, each module featuring a guest lecturer who has expertise in that particular module. There are two opportunities for supervised "Practice Visits" during the training. Confidentiality and accountability are two of the principles stressed during and after the training is completed. A service to commission the new lay chaplains is held after the training is completed.

After commissioning, the monthly Circle of Care provides small group meetings for prayer, ongoing support, continuing education and debriefing. The whole community gathers quarterly for a morning called The Monastery without Walls in order to live into the Rule of Benedict through prayer, work and study. An Annual Retreat is also scheduled.

The opportunities for ministry are many and varied, both within the parish and in the wider community. The Community of Hope is meant to complement existing ministries, providing a common spiritual base for doing ministry in many settings. Examples of ministries within the parish are visiting parishioners who are homebound or in nursing facilities and taking communion as Eucharistic Visitors. In the larger community, one can find Community of Hope chaplains providing a "Ministry of Presence" in hospitals - in the ER, Intensive Care or Hospice; in nursing facilities; in shelters and jails, and leading a Saturday Morning Prayer for the homeless.

The first class began in 2001 and David Malek is currently facilitating the eighth class. The Church of St. Michael and St. George and Christ Church Cathedral are both Training Centers. We are grateful to The Rev. Mike Wheeler and The Rev. Dr. John Kilgore for serving as a clergy advisors. The Diocese is included in The Community of Hope International, a regional structure organized to support existing Centers and to help in starting new Centers. The office in Houston at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital continues to provide all the training material and hosts the Annual Conference.

The Community of Hope has trained over 50 lay chaplains from nine Episcopal parishes in the St. Louis area. In 2007, over 1700 people were visited (both individually and in larger groups) for a total of 2130 hours.

John Pestka (of the Cathedral) is the new Diocesan Coordinator and along with the Leadership Team, has the goal in 2009 of starting a new Training Center in far suburban St. Louis and one in an area outside of St. Louis. Members will travel to meet with clergy, vestries and for adult education sessions. Please contact John at john.pestka@bunzlusa.com for more information.

Report from the Commission on Dismantling Racism

Vision: As people living out our Baptismal covenant, we see our diocese reconciled to God by challenging racism in ourselves and society.

Mission: To dismantle racism through education, dialogue and action.

The Commission on Dismantling Racism is charged by the National Church and the Diocese of Missouri to promote racial justice in the Episcopal Church.

The Commission expects to realize this result by working toward the above stated vision and mission statements.

The Commission has divided its work into four major goals areas.

Goal 1: Increase the presence of the Commission in Diocesan and Congregational activities.

Goal 2: Train, educate, and update all members of the Commission on some aspect of racism.

Goal 3: Educate and inform so to empower others to dismantle racism in the Diocese.

Goal 4: Increase the active membership of the Commission on Dismantling Racism.

The Commission utilizes these goals to guide and direct its work on an ongoing basis. Activities are developed, planned, organized and implemented to assist the Commission in realizing its annual goals.

Approximately 20% of the parishes of the Diocese participate on an ongoing basis in delivering the programs and services of the Commission to our church family and community. The Commission on Dismantling Racism seeks to have 100% participation by having at least one representative from each congregation active in the work of the Commission. For congregations located outside the immediate geographic location of the St. Louis Metropolitan area the Commission encourages participation by serving as the point of contact for your congregation. In doing so you would receive all email and other correspondence from the Commission to be delivered to and shared with your congregation. If you are willing and able to serve as this person of contact, please contact the Commission at rkgood@sbcglobal.net and inform Rob Good, Secretary of the Commission on Dismantling Racism of your willingness to serve.

The Commission is thankful for the following churches in the diocese that have active representation from their congregation participating in the work of dismantling racism:

All Saints, St. Louis; Christ Church Cathedral, St. Louis; Church Planter, Columbia, Missouri; Diocesan Office; Emmanuel, Webster Groves; Holy Communion, University City; Retired Clergy, Diocese of Missouri; St. Barnabas, Florissant; St. John's, St. Louis; St. Peter's, Ladue; St. Timothy's, Creve Coeur; Trinity, St. Louis; Trinity, Kirksville

Highlights from the Past Year

December 2007—The Commission on Dismantling Racism of the Diocese in partnership with the YWCA of Metropolitan St. Louis, the National Conference for Community and Justice of Metropolitan St. Louis, FOCUS St. Louis, The Diversity Awareness Partnership, Interfaith Partnership/Faith Beyond Walls, Churches United in Christ – CUIC and The Presbytery of Giddings-Lovejoy hosted “Widening the Work: Allies in Dismantling Racism” Celebrating the Work that is Being Done to Dismantle Racism in the St. Louis Community. The event was held at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA, 2711 Locust Street, St. Louis, Missouri from 3:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Sunday, December 2, 2007. The event was attended by approximately sixty people and the evaluations indicate that the event was a tremendous success. It was agreed that the event should be repeated and the Commission has committed to pursue the possibility of partnering to again to host this celebration.

January 2008—The Commission on Dismantling Racism held an all day training for the diocese at St. Stephens's Church in Ferguson. This training was very well attended and included Level One and Level Two training activities. Evaluations from this training indicated that the Commission is moving forward in its continuing training effort.

February—The Episcopal Diocese of Missouri Dismantling Racism Commission hosted the Annual Celebration of the Ministries of Absalom Jones and Richard Allen “Dismantling Racism – Beginning and Sustaining the Journey” on February 9, 2008 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Ladue. Commission Member Kris Zapalac and an employee of the Missouri Department of Natural Resources History Section, Professor Terry Jones of the University of Missouri at St. Louis and Archivist Susan Rekhopf of the Diocese of Missouri were the guest presenters. The evaluation from the event indicate that it was well received and a success. In addition to the evaluations, individual observations indicated that the juxtaposition of the history of the Episcopal Church and the history of the larger State of Missouri and the St. Louis community made for a dichotomy which calls for (demands the need for) reconciliation. This training helped the Commission to realize it is vital for the Episcopal Church to move forward with the National Church's call for a historical review of each parish's role, participation and support in the institution of slavery.

March—On Sunday, March 30, 2008 a visitation and training presentation was conducted by the Commission on Dismantling Racism at St. John's Episcopal Church on Arsenal Street in St. Louis, Missouri. Chester Hines, Jr. was asked to speak at the 10:00 a.m. service and Bill Gilbert and Allyce Bullock conducted a dismantling racism training at the adult education program following the service.

April—Rob Good lead the Commission on Dismantling Racism in its annual self training on Saturday, April 5, 2008 from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Ladue. This year's training focused on further developing and marketing the Dismantling Racism Resource Center located at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Ladue. The following media was reviewed and discussed.

May—The Commission on Dismantling Racism conducted its annual planning session for the coming year. The vision, mission and goal statements for the Commission were reviewed and agreed to as being appropriate for the coming year. The Commission agreed to and presented its updated calendar of events for the period January 2008 to December 2009. On May 7, 8, 9 and 10, 2008 five members of the diocese and members of the Commission on Dismantling Racism participated in either a two day and/or four day training in Iowa City, Iowa under the direction of The Reverend Jayne Oasin, Social Justice Officer for the national church in New York. Participants included: Chester Hines, Jr., of Church of the Holy communion in University City, The Reverend Heather McCain, Church Planter in the Columbia, Missouri area, Natalie Alexander, of Trinity Church Kirksville, Adrienne Dillon of All Saints' in St. Louis and Julian Long of St. John's in St. Louis. On Sunday, May 18, 2008 the first in a hoped for series of Hot Topic discussions was hosted by the Commission on dismantling Racism and held at Holy Communion Episcopal Church in University City. Thanks and appreciation is given to Courtney Everson for taking the leadership to make this first event of this type happen for the Commission.

June—The Commission began focusing on two major efforts during the month of June. The first task was to begin the process for formatting the Loving Our Neighbors as Ourselves guide into a brochure for distribution to the diocese. The second task was to redesign the dismantling racism training offered by the diocese from an eight hour training to the returned fourteen hour training in accordance with General Conventions Resolution B025 of GC2006. This task has been completed and will be implemented at the next training offered by the Commission on Dismantling Racism. Three more members of the commission on dismantling Racism participated in the National Conference for Community and Justice week long training institute. Talie Alexander of Trinity, Kirksville, Missouri, Kate Haggans of Trinity Episcopal Church in St. Louis and Julian Long of St. John's Episcopal Church in St. Louis, all members of the Commission on Dismantling Racism reported having a tremendous learning experience as a result of their participation in the dismantling racism institute.

July—The Commission on Dismantling Racism develop the overall plan of action to begin the development of a satellite Commission on Dismantling Racism in the west and northwest part of the geographic area of the diocese. The Reverends Emery Washington, Sr. and Heather McCain and Talie Alexander are continuing the process of making this vision a reality. The kickoff of the satellite Commission is scheduled for February 2009. Kate Haggans and The Reverend Emery Washington, Sr. began the process of re-cataloguing the materials in the Dismantling Racism Commission Resource Center located at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Ladue. Reverend Jeff Groene of Samuel United Church of Christ of Clayton participated in the Commission's meeting in an effort to begin the process of doing the work of dismantling racism in his own church.

August—Allyce Bullock, a member of the Commission held a showing of the movie Traces of the Trade at her home. This movie highlights the participation of families of the Episcopal Church and how they personally benefited from the slave trade. It was determined that this movie should be used as a part of the training provided by the Commission on Dismantling Racism.

September—The Absalom Jones Celebration reported that the event will be held on Saturday, February 14, 2008 at St. Peter’s Episcopal Church. The title of the event is “From Conflict to Conversation” and two of the guest presenters are Dr. Kris Zapalac, historian and representative of the Missouri Department of Natural Resources and The Reverend Becky Ragland of Holy Communion Episcopal Church and community leader in the Webster Groves and Kirkwood communities. Julian Long presented the overall concept for the Commission on Dismantling Racism brochure. These conversations lead to the idea of the need for a logo for the Commission on Dismantling Racism. The work on the brochure and the logo continue to date. It is anticipated that these projects will be finalized in early 2009.

October—A representative of the Commission on Dismantling Racism attended The Service of Repentance of the National Episcopal Church on Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5, 2008 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The Service of Repentance included an apology by Presiding Bishop Katharine Jefferts Schori for the Episcopal Church’s participation in the Trans-Atlantic Slave Trade. The Service of Repentance was held at the African Episcopal Church of St. Thomas, founded by The Reverend Absalom Jones. The Service of Repentance was an action taken in response to Resolution 123A of the 75th General Convention of the Episcopal Church. On Sunday, October 12, 2008 the Commission on Dismantling Racism visited and presented training to the Adult Education Program at St. Timothy’s Episcopal Church in Creve Coeur. This training was lead and facilitated by Kate Haggans, Mike McDowell, Bill Gilbert and Chester Hines Jr., all members of the Commission on Dismantling Racism. The Commission on Dismantling Racism contributed to the success of the Diversity Awareness partnership “An Evening of Cultural Diversity” on October 16, 2008 at the Science Center.

November—The Commission will present a training at the 169th Annual Convention of the Diocese of Missouri.

Meetings for the Commission on Dismantling Racism are generally held the first Saturday of the month from 10:00a.m. to 12:00 noon at Trinity Episcopal Church, 600 Euclid Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63108, (314) 361-4655. We invite everyone in the diocese to come and participate in the work to dismantle racism in our church family and larger community.

Report of the Diocese of Missouri Episcopal Church Women

As my third year as the Diocese of Missouri Episcopal Church Women President, it has been a pleasure to serve the Diocese. There have been many things we have done throughout this year.

I was very proud to be able to attend the Province V Episcopal Church Women’s 37th Annual Meeting hosted by the Diocese of Fond du Lac, held at the Radisson Paper Valley Hotel, Appleton, WI from April 4-6, 2008. Please take time to read my ‘delegate’s report’ found in this folder for more detailed information.

Margie Bowman, Marge Polcyn, her granddaughter and I, represented the Board at the annual Flower Festival at Church Christ Cathedral in May. We had a booth outside on the Cathedral’s parking lot. We did not sell many of our cookies due to the very cold weather. The Diocese Office charged $25 for each table.

We were able to award two scholarships this year. One to Elizabeth Thompson from St. Michael and St. George, Clayton and one to Kathi Wilson from St. Mark’s, St. Louis. You will find the details of the guidelines in this folder under ‘Scholarship Report’. If you have any questions regarding the scholarship award program, please contact Cleo Anderson.

The Board held an informal gathering on Saturday, September 20, 2008. This was a productive meeting where the attendees were allowed to state what direction they would like to see the Board move. It was decided to follow our ‘objective’ “to offer to every woman in the Diocese an environment of support and encouragement, education and opportunity for ministry by providing fellowship, communication, resource materials, and outreach”. We will now offer these things to everyone at our Board meetings. We will have a short business meeting followed by a guest speaker. Look for more details throughout the year and on the Diocese’ website.

I am happy to report that the Diocese Office has been a great support of our ECW this year. They sent out our September 20th meeting notice and our annual meeting and conference reservation form through email and snail mail. I am excited about the excitement from their office for us. Thank you very much.

Thank you to Transfiguration Episcopal Church, Lake St. Louis for inviting our Board to attend one of their ECW meetings. The meeting was very exciting by their attendance and how involved they are in their church. I would like to say to all women of the Diocese, the Board would like to be invited to your woman's group meeting. If you do not have a 'woman's group' and would like to establish one, please contact the Board through me and we will come to your parish/mission to help you.

The Board wants to thank the Trinity Episcopal Church Women who have made this Annual Meeting and Conference a complete success. They did not have an ECW for 10 years until asked to host this meeting and conference. They worked long and hard planning this meeting, giving up their time and talent for the Glory of God. Their dedication to God and the Episcopal Church Women is amazing. We also want to thank the Rev. Tamsen Whistler for her love and support of the ECW.

Thanks also go to the Very Rev. Marilyn Engstrom for her incredible stories and coming to Missouri from the beautiful state of Wyoming.

"God Spark – Shining and Sharing the Love of Christ" was the theme of the annual meeting and conference for 2008. I truly hope you went home with more in your heart than when you came.

Respectfully submitted,
Karen Birr
President, ECW Board

Report from Episcopal City Mission

Overview

Episcopal City Mission's mission is "chaplaincy providing support, hope, and healing to children in detention." Episcopal City Mission currently funds the presence of a chaplain to 3 juvenile centers in the St. Louis metropolitan area: St. Louis City Detention, St. Louis County Detention, and Lakeside Center. Episcopal City Mission is the only funded Episcopal chaplaincy program to children in detention in the United States, and it provides pastoral care to approximately 3,500 youngsters each year.

The Board of Directors of ECM worked diligently in 2008 to implement the strategic plan which had been adopted in January, 2007. The progress that was made during 2008 is outlined below.

1. Enhance financial stability and assure future funding: A new donor database system was installed and all donors in 2008 are now in this new system. This will allow ECM to have better information about donors. A new accounting system was also installed which is allowing for better tracking of revenues and expenses. Financial procedures for the office were also put in place in 2008.

2. Invest in infrastructure development to secure long term organizational viability: An Employee Handbook was adopted by the Board and an Administrative Manual is in process. An annual business plan is being written. The technology needs of the office have been met and there is a plan in place for future needs.

3. Fortify Governance & Leadership (Board): The six new members to the Board who were elected in 2008 bring many talents, skills, and diversity to ECM. The Board holds an annual retreat where time is allotted for board development and training. The committee structure and decision making process is in place providing all members of the Board the opportunity for involvement.

4. Enhance Episcopal City Mission's community presence and profile: The Executive Director uses her time to strengthen existing communications within the Episcopal Church. The Executive Director along with the Board Chair meets on a quarterly basis with Bishop Smith to discuss the work of ECM. The Board of ECM is always looking for ways to create partnerships with the broader faith community.

5. Chaplaincy Program Goals: ECM values the commitment and creativity of the three chaplains. There was additional money allocated in 2008 for continuing education and each chaplain used these funds to attend valuable courses, seminars, and retreats. The knowledge that they gained will be used in the centers to better serve the youth in such areas as grief, loss, prevention of suicide, and teen pregnancy. The chaplains are also being asked to have more presence in the centers in the area of involvement with the staff and in-house training. The Family Courts of St. Louis City and St. Louis County value the work that ECM does for the youth in detention.

Fundraising Events

In 2008 Episcopal City Mission held 2 special events to heighten awareness of our mission and to raise funds. On June 20, Summer Solstice took place on the lawn of Emmanuel Church in Webster Groves. On September 10, "Moment in Time V" was held at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel. We were honored to have Churches also host events that benefited Episcopal City Mission. On May 20, the Church of the Advent continued their tradition of holding a golf tournament on Episcopal City Mission's behalf. St. Luke's held a Bingo night where games and donations were collected for the detention centers. And Trinity St. Charles holds an annual Cookie Bake and dozens of cookies are baked for and delivered to the children in detention. Many of the Episcopal churches in the area are generous with outreach funds for ECM.

Finances

Episcopal City Mission's budget for 2008 was $346,200. The projected income for 2008 is proportioned as follows:

Income source	% of 2008 total budget
Individuals (in congregations)	28%
Fundraising events	25%
Foundations	22%
Diocese of Missouri	12%
Episcopal churches	7%
Investment income	6%

The Diocese of Missouri is being asked to support Episcopal City Mission with $40,000 in 2009, the same amount that was provided in 2008.

Report from Episcopal Recovery Ministry Committee

The Episcopal Recovery Ministry Committee is a committee of persons who have experienced addictions in their lives personally or with a close family member or friend. The Bishop appoints members to serve on the committee.

Our mission is to educate clergy and lay leaders in our diocese about the prevalence of this illness and to assist them when needed to access treatment options or other information.

At a clergy day this year John Musgrave handed out information sheets that detailed the diocesan policy on serving alcoholic beverages at church functions, a sheet announcing the 12-Step Holy Communion we sponsored quarterly, the creation of our confidential web page (www.missouri-episcopalrecovery.org), and one about a the resolution passed at the convention two years ago requesting clergy to hold a yearly program to inform their congregations about addictions

We keep refining our web page to reflect additional information and are beginning to recruit liaison persons associated with all congregations so we can better meet the needs of our parishioners.

Report from the Task Force for the Hungry Addressing the Needs of the Poor and the Hungry in the Diocese

The Task Force for the Hungry, an agency of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri, was commissioned by Bishop Smith to address the needs of the hungry and the homeless by providing financial assistance to food pantries, meal programs and shelters within the diocese. Thus, TFH handles two portfolios, one labeled "Awareness" and one labeled "Money". The eighteen members of the Task Force come together from parishes throughout the Diocese of Missouri to implement ways to keep before the church the needs of the poor and hungry in our midst. A link on the diocesan website recognizes Taskforce supporters, identifies programs available at Episcopal churches, identifies links to sources such as the Food Research and Action Center, and engages awareness campaigns such as the Food Stamp Challenge. TFH looks forward to the observance of a Hunger Sunday by congregations later this year.

The Task Force also disburses money to food programs within the territory of the diocese. In 2007, contributions from congregations and individuals provided $10,270. This money, plus reserves from 2006, allowed distribution of $12,700 to eight pantries. A line item in the 2007 diocesan budget supported those programs, too, and allowed a grant of $3,500 to help buy capital equipment for a new parish food program at St. John's. In this way, congregations throughout the diocese share in a ministry among those in need of food. In 2008, food programs sponsored by All Saints, Ascension, De Soto Contact, Holy Cross (Poplar Bluff), Someone Cares Mission at Gateway Homeless Services, St Stephen's, and Trinity receive donations from the Task Force. Perversely, as the needs at pantries increase (in 2007 pantries experienced an average increase in clients of 5 %) contributions decline, but the hope remains that the church can continue to serve God's people.

Report of the Episcopal Campus Ministry

University of Missouri, Columbia

Episcopal Campus Ministry in Columbia has begun its third year as a community with the type of energy and support that make a congregation thrive. With a Eucharist and dinner on Sunday nights and a Bible study once a week our community has grown into a supportive group of students who seek to live out their baptismal call in this world.

Our mission is in line with that of the Diocese: We strive to make disciples for the life of the world. In action as a group we do mission work, but it's the heart of our Eucharist focus and Biblical centeredness that keep us grounded in the chaos of life and allow us to live out the Gospel in our lives away from church.

With so many distractions and temptations in college, having a community of common believers and friends to connect with multiple times a week can make an incredible difference to students away from home. ECM in Columbia is comprised of students from all over the country, with over fifteen individuals from outside the state of Missouri. Of the instate students, about half are from the Diocese of West Missouri. Our reach locally helps the church nationally.

New this year to ECM in Columbia is our circular discernment group. It's comprised of six students who come together once a week to help each other discern their own future after college, how that pertains to the Church, and how they see themselves living out their Christianity to its potential. This discernment has been deeply rich and fruitful and will continue to be an integral element of community in the future.

As ECM in Columbia continues to grow and provide spiritual support for students in the Columbia area, it should be known that we are extremely grateful for the many blessings of this Diocese and for making ECM in Columbia a possibility. It was only four conventions ago when the Bishop announced his intention of creating this full-time ministry, and for that there are many students, friends, families, and Churches who are extremely grateful. Beyond that, the Church as a whole is a far better place when young, bright, energetic, and passionate young adults fill its pews.

The Rev. Joseph Chambers

Report from Care and Counseling, Inc.

Changing Lives Through Psychotherapy and Education

Mission: Care and Counseling, working with diverse faith and therapeutic traditions, fosters emotional healing and growth in a spiritually informed context by providing affordable psychotherapy, professional education and community outreach.

Care and Counseling is a non-profit 501(c)(3) interfaith counseling agency that was established in 1968. For forty years we have been known as a leading provider of professional mental health services, educational programming and consulting in the St. Louis metropolitan area, providing our services on a sliding scale basis, depending on a family's ability to pay.

Care and Counseling provides counseling to adults, children, couples, and families at our administrative center in Creve Coeur, as well as at eight satellite centers located in church facilities throughout the St. Louis metropolitan area including Ladue, South St. Louis City, University City, Webster Groves, and Dittmer in Missouri, and in Alton and Belleville in Illinois. In 2009 we anticipate adding services in St. Charles and Franklin Counties in Missouri.

Additionally, Care and Counseling offers the only psychodynamic, systems, and pastoral psychotherapy training program in the region where mental health professionals and clergy receive training through programs, traditional coursework, seminars, training events and clinical supervision. Several psychotherapists also provide consulting and psychological testing for pastors and their families, congregations, judiciaries, and candidates for ordination.

For the last forty years Care and Counseling has established unique and solid connections with over 100 congregations and diverse communities of faith. This connection to congregations and clergy allows Care and Counseling access to children and families in need of assistance and gives us the opportunity to identify families at risk, as well as offer accessible preventive care. At Care and Counseling we believe families are the basic building blocks of our community. Every community can only be as strong as its foundation, therefore, it stands to reason that we need healthy families to create a safe and healthy environment in which our children can play, learn, and grow into caring and successful adults.

During FY 2007-2008 Care and Counseling:

- Served 1,072 people
- Provided 12,651 hours of counseling

Report on Paseo Con Cristo

Paseo con Cristo (Walk with Christ) is an ecumenical version of the Cursillo Movement that was launched a number of years ago with the blessing of the Diocese of Missouri and the Presbytery of Giddings-Lovejoy.

Twice a year the Paseo community holds a three-day weekend, which begins on Thursday evening and concludes on Sunday. During these three days, talks are given by lay persons and clergy. It provides opportunities to grow in faith, to gain a deeper understanding of the teachings of Jesus, and how we can serve Him. The weekend seeks to equip us to live and share with others in a loving and caring Christian community, and realize that this can be extended into our own homes and workplaces. Paseo aims encourage us to become a part of a continuing community that gives support and encouragement for us to carry out our baptismal promises. The next Paseo Con Cristo weekend will be in May, 2009. For further information call or email the Rev. Warren Crews at 314-918-1157 or wecrews@sbcglobalnet.

Report of the Companion Diocese Relationship Committee

The Diocese of Missouri (TEC) and Diocese of Lui (Sudan) formally entered into a covenant agreement in April 2006, after two years of dialogue and discernment. After several visits and conversations between the Dioceses (including consultation with clergy and open hearings with lay people in the Diocese of Lui), the two Dioceses mutually agreed upon this covenant to guide our relationship: <http://www.diocesemo.org/downloads/LuiCovenant20070724143318.pdf>.

Background & Context

- The Episcopal mission in Lui was established in 1920. Early mission efforts came from Dr. Kenneth Fraser (from the Scottish Episcopal Church), who placed priority upon water, food, health care, education, and evangelism. His priorities, which were respected and effective then, have informed ours.
- The Diocese of Lui was established in Lui in 1999, when Bishop Bullen was consecrated as the first bishop among the Moru people.
- The Diocese of Lui has about 25 Parishes, 7 Archdeaconries, 38 Clergy, and 50 Mother's Union Ministers. We do not know how many square miles comprise the diocese, nor has there been a reliable census to ascertain its total population.
- The Diocese of Lui has no electricity/power, no running water, no sewage, and no telecommunications (aside from satellite communications we have installed at the diocesan headquarters). Current communications within the diocese seem to be via drum messages or "runners" from village to village.
- Transportation within the diocese is a challenge. There are only about 30 miles of paved roads in all of southern Sudan. Missouri parishes have provided bicycles to most of the clergy. The distances and terrain within the diocese call for better transportation, but vehicles and fuel both pose a challenge.

Accomplishments

- Mission Trips: We seek to send one group of missionaries to Lui each year. The next group of missionaries will travel to Lui on December 16. We anticipate another trip in May 2009.

- Water: The Diocese of Missouri drilled 3 more deep wells in 2008, bringing the total to 6 deep wells at about $17,000 apiece. Plans call for 3 more wells to be drilled in 2009.
- Food: The Diocese of Missouri received a UTO grant ($19,200) in 2008 to establish a grinding mill in Lui, which we are just beginning to launch.
- Schools: Since the Sudanese government has mandated that schools be free, we are now paying teachers' salaries. We will spend about $7,200 in 2008 for teacher salaries.
- Health: One of the premiere hospitals in all Sudan was the Fraser Hospital in Lui. The future of that hospital was called into question with the withdrawal of Samaritan's Purse in 2007; there are now no doctors at the hospital. Services have been devastated, and people are dying needlessly. Beginning in mid-2008, we established a task force to assess needs for the hospital and the diocese (Primary Care Units, parish nursing, etc.).
- Infrastructure: We have installed a computer at the diocesan headquarters, with satellite access that enables us to be in communication via e-mail and phone.
- Theological Education: We are aware and Archbishop Daniel has confirmed that many of the clergy in Lui lack in-depth theological education. Bishop Bullen desires greater education of his clergy, and we are working to assist. We have sponsored one priest (Stephen Dokolo) from Lui to attend seminary for two years at Eden Theological Seminary; he will graduate in December with a Master's degree and return to Lui to teach. We anticipate bringing another priest in 2009 for theological education. We are also supporting two priests studying in Nairobi.
- Provincial Relationship: We hosted Archbishop Daniel for several days in April-May 2008. He preached and worshipped in three of our parishes, had an opportunity to visit ministries we undertake in a juvenile detention center and hospital, and had social opportunities with many of our people.
- Outreach: The committee conducted two training days to inform people about the relationship with Lui. These sessions were held in January (at Emmanuel) and May (Advent/Crestwood).
- Planning: Facing a plethora of opportunities and challenges, the committee held a day-long strategic planning retreat in June, in which they established priorities. Another strategic planning session is planned for early 2009.

National/International Connections

- Committee members participated in the annual meeting of AFRECS (American Friends of the Episcopal Church in Sudan) and the Consortium of Endowed Episcopal Parishes.
- The Committee Chair attended a national meeting of "Sudan Stakeholders" in NYC in October, seeking to develop a structure for information-sharing and coordination among the dioceses and groups working in Sudan.
- The Archdeacon for Lui attended the enthronement of the Archbishop of Sudan in April.
- The Committee hosted the newly-enthroned Archbishop of Sudan (Daniel Deng Bul) and his wife for five days, including visits to several parishes, ministries, social events, and the Flower Festival.

Episcopalians for Global Reconciliation

"The work of the Millennium Development Goals isn't just a matter of doing some good, this good is the Gospel, the Good News of Jesus Christ!" —North Carolina Bishop Michael Curry, EGR board member

Episcopalians for Global Reconciliation is a grass roots movement of spiritual transformation, believing that God changes us as we break free of our self-concern and join together across the barriers that separate us to seek and serve Christ where he says he resides—in the poor and outcast of the world.

The structure we use for incarnating this work is the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), embraced by this Diocese and the entire Episcopal Church as a blueprint for serving Christ through eradicating extreme poverty from the face of the earth. After achieving our initial goal of placing this mission, incarnated through the MDGs, at the center of the church's life, we have discerned a new, 3-part mission:

- Continue to direct the Church's attention globally - Use the Millennium Development Goals as a structure for living out Christ's call to seek and serve him in "the least of these," Matthew 25.
- Make explicit the Christ center of the MDG movement in the Church - Draw people to this mission not as secular agenda but in Jesus' hope "that all might have life and have it in abundance," John 10:10.
- Herald a call to conversion at every level of our common life—Lift up the opportunity and need for confession, repentance and amendment of life. Let Christ change us so we can be part of God's mission of global reconciliation, individually and corporately.

We do this through a network of more than 130 contacts (including Jan & Michael Burroughs, Penny Phillips and Carl Hooker here in Missouri) in more than 75 Dioceses, through our extensive website of practical resources, www.e4gr.org, and through a growing movement of more than 5,500 recipients of a bi-weekly newsletter and more than 1,500 youth & young adults linked together on Facebook.

In 2008, we incarnated this mission through our "Give it 4 Good" stimulus check campaign that provided resources for a Christian examination of consumerism/consumption and raised more than $100,000 for MDG-related ministries, and through providing worldwide individual and parish components to Lambeth Walk of Witness and Sept. 25 MDG events.

In addition, EGR has established a Community of the EGR Rule of Life (www.e4gr.org/rule.html), for individuals, families, Congregations, Dioceses and institutions that wish to more deeply engage this mission for intentional spiritual transformation. We are also in data-gathering mode for our big 2009 initiative, The MDG mapping project: an online keyword-searchable map of every ministry in the Episcopal Church involved with the Millennium Development Goals and global mission.

EGR wishes to thank the Diocese of Missouri for its faithful commitment to Christ in working to achieve the MDGs in partnership with your sisters and brothers in Lui, Sudan, and the many ways the people of this diocese embody the search for and service of Christ in the most powerless people of our world.

Episcopalians for Global Reconciliation is an independent 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization with no legal connection to the Episcopal Church. However, our funding is entirely from individual Episcopalians and Episcopal Congregations and Dioceses. EGR is headquartered within the Diocese of Missouri and graciously given office space by the Episcopal Church of the Holy Communion in University City.

Report from Grace Hill

Grace Hill was established by the Episcopal Diocese (Grace Church and Holy Cross Church) in 1903 to provide a comprehensive and coordinated complement of services and resources to immigrant populations, helping them "settle" into their new community. With the goal of supporting their integration into American society both socially and economically, the services and resources offered were health care, material assistance (food and clothing), English as a second language, housing, and employment readiness. Today, that spirit of support—of neighbors helping neighbors—in geographically-bound communities is working to improve lives. Grace Hill brings together a full range of resources through two sister agencies: Grace Hill Settlement House and Grace Hill Neighborhood Health Centers, Inc.

Grace Hill Neighborhood Health Centers, Inc. provides primary and preventive health care through five community health center locations in the City of St. Louis, primarily to uninsured and underserved residents of St. Louis and surrounding communities. Of the nearly 38,000 patients Grace Hill serves, 31 percent are children, 24 percent are homeless, and another 18 percent are public housing residents. The majority of those served have no health insurance and greater than 90 percent have household incomes under 100% of the federal poverty level. Services include pediatrics, family and internal medicine, OB/GYN, dental, mental health, optometry, pharmacy, transportation, and a Children's Developmental Center. Grace Hill also contributes to overall community health through its chronic disease, health education, lead prevention and remediation, and homeless services. Staffed by highly qualified physicians and other practitioners, the Health Centers serve neighbors who face numerous barriers to receiving access to appropriate preventative and primary care.

Grace Hill Settlement House works in partnership with neighbors and stakeholders to identify the social and economic challenges in North and South St. Louis, and establish families and communities that are strong and self-sustaining. Through multiple hub-like locations, thousands of St. Louis residents are impacted each year by the multitude of resources and services that Grace Hill Settlement House offers which include early childhood, youth and family supports, aging and special needs, and community and economic development. The role of Grace Hill is to develop the skills of residents, and to create opportunities for their personal advancement and that of their neighborhood. Each year, approximately 1,440 neighbors (known as resident volunteers) are engaged, trained, and they in-turn provide a direct resource to other neighbors. Last year, resident volunteers committed more than 122,000 hours of labor and service.

Grace Hill is lead by two exemplary presidents, Alan Freeman and Roderick Jones. Freeman joined Grace Hill Neighborhood Health Centers, Inc. in November 2006 and is a seasoned health care leader who brings nearly 20 years experience in community health and hospital management to the organization. Jones joined Grace Hill Settlement House in July 2008 and has quickly become an important advocate for including the voice of those that are poor, marginalized, and under-represented. He contributes to the advancement of the work of the nonprofit sector in St. Louis thanks to his leadership abilities and fresh outlook. Both presidents are actively directing renewed partnerships and strategic outcomes for both sides of Grace Hill, to effectively provide services and increase productivity, efficiencies, and results in an increasingly challenging economic climate. Grace Hill is strong, and its promise to offer a “hand up, not a hand out” continues to offer hope and real change in struggling communities.

Report of the Missioner to Jerusalem

Greetings and Blessings from Jerusalem,

I write this with mixed feelings. As you may know, I have completed my second mission and am returning to the States at the end of the year. I have spent three years here this time, again as Warden of St. George's College, Jerusalem.

As Warden I work with the Palestinian staff of the College, which is a continuing education institution of the Anglican Church. We all care for the Pilgrims who attend our Courses—people from nearly one hundred countries and Christian denominations. When I first arrived, I was quite sure I was much holier than the average person; I am a missionary, you know. In fact, if you looked closely, you probably could have seen my wings and been blinded by the shine of my halo. It took about two weeks to know that wasn't the case, and once the wings fell off, my dilemma was to find out what my mission really was. After much thought and prayer, I realized a pilgrimage to the Holy Land may be one of the most important journeys of someone's life. Most people have worked for years to be able to come here and they have many reasons for their visit: to find God in a different place, to deepen their spiritual lives, to discover more of the religion, history, and archeology of this remarkable land, to become involved in helping the people who live here find peace. I finally learned my Mission is to help take care of the distractions one finds in visiting a place so ‘foreign,’ and to make it possible for our College Pilgrims to listen to God and to hear in their hearts and souls the reasons why God wants them to be here. It is an overwhelming responsibility, one I have cherished and loved.

During my time in Jerusalem there have been births, deaths, marriages, graduations, illnesses, good times and bad; with my family, with the College staff, and with our Pilgrims. The years have been filled with intense joy and profound sorrow, incredible pain and loneliness, regret over the continuing strife in this holy place, and the continuing happiness of living and working with people I admire, respect, and love.

But it is time now to be with my family; two children, a daughter-in-law, and two grandchildren. I am relocating from St. Louis to Salt Lake City to be near them. St. Louis has been my home for more than thirty years and I will certainly miss the city and its wonderful people. I am truly blessed to have been a part of Grace Church, Kirkwood, Christ Church Cathedral, and the Diocese of Missouri.

It wouldn't have been possible to be a Missioner for as long as I have been without your love, your prayers and your support, and I will be forever grateful for this blessed chapter of my life. Please keep me in your prayers as I begin the next chapter and know you will be in my thoughts and prayers, and always in my heart.

Respectfully submitted,
Kathi McDonald

St. Luke's Hospital

St. Luke's is in the midst of one of the most exciting times in its more-than-140-year history.

In 2008, for the second year in a row, St. Luke's was named one of America's 50 Best Hospitals™ by HealthGrades® a national, independent healthcare ratings company. To receive this honor, which is solely based on quality clinical outcomes, is extremely gratifying to all of our employees, physicians and volunteers. St. Luke's was also rated as being the best in the St. Louis area for spine surgery and for pulmonary services, as well as rating in the Top 3 hospitals in Missouri for cardiac care.

This year our Desloge Outpatient Center opened across the street from the main hospital, and is one of the most visible signs of the exciting times at St. Luke's. The Desloge Center, which opened in March, consolidates many of our outpatient services for the convenience of our patients. In addition, the top floors allow for future expansion. Outpatient services offered at the Desloge Center include:

- Outpatient Cardiology Services, including 64-slice CT imaging for coronary CT angiography, echo testing and stress testing
- Vascular Services, including carotid artery scanning and arm and leg blood vessel scanning
- Outpatient Therapy Services and Cardiac Rehabilitation, including expanded availability for cardiac rehab and a new aquatics program
- Radiology and Imaging Services, including CT, MRI, ultrasound, nuclear medicine and diagnostic radiology
- Laboratory draw station, for the convenience of our patients who need blood tests before a procedure, or who are coming to campus only for lab work

St. Luke's Hospital recently opened an expanded 22,000-square-foot Cardiothoracic/Neurosurgical/Surgical Intensive Care Unit. The facility is dedicated to treating cardiac, neurosurgical, vascular and other postoperative patients requiring specialized intensive care services.

St. Luke's Cardiothoracic/Neurosurgical/Surgical Intensive Care Unit is designed to care for patients with varied and multiple problems including medical, surgical and coronary conditions. The Unit exists for the sole purpose of providing special, intensive care and treatment for seriously ill or injured patients. The facility provides close monitoring of patients whose conditions are unstable or unpredictable.

St. Luke's new Rehabilitation Hospital, a joint venture between St. Luke's Hospital and RehabCare Group, Inc., opened in November 2008. It is located three miles west of St. Luke's main facility on the campus of Surrey Place.

The new 35-bed, nearly 30,000 square-foot facility provides intensive inpatient rehabilitation programs and services to patients with severe illnesses and injuries, like stroke, traumatic brain injury, neurological disorders, amputation, spinal cord injury and other debilitating conditions.

St. Luke's also opened a new Urgent Care Center, located at 455 South Kirkwood Road, and is the fifth St. Luke's Urgent Care Center, in addition to locations on Clarkson Road and in Fenton, Weldon Spring and WingHaven.

Pastoral Care

Ministry at St. Luke's Hospital and Surrey Place is provided twenty-four hours per day, seven days a week. The Pastoral Care Department participates in St. Luke's Hospital's ministry of healing by working with the health care team to provide holistic care in body, mind, and spirit for patients, their families, visitors, physicians, and employees of all faiths. St. Luke's Hospital long tradition of providing Clinical Pastoral Education (accredited by ACPE, Inc.) to students from diverse faith traditions is an integral part of their Mission Service to the community in preparation of future clergy and CPE Supervisors for ministry. St. Luke's Hospital offers three types of CPE: year-long residency programs, summer units, and extended units.

St. Luke's Pediatric Care Center is a mission-based agency of St. Luke's Hospital that has been providing care for medically underserved and underinsured children in the St. Louis region for over sixty years.

St. Luke's Hospital also ranked 22nd on Modern Healthcare's inaugural 100 Best Places to Work in Healthcare list, making it the highest ranking hospital in St. Louis. The new program recognizes workplaces in healthcare that enable employees to perform at their optimum level to provide patients and customers with the best possible care and services. To determine these workplaces, Modern Healthcare entered into a partnership with the Best Companies Group, a Harrisburg, Pa.-based firm that conducts regional "best places to work" programs across the country.

HR Solutions, Inc. recently announced St. Luke's Hospital ranks third out of 650 companies in the nation for overall job satisfaction. HR Solutions, Inc. is an international human capital management consulting firm specializing in employee engagement.

High quality patient care is a tremendous asset to any community and St. Luke's is equally dedicated to providing a high quality workplace culture for our employees. Efforts in this area were rewarded with St. Luke's ranking third in the nation for overall job satisfaction by an international human resources consulting firm. We remain proud of these accomplishments, while recognizing that quality care is a continuous goal that we strive to achieve every day, with every patient.

United Thank Offering (UTO)

United Thank Offering is a real blessing in which everyone can participate! It has been a wonderful opportunity for many years providing all Episcopalians a way to express their thanks for their numerous daily blessings and to help others at the same time. The Blue Box is in many homes and offices all over the Diocese of Missouri. The coins dropped into the box each day signify the many thanksgivings which are given to God for many blessings received.

The spring ingathering from the Diocese of Missouri was $8,173.40 which has been sent to the National UTO Committee for the 2008 grant season. The amount came from 20 different churches. The fall ingathering letter has been sent to all coordinators and it is my hope that there will be more congregations participating this fall! My goal is to have the number of congregations increase each ingathering, thus the amount sent into the National Committee will increase. Yes, the money coming into the Blue Boxes is important, but I feel it is as important or maybe even more important to have a way that each of us has a particular way to thank God for our many blessings.

In late spring the 2008 UTO grants were awarded. Over $2.4 million was approved for grants. The Diocese of Missouri's request for our Companion Diocese was granted. $19,200.00 was approved for the Diocese of Lui, Episcopal Church of Sudan, to purchase and install one community grinding mill and start-up costs for a pilot micro-economic project operated by the Mother's Union. This will make a large impact for the women of the Diocese of Lui.

The time for submission of grants to be consider for the 2009 granting period is approaching. There is a change for 2009. Each Diocese will only be allowed to submit one grant from the Diocese. A second grant will be allowed if it involves a companion Diocese. The reason for the change is the large number of grants submitted and the insufficient amount of money collected in the Blue Boxes and sent in. So for 2009 the UTO committee will only be able to select one grant from Missouri to be submitted. The grant application can be obtained from the Diocesan office and needs to be submitted to the Diocesan office in early December, so the UTO grant committee can review them. and select the grant to be sent in for consideration by the National UTO committee. Churches and organizations are encouraged to investigate the possibility of submitting a grant for their program.

About Sewanee

The University of the South, or Sewanee as it is more popularly known, is home to both an outstanding liberal arts college and a seminary of the Episcopal Church. Located atop the Cumberland Plateau between Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., Sewanee's 13,000-acre campus—the second largest campus in the United States—provides vast opportunities for research, recreation, and reflection. Within the traditionally strong curriculum of humanities, sciences, and graduate theological studies, Sewanee faculty members promote intellectual growth, critical thinking, and hands-on research. According to its mission statement, Sewanee “is an institution of the Episcopal Church dedicated to the pursuit of knowledge, understanding, and wisdom in close community and in full freedom of inquiry, and enlightened by Christian faith in the Anglican tradition, welcoming individuals from all backgrounds, to the end that students be prepared to search for truth, seek justice, preserve liberty under law, and serve God and humanity.”

Sewanee’s Relationship to the Episcopal Church

Founded in 1857 and chartered in 1858 by bishops of the Episcopal Church, Sewanee celebrated its Sesquicentennial anniversary with special events during the 2007-2008 academic year. The institution proudly acknowledges a long history of combining academic excellence with reverent concern for the world. Sewanee is the only university in the country with both a college and graduate seminary established by the Episcopal Church and in which the Episcopal Church is actively involved in its governing board.

The chancellor of the University is a bishop of an owning diocese, elected to that position for a six-year term by the University Board of Trustees. The current chancellor is the Rt. Rev. Henry N. Parsley Jr., bishop of the Diocese of Alabama. Lay and clergy trustees are elected from the 28 owning dioceses: Alabama, Arkansas, Atlanta, Central Florida, Central Gulf Coast, Dallas, East Carolina, East Tennessee, Florida, Fort Worth, Georgia, Kentucky, Lexington, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Northwest Texas, South Carolina, Southeast Florida, Southwest Florida, Tennessee, Texas, Upper South Carolina, West Tennessee, West Texas, Western Louisiana, and Western North Carolina.

School of Theology

Beginning the 2007-2008 academic year, the School of Theology welcomed 34 new students representing 29 Episcopal dioceses, bringing the total student body to 77. New student orientation featured a full week of activities introducing students to the seminary, the University, and the Sewanee community.

The seminary received substantial grants from the Jessie Ball duPont Fund and the Arthur Vining Davis Foundations to expand initiatives in promoting diversity and building social justice leadership within the seminary community. A new system of need-based financial aid was implemented, to reduce economic hardship for seminary families and to minimize the burden of debt after graduation.

The Programs Center’s Education for Ministry (EfM) program successfully collaborated with the Trinity Institute of Trinity Wall Street to include theological reflection in the 2008 Trinity Theological Conference. During her visit to Sewanee on Commencement weekend, Presiding Bishop Katharine Jefferts Schori encouraged EfM staff to address the “growing edges of the Church,” including diversity of age and culture, and suggested the formation of “groups that bridge the boundaries of the Anglican Communion.” She saw the new EfM Online initiative as an exciting model of connecting students separated by distance and other boundaries. Sarah “Sissie” Wile was appointed interim EfM director. Wile has served EfM as a mentor and trainer, as trainer in residence, and then as assistant EfM director for the past two years. A strategic planning team began work in 2008 to discern the ways EfM will move into the future. Led by Wile and the EfM staff with the assistance of the Rev. Dr. Charles Kiblinger, EfM consultant, the team is gathering input from hundreds of students, mentors, coordinators and trainers as well as former leaders of EfM. The strategic plan will provide a guide to the structure and personnel requirements of the program.

On Feb. 28–Mar. 2, 2008, prospective seminarians from across the country visited Sewanee for Preview Weekend, an event designed to introduce them to community life, theological learning, and formation for ministry. Seminary students, faculty and staff planned opportunities for their guests and their families to worship, attend classes, tour the campus, and get to know the seminary community. The 2009 Preview Weekend is scheduled for Feb. 26–Mar. 1

December 31, 2008 and 2007

A. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

Organized in 1841, the Diocese of Missouri is a not-for-profit organization, comprised of forty-five Episcopal congregations in the eastern half of Missouri. The Bishop is the president, Chief Executive Officer and ecclesiastical authority of the Diocese. The Episcopal Church in this Diocese acknowledges its allegiance to the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America and submits to the authority of the General Convention. Part of the worldwide Anglican Communion, the Episcopal Church seeks to fulfill Christ's Mission of redemption through active participation in the world through Christ in the Church.

Financial Statement Presentation

The Diocese reports its information regarding financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets depending upon the existence or nature of any donor-imposed restrictions. The following is a description of these classes of net assets:

Unrestricted – Those resources over which the Diocese has discretionary control. Designated amounts represent those resources that the Diocese has set aside for a particular purpose.

Temporarily Restricted – Those resources subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be satisfied by actions of the Diocese or the passage of time.

Permanently Restricted – Those resources subject to donor-imposed restrictions that will be maintained permanently by the Diocese. The donors of these resources permit the Diocese to use all or part of the income earned, including capital appreciation, on related investments for unrestricted or temporarily restricted purposes.

Investments

Investments, which include those belonging to the Diocese as well as those held on behalf of others, are stated at year-end market values. The realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments have been reflected in the Statement of Activities, except for those realized on custodial assets held on behalf of others. (See Note G).

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the Statements of Cash Flows, the Diocese considers all highly liquid investments purchased with a maturity date of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

A. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued)

Land and Buildings

Management has recorded the investment in land and buildings at estimated original cost and states equipment at cost. Depreciation is computed on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the respective assets. The Diocese has ultimate ownership of all property in the Diocese; therefore if a large majority of the members of a congregation choose to leave the Diocese, ownership of the property would revert back to the Diocese.

Income Taxes

The Diocese qualifies as a not-for-profit religious organization under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3) and as a non-private foundation under Section 509(a)(3) of the Code and, therefore, is exempt from federal, state, and local income taxes.

B. INVESTMENTS

Investments are summarized as follows as of December 31,:

	2008	2007
Money market accounts	$ 524,224	$ 1,377,771
Corporate stocks	6,917,336	10,774,101
Corporate bonds	3,975,553	3,015,607
Foreign equities	1,105,785	736,214
Managed equity funds	3,305,778	6,441,179
Managed bond funds	4,421,683	4,796,799

Diocesan Investment Trust of the Diocese of Missouri:

Equity fund	3,994,724	6,554,451
Total Investments	$30,452,919	$41,195,769

The amounts reported as investment gains (losses) in the accompanying financial statements are a result of the following:

- a) The difference in the market values of investments on hand at the beginning of the year as compared to the end of the year.
- b) The difference between the proceeds of sale of investments and the related market values of those investments at December 31 of the previous year.

B. INVESTMENTS (Continued)

- c) The difference between the cost of investments purchased during the year and related market value of those investments at December 31, or between the proceeds of the sale of those investments if sold during the respective year.

Realized and unrealized gains and losses on the underlying investments remain in the trusts pursuant to the terms of the trusts and as such are reflected as permanently restricted within the financial statements.

C. ENDOWMENT

The endowments consist of twenty individual donor-restricted funds established for a variety of purposes. In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Staff Position No. FAS 117-1, Endowments of Not-for-Profit Organizations, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Endowment balances are included in investments in the Statements of Financial Position. Permanently restricted endowment balances include the original value at the date of gift.

For the year ended December 31, 2008, the Diocese had the following endowment-related activities:

	2008 Endowment Funds
	Donor-Restricted		Total
	Temporarily Restricted	Permanently Restricted
Investment Loss
Investment Income and Realized Gains, Net	$102,961	$ 545,028	$ 647,989
Net Unrealized Depreciation	(683,705)	(7,716,950)	(8,400,655)
Total Investment Loss	(580,744)	(7,171,922)	(7,752,666)
Contributions to Perpetual Endowment Amounts Appropriated for Expenditure	-	-	-
	(343,555)	-	(343,555)
Total Change in Endowment Funds	($924,299)	($7,171,922)	($8,096,221)

Funds with Deficiencies

From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that the donor requires the Diocese to retain as a fund of perpetual duration. Deficiencies of this nature that are reported in unrestricted net assets were $410,646 at December 31, 2008. These deficiencies resulted from unfavorable market fluctuations on investment of recent permanently restricted contributions.

D. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

Fair values of assets measured on a recurring basis at December 31, 2008 are as follows:

	Fair Value Measurements at Reporting Date Using
	Fair Value	Quoted Prices In Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)
December 31, 2008
Money market accounts	$ 524,224	$ 524,224	$ -	$ -
Corporate stocks	6,917,336	6,917,336	-	-
Corporate bonds	3,975,553	3,975,553	-	-

Managed equity funds	3,305,778	3,305,778	-	-
Managed bond funds	4,421,683	4,421,683	-	-

Equity Fund	3,994,724	3,994,724	-	-
Total	$30,452,919	$30,452,919	$ -	$ -

Financial assets valued using level 1 inputs are based on unadjusted quoted market prices within active markets. Financial assets valued using level 2 inputs are based primarily on quoted prices for similar assets in active or inactive markets. Financial assets valued using level 3 inputs are based primarily on assumptions about the marketability of the assets. The Diocese has no Level 2 or Level 3 assets.

E. CONCENTRATIONS OF CREDIT AND MARKET RISK

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Diocese to concentrations of credit and market risk consist principally of cash and investments. The Diocese places substantially all of its cash with major financial institutions whose accounts are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation ("FDIC") up to $250,000. The Diocese maintains cash deposits in bank accounts which at times may exceed the federally insured limits. The Diocese has not experienced any losses in such accounts.

The Diocese has a significant amount of investments subject to market risk. Market risk is the possibility future changes in market price may make a financial instrument less valuable.

For the non-clergy employees, the Diocese contributes 10% of the participant's salary to the plan if the participant has at least one year of service and is 21 years of age or older. For the clergy employees, the Diocese contributes 18% of the participant's salary to the pension fund if the participant is 21 years of age or older. During 2008 and 2007, the total amount of retirement expense was $107,471 and $109,661, respectively.

Independent Auditors' Report

Board of Directors
Diocesan Investment Trust
of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri
St. Louis, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial position of the Diocesan Investment Trust of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri (the "Trust") as of December 31, 2008 and 2007 and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Trust's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Diocesan Investment Trust of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri as of December 31, 2008 and 2007, and the changes in its net assets for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits were conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The accompanying supplemental information on pages 8 and 9 is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements of the Trust. Such information, which is the responsibility of the Trust's management, has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

Diocesan Investment Trust of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
December 31, 2008 and 2007

A. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization

Diocesan Investment Trust of the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri (the "Trust") was organized on April 15, 1959, under the laws of the State of Missouri by a trust agreement. The Trust was established to invest funds in various marketable securities for the Diocese of Missouri – The Episcopal Church (the "Diocese") and its parishes, missions, and other organizations formed under the Diocese. The Trust is held in one or more common Funds, as determined by the Trustees, and is managed by professional investment managers, who are subject to the Trustees' investment policies. "Shares" are purchased and/or redeemed in such numbers as the parishes, missions, and other organizations, in their discretion, may determine.

Investments

Marketable securities are purchased and maintained in two separate funds (bond and equity funds) as applicable. Investments are carried at market value which is the last reported closing bid price on the last day of the year. The difference between cost and market value is reflected as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) of investments. The Trust records investment transactions on the settlement date.

Realized gains (losses) from such transactions are determined for financial reporting purposes on the identified cost basis. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recognized on the accrual basis. Premiums and discounts, if any, on debt instruments purchased are amortized over the lives of the respective securities.

Income Taxes

Pursuant to the terms of the Trust documents and the requisite qualifications of its participants, the Trust is covered by the group exemption from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) provided to the Diocese of Missouri – The Episcopal Church by the Internal Revenue Service on February 24, 1971. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes has been made in the accompanying financial statements.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

B. DISTRIBUTIONS OF INCOME AND REDEMPTIONS

The Trust agreement requires the net operating income and net realized capital gains (if any) of the Trust, as well as proceeds from the sale, redemption, or maturity of securities (to the extent the proceeds are not used to redeem interests) be credited to trust participants monthly as cash or additional investments. The agreement also requires the Trust to redeem interests tendered for redemption on the fifth day following the end of the month at a price determined to be the net asset value of each interest as of the last day of the month. The net asset value of each interest shall be determined by ascertaining the market value of the fund on the last day of the month allocated by each pro-rata investment share outstanding on the date of determination.
